

OREGON CITY ENTERPRISE
Published Every Friday.
E. E. BRODIE, Editor and Publisher.

Subscription Rates:
One year $1.50
Six Months .75
Trial Subscription, Two Months .35

S. P. Officials Visit Here; Improvement of Depot Discussed

Ben C. Doy, chief counsel of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, with headquarters in Portland, Superintendent King and Mr. Mayo, of the engineering staff, of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, were in Oregon City Friday afternoon, coming here to confer with Richard Petzold, chairman of the street committees of the Oregon city council, City Attorney O. D. Eby and Walter E. Canfield, owner of property adjoining the Southern Pacific company, and Roy Stafford, engineer for the city.

West Linn Budget Revised at Meeting

At a tentative budget meeting held in the city hall at West Linn on Thursday night when the approximate value of West Linn property was set by the committee, a two and one-half million dollar budget for the year of 1922 was formed, this to be taken up on December 5th by the people of West Linn if there are any objections. A nine mill tax was made. The committee was formed of Mayor Greaves, four councilmen, Dr. L. L. Fickens, E. J. Williams, W. C. McDonald and A. L. Barnes. Six tax payers also served on the committee. These were C. H. Smith, Hugh Mathewson, J. W. Nixon, P. J. Winkel, J. R. Hickman, James Nichols.

Postmastership at Gladstone is Open

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Oregon City, on December 3, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Gladstone, Oregon, and other vacancies as they may occur at that office, unless it shall be decided in the interests of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $751 for the last fiscal year.

RATIFICATIONS EXCHANGED

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—Ratifications of the German-American peace treaty were exchanged here tonight at the foreign office between Ellis Loring Dresel, the American commissioner, and Dr. Karl Wirth, chancellor and minister of foreign affairs.

SHY HUNTINGTON ENGAGED

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 11.—Charles (Shy) Huntington, Oregon football coach, has announced his engagement to Miss Hallie Hills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hills of Oak Ridge.

KRASSIG & HERNS DENTISTS

Specialize in Extraction of Teeth Crown and Bridge Work "Plates That Fit"

10-11-12 Andressen Bldg. Oregon City, Ore.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Taken from the Oregon City Enterprise November 6, 1891

Annual Meeting Company F.—The annual meeting of Company F, O. N. G., was held on Monday night at the armory. J. W. O'Connell was re-elected secretary for his third term, and T. F. Randall declining re-election. E. J. McKeltrick was chosen to the office of treasurer. The financial reports showed the receipts during the past year to have been $1742.50 and the disbursements a little more than that amount. During the year, however, $250 of indebtedness and $200 on the piano has been paid off. A series of theatricals was also recommended to raise money to pay off the present indebtedness of the company.

Shot for Bear.—Samuel Kennedy and family formerly resided on a farm near Parkville. About two years ago the family moved to Neosho, where they have since lived. The two boys, Jeremiah and Jesse, were well known here. Last Saturday the three brothers were in the woods hunting for a bear. Jesse heard a commotion in the brush, which their dogs were participating, and supposed it to be a bear, he shot. It was his brother, Jeremiah, and the shot was fatal almost instantaneously.

Hallowe'en Social.—The hallowe'en entertainment given by the Ladies of St. Paul's church last Saturday night at Pope's hall was an enjoyable affair. The features of the evening were tableaux and pantomimes, a song by Frank Bruce, recitation by E. J. McKeltrick, solo by Miss Mable Ragland. Thirty-three pieces of cake, in one which was a ring, was concealed, and this was discovered by Miss Emma Hedges.

Mr and Mrs. C. D. Latourette gave a reception to Judge Taylor on Wednesday evening. There were about a dozen guests, when music, cards and refreshments helped to make the occasion a pleasant one.

Alice Glasspool has gone to Portland, where she has secured a position with the Baites & Company.

Mr and Mrs. Dodd Shindler were guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Norris over Sunday. Mrs. Shindler is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norris.

Taken from the Oregon City Enterprise November 13, 1891

Sidewalk Abominations.—Mr. Farr this week had a piece of new sidewalk built in front of his meat market on Main street. In accordance with instructions from the city council committee on streets, this piece of sidewalk had to be laid at the city grade which happened to be fully six inches higher than the adjoining walk. So now that piece, which is scarcely twenty feet across stands up like a scaffold.

