IN SOCIETY

Mrs. George C. Brownell entertained a few of her friends at a luncheon at her home at Concord on Wednesday afternoon.

Assisting Mrs. Brownell in entertaining was her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ambrose Brownell.

The table was prettily decorated with fall flowers from the Brownell garden, and similar blossoms were used in decorating the dining and living rooms.

During the afternoon needlework was enjoyed.

Attending were Mrs. M. M. McGeehan, Mrs. C. Schubel, Mrs. G. W. H. Miller, Mrs. E. L. Shaw and Mrs. W. C. Green.

Announcement cards have been received in Oregon City of the marriage of George Grant Stitzinger and Mrs. Vernah Watson Shewman, which took place on Wednesday, October 19th, in New York City.

Following the honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Stitzinger will be at home at 206 Lincoln Avenue, New Castle, Pa.

Mrs. Stitzinger at one time resident of Oregon City, when her former husband, the late W. A. Shewman, was editor of the Oregon City Courier.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Virginia Howell at Canemah Sunday afternoon, October 23, when the occasion was the celebration of her 80th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Howell's home was beautifully decorated with ferns and fall flowers intermingled with autumn leaves, which added to the pleasure of the affair.

One of the features of the day was the serving of a delicious dinner, when a birthday cake, adorned with 80 tiny lighted candles added to the decorative scheme of the table. The cake was a gift of the daughters of the hostess, Mrs. Minnie McGregor and Mrs. C. W. Martyn, of Portland.

During the day many messages of congratulations were received by Mrs. Howell and also a number pretty and useful gifts.

The afternoon and evening was devoted to a social time, proving one that will long be remembered by those attending.

Mrs. Howell's guests, including members of her family, were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Howell and little daughter, Betty Jane, great granddaughter of Mrs. M. V. Howell, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martyn, Mrs. Minnie McGregor and son, Howell, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jagger and son, "Buddy," grandsons of Mrs. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and daughter, Lucile, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jagger, Mrs. Clifford Jones and children, Robert and Mary Frances, great grandchildren, Miss Jane Dirk, great granddaughter, Ben Jagger, all of Portland; Mrs. George Willis, sister-in-law, of Albany, Oregon; G. E. Howell, son of Mrs. M. V. Howell, whose home is at LaMont, Wash., was unable to attend the reunion.

The guests arrived in the morning, and after several hours of once again inspecting the old homestead and wandering over the old familiar paths of their childhood, they were summoned to the sumptuous dinner.

Mrs. Howell well remembers the home of Dr. John McCoughlin, father of Oregon, where she attended an old-fashioned party. Although Mrs. Howell has reached her 80th birthday anniversary she appears many years younger, and is still hale and hearty and unusually active for her age. Her home is one of the most hospitable in the city, where many friends of the pioneer woman are always given a welcome. Mrs. Howell and her husband, the late Joseph Howell settled in this little home in 1866, and the wife is still keeping her home in excellent shape and is the pride of her life.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Babcock, Molalla Road, Tuesday evening, when their youngest daughter, Irene, became the bride of C. J. Walker of Portland.

After the ceremony refreshments were served by Mrs. Lucy Hall of Fargo, N. D., and Miss Frances Babcock, sisters of the bride, and Misses Myara and Katherine Walker, sisters of the bridegroom.

The bride was most attractively attired in white embroideredorgette with veil, which was held in place by rare lace, made by her maternal grandmother. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was prettily gowned in grey crepe and carried pink roses.

About fifty guests were present at the affair. Many came from Portland, where the bride and groom are well known. The latter is connected with the firm of Johnson-Lieber Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker will spend their honeymoon in their new home at 453 Windsor Court, Portland. They have been the recipient of many useful and valuable gifts, which will serve to make their home most attractive and enjoyable.

The marriage of Mrs. Lucile Rourke and Ralph M. Niles, of this city, took place in Portland on Tuesday. The affair was of a quiet nature, and caused a complete surprise to the friends of both.

The bride's maiden name was Miss Lucile Kellogg, formerly of Mount Pleasant, now of Bolton. She is daughter of Mrs. Kellogg, of this city, and is a charming young woman.

Mr. Niles is a well known young man of this city, and for a number of years has been mail carrier for the Oregon City post-office. He is a world war veteran, and was engaged in action of the battles of Argonne, and is one of the most popular men of the city. He is employed by the Mount Pleasant for some time, and is the son of the late Mrs. Jennie Niles.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church will give a silver tea at the home of Mrs. J. W. Moffatt at West Linn on Wednesday afternoon of this week. The hostesses of the afternoon will be Mrs. Moffatt, Mrs. Minnie Church, Mrs. John Ream, Jr., and Miss Gertrude Humphrey. Early in the afternoon business pertaining to the society will be taken up to be followed by the tea.

