daughters, Mrs. Marie Farnham, will soon return from San Francisco and will be out to see her father.

W. G. Duncan is getting along nicely at the Good Samaritan hospital where he will likely have to remain for a couple of weeks. His leg was operated on last week. A portion of the bone was scraped and put back again, and a silver plate was also inserted.

Mr. Glockner has been very ill of late with a dull pain in his side and has not had much of an appetite, but manages to get around most of the time.

Mrs. E. Beers and daughter Mrs. Harris made a trip to Brightwood Monday and arranged to bring down the belongings of Mrs. Harris from her cabin as it is uncertain when Ernest will be there again.

If business looks up toward spring Anton Mikkelsen may decide to start the mill again.

Pizzola and Botano butchered a "baby" hog last week that weighed 507 pounds dressed at the age of one year. The hog was sold to a relative who took it to Portland.

Joel Jarl says he is going to get busy and clear some more land this winter while there is nothing much to do on the farm.

Four trees blocked the roadway from the old Proctor mill to the Miller ranch during the big wind storm last week.

The Gresham phone lines were put in operation again last Sunday. Lateley they have been on and off much of the time because of the freakish weather.

The destruction of orchards around Fairview is almost unbelievable. The silver thaw wrecked all sorts of trees and foliage, and the magnitude of the storm cannot be understood without seeing the damage wrought.

Sandyridge voted a special ten mill road tax last week. Fifty per cent of this fund will be used on the road from the Sandyridge school house to Sandy, and twenty per cent on the Bornsted road to the Burn. Fifteen per cent will be expended on the Erickson road near Kelso, and five per cent will be applied on the road from Sandy to the Bornsted road.

At the Sandy road meeting last week at the city hall, a special ten mill tax was voted, which will be applied on the road leading to Sandy ridge. The plan is to cut out the old road by Smith's garage and follow the line directly south between the Paul Meinig and Junker lines to the Bornsted road.

There were seven roads leading to Rome, and there are seven roads leading into Sandy. When all these side roads get in shape for winter travel, just watch Sandy grow. There is only one way to get roads in shape, and that is by co-operation. If we all work together, this country and town will blossom out as a paradise. We have wonderful advantages.

Mrs. Alma D. Maroney is home again after a visit in Portland. Her father and mother, the Maybees brought her home from the city. Mrs. Maroney still has a severe cold, and almost had pneumonia while in Portland.

Mrs. Thomas Hagan and Mrs. Maroney drove down to the Rickert ranch in the Hagan sedan and got some fine fresh cabbage for kraut-making a day or two ago.

J. C. Duke enjoyed a trip to Portland Monday, and we half suspect his motive for going was to see Santa Claus at Meier and Franks.

After all the predictions that "it is going to snow" the sun came out Tuesday and the weather was mild as a spring day.

The Sandy city council held its regular meeting Monday night and talker things in general, but no special action was taken.

Adolph Aschoff went into Portland again this week to get the prints he ordered last week of his splendid drawings. Mr. Aschoff is a member of the Mazamas, Trails Club and Turn Verein, and when he gets to the city he is in great demand, but prefers to get back home as soon as possible, for his heart is wed to nature, and the wilds have far greater attraction to him than the drawing room.

Mr. Aschoff is appearing in the movies, however, as the Mazamas got a "shot" at him when out to his hotel Thanksgiving day. A big bear was brought in that day and a movie picture was taken.

SANDY SCHOOL NOTES
SANDY, Dec. 6.—Miss Jean Proctor was out for the week end. Jean is getting on fine with her work at the Benke-Walker commercial school, and is getting "fat" on figures, judging from her looks. Her father took her back to the city Sunday afternoon.

Miss Lippold is doing fine work at the little church organ. The mantle from Mrs. Perret's shoulders seems to have fallen on Miss Lippold's and she is very dependable, which means much to the community.

Some numbers are being planned by the schools for the big community Xmas tree program. Everyone will have to begin hustling soon and make the affair a great big success.

Gladys Donke Tillman writes that she is feeling better all the time but is still not very strong. She was sorry too heavy to resign her school work here.

Only one pupil was reported as tardy in the high school in the past six weeks.

Dorothy Esson was out of school most of the past week because of an infection on her elbow.

Alta Beers has missed a great deal of school lately but started in again on Friday.

The Boring school have been closed because of smallpox, and it is reported they will remain closed until the first of the year.

Mrs. Florence Connors, the primary teacher, went to Portland Friday evening and remained until Sunday evening.

The school house roof will have to be re-shingled before next fall, most probably, as the roof leaks, and the shingles are so poor it is hard to get the leakage stopped. These dark days it is almost impossible for teachers and pupils to see well enough to do their work.

POSTAL RECEIPTS FOR NOVEMBER GAIN 46 PERCENT

HEAVY INCREASE FOR OFFICE, FORECAST

Business for 11 Months Of 1921 Exceeds Total for All of Past Year

Increase in the postal receipts for the month of November in Oregon City amounted to 46.34 per cent over 1920, or nearly double. Reports from Washington show that during this same month Seattle showed a loss; San Francisco gained 8.77 per cent; Los Angeles, 15.65 per cent, and Portland 10.97 per cent.

All over the country, wherever there was not an actual decrease, the increase ran around 8 or 9 per cent and the average increase for the first fifty cities of the country averaged only 2.76 per cent.

As a barometer of prosperity and good business conditions, this statistical comparison is said to be almost infallible and Oregon City has a right to be proud of its record.