Improvements at Canby.—During a heavy wind storm a week ago, the small unsubstantial building that served as a depot at Canby was blown down. The Southern Pacific Company promptly let the contract for the erection of a much larger station to be 24x46 feet, and the work has begun. Canby is rapidly growing in importance as a shipping point. It has tolerably good roads to the interior and storage room for produce. A ferry across the Willamette is to be established there which will give the Canby people access to west side roads to Portland and Oregon City. The town has a live board of trade. Many large places do not manifest the enterprise of the town of Canby.

Improves with Age.—The Oregon City Enterprise is a quarter of a century old, having begun its twenty-sixth last week. It has always been a live paper, and improves with age.—Portland Oregonian.

Editorial.—It's rather hard on the surplus women of the East to have a Western bud gather in the persimmons as Mattie Mitchell has done. It's also a little rough on the surplus men of the West to have our incomparable girls so nosing around European capitals for husbands. It is barely possible however, that our girls who are really incomparable are not so strongly attracted by a foreign accent, an empty title, and a bad character.

Major Charman is out again after having been confined by illness for nearly two weeks.

John Kelly has a "case" on the Salem Statesman.

FIFTY-THREE YEARS AGO

Taken from the Oregon City Enterprise November 9, 1867.

The New Columbian.—A few years ago, before the metropolis of Oregon began to put on so much dignity, the Columbian was considered one of the best hotels in the state. Our recollection of it dates back to the fall of 1862, when a weary pilgrim we sought shelter beneath its roof. While we were in Boise the next year Mr. Carter razed the Columbian, and created on its site the present structure. Now the massive iron, bound, steam driven cylinder press of the Oregonian, serves food daily for furnishing intellect, about where Mr. Sinsnot's former dining room was located, and the Herald rattles away in one corner, up stairs, about where people who used to sleep and dream.

Festival.—The ladies of the Methodist church will give a festival at the court house on November 21st. The proceeds will go towards meeting the incidental expenses in connection with the church and parsonage. There will be supper, music and other entertainment.

Died.—In this city on the 27th, of typhoid fever, Mrs. Caroline Ramsden, wife of Mr. Ramsden, an operator in the employ of the Woolen Manufacturing Company. In order that employees of the mill would be able to attend the funeral, work was suspended at the factory on Monday by direction of Mr. Jacobs, president. There was a large attendance at the funeral.

New Term.—A new term commenced at the seminary on last Monday. The last term was very satisfactory. The average attendance for the term was 135, the aggregate being 182.

Do you remember when we could purchase a leg of lamb with the air-bone attached for 50 cents? J. K.

Do you remember when down on Fourteenth and Washington streets when the old mother geese and her goslings used to waddle down to the Abernathy for a swim on a hot summer day, and the old ganders and mother geese would run after the kids' bare legs when the kids chased them, and now the street was named "Goose Place"? Also when Piety hill, between Eleventh and Thirteenth streets on Washington was given that name for the number of pious people living on those streets R. J. B.

Do you remember when the office of the Oregon City Enterprise was located in a little building where now stands the Grand theatre? F. R. N.

Do you remember when the old Oregon City seminary was torn down and where hundreds of notes were found in the walls, that had been thrown by the students into the knot holes in the walls, and where there were people looking over the debris looking for some familiar name on these notes, some of which were in the form of love letters? One who attended that school.

Do you remember the old ferry that used to "tote" the people and teams across the Willamette river before the suspension bridge was made, and when Charles Bolds acted as captain of the craft? An Old Pioneer.

Do you remember how proud the members of the Clackamas County Humane Society were when they erected a handsome drinking fountain at Seventh and Main streets and which was later made into a hitching post until its removal to Eleventh and Main, where it now is partly demolished, and "waterless"? Citizen.

Do you remember the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the building on Eleventh and Main street now occupied as a feed store, and which was later turned into a skating rink? One Who Remembers.

Chairmen Chosen

(Continued from page 1)

period of painful reconstruction, in which, as too many of us have been prone to forget, thousands are in pressing need, not only of governmental attention and assistance, but also of those supplementary acts of human kindness which only volunteer mercy can supply.

Work Said Efficient.—By systematic and scientific plans and equipment for relief from disaster, and by prompt response to many urgent calls throughout the past year, the American Red Cross has fulfilled another requirement of its Congressional Charter. To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities.

