Initial Meeting of Sandy's Commercial Club Enthusiastic

SANDY, Nov. 22.—The new Sandy commercial club is starting out with "pep" as was evidenced at the first regular meeting when Geo. Quayle, secretary of the state chamber of commerce, addressed a large crowd at the Odd Fellows hall...

Quayle made a strong plea for the farmers and townpeople to work together, not only by pooling interests but most manifest in the community affairs as in persons' justice in any vicinity is to thrive. This pleasant speaker said that Sandy and Hood River were especially favored in location and that throughs of people would flock here when we had conveniences to attract them.

Our first great need was an automobile park with good conveniences was the opinion of Mr. Quayle. A committee was appointed to take up the matter at the previous meeting. Also a committee on securing a site for a high school building one to two after market road questions, or to try to coordinate the local development league with the club, and to look up the publicity needs of this section and decide whether to try to publish a newspaper here or to arrange for a whole Sandy page in the Enterprise.

The club president, C. O. Duke, announced the date of the next meeting for the third Thursday in December. Other speakers from Portland will come from time to time.

Miss Isabel Gray Weds James Wolfe

SANDY, Nov. 22.—A pretty wedding occurred at St. Michael's Catholic church here November 16 at 9 A. M. when Miss Isabel Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gray and James Henry Wolfe were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Brunagge of Gresham. Mrs. Frank Schmitz played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride's party went to the altar. Two lovely little flower girls, Phyllis Wolfe and Margaret Bell scattered chrysantheums in the path of the bride who was leaning on the arm of her father Miss Mary Junker was the charming bridesmaid, and Ted Gray, best man. Mrs. Schmitz sang "I Love You Truly" during a portion of the impressive ceremony. The bride carried a beautiful shawl bouquet, and the bridesmaid pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the home of the bride's parents where a wedding breakfast was served before Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe left for The Dalles. Friends showered the happy couple with rice as the bride says "I love you" and Mrs. Wolfe was the popular Sandy central for a number of years. Mr. Wolfe is a son of the former Sandy hotel man, Geo. Wolfe of The Dalles, and is a brother of Mrs. Frank Christiansen of Sandy.

Farewell Surprise Is Given Mrs. Lilly

SANDY, Nov. 22.—A farewell surprise party was given Mrs. J. C. Lilly last night by a number of friends and pupils of the grade school. The children presented her with a handsome piece of cut glass and other remembrances were brought by individual children. Mrs. Lilly has favored the Sandy school many times in substituting whenever it was necessary and the children in both rooms all like her, and people of the district are grateful for her efficient work as a teacher, also for her help in various interests of the town.

Sandy Women Will Banquet Husbands

SANDY, Nov. 22.—The last meeting of the Sandy Women's club was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Esso, who entertained the ladies in a delightful way, although there was a small attendance as some were ill and some out of town. The club decided to entertain their husbands at a banquet at the Sandy hotel on the evening of December 2, the affair having been postponed because of a funeral two weeks ago. Mrs. Esso was elected permanent secretary and Mrs. Duke treasurer. Mrs. Shelley entertained the ladies by reading items collected in connection with book week.

Beers and Scales Take Over Hotel

SANDY, Nov. 22.—George Beers and J. Scales of Sandy have taken charge of the property at once. L. N. Tice of Marinet will be the chef. Hotel has cooked at almost every big hotel on the coast and on most of the river boats for years and will be glad to get away from the ranch and back to his profession again. The hotel management will also run the stage line to Gresham.

Mrs. Sarah Cross Laid to Final Rest

SANDY, Nov. 19.—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Cross who passed away suddenly on the night of November 5 was held at the Methodist church here yesterday. Rev. S. F. Pitts of Cottrell conducted the services. The music was furnished by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Esso, Dr. Sture and Mrs. George Perret. The interment was at Gresham cemetery and the Burial Rebekah lodge assisted by members of the Sandy lodge had charge of the burial service. Mrs. Cross was laid to rest by the side of her husband who passed away March 23, 1911. The pall bearers were John Bosholt, F. H. Lake, Casper Junker, R. C. Shipley, H. S. Eddy and John Meyer of Boring.

