GARDNER IS TAKEN TO LEAVENWORTH PRISON ON ATTORNEYS ORDER

Story of Escape Told; Bandit Stole Motorcycle in Oregon City

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 17 .- Roy Gardner, convicted mail robber, who was captured here Tuesday night was removed from the coun ty jail by federal officers tonight. where he was taken and the reason for his removal were kept secret.

A charge of criminally assulting a young girl here had been preferred against Gardne: by state officials today just a few minutes before instructions were received from the department of justice at Washington cancelling the order received last night for Gardner's immediate transfer to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 17 .- Roy Gardner, the "baddest, boldest bandit" of the modern West, was to be taken to Leavenworth prison today in ac cordance with instructions of Federal District Attorney Flynn.

Gardner was captured while attempting to rob a Santa Fe train near here. It was the first time he had been seea since he escaped under fire of a score of guards from the federal penitentiary at McNeils Island. Washington, several months ago.

The accasion of Flynn to send Gardner to Leavonworth instead of returning nim to McNeils Island was taken at the insistence of the department of justice in Washington.

In telling his story of his escape that he took a motorcycle from Oregon City and used it to go further south. It has been found that the stol en machine was taken from the Nash garage on 7th and J. Q. Adams street, The motorcycle was a Harley-Davidson, belonging to J. C. Hensen of this for the cities by resolution. city

Frightful calamities used to sweep over the world without any means of mitigating them. The earth abounded with wars and pestilences and fires and floods, but there was no organized system of relief, and people just had to suffer and meet their awful fate without hope of assistance.

In these times of plenty and comfort, when there is abundant food and clothing and all needed supplies, it is unthinkable that people should be left to suffer from disease and sudden misfortune. But to bring quick and adequate relief, some society must have ample funds and workers so that its supplies and relief parties can leave at once for the scene of any disaster. Also there is a world of ordinary misery and suffering which needs the constant work of remedial and preventive agencies. In these fields the American Red Cross has done its marvellous work.

The creation of this superb machine for the relief of suffering has softened the miseries of life for innumerable people. It took the victims of war and nursed their wounds on the battlefield. It cared for the orphans. It has assisted the disabled veterans and their families.

Wherever disease and death and suffering from any cause have broken loose, there the Red Cross has gone, a symbol of life and hope and succor. It has saved millions of families from despair and from anguish greater than they could bear.

A ministry which accomplishes so much to bind up breaking hearts and make it possible for people to live through their troubles, is the noblest product of our country. The millions should pour into its lap until its treasuries are full to overflowing. There will be plenty of need for more funds, even if none of the folks of Oregon City forget to give before the date set for the end of the annual drive.

TANGENT-TALK

By Howard Hilles You know my neighbor, Mrs. Brown There is no better womand breathing-She's wonderful to plan a gown Or give advice when Baby's teething.

Her talk (between ourselves, you know) One finds a trifle hard to follow-It sort o' wanders to and fro. Flits here and yonder like a swallow,

She drops in nearly every day-"Oh, I can't stay but just a minute, As my first husband used say . . My skirt is loose-won't you please pin it!

"You knew him, I suppoe, He's dead these forty years or over . . Just look at Mrs. Jones' clothes-That woman surely is in clover!

I've buried two more husbands since-Life's full of sadness and of sorrow . . . I'll iry that recipe tomorrow.

They say Sue Simpking has a beau-I s'pose it's better late than never-One hears so much that isn't so . What Married! . . Well now, didja ever!

"How times have changed-what! Half past five! I oughta be at home a churning, My supper's stewing . . Sakes alive! I'll run right home-I smell it burning!"

So hither, thither, here and yon, Her cheerful chatter roams and rambles, Here, there and somewhere else, anon, Her thoughts, like breakfast eggs, she scrambles. But I shall wonder till I'm dead What that deceased (irst husband SAID!
