SPECIAL ROAD TAX LEVIES MAY FACE

(Note: This is the last of a series of four articles dealing with the distribution of the special road taxes voted by districts in Clackamas county on November 30.)

Actual levying of the special road taxes will probably be delayed until a month or so after the first of the year, in order to avoid complications if any changes are ordered. It is understood that several of the districts are to file suit to secure permanent injunctions to prevent the levying of the tax, based upon some technicalities that have crept into the proceedings. It is probable that not more than one or two suits will be filed, and these by original opponents to the special levies.

The technicalities lie in the fact that a number of the budgets were filed the day after the legal time limit had expired. There is also some doubt in a few cases where no motion or resolution authorizing the special levy was passed, but the budget, calling for Whether this constitutes sufficient action to authorize a levy will ruling or court action.

District 36, Viola, voted a ten mill tax, which will raise $4830. Of this amount $2900 is to be spent on the road from Logan to Springwater, $2000 PLANS LAID TO on the road from Viola to the John Eicken place. The remainder of the fund is to be divided between the road from Viola to Creason hill, the J. M. Haden road and the road from Tann ler to Bateson.

Ten mill taxes were also voted by districts 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 46, 47, 49 and 51. The levy in district 39, Garfield, will raise $4500. The expenditures are fairly evenly divided, and will include improvement of the following roads: Mail route road, Huxley-Pinkley road, Yocum Lane road, Kreigbaum and Linn road and Divers road.

District 40, by their levy will raise $2290. A sum of $659 is to be spent on both the Clauson and the Rath road and the remainder is to be divided in parts of approvimately $150 among the following arteries: Davis and Divers road, Folsom Currinsville road, Roberts road, Kaufman road, Guber road, Miller road and the Wiederholt road.

The entire $735.60 raised by the special 10 mill levy in district 41, Dover, will go toward the improvement of the the Qual d'Orsay, agreed the new Lake county will lay bare to the Cooper road.

Colton, district 42, will get $5,000 by their special tax. This is to be distributed as follows: Deneson Hill road, Hofstetters to Scheive, $600; Molalla road from, Meadowbrook south $600; Oswalt road, $600; Wall street French delegations over the motives English newspaper correspondents in road, $1200; Old Colton road, $2000. underlying the French submarine pro- Ireland see in the growing volume of

A fund of $3266 will be raised by District 47, Union Hill, through a ten mill levy. It was decided to expend all of the money raised east of Pudding river within the district upon the roads in this section. The amount which this will reach cannot be definitely computed. Of the balance, onethird will be expended on the river road, a third on the Miley road, and half of the remaining third upon each to a proposed six-power treaty definof the Schultz and Butterville-Barlow road.

· Frenzied Finance

"These budget meetings are rapidly becoming a farce!" This statement, made at the session of Clackamas county taxpayers Friday afternoon by Judge J. U. Campbell formed a piquant conclusion to an orgy of almost juvenile attempts to revise the proposed county expenditures for 1922.

From 10 a. m. until 4 p. m., led by a handful of demagogues, they cut and slashed promiscuously, accomplishing little in the way of economy and doing much to hinder the operation of the administration.

Departmental items were curtailed upon motion of men who knew practically nothing of their needs or activities. Items that aggregated hundreds of thousands in a lump were dismissed with a wave of the hand. Six figure appropriations were made for road improvement; a fund of less than $4,500 for highway protection was cut in half without a word. Only one argument advanced during the entire day was based upon actual figures. The rest was opinion, hot-air, dogma, untarnished by thought, judgment or sane consideration.

It is true that taxes must be reduced. But it takes study and earnest consideration rather than hasty action. The taxpayers want expenses reduced. So do the officials. But extracting a few thousand where it is needed badly, and not even hesitating over expenditure of amounts ten times as large cannot even be called "penny wise and pound foolish." It is just plain insanity.

If county officials exhibited no more judgment in the discharge of their duties than did the taxpayers at Friday's meeting, they would be recalled within a week.

Men who are sincere in their attempts to lessen the tax burden will do well to make a study of conditions before they wield the axe of would-be economy. Everyone in the county will laud a movement to secure a reduction of governmental costs. But those who would have a voice in civic affairs should know whereof they speak, else hold their peace. The nation is crying for someone to lift its heavy burden, but until more sanity is displayed by the people themselves when they assume legislative powers, conditions as they exist today, will not be

Did you ever wash windows? Most of us have. But, did you ever ledge and the ground below. wash windows that were fifteen sto-ries about Mother Earth, while all that kept you from a swift fall to a final resting place was a thick leather belt, to which were fastened a pair of ropes, and these in turn fastened to a rather frail-looking pair of boits in the window frame, and the whole con-traption rather inclined to look as if it might alip or break or do lots things like that? things like that?

Jack Shey has. And in his capacity of head janitor of the new, towering Wrigley building on Michigan boyle-vard and the Chicago river, Chicago, he often has to threaten window washers with immediate dismissal to make them wear the safety belts.

Pleasant Pastime It seems that to jump from window to window between washes, to save the trouble of climbing into the building and out through the proper win-dow, is an old-time window washers' idea of a pleasant pastime.

idea of a pleasant pastime.

"Dangerous?" queried Mr. Shey.

"Well, maybe it is, at that. Once,
several years ago, a window washer friend of mine slipped and fell from the ninth floor, and was killed. He was working on the old Rookery building here in Chicago, and they had iron

And there was a place to lay a plank and stand on it while you washed the window. My friend was in a hurry, so he didn't trouble to lay out the plank, but just stoed on the iron supports. He slipped and after that h didn't wash any windows."

wouldn't mind it at all. It's like any do and there isn't much thrill. "It's funny about window washers, though," continued Mr. Shey. "You see, they work in pairs, one man taking the outside of the window and the other the inside. You'd think the boss would take the inside, it being safer. But no! The boss of the two always takes the outside. It's easier. doesn't have to be afraid of spilling water on a new carpet, or something." And besides that, maybe the man on the outside considers himself superior to the man on the inside. Anyhow, it takes more nerve.