At a reunion of their children and grandchildren here Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hadley, celebrated their fifty-fifth anniversary.

Mr. Hadley, in Iowa in 1866, married Eleanor Bradley. Three years later he crossed the plains with his family, and coming over the old Barlow trail, settled in Milwaukie, Oregon. Later the family moved to Wasco county, 12 miles south of The Dalles, where Mr. Hadley established a farm. He subsequently operated a ranch at Kluckwast, Wash., then moving to Free water where he and his oldest son, R. O. Hadley, established a merchandise business.

Eight years ago Mr. Hadley retired, and made his home in his home in Oregon City. He will be 80 years of age this coming December, and Mrs. Hadley has passed her 74th birthday.

Mr. Hadley is a veteran of the Civil War, having served from 61 to '65 as a member of the old First Iowa Cavalry Independents.

The Woman's Relief Corps provided the party with a regulation G. A. R. birthday cake and plate.

Guests at the reunion at the Bradley home 421 Logus street were his three sons, C. E. R. O., and J. L. Hadley and families, and J. J. Hadley a nephew who resides in Molalla. Mr. Hadley also has a son, C. M. Hadley, who resides in Tillamook.

The anniversary day also marked the 15th birthday anniversary of Helen Hadley, daughter of C. E. Hadley, who was among those to attend the reunion.

The first meeting of the season of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club was held at the home of Mrs. L. L. Forster at West Linn Friday afternoon, proving a most delightful affair, Mrs. Porter being a charming hostess.

The rooms of the Porter home were most attractively decorated with autumn leaves, marigolds and dahlias.

Bridges was enjoyed during the afternoon, with Mrs. Charles D. Latourette, winning first prize; Mrs. J. R. Humphrys, second prize, while the guest prize went to Mrs. Frank T. Young.

Mrs. Porter served delicious refreshments.

Arrangements were made for holding the meetings during the remainder of the fall months, and also for the winter. The next meeting place will be at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Latourette in two weeks.

Local Pastor Wins Prize With Article On 1925 Exposition

Reverend H. G. Edjar, pastor of the Oregon City Freebyterian church Tuesday won the $5 prize offered daily by the Portland Telegram for the best treatise on the 1925 Exposition. The article appeared on page one of Tuesday's issue of the Telegram. It follows "We have built a new home in the West. It's 'Home, Sweet Home' to us. We have adopted the name by which it was known years and years ago. Oregon—'Old Oregon'."

Oh, have you seen it all? Are you not proud of it? Something more practical is that you desire? "Man cannot live by scenery alone," did I hear you say? You were just joking, then? You saw the "silver and gold," and the cattle on a thousand hills," the vineyards, the grain fields, the orchards, the irrigated "desert blossoming as the rose" the busy streets and thoroughfares, the teeming marts of trade, the foundries and factories, the schools and colleges and universities, the churches and the happy families— you noted all these things as we sped along seeking surcease in mountain fastness? Of course you did. And are you not proud beyond words that this is your own, your chosen state—"Old Oregon?"

So am I!

Wouldn't you just love to "personally conduct" your friends over it all? Let's give a big "party" and invite them in. What say? "Cost too much?"

No, no! Listen! It would require only a few cents apiece, only $3 or $4 on an average, at most. Besides (let me whisper) if a small proportion only of them should decide to buy—"mercenary," did you say? Well, I didn't mean it that way. I just thought how fine it would be to have that kind of neighbors. I would give a good deal just for that. Yes, of course, you would, too.

Can we get ready by 1925? All right, let's do it!

Responsibility of Teachers and Principals Very Great

Eye-strain is a handicap which few children can overcome and make good grades at school with ease and comfort. Many children who suffer from eye-strain get by but their health is often impaired for life as a result of the effort necessary to overcome the handicap.

Teachers should watch their pupils for the following symptoms. Dull appearance of the eyes, wrinkling of the forehead or squinting of the eyes when reading, miscalling words, halting and uncertainty when reading, headaches, eyeaches or other abnormal conditions likely to interfere with the school work. Many a child considered dull lazy or obstinate at school is merely abnormal in his eyes which if properly corrected will change his whole condition and make his work a pleasure.
