Mrs. Don Bodley was down from the mountains a few days ago. "Don" is working as a forest ranger.

Miss Marguerite Klein and Cyril Gray were Portland visitors and shoppers recently.

Paul Dunn and George Beers were over at Fern Prairie, Wash., for two Sunday in succession. Mr. Dunn visited his nephew, Joe Dunn.

Among those attending the Enna concert at Kelo Saturday night were Dr. and Mrs. Strue, Miss Fay Young, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perret, Mrs. George Perret and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Proctor.

Mrs. Jack Barnett spent a couple of days in Portland during the week.

Miss Mary Mitchell of Oregon City is home spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. E. J. Mitchell.

Mrs. Hanna Nelson of Kelo was a Sandy visitor last Tuesday.

Mrs. Armstrong and Herbert Armstrong, mother and brother of Mrs. John Mitchell were recent visitors at the Mitchell home and the Strack family.

Miss Florence Crowder, sister of Mrs. Harry Nichols and a school friend were week-end visitors at the Nichols home. The young ladies are both O. A. C. students.

Mrs. Alma Maroney spent a week in Portland when she went down to attend the Senke-Stephan wedding and was entertained at three dinners, beside the wedding reception.

which adds to the neatness of his place.

H. McGinnis of Orient was selling strawberries in town last week one day was quite discouraged about the business, claiming the high price and scarcity of crates interfered greatly with profits, especially when the market is dull.

W. E. Cresswell of Cottrell has bought the Joe Hilliard place (next to Purcells) and is painting and fixing it up for rent. Cresswell traded Vancover lots for the property.

J. Scales drove up to Government Camp Thursday with a load of provisions for the Priemores.

The Jonsrud-Gunderson mill had to shut down a couple of days last week for repairs.

A valuable horse belonging to Henry Aschoff fell into a thirty foot well Sunday and it took ten men three hours with a block and pulley to get the horse out of its unpleasant predicament. The horse while running stepped on the rotten plank which covered the old well. The horse was not hurt.

Ed Gesch is slashing for Dixon and Howett who are already "cutting a wide swath" in making the Loop work.

"Haste makes waste" at the camp on Koonick's place when the newly constructed barn tumbled down because of not being properly braced.

E. Coleman helped Harry Nichols put a new roof on his house during last week.

Such a feast of strawberries and cream has not been enjoyed in this section for several years. And the canning has been unusually heavy also, and there are still some berries left.

Haying in this section is about to start in good earnest, though it will not be in full blast till after the Fourth. It is hoped the weather will be settled by that time.

The Gray garden of "green" things is the most advanced in town. Mrs. Gray presented the correspondent with a head of lettuce and a head of cabbage last week.

George Beers had his front fence painted white last week.

Fact is, the painting fever is really here! The three buildings belonging to the Lutheran congregation have been roofed and now are being painted which will make a wonderful improvement on Main street. Work on the addition to the parsonage is progressing.

Paul Dunn is painting Mrs. Wilson's house, which will look very "nifty" since she has put the all 'round porch to it and made other improvements.

Painting of the Methodist church was started Monday. This building will require two coats and it will be a great improvement to the looks of the church.

Mrs. Minnie Maroney place of 40 acres has been sold to E. E. Gradin of Gresham for $6,000. The Young family will continue to live on the place. George Beers made the deal.

SANDY SCHOOL NEWS

SANDY, June 27.—The new school board had its first meeting Friday night. Chairman Gray presided.

The union high school board held a meeting the latter part of the week also and elected Miss Margaret Miller of Portland as principal for the coming year. The assistant has not been elected. Miss Miller taught in the Arlington high the past two years.

J. J. Judkin of Cottrell was the new high school director voted in at the annual elections in the five union high districts. The terms are as follows: Junker, five, Baumback, four, J. G. DeShazer three, W. Ganger two and J. J. Judkin one year. The clerk will be chosen at the next meeting, July 5.

