

SANDY

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dahrens and children remained in Portland five days during the holidays, their headquarters being at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hoskins.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Esson and Mrs. Alice Seales attended the dance given at the Multnomah Hotel by the Bi-mauer-Frank Oregon Co. in honor of their salesmen last Friday night. The employees and the retail druggists were guests of the occasion also, and a delightful evening was enjoyed. Cards were also a part of the entertainment, and a delicious buffet luncheon was served. The "Sandys" drove in early and called on Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Esson who also joined the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed entertained a few young folks informally one evening during the week. Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Reed were Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Gray, Miss Frances Meinig, Miss Gertrude Meinig, Miss Hazel Beers, Henry Quam and Dorothy Esson. Cards were played till twelve o'clock after which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Dittert were surprised recently by friends dropping in from Portland, remaining from five till ten o'clock. Refreshments were served and "Flinch" was played. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Decker and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Mikko-chofeke and daughters Tina and Lulu. Albert Knopp and Ed. Grunert went over to Washougal around Xmas time and the boys said they sure had a fine time.

Ed. Hart of Firwood made a trip to the city of Portland, on the Reliance stage one day recently.

James Bell of Sandybridge went to Oregon City on a business trip, returning the same day via Eagle Creek a few days ago.

Miss Hilda Gilt, a friend of Mrs. C. L. Chnefeler, went up to Welches for a little visit and change during the holidays and stopped here a short time on her journey.

Louis Gherke entertained with a real goose dinner and "fixins" on New Year's day. His cake was imported from Minnesota. The guests say it was the best dinner they had "last year," and Gherke cooked it himself. The following were invited: Mr. and Mrs. Will Bell, James Bell, Alfred Gunderson, Miss Mildred Douglas, Ed. Chapman, and the Fred Suckow family.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Bell, Mrs. Alma Suckow and Milton, and Louis Gherke spent New Year's evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Littlepage. They rode to the end of the Cross road then walked the other two miles.

H. Lubke and Alfred Wainache spent New Year's eve with the Widmer gentlemen.

BRIGHTWOOD ITEMS

SANDY, Jan. 2.—William Walter, Duke Alt and the Misses Buchholtz were Sandy visitors last Saturday.

There was a big dance given at Brightwood Monday night and 74 people were present.

Mrs. Rowe and children have returned to Portland after a few days visiting with Mrs. Ware, who is a sister of Mrs. Rowe.

Ed Wall has been seen out on the roads trying to drive a Ford the last few days.

Miss Marie Waters has returned to the city after a visit with the Don Bodley family.

Frank Wall has returned to Corbett after spending the holidays with the home folks. Wall has worked there three years, and is now with the Sanddyridge Lumber Co. and says that is the only place for a logger.

A surprise party was given for Katherine Sladky last week in honor of her fifteenth birthday. Fifty-three friends were present, and they all had a fine evening.

Miss Verneata Ware and Miss Tresa Sladky were callers at the Stone home a few days ago.

Oscar Wall was a Brightwood caller the other day and Frank Wall was a caller at the Sladky home recently. George Thomas, the mail carrier, went home to Bull Run for a visit recently.

Ed Sladky was visitor at the Ware home one evening recently and Joe Wall and Minnie Wall were callers at the Ware home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jonsrud and family were dinner guests at the home of their son, Art Jonsrud Monday.

Dick Allen was a caller at the O'Dell home one evening the past week, and John O'Dell was at the Ware home Friday.

Paul Koch was up at Brightwood last Friday peddling out beef.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dule of the little Sandy Ranser station passed through this way recently.

Ned Mitchell was up to see his father, Steve Mitchell during the holiday vacation.

Miss Verneata Ware was a visitor at the Sladky home a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Updyke are also visiting at the home of J. A. O'Dell for a few days.

The Alt boys of Brightwood went home to spend the holidays with their folks at Firwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Lex Irvin took a trip over to Estacada to visit during the holiday week.

Anton Mikkelsen drove down to Portland last week and stopped at Sandy on his return trip.

Temple Ehmsen of Portland has been spending the holiday vacation here with his mother, Mrs. Stockley.

William Stockley has been doing chores at the Glenn McIntyre and Larson places while these families have been out visiting.

William Stone made a business trip to Bull Run a few days ago.

Miss Anna Jackson went home for the holidays after her school entertainment was over, which everybody enjoyed very much and was attended by a large crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McIntyre and children went to Astoria to spend the holidays with Mr. McIntyre's sister and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larsen and children are out for a two week's visit with the home folks at Mt. Tabor.

Miss Emma O'Dell was a visitor at the Allen home Saturday, and John O'Dell was a caller at the Ware home on Sunday P. M.

Temple Ehmsen returned to Portland to be ready for school after a week's vacation up here.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and son Arthur and Miss Emma O'Dell were all day visitors at the Murray home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe and children have been visiting at the Ware home recently.

