

SANDY

graveling can be done on the highway, which will not doubt be delayed by the rains. The mud is bad, but there is no way out of it at present.

Six of our young people left on Sunday for the O. A. C. as follows: Frances, Gertrude and Alfred, Metula, Ned and Harry Mitchell and Raymond Murray. We shall miss them, but there is nothing in this old world that will take the place of an education, which these bright young girls and young men already realize.

Miss Ivy Ten Eyck will leave tomorrow for Eugene where she will enter the state University. Her sisters Jennie and Cora, "Sophs" will accompany her. Lillie Ten Eyck is at Reed again this year. Four girls from one family in college is a record worth while.

Things in both the grade and high school have been humming along in fine shape since the opening of school. The pupils seem to like the teachers and the teachers like their pupils.

SANDY LOCALS

SANDY, Sept. 21.—The Cottrell church will soon be re-shingled by donation work. The plan is for the neighborhood to "turn out" for a day and save the "hire." A Portland firm sold the shingles at cost and a Sandy truck man is hauling them at half price.

Rev. Lennard, a Baptist minister of Portland, preached at Cottrell on Sunday morning. Mr. Lennard is 75 years of age and has been a minister 55 years.

The Multnomah County Pomona grange passed a strong resolution condemning "questionable dancing and other practices of an indecent and immoral nature at various road houses in the county."

A number of people from Pleasant Home and various sections are expected to attend the Multnomah County Sunday School convention at Portland September 27, at the First Pres byterian church.

The annual community council will meet at Cottrell on Thursday night September 29. Reports of committees and election of officers will be a portion of the program.

Before Sandy realizes it there will be a transcontinental railroad south of this town. The quiet work of this railroad building is "business," and yet if we were not asleep we would begin to see that wide gauge, well built road is not transient. In fact some Portland people who made the prediction when it started that it would run south of Mt. Hood and on east from there.

Subordinate granges in Multnomah County have increased their membership 61 per cent the past year and a half, the total membership being 1175. After hearing Supt. Smith's report, at the Pomona grange at Orient, of the Multnomah Farm dependents, and after hearing road statistics by another party that 90 percent of the men in the United States above 65 years are dependents, the remark was made what if the future of the young men of today if they do not change their tactics and begin to start a saving account.

All varieties of road troubles developed Monday after a continued downpour of "fall" rain for 36 hours. The trucks all got down, however.

Lige Coleman has about recovered from the kick an ugly dispositioned old cow which got him down and trampled him, breaking a facial bone, according to report. The trouble with the cow happened two or three weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Proctor left Tuesday for the Round Up at Pendleton expecting to catch all the thrills possible while they "log'er buck."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christiansen took the trail for Pendleton Monday. Sandy is surely well represented at the big dings, which seems to be the sort of amusement to take the pale gray taste out of just common, everyday life.

The baseball season is over for the Sandy team. The boys stopped while their honors were great.

John Odell drove out from Portland the other day and took Mrs. Allen and Mr. Mikkelson up to Brightwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Pridemore were in town again the past week going down the Portland way.

Jack Seales arrived home in all his glory Sunday after two weeks of "hard drinking" at Shepherd's Springs. The store windows were decorated with autumn leaves a welcome home.

Mrs. Billy Allen was in town on her return from Portland where she visited her sister last week. Mrs. Allen said she and Billy were going to Pendleton to see the big round up.

R. S. Smith, Bob Akin and Herman Krebs left in the gray of Tuesday morning to take in all the sights and "trimmings" at the Pendleton Round Up.

Mrs. E. Dodd went up to Cherryville to spend Saturday night and attended a dance in the neighborhood.

P. T. Shelley drove over from Hood River last week after the "family" and took them to the famous valley to spend the week end at the Troy Shelter ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Purcell were favored by a visit from relatives over the week end recently. Besides Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Doltz, and daughters Harriet and Bertha Doltz, and F. V. Doltz, a nephew of the Purcells, Mr. Henry Doltz of Minneapolis, Minn., was in the party. He made a short trip to the coast and it was only natural he should make a trip here. He was charmed with Sandy and it's ideal location.

Mrs. Blanche Shelley, Jonne and little Joe Hooker and Mrs. Mary Wilson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Purcell recently, with hospitality brightened the last evening Mrs. Wilson spent here before going to Seattle.

Herman Krebs is through with his thrashing work and is home again, and his mother Mrs. Marie Krebs is home from a very enjoyable vacation of several weeks.