Mrs. Cross was born in Trenton, Mo., in 1852 and crossed the plains to California with her parents in 1863. She was married June 15, 1878 to John H. Cross of Spokane and Claude F. Cross of San Francisco, survive. Also two sisters, Mrs. Susan Young of Spokane and Mrs. Mary Wheeler of Canby, and two brothers, Thomas Kennedy of Colfax, Wash., and Geo. H. Kennedy of Fossil, Oregon. All of these relatives attended the funeral except Mrs. Little, Mrs. Young and George Kennedy. Irvin Wheeler, a nephew and his wife and daughters Opal and Lillian of Canby and Mrs. Minnie Masters a niece of Portland were present at the last rites.

Lovely flowers were in abundance, one elegant piece being sent by the business associates of Wm. H. Cross of Spokane. Another daughter, Mrs. Essie Little of Fruitland Wash., and two sons, Wm. H. Cross of Spokane and Claude F. Cross of San Francisco, survive. Also two sisters, Mrs. Susan Young of Spokane and Mrs. Mary Wheeler of Canby, and two brothers, Thomas Kennedy of Colfax, Wash., and Geo. H. Kennedy of Fossil, Oregon. All of these relatives attended the funeral except Mrs. Little, Mrs. Young and George Kennedy. Irvin Wheeler, a nephew and his wife and daughters Opal and Lillian of Canby and Mrs. Minnie Masters a niece of Portland were present at the last rites.

Kelso Womens Club Meets at Jonsruds

KELSO, Nov. 21.—The Woman's Club of Kelso met at the home of Mrs. Robert Jonsrud on Thursday afternoon. The following members were present: Mrs. E. Herz, Mrs. L. H. Phillips, Mrs. F. Rathke, Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Haworth, Mrs. H. Revenue, Mrs. J. Revenue, Mrs. Baumback, Miss Vaeretti and Mrs. E. V. Erickson, also the following visitors, Mrs. F. W. Canine, Mrs. Ed. Littlepage, Mrs. J. Sindal and Mrs. T. G. Jonsrud. Four new members were added. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Miss Morris, health nurse for Clackamas County, visited our school on Monday of last week. Mrs. Mary A. Kotka a title over a month ago to take up this work under the direction of Red Cross.

Among those attending the National Grange Convention in Portland last week were Mr. and Mrs. Max Kligeel and Mrs. Joe Jarl. Mrs. Jarl returned to Medford, Oregon to spend the winter.

Edgar Greist, son of Mrs. Jess H. Greist, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Oregon City hospital, and is reported doing well.

H. Waybill Funeral Delayed by Water

SANDY, Nov. 21.—The funeral of Harvey Waybill which was to have been held at the Pleasant Home Methodist church today had to be postponed on account of the heavy rain and general storm. The interment was to have been at the Douglas cemetery which is located one mile south of Troutdale, but the care taker said the ice was such that he could not get the grave ready. Phones were down and word could not be sent around of the postponement so many drove to Pleasant Home before they knew of the postponement. Mr. Waybill was an old settler at Pleasant Home and was past eighty years of age. He leaves a widow, one son and three daughters.

Merry Surprise Is Given at Bolsholms

SANDY, Nov. 22.—There was a merry surprise party given on Monday night by the ladies in the home of Mrs. W. Bosholt. The surprise was given by their daughter Miss Mildred Bosholt. Games were played, there was singing and dancing and cards. At midnight delicious refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krebs and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Updegrave, Mr. and Mrs. Will Updegrave, Mr. and Mrs. Kellher, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Maler, Mr. and Mrs. Gladys Williams, Catherine Mutchler, Mabel Lilly and Mr. and Mrs. Lilly.

Beers and Scales Take Over Hotel

SANDY, Nov. 22.—George Beers and J. Scales of Sandy have taken charge of the property at once. L. N. Tice of Marinet will be the chef. Hotel has cooked at almost every big hotel on the coast and on most of the river boats for years and will be glad to get away from the ranch and back to his profession again. The hotel management will also run the stage line to Gresham.

NEW TEACHER ARRIVES

SANDY, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Fried Conors of Portland arrived in spite of the Sunday evening storm to take charge of the primary department of the Sandy school. Mrs. Tillman handed in her resignation, recently on account of her health and Mrs. J. E. Lilly taught as a substitute last week. There was no school the week before. The work of the primary grades has been badly broken into all fall because of illness.

