CANBY, Dec. 21.—Christmas will be observed in the various churches of Canby with appropriate exercises.

The usual exercises of the Methodist church will be held on Friday evening, December 23, when a huge Christmas tree will add to the interest of the children as well as that of the grown folks who attend. This is now being gaily decorated for the occasion, and an appropriate program, with Mrs. W. Boyd Moore, wife of Rev. Moore, pastor, as chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements, will assist.

On Sunday Rev. Moore will deliver an appropriate sermon at both 11 o'clock and 7:30 services. The subject for the morning service will be "Follow Me." At this service new members will be received into the church. Appropriate service will be held by the Epworth League at 6:30 p. m.

The Christmas exercises of the Lutheran church will be held at the church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, December 23. There will be special music for the occasion, when singers of Portland will assist.

On Sunday, Christmas day, Rev. Christensen, of Portland, will officiate at the service at 2:30 o'clock. The choir will sing appropriate songs for Christmas day.

The church will be decorated for the Christmas season.

The High and Grammar schools had planned for a program to be given for Christmas to be held on Thursday, but owing to weather conditions, the idea was given up.

Another place of vital business interest where the boys will stop is the Standard Oil fields at Richmond. If a permit can be secured they wish to pass through the Standard Oil refinery and see the oils in process of making.

Land Transactions Made During Week

CANBY, Dec. 21.—Two important land deals have just been closed, when the place owned by F. W. Birkemier, of Milwaukie, located one mile from Canby, and consisting of 32 acres has been purchased by Nils Oathes, whose land adjoins this tract. The consideration was $7500. This land is under cultivation, but without buildings. It is located on the main road, while the 40 acres owned by Mr. Oathes, adjoining, lies east.

Mr. Birkemier, whose home is at Milwaukie, but has been employed for many years in Canby, has owned the 32-acre tract for some time. Mr. Oathes, new owner, takes immediate possession.

The other deal was the trading of the John Alsted place consisting of four acres at Canby for a 60-acre tract of land at Broad Acres, three miles west of Hubbard, to Courand & Crittendon, real estate dealers of Hubbard. The 60-acre tract of land owned by the Hubbard real estate firm was valued at $6000, and the land owned by Alsted $40000, with Mr. Alsted paying the $2000 cash.

PROTEST AGAINST SPAN DESIGN IS WITHDRAWN

Commercial Club and Council Rescind Former Action On Bridge Plans.

Protests against the design of the new Willamette river bridge, were withdrawn Wednesday by the city council and board of governors of the local Commercial club.

At a special session Wednesday afternoon, the council passed a resolution withdrawing the complaint made about two weeks ago, and the board of governors followed with similar action. The protests were withdrawn following the settlement of difficulties over the plans. Copies are to be forwarded to both the U. S. Engineers and the highway commission.

NAVIGATORS PROTEST

The protest was the outgrowth of the contention of the river navigators that the bridge would obstruct traffic during the high water period.

An agreement was reached however, to allow the present plans to be carried out as any interference would have prevented the erection of the bridge, and the industrial plants, although not satisfied with the outcome of affairs, signified their willingness to withstand the loss due to a tieup of on the average of 10 days a year rather than block the building of the new span.

DESIGN NOT LIKED

The span is designed so that during the periods of high water it is impossible for the boats to use the west channel which is the only place where they can get up the river, but the highway commission stated that any movement to force a change would result in the state's withdrawing from the work which would tie up the construction indefinitely.

30,000 Fish Will be Planted Next Year

Thirty thousand trout will be planted in Milk Creek next year, according to the assurance received here from the U. S. Department of Fisheries by "Babe" Elliott. An application for fish to be placed here was filed some time ago, and it is expected that the first shipment will be forthcoming during the spring of 1922.

Part of District 303 Is In Tentative List

The tentative list of districts to be included in the proposed Union High School at Canby, will also take in the part of district 303 Aurora, which lies in Clackamas county according to the announcement of the county school superintendent's office.

Checking over the original list which took in 16 districts in the vicinity of Canby, showed that the portion of the Aurora district in this county had been omitted. This tract has an assessed valuation of $23,265.53 which will raise the valuation of the proposed joint district to $2,634,387.93.

