a car but the road beyond Cedar creek on the newly graded Loop was impossible.

Charley Krebs, Mario Boitano, Helme Haselwander and Alfred Woenche all went fishing for salmon last week, but chose too nice a day. The day before a big run was on in the rain, but clear and clear weather was against the fishing party and they didn't get a fish.

The Lehnfelds are mourning the loss of their pure-bred sheltie which died suddenly one night without any apparent reason.

Paul Dunn, C. Scharnke, and C. O. Duke were called as freeholders to attend the school budget meeting the other night.

A family has moved on the Walton place, beyond Malar's and may have two children in high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Duke opened their doors of hospitality again recently to the Miller family who partook of a supper fit for the gods.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bonett made a flying trip to Brightwood and back to Portland the same day recently. Their object being to look after their house up there that was vacated. Mr. Bonett has a position as foreman of a gang working on the Sandy boulevard, and has promise of an all winter's job in the city. The Bonetts did not have time for any calls while in Sandy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Beers and Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Alex Schmitz who had been home on a little visit drove to Portland a few days ago.

Mr. Bradley, who is working in the highway engineer's office here, was born at Cottrell, but had not been back since he left at the age of three years till he came to work here a short time ago. Mr. Bradley is a grandson of the M'Narys at Cottrell.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perret had a houseful of Portland relatives with them to spend the day last Sunday.

Mrs. Alice Shipley was over Sunday and attended Sunday school. Mrs. Shipley regrets Saturdays are not more conducive to Sunday school and church attendance.

Alfred Hauglum has various irons in the fire that are getting so warm he found it necessary to have printing done and did the right thing, ordered it from the Enterprise plant.

Miss Pauline Heycock came out a few days ago to be with her sister Mrs. Malar for a few days.

Percey T. Shelley was home from Hood River Sunday and attended church Sunday evening with his family.

Mrs. Joseph Lilly enjoyed a visit with her brother Saturday night and Sunday, and both attended the Enna concert.

The sermon by Rev. Pitts was much appreciated last Sunday night, and was honored by a large attendance from his own neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Westfall and baby Eugene visited Mrs. Westfall's mother of Marmot last week.

Harry Bramhall has finished the Henry Ten Eyck house and has a contract to build a residence in Troutdale. Bramhall screened the R. A. Ten Eyck porch before leaving Marmot.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ten Eyck went to Portland last week and took their small son along.

Mr. and Mrs. Pridemore passed through town a few days ago on their way back to Government Camp.

A. Anderson, Olivia and Wm. Anderson drove over from Sandyridge Sunday night to hear Rev. Pitts preach.

Dr. and Mrs. Sture drove to Portland Sunday to see the doctor's mother who is ill in a sanitarium there.

Mrs. J. C. Duke, C. O. Duke, Mrs. Margaret Miller and Mrs. Fritz went to Pleasant Home Sunday and enjoyed the basket dinner and the Sunday school program.

While at Pleasant Home Mrs. Miller paid a visit to the J. R. Duncan home. Mrs. Duncan's health is much improved. Mr. Duncan says Matt Zogg is the only one of the old neighborhood on Sandyridge that was living there in 1880 when he settled there.

The Mission string band, composed of about ten young ladies sang selections accompanying with various stringed instruments, which was a pleasing and unusual number on the program at the Sunday School convention at Pleasant Home. The Luther League chorus was also an attractive number on the program. This chorus was from the Swedish Lutheran church at Powell Valley. Miss Margaret Miller was soloist of the day and her work was much enjoyed by the large audience.

The Sandy Sunday school is growing in interest and enthusiasm and more new children and adults are expected next Sunday.

Mr. Tilke of Kelso left for old Missouri last week to visit his mother who is 85 years of age. His sister, Mrs. Jaeger, is living on Tilke's place while he is away.

H. S. Eddy has a perfect new sign painted in live-wire language at his real estate office.

George Ten Eyck is working at the Ogden mill for the present. Mill contracts are not yet very flush.

Nah Kesterson and five children, their ages ranging from twelve to four years, moved into the house recently vacated by the Eddy family last week from Sandyridge where Mr. Kesterson was working in the wood business. He will work at the rock crusher here.