"After liquidating its obligations of general relief to peoples of other lands who were associated with us in the great war, it has concentrated its foreign efforts on a program for the medical relief of children in Central Europe, and from funds made available last year, it continues this work of mercy, and also contributes its medical and hospital supplies for the work of relief in Russia which is operated under American direction.

"As a result of vast and varied experience during the World War, the American Red Cross has revised and put in operation an extensive domestic health and welfare program whereby our American communities are instructed and directed in the solution of those community problems upon which the public will ultimately rest.

"It is a fundamental principle of the Red Cross not to duplicate but to supplement the efforts of governmental and other agencies in the mitigation and alleviation of human suffering, and to supply the means of thereto where other agencies do not exist. The call of the American Red Cross is the call of country and humanity, and I earnestly urge my fellow citizens to make that response which satisfies the promptings of a generous people."

READY FOR THE NEXT

"I met old Deacon Bluebeard the other day, and asked him if he had got rid of the car in which his wife got killed when she was learning to drive. "What did he say?" "Not by a dum sight, by Heck; any man is liable to marry again."

No matter how profitable a business deal, it never equals the thrill of finding a $5 bill in an old suit.

Isn't it about time to spring the annual report about the shortage of Thanksgiving turkeys?

Did you notice that Doc Payne is a high official in the Indiana Dental Association?

WOMAN'S PAGE by Florence Riddick Boys

Thoughts For Better Speech Week

She awed me with her stately air, Her swish of silken gown; But when she said "you was"—right there My high esteem slumped down. Upon a charming stranger, then, My rapturous glance was bent. He seemed the prince of gentlemen Until he said "has went."

OPEN DOORS IN BUSINESS

FRUIT GROWING.

This branch of agriculture is probably the most promising for either man or woman. It has its hard side, physical strength to care for it and it is hard for a woman to depend on help since most men do not want to take orders from a woman.

If a woman can study the subject thoroughly until she knows well how it should be done, and if she herself is strong, and if she has the ability to manage men's labor skillfully, there is no reason why she may not succeed at it as well as a man for fruit will grow with feminine care as well as with masculine.

Either in the agricultural college or working with a successful fruit grower all the details of pruning, spraying, picking and packing should be learned, as well as the kinds of fruit best adapted to the climate, soil and market available. The matter of help and transportation should be determined before embarking in any certain locality.

In making a beginning in this business it is well to have expert advice, such as may be gotten at the agricultural college, and also to talk with other fruit growers in the immediate vicinity.

By adding small fruits such as berries, etc., and even grains and garden truck and some stock and bees, while the tree are growing, the land may be made profitable in the first year. It takes not less than twenty-five acres to make a desirable fruit farm and from 500 to 1000 trees to make a good business.

This is good work for the daughter on the farm to begin under her father's care that the business may grow as she is growing in knowledge and skill in it.

BABY-O-GRAPH

People:

When you lift me slip your arm under me and raise me all together. Do not pull me by my arms. That might dislocate my shoulders. I am not tied together very tight yet.

When I lie on your lap or in your arms, support me fully. Don't let my back sag nor my head drop. Do not startle me with sudden and sharp noises. I love calming sounds, especially Mother's voice, which is sweet and low, and Daddy's, which is good-humored and playful.

If I keep my mouth going all the time, it is only because I don't know how to do anything else as well. It is not a sign I want something to eat. Don't give me a pacifier to waste my saliva and load me up on germs.

Don't let everybody kiss me. It tastes bad and infects me with diseases which I have not the resistance to overcome.

Don't give me patent medicines. Give them to puppy. His life is not as valuable as mine.

Please call the doctor if I get sick. Don't take any risks with me. I want to grow up and be a useful citizen.

Faithfully yours, Baby.

The Balanced Meal

Choosing a balanced ration is not as difficult as it seems. It is possible for the housekeeper, with a few simple principles in mind, to accomplish the feat, without having to talk learnedly of "calories" and such mysterious measurements as will probably never become practical to most of us.

We must know something of what the body needs and something of the composition of foods, and then see that it has some of each needful sort each day. Each meal does not have to be balanced. If the day's ration is balanced, that is sufficient.

Building Foods.

Meats, fowl, fish Milk, whole, skimmed, buttermilk. Eggs. Cheese. Beans, peas, lentils. Nuts.

Energy Foods.