Miss Caroline Vaeretti has decided to accept the position as principal of the Kelo school again next year. Miss Vaeretti and Mrs. Baumback both gave excellent satisfaction last year.

Harry Mitchell is at Hood River working on the highway which is in his line of study as he is studying to be an engineer. Ned is at Bull Run lake working on "the works."

Alfred Meinig hustles around like the worker he is doing whatever is "needed the worst" among the many activities of the Meinig establishment.

Miss Katherine Jean MacDonald, sister of Mrs. A. L. Mattingly has been visiting here a week. Miss MacDonald is an art instructor in the Girls' Polytechnic, Portland.

Although happy at her Puyallup home Miss Bess Barton does not forget Sandy. Miss Barton writes she has been "visiting around" since going home.

Miss Gertrude Meinig is busy helping in the Meinig store during her vacation.

Pizzola and Boitano have three acres of kale planted and it is starting fine. Their grain looks well except for a "white rust" that is on much of the grain around here. When the wind blows a white "cloud" rises from the fields.

Mrs. Carl Wendland spent part of Sunday looking after "Auntie" Koch who is ill. Mrs. Wendland and a "fiddle" couple of neighbors, one with a "fiddle," dropped in to the Gus Dahrens home for the evening.

Things opened up in the tourist line considerably last week, campers flocked up the mountains those nice days.

Carl Anderson brought his brother from Minnesota around this way last week, while looking about to seek a location.

L. E. Hoffman was in Portland last week buying a brand new cold storage plant for his meat market which he will install as soon as possible. Hoffman will not attempt to make his own ice this season but may do so next summer as he has the equipment in connection with his new plant. George Perret is also installing a fresh water system for the market. Hoffman is also painting all of his buildings and has added greatly to the looks of the town.

George Maroney went up the mountains Monday to help Walter Crayton build summer homes at Rhododendren, but George expects to return to help celebrate.

The Scharnkes are building a new barn on their acreage in the west part of the town.

L. M. Wilson, refreshment man, has a new awning and seat on his porch.

ADMINISTRATRIX APPOINTED.

In the probate court Wednesday Julia Richley was appointed administratrix of the estate of John Matthew Aemstegger, who died intestate here January 20.

ACCOMPLISHMENT CUP OF BULLETIN WON BY COUNTY JERSEY CLUB

Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club, Oregon, has been awarded the Accomplishment Cup for the most meritorious work done by a Jersey club in the year 1920. The committee, composed of Mr. M. D. Munn and Mr. R. M. Gow, president and secretary of the A. J. Club, to whom the Jersey Bulletin submitted the reports of the various club secretaries, awarded the cup to the Clackamas club after a very careful and thorough examination of the reports, qualified by the conditions specified by the editor of the Bulletin.

The cup accordingly will be sent to the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club, Oregon, in care of its secretary, Mrs. A. Malar, Jr. The report by Mrs. Malar as printed herewith tells of what the club did.

Clackamas county did not have easy competition in the contest for the first award of the cup. The South-west Jersey Cattle Breeders' Association's report by Mr. F. W. Atkeson was a mighty close runner up. And the exhibits in the reports of other clubs receiving special mention were from the following clubs, with the names of the officials who submitted the reports:

Lee County Jersey Cattle Club, Miss. Dr. E. D. Foster, secretary.

Cosco County Jersey Breeders' Association, Ore. G. E. Hampton, secretary.

Tolland County Jersey Breeders, Inc., Conn. A. H. Benton, treasurer.

Bartholomew County Jersey Cattle Club, Ind. H. S. Sims, secretary.

Multnomah County Jersey Cattle Club, Ore. Nellie McKinley, secretary.

Madina County Jersey Cattle Club, Ohio, Grant E. Tillotson, secretary.

Michigan Jersey Cattle Club, Mich. Alfred Hendrickson, secretary.