DRIVE TO SANDY HARD

SANDY, Nov. 22.—Engineer Paxton who drove out from Portland Sunday evening said it was the hardest drive he ever experienced and he had driven a great deal in France. Pieces of silver that were hanging to everything, poles were down, the roads were so icy and the wind shields had to be taken off, till Cottrell was reached, then came the heavy rains.

MAIL DELAYED

SANDY, Nov. 22.—Joe Lundree, mail carrier to Boring reached the station by the way of Pleasant Home this morning and no trains were running because of the P. R. L. and P. company track being washed out on Johnson creek, and after waiting several hours Lundree returned without any Sandy mail from Portland.

ATTEND GRANGE

SANDY, Nov. 22.—A number of people from this section attended the national grange in Portland last week and all came back very enthusiastic over the big affair. About 29 members of the Sandy grange took the seventh degree, which is the highest of the order.

OAKS TO BUILD

SANDY, Nov. 22.—John Oaks who recently purchased a four acre tract on the bluff road from R. E. Jarl is having lumber hauled to construct buildings on the place.

BRIDGE DAMAGED

SANDY, Nov. 22.—Twenty feet of the east approach to the lower Sandy bridge went out last night and was carried away by the swift current caused by the heavy rain fall.

SANDY SCHOOL NOTES

SANDY, Nov. 22.—The Thanksgiving program at the high school was as follows: "The First Thanksgiving," by Ruth Krebs; Thanksgiving among the Greeks, and Jews, Allan DeShazer; "Whistling 'B Heaven," by Dorothy Mattingly; Essay "Early Thanksgiving Dinners" by Edith Hein. Instrumental solo, Miss Lippold; patriotic songs.

After the program was over a surprise party was given on Lytle Lilly who will move away this week with the regret of everyone a school and in the town. The seats were moved back and games were played and refreshments were served.

It took Lewis Murray about two hours to walk down from Cherryville Sunday afternoon and he was wet to the "cuticle" when he reached his bachelor quarters.

Ruby Dodd was in Portland for the week end to help her sister, and reports how "icy" she was down in the city's storm.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Burdick who have recently moved on the Walton place at Firwood expect to send two children to the high school next semester.

Miss Miller had dinner with Miss Lippold the other evening. Miss Lippold has been a little lonely "batchnik" since the other teacher went away.

The girl's basketball team is making fine progress, and are practicing regularly now. Mrs. Malars will give a half hour or more each week to teaching music in her room.

Miss McKenzie, the new teacher at Sandridge is making good according to reports. Miss McKenzie is staying at the Fred Sackow home.

Miss Lippold hurried off to Salem Wednesday evening to spend her Thanksgiving at Salem and Miss Miller went to Portland where she and her home folks treated a few little boys from the social settlement to a Thanksgiving dinner.

Frieda Dobberful was sufficient recovered from her severe attack of tonsillitis to enter high school again Monday.

There is always some commotion since the girl's chorus did not sing Sunday night we can look forward to their warbling at the next "sing" which will be December 4.

Ruth Esso was ill with an unusually hard cold and has been out of school for a several days.

Dorothy Mattingly could not wait to school last Monday so her father carried her through the creek that was spilling over! In the evening when she was ready to start home to "father" could carry her across the raging streamlet again.

Catherine Mutchler brought a handsome bouquet of chrysantheums the other night at the "surprise" and Jonne Shelley gave her a picture of herself, and little Miss Willis presented her with a pretty dish. Mrs. Lilly was truly surprised and admitted that "she lost her gift of speech" and could hardly "press herself as the darkey said."

SANDY LOCALS

SANDY, Nov. 22.—The Powell Valley girls string band was to be with us last Sunday night at the community and tempestuous rain in storm here and the fringes of silver that beyond Cottrell made it inadvisable for them to venture out. The annual election of officers will be a part of the next Sandy grange program. The date will be Dec. 10. Rev. Earl Colton will hold service at the Methodist church next Sunday night. Mrs. Cathery of Gresham could not keep her appointment at Cottrell Sunday morning because of the silver snow down that way, but will probably speak there later, on the local Japanese question. Mrs. Cathery has made a study of the Japanese a-cout that section, and believes we are making a mistake in not interesting ourselves in their lives and doing missionary work at home instead of sending money to Japan to do much of the work that could be done by our own effort.

