Pioneer Co. Takes Over More Business

The Oregon City Enterprise has ust been informed by G. A. Hurley, manager of the Pioneer Employment Co. of Portland, that he has taken over the management and control of the Business Men's Clearing House of that city. This gives this organization three offices. One office is at Pendleton, the other two at Portland. The Pioneer Employment Co. is the oldest employment office in the state of Oregon, and was organized about twenty three years ago by F. J. Bradford, who was in charge and had the control of the office for twelve years. I. C.