The Willis family that recently moved here, were former residents of Lafayette. They like Sandy very much. Car and truck work will continue from brightwood up the line, but the force of men this side has been reduced considerably and many teams have been sent out.

Tony Miller, the invalid friend Max Woenche brought out from a hospital at Oregon City, is decidedly improved, and feels very lucky as he was given only a couple of days to live by the doctor when Woenche brought Miller home with him.

The Pridemores visited a Crater Lake, Raining Park, Seattle and Seaside, stopping at all the large hostleries between points while out on their trip, and had a delightful time. Naturally they saw many interesting "styles" of hotel management to think over.

Wm. Anderson moved the Kesterson family over from Sandyridge with been re-shingled. A number of houses down that way are joining the unusual shingling epidemic of the season.

Rev. Dobbertul and family were entertained in Portland last Sunday, and Mrs. Dobbertul remained in the city for a few days visiting.

Mrs. Joe Loundree and Mrs. E. Dodd went to Portland Monday on a shopping trip.

Tom Dunn has been carrying one hand all wrapped up because of an infection that was close kin to blood poisoning.

Martha Hoffman writes that her sister keeps about the same, and it may be some time before she will return.

Mrs. Floyd Reed was over from Corbett a few days ago to visit her sister Mrs. Jack Seales.

Carl Aschoff took the trouble to go to Marmot on a hunting trip a few days ago but got no game.

Mrs. A. Bell is enthusiastic over her trip to La Grande, and liked the country fine. "Maggie" remained with her husband about ten days. Albert Bell and Ted Gray like it there fine.

R. E. Esson, C. O. Duke and R. S. Smith are already beginning to prepare for cold weather by cultivating a prolific crop of whiskers and upper lip coverings.

Henry Perret is occupying all his spare time putting in a cement basement that will add greatly to the conveniences of the Perret home.

Mushrooms have been exceeding plentiful and popular around here the past week, though some folks were afraid to take a chance.

Wild geese have thronged the skies day and night for over a week while spying out a winter abiding place, but flew aggravatingly high. Pull Run lake and the reservoir are said to be popular winter resorts for these "birds."

Eastern relatives of the McCabes who visited them this summer write they are squeezing every dime and dollar they can get hold of to start a saving account, so they can come back to Oregon and see the big fair in 1925.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Routledge, newlyweds and Miss Doris Dodd of Portland were out on Sunday to spend the day with the Dods family.

Mrs. Herman Miller and daughter, Mrs. Henry Weeber and children of Sandyridge have returned from a week's stay in Portland where they visited Miss Pauline Miller and the Porter family. Pauline has worked for the Porters over three years and is like one of the family. Mrs. Weeber and Mrs. Miller had a delightful time.

SANDY SCHOOL NOTES

SANDY, Oct. 25.—The H. S. freshmen are to give a return party tonight October 28 at the I. O. O. F. hall to upper classmen and former H. S. students.

A literary program is to be given at school October 28 by members of the society.

The Clackamas County institute will be held at Oregon City Nov. 2-3-4. Attendance is compulsory for all teachers.

Mary Scharnke must have been running opposition to Fritz Junker when she cartooned "Maggie."

The grade school board has found plenty of work so far this year. The pump was repaired again in the past week, and the roof of the building was ordered fixed, a substitute teacher secured, et cetera.

Miss Esmer Mixer is now teaching at her home town, Newport. Miss Mixer's health is greatly improved since she had her tonsils removed and she is feeling fine and getting fat.

Miss Ruby Myers is teaching at Pierceville, Kansas, gets a large salary and is in much better health than when at Sandy. Miss Myers had her tonsils removed also.

The Marmot folks are talking of organizing a literary society over there, to add a little social and community life during the winter.

Mrs. Anton Malar is improving now and her friends and pupils are glad she is gaining so rapidly.

Mrs. Lilly is doing her usual fine work as a supply teacher during the onerous absence of Mrs. Malar.

The physics class enjoyed making experiments recently with spinning tops into various shapes. Other classes enjoyed watching the experiments.

As supplementary work the high school American history class will devote two week's time or more to the study of Oregon history. The course followed to be similar to the one outlined by the local Woman's club.

The girl's basket ball team hopes to get games scheduled with other teams in reach of Sandy.