There was no Sunday School Sunday because there was so much water in the church basement that a fire could not be started. The same difficulty was presented in the evening when an attempt was made to start a fire for the community song program. Every basement in town had a hch and while a few "stragglers" were out on the streets now and then, for most part the town was hibernating.

Dr. and Mrs. Sture did not get back from Powell Valley until Monday noon. They drove down Saturday evening to attend the church bazaar. There was a church contest and they were an losing side which had to furnish a banquet for the winners.

It has been tried out and found to be true, that the way to build up a section of the country is or the small town to realize that in order to thrive itself, it must see that the country thrives; and the country in order to develop, must see to it that the town builds up! In other words they must "make one hand wash the other."

Mrs. Nick Schmitz was able to attend the Gray-Wolfe church wedding and is still "getting the best" of her attack last spring.

Everybody is sorry that the Lilly family are moving away this week, but it is comforting to know that the Lillys is coming to go. The place they own at Llanemau needs attention, however, and business call them.

When Mrs. Shelley finished her little presentation speech to Mrs. Lilly at the farewell surprise party one of the girls hurriedly remarked "you wouldn't have got that if you had been in bed when we came."

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pan must be wandering about in Sandy as there is no much joy being scattered among our youth.

The Duke family drove to Pleasant Home on Monday to attend the funeral of Harry Waybill, whom they had known for a long time, the phones being out down that way they did not know the funeral had to be postponed on account of the sleet till they reached the Waybill home.

Mrs. L. Lehndorf has been working to help the new hotel; management get things in shape this week although she has hardly recovered from her recent sickness.

Joe Jarl brought some of his turkeys to market on Monday, selling them at Hoffman's market. He pronounced the rain-storm about the worst ever.

Pete Swan was in town Monday. Pete and his wife are arranging to move out from the city to take charge of the Herman Fischer ranch.

James Kesterson will work for D. X. on with the highway crew. He was among the fifteen local men who quit working at the crusher about ten days ago.

The Scotts were over from Deep Creek Monday and didn't seem to mind the torrents as they descended.

Glenn Lundree is going to board in Portland with his aunt "Marie" while attending the Y. M. C. A. automobile school.

The rain made the water "tramp up around" at the Kubitz place, and it almost got into the Kubitz barn.

The men working at the gravel works have been paid off and the work will probably start up again as soon as the weather permits.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, old friends of the Dodd family were visiting here for almost a week. The Phillips returned to Eastern Oregon the first of this week.

Mrs. E. Dodd was in Portland Saturday and Sunday, and came out through the storm.

Mrs. F. A. Proctor's father, Mr. Lehman of Pleasant Home was up for a visit last week.

The new hotel management will give a big turkey dinner on the evening of their opening, which is Saturday night.

Mrs. Miller and Miss Miller had a "hot-luck" dinner at the Duke home a few days ago.

George Wolfe just naturally cannot stay away from Sandy long at a time. He kept the road warm by returning here from The Dalles again last week, but there were business "doings" that brought him this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves who have been managing the Sandy hotel for almost a year have moved out and it is reported they will live in Gresham.

Milton Nelson "blew" over in the big rain storm Saturday and subscribed for the Enterprise among the other important business transactions.

Ted Gray came home from Heppner last week and brought the A. W. Bell car home.

Uncle "Billy" Akorn of Brightwood was sporting around in Portland last week where he went to attend the wedding of his niece.

Last Sunday finished the pastorate of Rev. Father Brunagge of Gresham who has had charge of St. Michael's church here since Rev. Father Hogan resigned. Another priest will probably take charge of the church soon.

Miss Mary Junker went to the city on a shopping tour a few days ago, and brought out the flowers for the Gray-Wolfe wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Esso was in the big city last week looking after business affairs. The Dave Douglasses were down visiting last week at the Reed home and last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Reed, baby Frances and Henry Quayle went to the Douglass home where they had a big "spread."

Mrs. Ridderbush, Sr. was visiting with Mrs. Theodor Fischer for some time then stayed a few days with Mrs. Katie Koch.

Glenn McIntyre and C. L. Henson, the forest ranger, came down from Brightwood to attend the Masonic lodge meeting. Mr. King, druggist at Silverton was also a visitor at the lodge session.