La Crosse County Jersey Breeders' Association, Wis. G. M. Vergot, secretary.

Noble County, Okla. Robt. W. Wilson, secretary.

Texas Jersey Cattle Club, Texas. Mrs. J. Riley Green, secretary.

Whatcom County Jersey Breeders' Association, Wash. R. I. Tanner, secretary.

Grayson County Jersey Cattle Club, Texas. G. T. McDonough, president.

Illinois Jersey Cattle Club, Carlton Trimble, secretary.

Because of the voluminous reports submitted, the award committee had a considerable task on hand. Since these reports were submitted some of the contesting clubs have had annual business meetings and elected officers, but for the most part the officers signing these reports were re-elected.

The Accomplishment Cup is to be awarded annually, and the Clackamas Jersey Cattle Club will retain it until awarded in 1922 to the 1921 winner, and so on indefinitely.

We apprehend that competition for the cup in 1921 will be even keener than in 1920, and this being the case we will feel well satisfied with the results.

We wish to publicly express our thanks to Mr. Mann and Mr. Gow for acting in the capacity of judges of the reports. It meant considerable labor on their part.

Mrs. Malar's report of the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club is as follows:

To better enable the reader to understand both the advantages and disadvantages concurrent to the growth of a county-wide organization, I will here give a brief description of Clackamas county as to size and topography.

It is approximately 43 miles square, with a total area of 1864 square miles. Some size in comparison to the Island of Jersey! Some problem to carry on a live, progressive organization with its members scattered over so large a territory! And some distance to meetings over Oregon roads for the Jersey-men living in outlying districts.

The surface of Clackamas county is very rolling throughout the greater part, and to the east it extends to the summit of the Cascade mountains, so naturally much of that section is not tillable.

Therefore, considering the size, surface and roads of Clackamas county, we feel that the members of our Jersey club have shown great enthusiasm and accomplished a great deal during the one year of the growth of the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club.

And step by step we will endeavor to show the progress made and the benefits derived by the work of the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club.

Through the efforts of Mr. R. G. Scott, ex-county agricultural agent, a meeting of Jersey breeders was called at Oregon City in January, 1920, and there and then the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club was born with a charter membership of 26. Mr. N. H. Smith, of Oregon City, was elected president of the club, and Mrs. A. Malar, of Boring, Ore., secretary-treasurer. The vice-presidents and directors were Messrs. J. R. Cole, of Molalla, E. O. Fisher and W. J. McCord of Oregon City, respectively. Neither the president nor the secretary missed a meeting during the year and at the annual meeting were reelected to serve during the year 1921, together with Mr. W. H. Kanna of Portland as vice president and Mr. J. Lienhart of Woodburn and Mr. C. Hansen of Boring as directors.

By almost unanimous vote the club has accepted as members both man and wife who own one or more registered Jerseys, and parents of children who belong to the boys' and girls' Jersey calf club, and professional herdsmen who care for registered Jerseys in Clackamas county, or in adjoining counties which have no Jersey clubs. Although only the above may become voting members, it is expressly wished that each and everyone who is interested in better live stock be cordially invited and urged to attend the meetings, join the picnic dinners and enjoy the programs and profit by the judging of the Jersey cattle exhibited at each meeting.

An all day meeting has been held every two months at the homes of different Jersey breeders throughout the county, and at each meeting the cattle have been judged by members of the club and by boys of the calf clubs of the county. Prof. Pitts of Oregon Agricultural College, a noted judge of cattle, gave us a demonstration of judging and placing.

The club stands strong for advertisements, and ever bears in mind this version of an old adage, "Toot your own horn, for if you don't, nobody else will." And the Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club has adopted the following ways for "tooting":

(a) Farm Jersey signs, 2 1/2 feet square, galvanized iron, painted white, with "Jerseys for Us," "Members of Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club," lettered in black. Followed by the owner's name.

