APPROPRIATION TO AID FERRY IS VOTED BY CITY

Council Pledges $500 Toward Keeping of Vehicle Travel Between Oregon City and West Side of River Open.

COUNTY IS RAPPEL FOR DEAL ON BRIDGE

Stockholders of Company To Provide for Transportation Hold Election of Officers.

Based upon sentiment that no cooperation can be expected from the county court, whose negotiations in regard to the new Willamette river bridge they consider a failure, the city council last night voted to give $500 toward the fund being raised by local merchants for the operation of a ferry to care for vehicle traffic while the new bridge is under construction.

When a committee, representing the merchants who are sponsoring the privately owned ferry appeared, asking for aid from the city, several of the councilmen stated that they believed it was the county's place to take care of vehicle traffic as it was through their laxity that no provision was made.

For some time the proposition of making an appropriation out of the road fund, and passing the buck to the county for payment, was talked but did not meet with general approval. It was then decided that, inasmuch as the court had failed to live up to its agreement to take care of traffic, the city should keep faith with the business men and voted to make a contribution to the fund, ordering the city attorney to draw up and present the necessary ordinances for action at the next session.

At a meeting of the committee held last evening, the report of the incorporation was made and the stockholders elected W. A. Huntley, J. A. Brady and A. G. MOVIE POOL HALLS ON SUNDAYS LOSES

New Ordinance Giving Local Billiard Rooms Privilege to Operate Seven Days a Week Is Passed by City Council.

INVECTIVES FLY AS SESSION WAXES HOT

Lunch Counters are Banned by Act; Bond of $500 Will be Required to Get License.

Pool halls in Oregon City will remain open on Sundays.

The much-contested ordinance regulating these places was passed by the city council Wednesday night, giving them the right to operate on the Sabbath. The same ordinance puts the pool halls under $500 bond, gives the council the right to revoke their licenses, and prohibits lunch counters from operating in the halls.

The vote was six to one. Yes—Jack, Cross, Krassig, Mount, Petzold, Metzner. No—Van Auken, Absent—Bridges.

PETITION PRESENTED A petition signed by 275 people was presented asking that a Sunday closing provision be re-inserted in the ordinance. The height of the discussion was reached when J. E. Hedges was making a plea for the opening of the billiard halls. He was comparing the closing order to many ludicrous laws in other states.

"Why in Connecticut," he said, "there is a law preventing a man from kissing his wife on Sunday."

Reverend A. H. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist church, jumped to his feet. "You're a liar! That isn't so," he cried.

J. Spiker then took up the argument, scoring Hedges for his statements to the effect that other denominations, such as the Seventh Day Adventists, if observed, would close the pool halls on what are ordinarily considered work days.

LAWYER SCORED "Why is it we prevent minors from going into pool halls?" he asked Hedges. "Because such men as you demand it," Hedges replied. "No sir," cried Spiker. "It is because the atmosphere is so unhealthy that they can't come in." He then talked with some vigor on the religious side of the question.

"That is fanaticism," returned Hedges in answer to his remarks. "Take it as you please, you're as big a fanatic as there is in the house," Spiker returned.

At this point W. W. Wodbeck relieved a tense situation with a humorous observation. "Both men are right," he said. "That law is on the statute books, but it has never been enforced. I understand that several lawyers, and a preacher have kissed their own, as well as other men's wives—on Sunday—without being prosecuted there."

MORAL UPLIFT URGED Rev. H. D. Edzar spoke, urging the Sunday closing law as of benefit to the moral welfare of the community. This was also urged by Chris Scheubel, who advocated the closing and the establishment of a community club as well.

Reverend Willis Pettibone urged the closing law, saying that he had signed the petition as he favored the closing of all business and amusement houses on Sunday.

Councilman Metzner voiced as his belief that it was no worse to play pool on Sunday than on a week day. Petzold, though he voted for the ordinance, stated that he thought the council had gone too far in prohibiting lunch counters from operating, as they were well regulated.

Dr. Mount put the blame for conditions at the door of the parents, and showed through analogical cases that it is impossible for a municipality to solve the personal family problems, and hope to keep boys and men home instead of out frequenting a pool hall. He said that all that could be done was to provide adequate regulation for these places.