Postal receipts here for the first 11 months in 1921 are greater than the receipts for the entire year of 1920, according to figures compiled by Assistant Postmaster William Howell.

The rate of the present gain, indicates that by the end of the year the receipts will have been 19 per cent greater than last year.

During the past six years, the postal receipts have gained 55 per cent, or an average of 9.1 per cent each year. The increase during the past 12 months it is expected will surpass that of any previous two years.

BORING NEWS

SANDY, Dec. 6.—News from Boring for the past week: The Boring school was closed last Friday morning on account of small pox. The church and Sunday School are also closed as more new cases of the disease are reported.

The dance in the new Boring hall was well attended and all had a good time. Lunch was served at 10:30.

Loris and Buna Child arrived home with Chas Bartelmy on Thursday. They were in Eastern Oregon for the past month and were in Rock Creek near the John Day river where they were moved in for about two weeks. They made the trip from The Dalles in the Chas. Bartelmy "Baby Grand."

It was surely a rough trip and took all day to make it.

The Ladies of the Boring lodge decided it was best to postpone their bazaar until the small pox scare is over.

Alice Lund has been out staying with her folks until she recovered from the effects of having her tonsils "pulled" out. She returned to her work in Portland Sunday afternoon.

A Wild West show was given in the new dance hall last night, and a dance was held afterward. The new player piano that Mr. Waller recently placed in the hall was used to furnish the music.

The last wedding bells to ring for a Boring couple were tingling a few days ago for Miss Silva Erdman and Lester Irvine, a very popular and much liked couple. It was a big surprise for most of the young folks of Boring.

Reinstate Insurance Soon, Says Red Cross

December 31 is the last date upon which ex-servicemen can reinstate their war risk insurance, according to the announcement of the treasury department received here by the local Red Cross chapter. Under this same ruling it is necessary for all men to make application and furnish a doctor's certificate on a form furnished by the government, showing the applicant to be insurable, and the payment for two months on the amount of insurance which he desires to reinstate. The applicant may reinstate and convert to a permanent form of insurance issued by the government in the same transaction.

SPECIAL ROAD LEVIES TOTAL OVER $127,000

Ten Districts' Reports Still Out; Amount Falls Short Of First Estimate

With returns for all but ten road districts in the county in the hands of County Clerk Miller, it is indicated that the total of the special levies will not total more than $135,000. To date the total amount of the special levies reported is approximately $127,000, and the returns yet to be made will probably raise this figure $8,000 it is estimated.

Of the 51 districts in the county, 24 have voted a ten mill tax for special road work, ten have voted no tax at all, and seen have voted taxes ranging from 2 1/2 to 8 mills. Ten districts have not reported.

The road budgets, originally made out by the supervisors of the different districts, called for the voting of more than $200,000. With the first returns after the special meetings, it was believed that the total would amount to $180,000. Present indications however, point to a smaller amount.

The levies, reported during the past few days, are as follows: District 1, Oregon City, 2 1/2 mills, to raise $7600. Special levy last year, none.

District 5, Gladstone, no tax. District 6, Sandy, 10 mills, to raise $280. Special tax last year, 10 mills.

District 7, Estacada, 4 1/2 mills, to raise $825. Special levy last year, 5 mills.

District 11, Hazelia, 10 mills, to raise $7,975. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 12, Lake Grove, 10 mills, to raise $3,850. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 14, Frog Pond, no tax. District 15, Mt. Road, no tax. District 16, Oak Grove, 10 mills, to raise $13,000. Special tax last year, 10 mills.

District 17, Harmony, 6 mills, to raise $13,700. Special levy last year, 8 mills.

District 18, Mt. Scott, 8 mills, to raise $1200. Special levy last year, 5 mills.

District 19, Sunnyside, no tax. District 20, Damascus, 10 mills, to raise $3,500. Special tax last year, 10 mills.

District 21, Union, 10 mills, to raise $2750. Special tax last year, 10 mills.

District 22, Boring, no tax. District 23, Cottrell, no tax. District 24, Aimes, 10 mills, to raise $500. Special tax last year, 10 mills.

District 25, Bull Run, 10 mills, to raise $5,500. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 28, Sandy Ridge, 10 mills, to raise $1400. Special tax last year, 10 mills.

District 29, Deep Creek, 10 mills, to raise $900. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 30, Eagle Creek, 10 mills, to raise $10,000. No tax last year. District 31, Logan, no tax. District 33, Parkplace, 10 mills, to raise $3,900. Special levy last year, 8 mills.

District 34, Beaver Creek, 10 mills, to raise $6,000. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 35, Redland, 10 mills, to raise $3,700. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 36, Viola, 10 mills, to raise $4,800. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 37, Elwood, no tax. District 38, Springfield, no tax. District 39, Grangfield, 10 mills, to raise $4500. Special tax last year, 10 mills.

District 40, George, 10 mills, to raise $2,250. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 41, Dover, 10 mills, to raise $735. Special levy last year, 10 mills. District 42, Colton, 10 mills, to raise $5,000. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 43, Dickie Prairie, 10 mills, to raise $6,750. Special levy last year, 10 mills.

District 44, Molalla, no tax. District 45, Mt. Pleasant-Carus, no tax.

District 46, Mundorf, 10 mills, to raise $5,300. Special levy last year, 5 mills.

District 47, Union Hill, 10 mills, to raise $3,000. No special tax last year. District 48, Monitor, no tax. District 49, Macksburg, 10 mills, to raise $3800. No special tax last year.

District 50, Yoder, 8 mills, to raise $4,100. Special levy last year, 8 mills.
