Kelso Notes

(Too late for last week.) KELSO, Feb. 15.—Between Feb. 14th and 28th, there is being conducted throughout the county a campaign to raise funds for the Clackamas County Public Health Association to carry on its work. This money is absolutely required to retain the services of the county public health nurse, Miss Hilda Morris, whose work besides the routine physical inspection of school children, also includes visits into the homes and valuable advice to all in need. The aim of the association is to conserve the county's health, and every portion of the county is entitled to the services of the nurse who is trained and fitted for this work. The health nurse may be seen on Saturdays at her office in the court-house, between the hours of 9 and 1, or communicated with at any time. The quota for this district is only $10.00. The membership fee is 50 cents. Let us rally to the support of a work so vital as that of the public health and especially that of our children. Mrs. Robert Jonsrud has been appointed director of the membership campaign in this district. Jack Rhine of Milwaukie, Wisconsin, has arrived for a weeks visit at the home of her niece Mrs. Edward Herz. Mrs. Rhine spent several months in Los Angeles before coming here. Mrs. R. WILLIAM W. QUINN DIES OF APOPLECTIC STROKE

William W. Quinn, one of the most prominent residents and pioneers of Oregon City, died at the family home at Canemah Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock. Four weeks ago Mr. Quinn suffered from a stroke of apoplexy, and on Sunday evening suffered a similar attack causing his death. Deceased was born in Waterford county, Ireland, November 11, 1840, and came to the United States with his parents when he was nine years old. The family first made their home at Springfield, Mass., and later in years William was employed in the United States arsenal at that city. In 1864 he started for the west, coming by way of the Isthmus of Panama, and first making his home in Portland, where he resided until 1885, then came to Oregon City, where he has since lived. For many years he was employed by the Portland Flouring Mills until that company moved from Oregon City to Portland. Mr. Quinn has been an unusual active man for his age, and during his spare time delighted in experimenting with fruit trees, and was successful, by grafting, in producing several varieties of plums, one of which is known as the "William Quinn plum." During the world war Mr. Quinn was active in home work. Mr. Quinn is survived by his children: William W. Quinn, Jr., of