(b) Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club pennants for use during the "Jersey Jubilee" of 1920, and any other appropriate time.

(c) As a proof of the Jersey enthusiasm of this county, let us state here that six autos carrying members of the club and bearing Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club pennants, made the entire Oregon Jersey Jubilee trip in May, 1920—the largest representation from any county to take in the entire trip.

(d) Report all meetings and important doings of the club to local and farm papers and especially to the Jersey Bulletin.

(e) Original and appropriate Jersey songs.

Through the efforts an encouragement of the club a county Jersey herd was exhibited at the Pacific International Exposition at Portland in November 1920, and received the honors of the "blue" in a class of six herds. There were 25 prizes won by cattle exhibited from Clackamas county, by the following named breeders, all of whom are club members: W. M. Dall, Oswego; D. Brooks Hogan, Oswego; R. B. Seely, Sherwood; N. H. Smith, Oregon City; A. A. Sangler, Oregon City; and A. Malar, Jr., Boring.

Of the 25 prizes, there were two firsts, two seconds, one third and three fourth prizes.

The two first prizes were won by (1) "County Herd," consisting of cattle from the herds of the above named exhibitors, and (2) "Le Conovella," a senior heifer calf owned by A. Malar, Jr. She was also in the state herd that won first.

The two second prizes were won by (1) "Western King's Delight," a mature cow, and (2) "Wonder Boy," a senior yearling bull, both owned by Mr. N. H. Smith.

The third prize was won by "Cremopots Fortune," a 2-year-old bull, owned by Messrs. Ice & Spangler.

The three fourth prizes were won by (1) "Five Glow Senna Chief," junior owned by Mr. W. M. Laid, and (2) "produce of day," two animals owned by Mr. A. Malar, Jr.

During the year the membership grew to number 49 active members, and at the annual meeting an amendment to the constitution was adopted, which automatically increased the membership to about 90 members, by admitting as voting members the wives of paid-up members, without the payment of additional membership dues.

There are around 200 breeders of registered Jerseys in this county, so we have reasonable assurance that the club will continue to grow.

The Clackamas County Jersey Cattle Club was the first club in Oregon to formulate a resolution in favor of "a Jersey fieldman for Oregon."

The said resolution was forwarded to the A. J. C. Club and the Jersey breeders of this county have pledged themselves for $1 per head for each Jersey owned, fund to be used as a starter in financing a "Jersey fieldman for Oregon."

Our club has arranged to send an official representative to each meeting of the Oregon Jersey Cattle Club, and also sent an official committee to meet with the Jersey breeders of the Northwest at a meeting held in Portland on January 22, 1921.

During the year, splendid talks were given by such well known men as Prof. Pitts and Prof. Fines of Oregon Agricultural College; Messrs W. M. Ladd, C. D. Minton, M. S. Shrock and O. M. Plummer of Portland; D. Brooks Hogan, of Oswego; N. H. Smith, Oregon City; B. C. Altman, Gresham, and many others.

The subject, "Resolved, That it is better to have a herd of Jerseys of good type and fair production than a herd of fair type and good production," was debated at the meeting on March 5, 1921.—Jersey Bulletin.

Congress Asked to Aid in Disarmament

WASHINGTON, June 29.—It is "wholly desirable to have the expression of favorable opinion on the part of congress relating to world disarmament, and it would seem to me ample if it should be expressed in the broadest and most general terms," President Harding wrote today to Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the republican leader in the house.

"I am vastly more concerned with the favorable attitude of the congress on this question than I am as to the form of expressing that attitude," the president added. "You may be sure that the executive will be ready to give every consideration to such expression as the members of the two houses of congress find themselves disposed to make."

MOONSHINE IS FOUND.

In a raid on the residence of Dave Hofmeister at Eagle Creek, Sheriff Wilson and his deputies unearther part of what is believed to be a still, and a small quantity of moonshine. The search was conducted for several hours with small result. No arrests were made.