The question of consolidation is to be taken up at the meetings of the various school boards and mass meetings are to be called in the different districts after the first of the year, to determine whether or not sentiment is sufficiently strong to warrant the holding of a special election.

A number of the students now within the territory which is included in the outline for the union high school, are at present paying tuition to schools outside of the county.

UNIFORM CHARGE FOR AUTOMOBILE PARKS IS ASKED

NOMINAL FEE IS SAID TO BE NECESSARY

Willamette Valley Cities Are Asked to Cooperate in New Movement.

Uniform charges for the accommodations of the automobile parks throughout the Willamette valley, is the purpose of a movement being sponsored by Oregon City. City Attorney O. D. Eby is in correspondence with twenty cities throughout the state to ascertain what charges are now being made at municipal camping grounds, and to determine whether or not a meeting of representatives of the different councils and boards will be feasible in order to consider this proposition.

PARK FUND OPPOSED

During the process of outlining the Oregon City budget for the coming year there was some opposition to the including of a $600 fund to go toward the upkeep of what is at present a free park. It was maintained that no tourist should be adverse to paying a nominal fee for the accommodations provided.

Replies from a number of the municipalities have already been received, and the indication is that there is a general movement toward charging the tourists a small amount in order to aid the upkeep of the parks. One official even goes so far as to state that it is the belief in this community that a park at which a charge is made proves more popular than a free park.

The purpose of the survey is to secure a uniform charge rate over this entire district so that tourists will not feel that they are mistreated when they go from one town to another, and run into a camp-ground which makes a charge.

Well Known Couple Married Tuesday

The marriage of Miss Mary A. Scott to William J. Wilson, both of this city, was solemnized at the parsonage of Rev. H. G. Edgar Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Only a few close friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. The announcement of the nuptials came as a great surprise to the many friends of the bride and groom, as both are very well known.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Scott, 1224 Third St., this city, and she is a very popular and charming young lady. For the past several years she has been chief operator for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. here, and in that capacity has conducted one of the most efficient telephone boards on the coast. She has handed in her resignation to the company taking effect immediately.

Mr. Wilson, the groom has spent most of his life in Clackamas county and for the past 20 years, has been one of the chief lieutenants for the Mitchell, Lewis and Staver Co. He is now head of the firm here known as the W. J. Wilson Co., automobiles and farm machinery, which is a branch of the Mitchell, Lewis and Staver firm of the northwest. The groom, known as "Billy" to his many acquaintances here is a prominent Elk and has taken an active interest in civic affairs of this section, being quite popular among his numerous rural customers over Clackamas county.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left immediately for Seattle, where they will spend several days on their honeymoon. They will return to Oregon City and occupy the charmingly furnished cottage of the groom at Eighth and Washington streets. The couple will be at home to their many friends after the first of the year.

LETTERS SENT OUT

Letters have been sent to The Dalles, Astoria, Hood River, Salem, Corvallis, Woodburn, Eugene, Cottage Grove, Roseburg, Drain, Medford, Grants Pass, Ashland, St. Helens, McMinnville, Sheridan, Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Albany and Silverton.

If the holding of a meeting is found to be impractical an effort is to be made by correspondence to arrive at a uniform charge for park-privileges. It is felt that in this way, without subjecting the tourist to varied conditions in the different cities, the problem of paying for the upkeep of municipal camping grounds can, for the greatest part, be solved.

Chief of Police Gives Up Office

Chief of Police J. L. Hadley, resigned Wednesday morning, as the result of sweeping accusations made in the council meeting Tuesday night by both citizens and councilmen.

George Woodward, former Chief of Police here, was appointed by Mayor James Shannon to fill the office. The appointment was approved at a special session of the city council held Wednesday afternoon.

NIGHT MAN RESIGNS

Frank Wagonblast, night patrolman, indignant over the slurs cast against the police department, tendered his resignation Wednesday noon.

The change is the outgrowth of a demand made before the council Tuesday night, for a general cleanup of moral conditions in Oregon City. It was charged, that either through negligence or inefficiency, the officers were falling to curb what was characterized as a serious epidemic of bootlegging and gambling. While few specific charges were made, the discussion hinged upon the failure of the police to stop a drunken brawl which occurred on the streets Sunday. Councilmen stated that the prohibition laws were not being enforced within the city and advocated the removal of Hadley.

