Stockholders of Packing Co. Meet

ESTACADA, March 15.—The meeting of the subscribers of stock in our local packing company, was a regular "get-together" meeting Tuesday night in the I. O. O. F. hall, which seemed to give inspiration and enthusiasm to all concerned in this highly commendable enterprise. C. J. Pugh of Salem, who is superintendent of canneries for the Oregon Growers Association, was present and gave a very interesting talk on the canning industry and his personal experience along the lines as he has been in the business for a number of years and seems to understand all the advantages of a company of this kind. He was very sanguine in his belief that the fruit growers of this section had a very bright future. Earl Peary, also connected with the Oregon Growers Association, was present and gave a short talk and answered questions which several of the stock holders of this packing company asked. The plan of joining the Oregon Growers Association was quite thoroughly discussed. After the discussions, those taking stock in the Estacada Packing Co., Inc. were given an opportunity of paying the balance of their pledges and there were several new members to take stock. A luncheon followed served by the gentlemen, and a social time enjoyed by the large number of ladies and gentlemen present.

CLEAN UP WEEK HERE IS TO BE HELD APRIL 3-8

Cleanup and beautification week for Oregon City has been proclaimed for the six days beginning Monday, April 3 to Saturday, April 8, by Mayor James Cannon. Alleys and streets particularly are to be cleaned of all rubbish and a general attempt toward improving the looks of the thoroughfares will be made.

Trucks will be on hand to haul away all debris, and will be in charge of the street superintendent, but the garbage and other debris must be properly arranged in sacks or boxes, and left in convenient places or it will be left where it has been placed by the tenant.

City Engineer J. R. Stafford has found a number of sidewalks in the city in need of repair, after making a thorough investigation of all walks in the city limits. Among those repairing walks during the past few weeks were William Knapp, M. Yodler and Mr. Hubbs, on Mollalla Avenue; Mrs. L. T. Harris at Twelfth and Harrison streets; Mr. Larson, of Eleventh and Monroe streets.

Acting upon order of the council, Charles Nash has made a very decided improvement on the alley in block 139.

A concrete walk is being constructed on Twelfth street, fronting the homes of J. R. Hanny and Verne Roake. Weather conditions have prevented the workmen continuing the work. Other concrete walks are under construction in the city, and by early summer every walk in the city will be repaired or rebuilt.

MOLALLA MAN CLAIMS $100 IN SCALP BOUNTIES

Joe Dhooghe of Molalla will receive a total of $100 in scalp bounties on four cougars which he has killed this year. Dhooghe came to Oregon City Friday bringing the cougar pelts and four bobcats, and on the latter he will receive $2 each, making a total of $108.

The county bounty on the cougars is $25, and there is also a federal bounty of $15 which he will receive in addition to the local claim.

The cougars included two of the largest animals ever brought here, and were the first on which a bounty has been claimed this year. One of the pelts, measuring nine feet, was taken on the Low Ridge trail near Molalla, and another eight feet from tip to tip, was shot at High Camp.

Otto Aschoff of Marnot was in Oregon City yesterday bringing with him the skins of four bobcats, which he had killed within the last few days, and on which he collected a bounty of $2 each. This makes a total of fourteen bobcats killed by Aschoff this season.

William Alt of Cherrville was in yesterday with nine bobcats which he had captured and on which he was paid the bounty.

W. R. APPERSON FIGURES IN SECOND DIVORCE SUIT

Nephew of Oregon City Man Has Turbulent Career in Last Matrimonial Essay.

Brevity and turbulency were the chief characteristics of the second matrimonial venture of William Ray Apperson, nephew of J. T. Apperson of Oregon City and who was born here. Apperson was also a real estate dealer in Portland and at one time exalted ruler of the Portland Elks lodge, judging from reports received here yesterday from San Francisco, which told of the successful termination of a divorce action prosecuted by Mrs. Jean Davis Apperson, ex-wife of a wealthy San Francisco merchant.

In the San Francisco divorce court Mrs. Apperson told Judge Cabanis that her husband, to whom she was married December 3 last, had posed as a man of wealth and high social standing, but she learned later, she testified, that he was employed in the menial role of salad-maker in a San Francisco restaurant.

Honeymoon Is Expensive Mrs. Apperson said she spent $3500 on their honeymoon, which brought them to Portland and other north-west cities. Some of the acts of cruelty, she told the court, were committed in Portland while they were honeymooning, while others were committed after their return to San Francisco.

After the glamour of the first few weeks had died away, she said their married life became turbulent, and there was a separation nearly every other day. The final separation, resulting in the divorce action, occurred February 9.