These are the fats, sugars and starches. Oils, butter, fat meat. Cream, nuts, cheese, chocolate. Sugar, syrups, honey. Dried fruits contain fruit sugar.

It is easily removed when the pie is done.

If you would preserve the sharp edge on bread and peeling knives, do not use them about the heat as the heat tempers them and makes them dull.

The soles of shoes will wear longer if waxed or varnished on the bottom before the shoes are worn. Rubbers save shoes. Nothing is so hard on shoe leather as to be wet and dried. If dried too quickly, the leather will crack.

To avoid shedding tears when you peel onions, wear your glasses, or your automobile goggles.

Grains products: flour, macaroni, oatmeal, cornmeal, rice. Regulating Foods. Mineral salts and tonic acids. Milk, egg yolk and whole grains. All kinds of fruits and vegetables. A wide variety should be eaten, as they contain different combinations and are very necessary. Only a few are chosen and the rest discarded, one is likely to suffer the lack of some most needed element.

Wishing 'Em Well. If the youngsters more strictly we'd train, There'd not be so much to explain— "We'll get it," Mr. Ma. "Agreed," echoes Pa. Let's hope they'll not labor in vain!

Like Oil and Water Pop-Boom—Zip—a dreadful fix!!! Gasoline and tools won't mix.

City Budget Prepared

(Continued from Page One)

Many needed improvements throughout the city which it was found difficult to include. Items decided upon were Salaries, $1440; Labor, $3550; Supplies, $3,600. The remaining $7,900 was left to the council to budget, for the reason that a portion of this sum may have to be used toward the temporary Willamette river bridge, which cannot be ascertained until after an agreement is reached with the county court. Out of this $7,000 will have to come provision for all of the bridge repairs within the city limits and all of the permanent improvements made on main arteries. It was pointed out that should the proposed special road tax fail, no funds for this purpose would be provided.

A special seven mill tax was voted some years ago for the retirement of the $275,000 general fund bonds. This year $21,000 will be realized on this tax, divided approximately in half for the payment of principal and interest. For the payment of the $15,000 fire department bonds and the operating expenses of the fire department, a two mill tax is provided, netting $6250, of this amount, $2000 is paid upon the bonds to retire principal and interest, the remainder is for operating expenses.

A one mill tax will provide $3,000 toward retirement of the $25,000 city hall bonds and a one mill tax provide $3,000 for library upkeep. A second bond of $100,000 was recently re-bonded to $70,000 when a special tax of 1 mill was voted to pay principal and interest on $30,000 of this amount. This tax has netted $3,000. The interest on the remaining $70,000 amounting to $5,500, together with $600 interest on the $12,000 elevator bonds is provided for out of the general fund.

These taxes, making a total of 29 mills have already been voted by the people, and with the exception of the expenditures in the general fund are fixed. After the budget is ratified by the council, a meeting of the taxpayers to check the budget will be called. The only changes that can be made are in the distribution of administrative expenses.

Increase is Slight. The expenditures for the coming year, while they represent an increase of approximately $4,000 over the general expenses of 1920, include a far wider scope of activity, and make provision interest payment on bonds amounting to $4,100 which was not taken care of two years ago. Figures for the total expenses of 1921 are not yet at hand for the reason that they cannot be computed until after the end of the year.

The committee which with the council and city officials has been preparing the budget is composed of Chris Schuebel, D. G. Ely, Linn E. Jones, R. E. Cox, W. H. Howell, W. B. Caulfield, J. M. Trimble, William Anderson, Richard Greaves and Groat B. Dimick.

Cops Locate Booze and Milk Can Still

The old copper kettle is outdone as home made still. Enter the milk can as the latest wrinkle in moonshine manufacture. A still fashioned from a ten gallon milk can was discovered Thursday afternoon by Deputies Hughes and Long on the A. B. Taylor place at Maple Lane. The officers also confiscated 160 gallons of wash and 2 1/2 gallons of moonshine.