C. D. Purcell made a business trip to Portland last week and won a case that was outlaid.

Mrs. Mary I. Wilson, mother of Mrs. Shelley, has gone to Seattle for the winter as the coast climate agrees much better with her than any other. Before going away Mrs. Wilson succeeded in renting her house to a foreman on the gravel work for the highway.

Isabel Gray, our "hello girl," has been very husky with a cold the past week.

Mrs. Graves, wife of the Sandy hotel man, went to Portland over the week end and Mrs. Susan Kelliker looked after the hotel work in her absence.

W. G. Duncan is getting around well with his leg in a cast. He drove to Gresham and Corbett during the week. At Corbett the Duncan's got a lot of salmon for canning.

Mrs. Henry Perret says she has 500 quarts of fruit and vegetables put up and is not quite through.

Mrs. Bartelmy and young daughter were in town the other day. Mr. Bartelmy has returned from Eastern Oregon, but the entire family will be moving there ere long.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hammond came out Saturday and after looking some business interests in the face drove on to their summer place for a short rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lennartz and daughter Anna were all day guests of the H. S. Eddy family last Sunday.

Frank Armstrong, brother of Mrs. John Mitchell, and Miss Eva Adams spent Sunday at the Mitchell ranch.

Birthday parties for the Sandy children seem to be all the rage of late but the older folk seem to have passed the birthday stage.

Will Widmer had a horse hurt and ran badly in a runaway accident not long in the past.

Three wild cats are reported as being caught in a bunch up the Cherryville way but no definite news as to how or by whom was learned.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beers have returned from their hop picking expedition and are at their school work.

Chas. Ray in the "Egg Crate Wallow" Sandy Saturday.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kaiser drove to Portland Sunday to see Mrs. Winkler who is recovering from a serious operation.

Mr. Byron, father of Mrs. A. J. Ault is still very ill at his home on the Bluff road.

C. A. Bowers, the Sandy wood contractor and the Millers have discovered they used to live in the same community and have many mutual acquaintances.

The friends of the Duke household glowed with warmth of hospitality at a recent dinner party which was greatly appreciated by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Proctor, and little daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Julius Sture, Mrs. Miller and Miss Margaret Miller. Baby Sture cooed in his basket but was not allowed to come to the table which was laden with all sorts of delicious tidings.

The manager of the "Mt. Hood" air ship company was in town one night recently trying to get his affairs adjusted.

Joel Jarl is fast disposing of his personal property to get ready to join his family in California for the winter.

Mrs. Alice Seales drove to Corbett Sunday to meet her husband, Jack Seales who was returning from the Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perret entertained a party of six friends from Portland with the characteristic Perret hospitality last Sunday.

Mrs. John Mitchell, Mrs. August Bedenstein and Mrs. Leo. Lehnfeld gave a dance at the old Tapp place last Saturday night. There was a large crowd and everyone had a fine time. The Mitchells, Lehnfelds, Dockerys and Mr. Peacock and his friend, Helen Nelson, Dave Douglas and son and Alice Douglas spent the remainder of the night at the Bedenstein home where there was much eating and snacking until morning dawned.

Among those from Sandy attending the Rev. Alexander Beers funeral at Gresham were Mr. and Mrs. E. Beers and Mrs. Beatrice Harris, Mr. and Mrs. George Beers and Hazel Beers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Proctor, and the W. A. Proctor family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Snedden and daughter Martia Snedden have returned from a week's outing at Seaside.

Chas. Ray in the "Egg Crate Wallow" Sandy Saturday.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Barber of Portland were out recently to visit the Lehnfelds for a couple of days. On Sunday more of Mrs. Lenfield's delicious "frys" pleased the palates of the Baumback family, Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell and baby Harold, and Mr. and Mrs. August Bedenstein of Cherryville.

Mrs. F. H. Lake spent several days visiting her old neighbors at Pleasant Home last week, remaining for Pomona Grange on Saturday.

Mayor and Mrs. Junker took a day or two off and visited the metropolis recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duke included Mrs. Henry Perret and Mrs. Miller in their recent Pomona grange party. James Bell of Sandy ridge also showed his "strangerian" interest by taking himself down to the big program.

Mrs. John Mitchell visited Mrs. Lehnfeld recently, remaining for the mid-day meal.

J. M. C. Miller got as far away as Fairview the other day. He was an autoguest of Mr. Shaw, the Sandy chief-of-police, but the "Judge" was merely out on a business trip.

George Perret and Reuben Hoffmann were out again from a two day's fishing trip.

