R. R. CONTRACT LET

SANDY, Jan. 16.—George Howe and Tony Pailo have been awarded the contract for grading two miles of the Dryer rail road. Work started last Wednesday.

This contract will bring the new road to the west line of Martin Pizzola's farm and will go south of the old Ruel cabin about twenty feet.

MARMOT EVENTS

SANDY, Jan. 18.—The Marmot Literary society is still doing fine work and is filling a need in the community.

The debate Friday night was on the question, "Resolved that there is more benefit derived from travel and observation than from the study of literature and art."

The leaders were Elijah Coleman and R. A. Ten Eyck, and the question was decided in favor of the negative, which pleased Mr. Ten Eyck and his "side" greatly.

On February 18 there will be a box social and fine program and during the evening the question, "Resolved, That a scolding wife is preferable to any untidy, good natured wife," will be debated.

Elijah Coleman will lead the negative side of the discussion. Only men will assist in this debate and the judges will be women. Large crowds attend these gatherings.

There are eight inches of snow here this afternoon and "the beautiful" is still falling.

Miss Ella Liddell the new Marmot school teacher likes her school and the locality just fine and is making a good start in her work.

Harry Thomas who is working in Portland, and his daughter, Maxine Thomas were home for the week end.

Nicholas Vanderhoof and Robert Hunter went to Troutdale on a truck hunt last Saturday but bagged only a few birds.

C. Meinsinger was out from Portland last week end to look over things at his country place here.

Mikkelsen and Nelson are expected to begin the construction of more than three miles of flume in a short time which will make things more lively over this way.

Mrs. F. Monroe Gilbert of Salem is spending some week with the F. D. Eason family.

Mrs. Gilbert's husband spent a week here last summer painting nature scenes around Sandy.

Mrs. Adolph Dahrens and children spent a couple of days at Marmot with the Tice family during the week.

Percy T. Shelley has been annoyed by a bronchial cold for the past week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Fleet, Fred Radford and Clarence Browning of Cottrell were kind enough to say they enjoyed the community sing program.

With the day labor at $2 "per" for ordinary road work and teams at $4, it does look like "normalcy" had struck bottom.

H. H. Udell the Dover road supervisor has a gang of men working on the market-road. A new curve is being made up the south fork of the Deep Creek hill and a fine grade is anticipated.

It is estimated that around five ton of powder have already been used. There is vine maple, firs, stumps and all sorts of thick growth that have to be cleared out to get this road way through.

The men were working near the J. G. DeShazer place last week.

Adolph Dahrens has taken a job at the Cameron and Hogue mill at Almes. He took his "Lizzie" along and Mrs. Dahrens is keeping batch except at week ends.

Dr. Sture has been busy himself between patients by building a garage, and says he enjoys working out-of-doors.

The manager of the Hazelwood was out from Portland a few days ago looking after business prospects among the Sandy refreshment men.

SANDY SCHOOL NOTES

SANDY, Jan. 17.—Miss Mary Scharnek visited the high school one day last week.

The final high school "exams" were on yesterday and again today for the first semester, and there was some knitting of brows!

Mrs. Buckley, county supervisor and Mrs. Church visited the Sandy schools last week, making the trip via Estacada, and they report rather poor roads across country.

The report of Mrs. Buckley's resignation reached here the next day or so.

About $50 worth of apparatus was unpacked for the physics department of the high school last Monday which amount was required to bring the school up to standard requirements.

The Victory Parent Teacher Society is a live-wire one, as indicated by their plan to entertain the members of the school boards and the teachers of the Cottrell, Lusted and Orient districts with a special program tonight.

Miss Elsie Lippold was a member of the Miller household last Saturday and Sunday nights.

Miss Margaret Miller went to Portland Friday evening and returned Monday morning to take up her school duties.

Caroline Chown is very happy in her musical studies while being out of high school and is getting on fine in both vocal and instrumental work.

Mrs. Fred Proctor was a visitor at the grade school one day during the week, and Mrs. R. S. Smith also visited the grades.

Nora Kesterson went back to school last Monday after being out for a number of weeks.

J. Fred Connors came out Saturday evening and remained with Mrs. Connors until Monday morning, returning to Portland on the early stage.

Miss Barton writes that she and her "youngsters" are very happy in their domestic science work, and her pupils get so happy that they "burst out in song" while learning to create palatable "eats."

Florence DeShazer spent Monday visiting the Sandy grades as there was no school on Monday.

Zaidie Alder is a brave little Freshman and rides her pony back and forth regardless of nasty weather.

Miss Margaret Miller tells a laughable story about the slipping and sliding and skating of the big auto stage Monday morning as it labored to keep its equilibrium out from Portland. There were wrecked autos all along the Portland streets and the sleet was almost heavy enough to stop all traffic.

Sandy has indeed been fortunate to escape the ice king thus far. There was very little trouble this side of Bear Creek hill.