Suit Appealed to Test Vehicle Law

Frank Russo, driver for the Henry Wehnard company, has appealed to the circuit court to review the action of Recorder C. W. Kelly, before whom he was arraigned for a violation of the Oregon city vehicle ordinance requiring a city license for delivering goods for resale. When arraigned before Recorder Kelly, Russo was fined $50. The validity of the ordinance under which he was arraigned is being tested in the high court.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS:

To prevent the juice from running over from juicy pies, or to prevent the edge from cooking too rapidly, wet a strip of muslin and wrap it around the outer rim of crust. The muslin can

LIQUOR TRAFFIC CONDEMNED BY EX-SERVICE MEN

Prohibition Enforcement is Held Need; Committee to Investigate

Asking that the city administration take immediate action toward enforcing the prohibition regulations with the end in view of preventing a recurrence of the condition said to have existed at the Armistice day dance, the local post of the American Legion went on record Monday night with a strong resolution and a committee to back it up. Following the reports that a number of intoxicated youths attended the dance given by the auxiliary of the post, members investigated and the resolution is based on their belief that the city authorities were lax in enforcing the law.

Hempstead Heads Committee. The following committee was appointed to follow the matter up, W. E. Hempstead, William L. Logus, M. R. Cooper, Arthur G. Beattie, and Phil Hammond.

The resolution was unanimously passed, reads: "Whereas the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion gave a dance on November 11, 1921, Armistice Day, in Busch's Hall in Oregon City, at which dance a number of persons not members of the American Legion became intoxicated and conducted themselves in a boisterous and unseemly manner; and

Enforcement Said Lax

"Whereas the American Legion has been informed that intoxicating liquor was sold near the premises, and

"Whereas the American Legion has learned that intoxicated persons have frequented many dances given in this city, which is common knowledge here, and

"Whereas no police are ever detailed to enforce law and order at dances, and police protection and enforcement of the prohibition law is exceedingly lax and inadequate in this municipality, now

"Therefore be it resolved by Williamette Falls Post No. 5 of the American Legion that we publicly protest against these conditions, and demand that the City Council of Oregon City at once take strenuous action to enforce the prohibitory law and the principals of common decency, and that citizens attending public functions be protected and that Oregon City be cleaned up of bootleggers and be kept clean."

The nomination of officers was held at the meeting, with the following to be voted on at the meeting two weeks hence: for commander, Stephen Mead; vice-commander, Wm. R. Logus; adjutant, Julius Spagle; treasurer, Milton R. Nobel.

Paralysis Is Fatal to Alexander Beaulieu

Alexander C. Beaulieu, well known resident of Oregon City, died Friday morning at 1 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Beaulieu was stricken with paralysis recently, suffering from the second stroke this morning.

Mr. Beaulieu was a native of Watertown, N. Y., and was born May 16, 1852. He came to Oregon many years ago, first settling at Lafayette, and in 1890 came with his family to Oregon City. He engaged in the blacksmith business for a number of years, when he suffered from an accident causing the loss of his leg, and since that time retired from business.

Deceased is survived by an only child, Joseph Beaulieu, of this city. He also leaves two sisters and one brother at Brazier Falls, N. Y. His wife, Mrs. Nancy Beaulieu, died in this city last December.

Trouble Shooting Is Now a Fine Art

How about tracing out trouble in the electrical circuits on your car; or correcting the timing of the motor; or grinding the valves. Could you do these things if either were necessary in an emergency?

Most garage men, and they are in position to know, believe that you are to be congratulated on your knowledge if you are one of the old fashioned few who can do any of these things.

The long and short of it seems to be that the substantial construction of the car and its parts, and the frequency of service stations makes all this "do it yourself" knowledge superfluous. The up-to-date driver, instead of loading up his memory with a mass of details, remembers only a few items of routine care—things that he must do to keep the car running smoothly and continuously. It is this sort of information that the industry has made popular.

Hardly a day goes by in any garage or service station without their noting the effect of the educational work that has been done by the accessory manufacturers and car builders during the past few years. The storage battery in particular has received an unusual amount of attention. The Willard Storage Battery Company has found that the greatest part of their sales and service work is really educational in nature, they must teach the battery user how to take care of his battery.

There can be little doubt that the car owner owes a good deal of his satisfaction to the efforts of the manufacturer and his representatives who have taught him what to do to keep each part of his car in prime condition.

NOT BUILT THAT WAY

A private was shaving himself in the open air when his sergeant came along. Sergeant—"Do you always shave outside?" "Of course," answered the private. "Did you think I was fur lined?"

VERY CLOSE

"The customers are complaining," said the boss barber. "Claim you shave 'em too close."

"That's the result of helping my father in the grocery. Been used to shaving clipped beef and cheese."