RESIGNATION MADE

Chief Hadley is accredited with the statement Tuesday that if the council made an effort to shake up his department he would step out. He was not present at the council meeting, but learning of the charges that were made against him, Wednesday morning he handed his resignation to Mayor Shannon.

Woodward, though chief of police, will not take active charge of the department until after the first of the year owing to personal business affairs which require attention. In the meantime W. W. May, night officer under Chief Hadley, will take charge of the department. Henry Cooke, former chief of police, and William Griffith will compose the remainder of the force.

Wednesday Woodward was unable to announce the personnel of his department beginning with the first of the year.

GASOLINE TAX FOR 1925 FAIR PASSED BY HOUSE

Road Bills to be Up Today; Speedy Conclusion of Session, Forecast.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Dec. 21.—(Special).—A bill, providing for the financing of the 1925 Exposition through a tax on gasoline was passed by the house at their session here tonight. The vote was 45 to 14.

The bill provides for the measure's submission to the people at the election next May. It is to be presented to the senate Thursday and from all indications will be speedily ratified. The gasoline tax, as a means for financing the world fair, is a compromise measure, evolved after the general property tax and the income tax measures ended in a deadlock.

The house has started work upon the highway bills, and discussion upon this subject will probably require a day, or perhaps a day and a half. Since no other measures to be introduced, it is expected that a speed adjournment will follow the completion of the action upon the road measures.

PRISONERS SAW OUT JAIL DOOR; ESCAPE STOPPED

MAIN GATE OF COUNTY BASTILE WRECKED

Discovery that the hinges of the main corridor door of the county jail had been nearly sawed in two, prevented what the authorities believe was scheduled to be a delivery Wednesday night.

The six prisoners who are being held in the jail, were confined to an interior cell Wednesday evening, the run of the jail, allowed to men being held on long sentences or awaiting trial will be indefinitely denied.

Sheriff W. J. Wilson received a tip from a party whose name he refuses to divulge, that a general delivery was planned. When he took the evening meal down to the prisoners, he noticed that the barred door which stands between liberty and the interior of the jail, swung with more than its accustomed give at the hinges. Examination showed that the bolts which act as pivots had been nearly severed, and a hard jerk, broke down the door.

JAIL IS SEARCHED

Although on the outside of this there is a thin steel door to prevent communication, it is possible, by using a piece of stovewood as a pry, to spring this sufficiently to allow a man to pass out.

A prompt search of the jail and the prisoners was made but failed to reveal any saw-blades, which from the character of the break, could have been the only instrument used.

This is the second break that has been nipped in the bud during the past two weeks. An attempt was made to saw out the bars of the south-east corner window of the "bull-pen" but it was not successfully completed. Wilson believes that the process of sawing the hinges on the main door has been on for the past several days, being done at night. From the condition of the door, it is thought that the escape was scheduled for Thursday.

ESCAPE IS EASY

The county jail is notably an easy place to escape from, and for the past month a special deputy has been kept in the office during the night to prevent a get-away. It is believed however, that had the plans of the prisoners not been discovered, the escape could have been made quietly without his notice.

If the county budget, as now prepared, is sanctioned by the taxpayers, a fund will be provided next year for the rebuilding of the jail. In the mean time watch upon the prisoners will be redoubled.

The officers were unable to fasten the grill for the attempted escape upon any particular man. There are several in confinement serving moonshine sentences, and two awaiting trial on charges that are not exceptionally serious.

ONE IS SUSPECTED

One prisoner, who is suspected, will probably be placed in solitary confinement during the nights hereafter.

Due to the design of the present jail, it has been the policy of the sheriff to lock only the main doors of the corridor, and allow the men in confinement to occupy the hallway within the jail and the two main cells. There is only one "tank" or smaller cell used for solitary confinement and because of the poor ventilation, men are seldom put there. At present the prisoners are confined in the larger main cell but denied access to the other cells or the corridor.

Tualatin Hoopers Defeat Tigard Five

TUALATIN, Ore., Dec. 21.—Saturday night the Tualatin high school hoopers defeated Tigard by a score of 22 to 20. The game was closely contested, a third half being necessary to settle the score. The affair was enlivened by the enthusiastic yelling of the Tualatin rooting squad. Led by their yell leader, Carvel Wilcox, they cheered their team like veterans. Many private machines and a big truck conveyed the high school students to Tigard.