October 21 closed the first 6 weeks of school, and exams were given in most classes.

Grant DeShazer brought 15 varieties of fungus for study in the biology and general science class. Many of these were unusual specimens.

Miss Lippold visited the ocean freighter, Northumberland, with friends in Portland Saturday. This mammoth vessel was loading 150,000 boxes of Northwestern apples and sailed Monday night for Great Britain, via the Panama Canal.

Miss Ivy Ten Eyck writes she enjoys her university work and pronounces the college spirit "wonderful."

Miss Eunice Jonsrud who spent the week end with the home folks is much in love with her work at Reed College.

The Marmot school has postponed their Hallowe'en entertainment till a week later, Nov. 5, as October 29 is Mazama day and many of the Marmot citizens will be busy entertaining them.

A short business meeting will be held before the entertainment to vote on the school budget.

Ruby Dodd will be at Aschoff's over Saturday to help with the work of taking care of 150 mazamas that are going to spend the week end there.

George Dodd had a trip to Seaside from Friday till Monday and George had the time of his life wading and digging clams. The weather was warm at the coast.

Little Almeta Proctor and several other children had ailments which kept them out of school part of the week.

The concert given by Dr. Enna of Portland, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Garr Reed, was much enjoyed by a good sized audience and after dividing 50.50 the high school had over $15.00 for the fund for magazines and other school supplies.

Frank J. Lonergan Starts Law Office

Frank J. Lonergan, formerly of Oregon City and for the past 15 years chief trial lawyer for the Portland Railway, Light & Power company in damage actions, and Lou Wagner, formerly constable, and for 12 years associated with the street railway as special agent and attorney, have broken their connections with that company and have hung out their shingle as law partners in the Pittock block.

Few of the damage suits against the railway company, but have been fought by Lonergan, who gained an enviable reputation as trial lawyer. Lonergan was star halfback for Notre Dame before taking up his law career, winning many football honors. He practiced law in Oregon City with Franklin T. Griffith, president of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, and since coming to Portland has been associated with the firm of Griffith, Lester & Allen.

For 20 years prior to 1909, Wagner was in the constable's office, the first 12 years as deputy and the last eight as constable. Of late years Wagner has engaged in general law practice in addition to his work for the railway and recently defended Joe Brady, arrested in Oregon City, suspected of being both the "talkative burglar" and "Shadow."

BUDGET FOR 1922 BEING PREPARED BY CITY COUNCIL

FINAL ACTION WILL BE TAKEN IN NOVEMBER

Tentative Expense Figures for Coming Year are Under Consideration

Preliminary plans for the preparation of the 1922 budget for Oregon City are being made by the municipal administration. Tentative figures for the departmental expenses have been prepared and are under consideration of the finance committee.

It is estimated this year that the expenses for running the government of the municipality for the coming twelve months will total about the same as in 1921. The assessed valuation is not expected to show any increase that will materially enlarge the receipts from taxation.

The tax which will be levied for strictly city purposes will amount to seven mills. This is the same as was levied during 1921. The entire city levy was 18 mills, but this was inclusive of the library tax, and the other special taxes levied for the purpose of raising bonds.

Valuation Remains Static
The assessed valuation of the city is slightly over three and a quarter million. Thus the seven mill tax will give the city more than $21,000 from taxation for municipal purposes, including personal services, and contemplated expenses. In addition to the money that is to be received from taxation, it is expected that receipts from other sources such as fines, for forfeitures and licenses in all will amount next year to $5,000. For 1921, the receipts were listed at $3,500. This will, during the next twelve months, give the city $1,500 more for its administrative expenses than has hitherto been on hand.

Tentative figures for the budgetary expenses total $24,340 exclusive of the emergency fund which is taken to represent the difference between contemplated expenditure and estimated income.

Finances in Good Shape
A survey of the financial condition of the city as far as its budgetary expenses are concerned during the past year, shows that the treasury is in good condition. A number of the funds have been overdrawn, but this does not take into account that the city has money in other funds which will become transferable to take care of the other deficits.

The taxpayers meeting at which the budget will be acted upon is to be held some time during the month of November. The detailed figures will be submitted to the people as soon as the council takes final action upon its 1922 budgetary preparations.