Wm. Morand of Boring, has been seriously sick with blood poisoning and was in bed last week. The trouble started from a small pimple on the ankle which became infected.

There was surely "all the makings" of a first-class fire at the Esso drug store, but contrary to nearly inflated reports, the store and all that was in it, was not burned "plum down." Much of the damage was almost nil, the excitement stirred up the circulation of the town pulse a little above normal.

Jimmy Akin drove into town on his way to Portland Monday morning acting as though the weather was fine, and the Cherryville roads super-fine. Poise seems to have been in his possession, which is a factor to cultivate when out in a storm that almost breaks the "annals."

Carl Lundree is driving the stage to Gresham for the Beers-Sen combination since Graves has gone away.

P. B. Gray had to lay off several days at the Brun mill as the planer, which Gray operates was three feet under water. However, it gave him a little more time to attend to school business.

Glenn Lundree and Leroy Quick had a great time hanging round for a chance to get down to Portland Monday. They got set as far as Llanemau, but no train was in evidence there.

The county bridge builders have finished the Beck bridge and are beginning to work on the Pizzola-Boitano bridges. There are five men in the gang and they will get part of their meals at the Pizzola and Boitano home.

There has not been such a large acreage of fall grain planted in this section for many days as has been in this fall. The grain crop was a little below normal this year, due to so much spring sowing. This fall was ideal for the farmer and his given him a chance to get caught up with his work.

Charey Krebs says the potato crop of Sandyridge was fair some average better, some worse than expected.

The Irons Lumber Co. had to close down the mill the last of the week because of the boiler getting under water. The rain stopped everything practically, but the necessary travel to keep the mills and supplies going.

The Duke family entertained the state commercial club secretary all night at the big meeting that promises to add greatly to the enthusiasm of our town.

Some of our business men say that times are out of ten when a family is looking for a new location the first two questions are "What schools and churches have you?"

There is considerable discussion going on as to the feasibility of uniting the high and grade school funds and putting up a joint building when it can be arranged. It seems the plan is being used up the valley in nearly all the towns, and reports from various sections seem to prove it is a saving to the taxpayers and the united funds give a much more desirable building, one that can fill the needs of a community far better than two small buildings. It is asked that everyone think over the subject.

Mrs. J. C. Duke, Cecil Duke and Miss Elsie Lippold were all day Sunday guests at the J. M. C. Miller home. Miss Margaret Miller was also present, and in the afternoon callers dropped in. The quartet practiced, Mrs. Miller arrived from Portland, and altogether there was a happy time for everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perret and children drove to Portland Sunday regardless of the stormy day. They dined with Mrs. Perret's mother, but cut their visit short so as to reach home before the dark "swallowed" them.

Mr. Quayle, the speaker at the community club meeting last week made a fine impression with the Sandy folks and they would like to see him out here again.

The following questions are so often asked by people who pass through town or come here visiting: "Why don't the Sandy people clean up the park; and junk on the streets, doctor up their old fences and fix up the sidewalks. The paper thrown down carelessly all over town calls forth much unfavorable comment."

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thomas were among the grange "bunch" that went to the "national" last week and they drove home after riding the big "zeal" and got to bed at 1:40 A. M. slept till six o'clock and then started back to Portland again, leaving their Portland "company" to look after the "chore."

Beside the Thomases, were Mr. and Mrs. Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perret, Mr. and Mrs. Max Kligeel, Mr. and Mrs. Kellher, A. J. Morrison, James Bell, Mack and "Buzz" Thomas Mrs. A. W. Bell, Mrs. Miller, Mr. Hanneberg, Mrs. Joe Jarl from this section that took the seventh degree. It was a "great time" everyone agrees, and "great pride" expressed the way the grangers "showed up" throughout the Portland again, leaving their Portland "company" to look after the "chore."

Mrs. Joe Jarl left for Medford after attending the grange session to join her daughters for the winter.

Charley Krebs who recently purchased the Lee Martainay timber which is located near Iwyer's camp, has moved his engine to the timber and will start up a small saw mill at once. Logs that are not fit for lumber will be made into wood and shipped to Portland on the Dwyer R. R.

Three and a half inches of water fell last Sunday from 7 A. M. till 7 P. M. at Sandy. The rain in the afternoon was usually heavy, and the water is still running everywhere but we have had normal temperature all the time, while
