SANDY SCHOOL NOTES

SANDY, Jan. 11.-Miss Hazel Beers received a letter from Miss Bess Barton recently. Friends here are glad to hear Miss Barton is getting on nicely and does not forget Sandy folk.

Mrs. Florence Connors went to Portland Friday evening and was entertained at the home of her mother-inlaw who gave a dinner party in honor of Mrs. Connor's birthday.

There will be graduating exercises at the Kelso school on the evening of Jan. 28. A class of seven "eighthgraders" is supposed to be ready for high school after this event, and it is hoped all of them can enter the Sandy high school. Some, have already decided to do so.

Dorothy Mattingly was out of school several days last week because of a severe cold.

Miss Elsie Lippold was the charming guest of Miss Miller and Mrs. Miller last Saturday night.

Marie Baumback played the marches at the recent joint installation of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

Edith Hein and Dorothy Mattingly expected to attend the surprise party on Miss Miller Saturday night but the Hein machine got chain trouble and could not get up the hill ,to the regret of all concerned.

Bernice and Wayne Duncan have just had their first experience in having dental work done and are grateful for almost painless dentistry.

"Exams" have been on at the Kelso for the Tighth grades this week. Arthur Frace missed Sunday School only once in the past ten Sundays and Arthur says he was sick on that day. Alta DeShazer missed two days of school the past week because she was ill, which is the first time any of the De Shazers have been out this year. Miss Ruth Johnson took up her school work again Monday morning at Firwood. Miss Johnson was ill a month and there was no school during

The new windows in Mrs. Malar's room are relieving the situation wonderfulyl and it is a pity there is not room in Mrs. Connor's wall space for the same improvement.

Miss Elsie Lippold entertained Miss Margaret Miller at dinner Saturday evening.

Lloyd Mayhorn is another pupil in the Sandy schools for the next two or three months while his mother is here. Mrs. Connors is starting a "health crusade" in her room which is creating great interest among the children. The children are already learning to keep their faces and hands clean, and they are receiving marks for health chores. This crusade is sponsored by the Oregon Tubercular associattion and prizes and medals will be given to the children winning the most points. The children will be taken down town this week and will be weighed by Mrs.

Ruth Krebs was taken ill and is still in bed and not very much improved. Ruth is very much missed at school by everyone and her many friends hope she will soon recover.

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. C. Miller Saturday night on Miss Margaret Miller, high school principal which was greatly enjoyed by everybody present. Miss Miller was so completely surprised when she came in from up town and a number of the high school 'bunch" all "yelled" at once that she insists she is not over it yet. Games and music and much laughter made the young folks happy: Those present were Ruby Dodd, Bertha Hoffman, Mary Scharnke, Carl Loundree, Fritz Junker, Hazel Beers, Dorothy McFadden, Dorothy Esson, Mildred Bosholm, Carl Scharnke ,C. O. Duke, Lucile Mc-Carter, Miss Lippold, Miss Margaret Miller, Mrs. J. C. Duke. Refreshments were served at small tables. The merry party lingered til ltwelve.

ucts and services have not declined including millions of people much less, and all the industries are suffering in consequence.

It is useless to expect a return to normal conditions while this disparity of compensation between preat bodies of producers exist. It is untain and it establishes an interestive blockage against a revival of business. It is time that the business community took cognizance of the situation, and set itself to the task of correcting it. The argument that stock on hand was purchased at higher prices has lost whatever torce it ever had. Merchants who erity should do their part for it, and one of their duties is to reduce operating costs.

In large part the situation is chargeable to the action of organred labor in clinging to the war-time wage rates. Raw materials and foodstuffs have had a great de tine at wholesale, but between the wholesale markets and consumers the cost of handling and manufac turing has not declined in like pro-portions. The effect is to obstruct the distribution of goods and throw millions of wage-earners out of employment, at the same time keeping up the cost of living on the entire wage-earning population. In the aggregate there is no gain, but a great loss, to the wage-earners as a
