IN SOCIETY

There were over 200 people attending the firemen's hall at Winkel's hall at West Linn on Saturday evening, February 25th, and proved one of the most successful social events ever held at that place.

The floor committee was composed of Karl Koellmeier, August Rakek, and Claud Bauer.

In charge of the door receipts were Ed Fredricks and Carl Buse.

Richard Pittner and L. Day served refreshments.

Music was furnished by the Koellmeier orchestra.

The marriage of Mrs. Myrtle Schwink and John Bolln took place in Oregon City on Saturday, February 25, with Judge E. C. Noble officiating in the presence of a few relatives.

The bride is a former resident of Woodburn, and has made her home in Oregon City for about a year, having been employed at the Electric hotel for a number of months.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolln have gone on their honeymoon.

Mrs. Frank Nelson entertained the members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Gladstone Christian church at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Early in the afternoon a business meeting was held and plans made for an Easter sale, when fancy articles will be sold and in connection with it will be a market. Mrs. Thomas Gault, Mrs. Frank Nelson and Mrs. F. D. Ellis were appointed to have charge of the fancy work. Committee for the market will be chosen later.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, and the remainder of the afternoon was spent in a social manner.

Present were Mrs. Richard Freytag, Mrs. Brenton Vedder, Mrs. J. W. Prater, Mrs. John Hollowell, Mrs. R. M. McGeechie, Mrs. Fred Hayward, Mrs. Thomas E. Gault, and Mrs. Frank Nelson.

Mrs. William Hammond entertained the members of the Enterpean club at her home in Gladstone in a charming manner Thursday afternoon.

A delicious one o'clock luncheon was served by the hostess, who was assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Frances Cross and Miss Pansy Oswald.

Mrs. Victor Gault had charge of the study, taking up the life and paintings of the Dutch artist, "Rembrandt."

The members studied the opera "Il Trovatore," with Mrs. J. W. Leonard giving a sketch of the opera in an interesting manner. Mrs. Eugene Noon Good sang "Sat There a Gypsy Hag," and "The Miserere." Mrs. Leonard sang "The Anvil Chorus" and "Home To Our Mountains." A number of selections were enjoyed, when rendered on the Victrola.

Mrs. Frank Nelson led the discussion in the current event study, the subject was "France."

The Hammond home was beautifully decorated with pussy willows, Oregon grape and salal foliage.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Good, and the opera "Aida" by Verdi will be studied. At that meeting the members will study the political situation of France.

Attending were Mrs. H. E. Cross, Mrs. J. G. Nash, Mrs. P. F. Nelson, Mrs. R. M. McGeechie, Mrs. J. W. Leonard, Mrs. W. E. Hempstead, Mrs. Eugene Noon Good, Mrs. Frank L. Oswald, Mrs. A. F. Parker, Mrs. Victor Gault, Mrs. William Hammond, Miss Madge Byers, of Carver.

The annual home coming of the B. P. O. E. held at the Elk's temple on Saturday evening was one of the most enjoyable social events of the season, being attended by over 200 people. The affair was for the members of the order and their families.

There was not a dull moment during the evening, for there was "something doing" every minute. Those who did not care to dance, went to the musical program, when selections were given by the Hellberg Sisters' orchestra of Portland; harp selections by Miss Smith, of Portland; vocal selections by Canemah quartet composed of Arch Long, Louis Smith, Harry Confer and Pete Long; readings by Master Lupino, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koch, of Redland. All were forced to respond to hearty scores. Master Koch, who was heard at the Chautauque assembly last summer, was among those making decided "hit" on this occasion. The child gives his readings with a wonderful expression and as an elocutionist has a bright future before him.

A Portland orchestra furnished the music for the dancing.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

The committee responsible for the success of the affair was composed of W. H. Howell, chairman; J. J. Tobin, E. L. Johnson, Henry Streib and Kent Moody.

INCOME TAX

Method of Computing Is Shown as Affected By New Rulings

(Note—This is the fifth of a series of articles prepared by the department of the internal revenue upon the mysteries of the present income tax law.)

Deductions from gross income in computing net income, upon which the tax is assessed, are more liberal under the revenue act of 1921 than were provided by the revenue act of 1918.

All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred in carrying on any trade, business, profession, or vocation are allowable deductions. Typical expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks and other employees, rent, light and heat, water, telephone, insurance, delivery expenses, the cost of operating delivery wagons and motor trucks, and incidental repairs to such vehicles. The expenses of a manufacturing business include labor, raw materials, supplies, repairs, light and heat, power, selling cost, administration, and similar charges.

A professional man—lawyer, doctor, dentist, architect, author, etc.—may deduct as deductions the cost of supplies used by him in his practice, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journal, office rent, the expense of fuel, light, water, and telephone used in such offices, and the hire of assistants.

Farmers' Deductions.

The farmers may deduct all amounts paid in the production, harvesting, and marketing of crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling), fences, and machinery and small tools used up in the course of the year.

Traveling expenses, when the trip is solely on business, including the entire amount spent for meals and lodging while away from home, are deductible. Formerly expenses for meals and lodging were deductible only to the amount in excess of such expenses when at home.

Claims for deductions for articles, more or less permanent in character, or for permanent improvements of property are not allowable. In the case of a business man, they include claims for the section of a new building or the installation of machinery. A farmer claims as a deduction the cost of new threshing machine or tractor. Such deductions are expressly disallowed by the revenue act of 1921 and are held to be investments of capital.