Albert Knopp is hauling T. N. T. powder up the mountains for the forest service.

Henry Ridderbush bought himself a "Lizlo" about a month ago and has already managed to drive it well. It looked like there was a terrific fire over the Bull Run way the other day but it was only Old Selser's slashing burning.

According to an "old-timer" here, forty-four years ago, Rev. Father Verhaeg of East Portland held the first Catholic church service in this part of the country at the old log school house on the north slope of Frances Revenue's field, which was near the present "Lizlo" road. Services in private families continued from that time till 22 years ago when a church building was erected in Sandy.

The Sneed stages are not making regular trips up the mountains since tourist travel has dropped off. The hotels are closed up that way.

Chas. Ray in the "Egg Crate Wallow" Sandy Saturday.—Adv.

Joe DeShazer was down here from the Dover section says the thrashing season is closed up that way. The east wind saved the potatoes from freezing up there. Hay-baling has been on at Dover this week.

The Willamette valley late potato crop is said to be practically ruined for most part by the frosts of two weeks ago, according to J. J. Wilson, a travelling salesman who drove to Eugene a few days ago.

A letter received from Waterloo, Iowa last week by Miss Miller states that the potato, tomato and apple crop are a failure there. Getting hungry for salad a friend of Miss Miller bought some apples, getting only four little "scrubby" ones for a quarter.

Mr. and Mrs. "SI" Deaton and little son have been spending a week with their own home folks, the Hoffmans. The Deatons and Miss Bertha Hoffman drove to Portland Saturday to attend the funeral of some soldier friends who gave their all on the battle fields of France.

Dr. and Mrs. Julius Sture attended a social at Powell Valley Swedish church Saturday evening. The affair was given under the direction of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society. After the program refreshments were served.

Anton Mikkelson passed through our small town last Saturday. The mill at Brightwood turned out a little more bridge material this week.

Mrs. Ernest Bonett was still in Portland at last account where she has been taking care of her young niece and nephews, the Art Dixon children.

Chas. Ray in the "Egg Crate Wallow" Sandy Saturday.—Adv.

A delightful children's party was given by Mrs. D. F. Eason Monday afternoon in honor of her little son's birthday. Eighteen little tots were seated at the table, the color scheme of which was yellow. The shades were drawn and yellow candle light made the dining room look quite "party-fied." There was a birthday cake decorated with seven candles and pink cream, candy and cookies. Those present were Arthur, Mildred, Mabel and Robert Frace, Richard Maroney, Ronnie Eason, Kenneth Seales, Heilind Dittorf, Forrest and Lawrence Shaw, Winifred Glockner, Mabel Lilly, Peggy Dodson, Lillian and Albert Perret, Stearnes and Mary Eason, Mrs. George Perret assisted Mrs. Eason.

The news has "leaked out" about the fun the Zoeg-Gunderson-Howe party had when on Wild Cat camping for buckelberry gathering at the time the season was about ended. The girls of the party were scouting around to find extra good picking, and they found a fine patch, but a big black bear was helping himself and was not inclined to give up a good thing, so the girls headed for camp, "hitting the high places" as they sped. The boys got their guns and made a wild chase after Mr. Bear, but he made his getaway. And it snowed, then, and of course the party had to head for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Douglas gave a "more than just a chicken" dinner Sunday. Those present besides the Douglas family were Mr. and Mrs. Reed, and little daughter, Henry Quam and Mrs. E. Dodd.

Chas. Ray in the "Egg Crate Wallow" Sandy Saturday.—Adv.

Mrs. Homer Revenue and baby spent the day with Mrs. Harry Reed last Tuesday.

Mrs. Dave Douglas says it did not freeze at their ranch, they had no frost, but it froze at Cherryville last night. Mr. and Mrs. Billie furnished the music for the dance Saturday night. Three dances were planned for the same neighborhood the same night, so after thinking it over, decided to all unite at Sam Miles' place, otherwise known as the Tapp place at Cherryville.

The only drawback to the dance was the crowd was too large for the food supply, so it was decided to omit the refreshments to the regret of all present. Among those present were the Bedenstein, Mitchell, Lehnfeld, Dave Douglas, John Tomad, Polson, Funk families and Mrs. Tomagan, Mrs. Alma Maroney, Miss Fay Young, Mrs. Friel and daughters, Miss Helen Nelson, Mrs. E. Dodd, Mrs. McDonald, Mr. Dockery Billie and John.

Mrs. Dave Douglas did not attend the dance Saturday night. Mrs. Douglas was not feeling well most of the week.