MARMOT HAPPENINGS

SANDY, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Minnie Ritchey of Twin Falls, Idaho, who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helms, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Aschoff and Dorothy are visiting the home folks.

Otto Aschoff is at home for a visit from the head works.

Maxine Thomas returned to Graham after spending the holidays at home.

Ruby Dodd visited at Marmot over New Years.

A large party from the Community Service Club of Portland were New Year's guests at the Aschoff Mountain home. Little Miss Dorothy Aschoff and Clifford Thomas were made honorary members of the club. Clifford Thomas is also the youngest member of the Mazama club of Portland, having climbed Mt. Hood at the age of nine years.

Miss Lillian Ten Eyck is on the sick list and Mrs. Henry Aschoff is substituting at school.

SANDY SCHOOL NOTES

SANDY, Jan. 2.—The Firwood teacher, Miss Johnson, has missed four weeks of school, because of illness, and was not able to take up her work this week, but hopes to begin school again next Monday.

Mildred and Alta DeShazer said they have been flying in "Grease" the past few days for a portion of their vacation. (The folks were butchering). The DeShazer girls helped celebrate their little nephew's (Aaron Updyke) first birthday and there was one little candle on his cake.

Frances, Gertrude and Alfred Meinig all left for Corvallis on Tuesday to be ready for O. A. C. on Wednesday, after a very happy holiday vacation of about two weeks at home.

Ruby Dodd went to the Aschoff home at Marmot to spend several days during the week.

Sadie Alv started to high school last Tuesday and is riding up from Cottrell on horseback. Marie Baumback expects to start in about a month, and the two girls will enjoy riding back and forth together. They will be gladly welcomed here.

The Cherryville teacher took a two week's vacation, so school will not open till next Monday.

The Sandy school board listened to the plea of the teachers "let there be more light," and ordered two and a half windows put in each of the grade rooms. George Krebs is making this improvement.

An epidemic of contagious sores is reported from all sections of the county and state, and there has been no more of this trouble among the Sandy school children than elsewhere. Children thus afflicted are sent home.

The Misses Ivy, Jennie and Cora Ten Eyck have returned to the Oregon University after a two weeks vacation.

It pleases tax payers to learn that silk stockings and overdraws are frowned on at the "U". For a girl to appear in the class room wearing silk stockings is to be excused from the building and be sent home. Snobbishness of every sort is frowned upon by the instructors, according to Miss Ivy Ten Eyck, and the democratic atmosphere is "wonderful."

SENATOR McNARY OF OREGON SLATED FOR HIGH POSITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The Pacific Coast can have a place in the finance committee of the senate—the most powerful committee of the congress—if Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon will accept the place.

At this time the entire Pacific Coast has no representative on this body, which has the final say on tax bills and tariffs.

Senator Smoot of Utah is the most Western member, and as each year the successful protection of agricultural products depends more and more on Western men, several senators from the West are urging Senator McNary to accept.

As a member of the committee on committees, Senator McNary has been urged by his fellows on that committee to accept. "If he does not, the place will go to the East, probably to Senators Edge or Freylinghausen, who are unfamiliar with conditions and developments on the Pacific Coast.

World Wants Men Who Get Action

Matters of history and benefactors of humanity are restlessly active until they reach the zenith of possibility. Then they strive to improve the sphere of their attainment until they surpass anything yet offered to the world. It's no wonder the world wants the product and delights to honor men of such industry.

In the last analysis, attainment is a matter of industry. They tell us "the gods give gold for sweat." Certain it is that as we toil, new ideas and possibilities suggest themselves. Every new ideal worked out into practical application suggests still greater possibilities.

This part of the world isn't concerned so much about pedigree as it is about the efficiency degree. It wants men who think and do. When folks make their brains operate through their hands, it's only a matter of time until it will take more than one pair of hands to do what the brains dictate.

Your chances for moving up are as good as your courage. Men at the top find higher levels, and then, too, they, too, die like other mortals, and still others get satisfied and fossilize, so there's always room to rise.

It's when you dare toil without prospect, and keep at it in the face of discouragement, that real fitness reveals itself. Now is the time to realize that bond that has lured you to effort. Dig in, move on, and soon you will be called to move up.—Grit.

"RUBBER HEELS" ON INSECTS

Grasshoppers, for instance, are provided by Nature With Excellent Shock Absorbers.

Many insects have "rubber heels," and especially the grasshopper, which was in existence during the carboniferous period when coal was formed. All softer parts of an insect are enclosed in a more or less hardened chitinous covering, which is commonly called the outer skeleton. Within this skeleton all muscles and meaty parts are formed, and when the grasshopper lands after jumping, it would receive a slight jar, if no means of absorbing it were provided. Of course, the joints take care of part of the shock, and the few bristle-like hairs on the extremities also do this. But even these are insufficient to absorb the entire jar. Therefore, Nature went to work and evolved an air cushion. This air cushion is situated at the extreme tip of the tarsus and just beyond the two claws of each foot. The claws help to keep the insect in precarious position where, without them, it would inevitably slip. By their means it can find lodgment on smooth grasses.