Deductions for business expenses must have certain qualities to be allowed. They must relate to a business, trade, profession, or vocation "carried on" by the taxpayer, in which he has invested time or money for the purpose of a livelihood or profit. A single transaction or a series of isolated transactions do not ordinarily constitute trade or business. A business is being carried on by a taxpayer even if all of its activities are conducted by employees. A taxpayer may conduct more than one business, or trade, and claim the business expense of each, provided he devotes sufficient time and attention to each.

Salary Allowances.

The act provides for the deduction of "reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal service actually rendered." Such claims to be allowed must conform closely to the wording of the statute. The test of deductibility is whether the amounts paid are reasonable, and whether they are, in fact, purely for personal services. Reasonable compensation is held by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to mean only such amounts as would ordinarily be paid for like services by like enterprises in like circumstances.

Bonuses to employees may be deducted by the employer when such payment are made in good faith and as additional compensation for services actually rendered, provided that when added to the stipulated salaries the total does not exceed "a reasonable compensation for such services." Such bonuses must be included in the returns of the recipients. Gifts to employees, which do not have in them the element of compensation, may not be deducted by the employer, and need not be included in the return of the recipient.

OREGON CITY MAT MEN BEAT UNIVERSITY FROSH

In a clean cut victory, in which the visitors did not succeed in scoring a single fall, the Oregon City High School wrestling team defeated the University of Oregon freshmen in a match at the local gym Saturday night.

In five contests, the freshmen annexed two decisions, the first three being taken by the high school by straight falls.

The initial go was between Yamme, of the University and Russell, Oregon City, at 115 pounds. Russell took the first fall in 3:10 and the second in 1:50. Barry, U. of O. lost two straight goes to Tatro, Oregon City. Both were 125 pounds. The first fall required 4:10 and the second 3:30. In the third contest, also 125 pound class, Chester Newton, Oregon City, took two straight falls from Sumption, U. of O. The time was 1:30 and 1:25.

In the fourth match at 135 pounds, Robinson, U. of O., wrestled a draw with Clarence Newton, Oregon City, in the first six minute round. The freshman took the second round by a decision, and in the third Newton held a draw. The last match was between Bergsvik, U. of O., and Paine, Oregon City, both weighing 145 pounds. Bergsvik took two straight decisions.

Robinson, who was one of the University stars, is a graduate of the Oregon City high school class of '21.

The local team is now within one notch of the state championship which they annexed last year. If they succeed in defeating Eugene High, they will be claimants for the title. According to coach "Doc" King, the deciding contest is being scheduled for the latter part of March.

The Oregon City high school basketball team and the Molalla high aggregation will settle their district dispute as to who will enter the state tournament at Salem when the two teams meet at the local gym Tuesday evening. Both teams are fast and this game will be hard fought from start to finish. Eby, guard on the Oregon City team who has been out of the game for several weeks will be in the lineup which will help the locals considerably.

Coach "Doc" King is leaving nothing unturned that will mean victory for his team. He will see that his boys are in the pink of condition to start against the visitors.

In the preliminary the Oregon City Middlets will meet the Gladstone Grammar school team in a game. The Middlets have been going strong of late and their real strength will be known after they meet the Gladstone aggregation. The first game is called for seven-thirty.

SULPHUR INJECTION IN LIBRARY TREES IS TRIED

New Experiment Is Evolved to Kill Elm Beetle; Time to Prove Value of Treatment.

A new experiment in horticulture is being tried in the Oregon City library park. A sulphur injection has been made into all of the elm trees in an attempt to stop the elm tree beetle pest which for the past few years has been working on the trees.

The new wrinkle is evolved by E. W. Scott, street superintendent, who heard that the system was tried in the east. The process involves boring two holes into the trunk of the tree, filling with sulphur and plugging them up. The theory is that the sap in rising, takes on a sulphurous quality which imparts a taste to the leaves making them unpalatable to the beetles, which are forced to leave or starve to death.

So far the injection is only experimental, and it is hoped that it will prove more successful than a similar operation performed by fake "specialists" who killed a number of trees throughout Clackamas county by boring and putting some prepared substances inside the trunk. According to Mr. Scott, the danger lies in boring through the heart of the trees.

Attempts were made early this year to have the trees sprayed in accordance with the advice of the experts at the Oregon Agricultural college, but the city did not take any action. The beetles, in addition to menacing the life of the trees have become so numerous that they are a bother to householders below the park.

The affect that the sulphur injection will have upon the trees will not be noticed until later in the year it is understood. The habits of the beetle are to ascend the tree in the spring, cut off the first growth of leaves, come down the tree and deposit eggs, climbing back in time to eat the second leaf growth. If the sulphur treatment is effective, the trees should be freed from the beetles by the end of the year. If it is not, by that time the trees will be dead. Mr. Scott, however, feels that it is worth the chance for he says the trees might as well be dead as in their present condition.

HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET IS NEARING STATE'S TITLE

The Oregon City high school basketball team took a big step toward representing the district in the state championship by defeating Molalla high Tuesday night by the score of 26 to 17. This game was one of the fastest ever witnessed on the local floor. The Oregon City boys put all they had in the game and most of the playing was going on under their basket. The locals were in perfect condition and did not slacken during the entire contest. The lineups were as follows: Oregon City—Sullivan, F. 4; Locke, F. 4; Johnson, C. 10; Eby, G. 4; Laurs, G. 2; Spare, Bennett, F. 6. Molalla—Vaughn, F. 10; Engle, F. 7; Heiple, C. Harless, G.; Linland, G. Spare, Bauer, G.