The Orient and Powell Valley teachers also experienced many thrills on the Sandy stage Monday morning while trying to get out from Portland to their schools in due time.

Miss Ruth Johnson is boarding at the home of W. F. Fisher and will probably have to remain there until she is decidedly improved as this weather is not the best for ailing school ma'ams to go home.

Visits With Parents—Miss Rosa Stafford, teacher in the Portland schools, spent the week-end in Mt. Pleasant visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stafford. Mrs. Stafford is improving from her illness.

Mrs. A. Glockner was in Portland a few days the past week on account of the death of her sister and remained until after the funeral.

Miss Eleanor Young of Portland has been visiting Dorothy McPadden at the Sandy hotel for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGarter (Jennie DeShazer) are receiving congratulatory news over the arrival of a baby boy at their Gresham home, and the "young fellow has been named Robert Roy."

The Boitano family and H. Lubek were visitors at the Max Wunsche home last Sunday. The Haselwander and Spallard families also came to spend the evening and help pass the time pleasantly.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perret and Lillian were supper guests at the J. M. C. Miller home while out for the week end.

The Perrets also visited at the home of the Henry Perrets and returned to Portland Sunday night after the community song program was concluded.

C. L. Henson reported four inches of ice up in the Zig Zag country last week and Monday reported fourteen inches of snow.

All the "web-feet" around here were happy to wake up and find the rain trickling down again last Monday morning. The ground was still frozen in places and a few small patches of snow were still carried over from our first snow.

The bright weather the past month was enjoyed by many.

Anton Mikkelsen and Fred Beechel were down from Brightwood a few days ago to arrange a contract with Mrs. Struck which would give them permission to build a flume across her Cherryville property.

W. F. Strack is busy getting out logs and has not been running his mill lately.

Among the Sandytites attending the road meeting at Oregon City last week were P. R. Meinig, F. L. Proctor, R. E. Esson, and Chas. Krebs and F. Lohrmann of Sandyridge and "almost everybody" from the Bull Run district.

Dr. and Mrs. Sture drove to Ridgefield, Wash., last Sunday to visit relatives and had a blow out as they returned and had to drive several miles on the rim to reach a garage. They barely managed to get home in time for the community program Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perret enjoyed their visit here Saturday night and Sunday, and friends are hoping they may decide to return here in the spring.

There was a "lively sprinkle" of country folks in town last Monday and they began to scatter when the afternoon showers started.

Frank Thies has been enjoying a visit from his brother Fred of Portland at his bachelor quarters the past week.

Attilio Cereghino has gone to Portland to decorate a house and will be absent about two weeks.

George Hennessey is making good with his music in California as the following clipping will indicate: "Spikie" Hennessey, one of the finest saxophone players ever heard here entertained the audience with several numbers, one of which was a composition of his own and is named "The Sunshine of Your Smile."

Mrs. Radford of Gresham, a sister of Jim Allison, also his niece, Mrs. Moore and husband from the Corvallis section were out here visiting recently. The Moore's will locate in Gresham.

Mrs. John Revenue is in Portland under the doctor's care. Mrs. Revenue is having giletic trouble again.

Mrs. Albert Ridderbush says they have decided to wait about three weeks before moving to Linton.

The following stockholders attended the annual meeting of the Sandy creamery association last Monday: F. L. Canning, H. H. Watkins, J. G. DeShazer, Anton Malar, J. S. Abel, Theo. Koehler, Robert Jonstun, Theo. Koehler, Joseph Kligel, Alona Lampa, John Revenue, F. S. Thielke, John Hoffmeister, Joseph Decker, Joe Varetti, Joe DeShazer, F. Lohrmann, W. F. Fisher, Fred Suckow, Herman Wendland, George Koiescker, R. Dittter, Casper Junker, Ernest Fisher, A. J. Morrison.

Since the Damascus grange had the misfortune to have their hall burn down the organization is meeting at a hall in Boring until the time arrives when they can build their own home again.

Everybody in this section should be grateful to Gresham for lending us the helping hand again as they did last week in assisting our mill proprietors to secure a flume contract. And yet some people have no use for a community, or commercial club! It must be because they do not know the benefit derived from concerted effort.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bonett were in Gresham a part of the last week at the home of Mrs. Bonett's mother, the Dyke family.

Mrs. F. L. Proctor and daughter, and Mrs. Miller were a Portland party that enjoyed a shopping and a general road trip to Portland one day this week.

Mrs. Ernest Harris has been having a hard time with her tonsils and a general cold for the past few weeks and was unable to be out the first of the week.

Mrs. A. Glockner was in Portland a few days the past week on account of the death of her sister and remained until after the funeral.

Miss Eleanor Young of Portland has been visiting Dorothy McPadden at the Sandy hotel for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGarter (Jennie DeShazer) are receiving congratulatory news over the arrival of a baby boy at their Gresham home, and the "young fellow has been named Robert Roy."