The air cushion of the grasshopper is a round ball filled with air and also provided with a few hairs. These in a large measure absorb the shock when the insect lands on some rock or boulder. Of course, when it lands on some herb or grass, the shock is absorbed by the swaying plant.

Why Chimneys Lean. Between the wagon builder, alternately wetting and drying a board to bend it to the desired shape, and the house chimney, grotesquely leaning toward the east, brick masons say there is similarity. The leaning chimney is a subject on which even the doctors disagree, but the theory referred to seems the most plausible.

Chimneys lean toward the east. A little observation anywhere will prove this. Even the best built affair of brick and mortar, requiring age, often begins to lean. Various theories are advanced, but the explanation of alternate wetting and drying seems the best. Chimney walls collect more or less moisture during the night on all sides. Now, if the broad side of the chimney is toward the east, and if the sun strikes that part of the chimney first, as it will, that side dries out much quicker than the north or south side, or the western side. In time of rainfall the east side ordinarily is dried the quickest. This general condition has the effect of pulling the chimney toward the east.—Brooklyn Eagle.

For the first time since 1919 the former president consented to pose for the cameraman. The picture was taken on the portico of his home in Washington on his 65th birthday on December 28th. A remarkable change is noticeable as he appears quite robust compared with pictures taken several months ago.

Coroner Was Once "Crownner." Coroner is the title of a county officer in America and England, and in Scotland the term has been found in use as far back as the fourteenth century.

Originally the word was "crownner" and was derived from "crown," as the officer so titled represented the crown or king away from court. Just as in feudal times a man's life belonged to the crown, in case of death the crown or king's representatives in the various districts were the authorized investigators into the cause of the fatality. Although the coroner was a petty official, the power of the king or crown was at his back and the office assumed much importance.

Under the old English law the coroner had the right to act as sheriff in some instances. What is now termed a coroner's inquest into a death formerly was called the crown-er's quest.

Gives Birth to Quintet. The wife of a peasant living near Serres, in Macedonia, gave birth to five daughters at one time. They were distinguished at the christening by ribbons of different colors tied around their necks.

Oldest Metallic Objects. In discussing the question of the metals used by the great nations of antiquity, a distinguished scientist recently pointed out that gold was probably the first metal known to man, because it is generally found native. The oldest metallic objects to which we can assign a probable date were found in a royal tomb at Negada in Egypt, supposed to have been that of King Menes.

In one of the chambers were some bits of gold and a bead, a button and a fine wire of nearly pure copper. If the tomb has been properly identified, these objects are at least six thousand years old. Nearly all the ancient gold that has been examined contains enough silver to give it a light color. It was gathered by the ancients in the bed of the Paeonius and other streams of Asia Minor.

The First Necklaces. The necklace, now an ornament, was formerly something that was a badge of disgrace. All slaves wore collars as a symbol of their servitude. The workers had heavy iron affairs, but the favorite slaves of a household wore light gold bands or simply ornamental chains which were forms not in any way confining. The possibilities of the necklace for decorative purposes caused it to lose its servile significance and become an article of wear.

PHILIPPINE PLAN UP. WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—When the four-power Pacific treaty is presented to the senate, a reservation providing for the independence of the Philippines, upon the guarantees or all parties to the treaty of the territorial integrity of the islands, will be offered by Senator Borah or Senator La Follette. A rumor in Washington that such a reservation would be offered by Senator McNary was found to be incorrect upon investigation, but undoubtedly such a reservation will come before the senate for a vote.

FIVE UNIONS OUT. CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Union members of five of Chicago's leading building trades went on strike today. The trades that went out were the steamfitters, plumbers, hoisting engineers, painters and glaziers. Among the jobs affected was the new United States railway mail terminal, in course of erection. Work was stopped on a number of other projects.

Churchill's "Reminiscences"

Winston Spencer-Churchill, British secretary of state for the colonies, has made a more profitable deal with the London publishers, Thornton & Butterworth, than did Mrs. Herbert Asquith, for whereas they gave her $80,000 for her much-discussed autobiography, they have undertaken to pay to him down $80,000 for his "Reminiscences" of the last eight years in addition to royalties. The work, which is to appear in the autumn in two volumes is already completed. It is likely to be of extraordinary interest, for its author has intimated that his various statements will be supported by a number of heretofore unrevealed official documents, calculated to shed an altogether new light upon certain features of Great Britain's policies in the recent war and its aftermath. He indicates that the volumes will create a sensation, and there is reason to believe that he is speaking the truth.

Whom everybody knows, as the son of Lord Randolph Churchill and a gifted American mother, who was Jennie Jerome of New York and died recently. His luck is a byword in Great Britain. He has been providentially and exceptionally lucky, invariably falling upon his feet, and retaining his hold upon popular interest and good will, no matter how grievous his mistakes in the past.
