CHAUTAQUA TO HAVE SERIES OF DAILY FEATURES

Circuit To Open Here July 1 For Thirteen Day Session; Headliners Are Listed On Programs; Variety Is Wide.

FORUM, SYMPOSIUM, ARE DRAWING CARDS

National Figures and Local Celebrities Are Included In Plan For Record Season.

The 29th annual assembly of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association, which opens at Gladstone Park on July 1st for a thirteen day run, will from all indications merit the slogan of a "good program for each and every day." In line with the management's new policy, each program will carry exceptionally good talent, with some high spots in the nature of nationally known lecturers and entertainers, but the old style, of having one or two great big features and the balance of the season in mediocre entertainment, has been cast aside. This year the program reveals a wealth of educational entertainment to be staged at the great park on the Clackamas.

Forum Is Planned
Regular features of the session this year will include those customary to the Chautauqua, with a daily Forum hour, physical culture and swimming classes, symposium, base ball, Bible hour, children's chautauqua, and others. The symposium will be directed by Eva Emery Dye, famed Oregon author. Physical culture will be directed again this year by J. J. Frank, of Pacific University, and the Bible hour will be under the supervision of Dr. B. Earle Parker, pastor of the Portland First Methodist church. Rev. H. G. Edgar, of the Oregon City Presbyterian church, will be the piano manager this season. A series of base ball games has been worked out that will give a game for each day. The Oregon State Library maintains a branch office on the grounds, and good literature is available to all Chautauqua visitors.

Music Program Good
The Sunday programs this season will see the College Oratorio Society with fifty singing voices on July 2nd. They will give the Holy City, and the leading solo parts will be taken by selected artists. On July 9th the great feature will be the 59th Regimental Band from Vancouver Barracks. This organization is said to be one of the best military bands in the country, and their appearance is expected to draw a large audience.

The opening day address will be given by B. P. Irvine, editor of the Oregon Journal, on "Whither Bound." On July 3d the Patton Brothers Trio will be heard in a new musical novelty. Lowell Patton, as a piano soloist, has long been a favorite with Chautauqua audiences and this season, in company with his two brothers, Donald and Gault, should see him at his best. The Patton boys come from Portland, and are members of one of the oldest pioneer families there.

Opie Read to Speak
Another high spot on the list of entertainers will be July 4th, when Opie Read, "man of letters and laughter" will be heard in the evening in his lecture, "Human Nature and Politics." The Percival Vivian Players of New York will stage "Canny Ricks" on July 5th, and "Turn to the Right" will be presented by the Keighley Broadway company, on the 11th.

Among the other entertainment for the season this year will be Lorraine Lee and Marie McDonald, vocalist and violinist. Miss Lee's home is at Canby, and she has a legion of friends throughout the northwest. The Fleming company of musicians will startle first-nighters with mystery, and Frances Ingram, grand opera contralto, will be heard on the second night. Norman Allen Imbrie, lecturer; the Oceanic Quintette in orchestral selections; the Wateau Duo of merry maids; Dr. Elmer Lynn Williams, fighting parson of Chicago; J. C. Herberman, who lectures on "Life's Balance Sheet," and Vernon Stone and Electra Platt, versatile funsters, are among other headliners to be heard in the big auditorium during the thirteen day session.

Classes to be Feature
A program of operatic classics will be staged by the Gilvan Opera company as part of the program this year, while music will also be heard from the Jugo-Slav Tamburicans. The New York City concert quartette will appear on the last day, and the Bating-Mahler duo of entertainers will be heard July 12th. Among the other lecturers on the list are Chancellor George H. Bradford; Arthur Walwyn Evans; Lydia A. DeVilliers; Edna Eugenia Lowe, and Private Harold Peat, war veteran. Margaret Garrison, character reader, will return this season, and a quick-change artist in the person of A. Mather Hilburn will entertain the audience July 8th. Glen L. Morris, electrical wizard, will mystify with scientific demonstrations on Sunday the 9th.

FINAL NATURALIZATION PAPERS GRANTED TO 7

11 Rejected Either Because Of Ignorance Or Defects Developed in Filing Papers.

Seven of 18 candidates who applied Monday for final citizenship papers were granted naturalization. The remainder were held over either for more study or because of defects developing in their filing or transfers of first papers.

The examinations were conducted by C. W. Tomlinson, naturalization examiner of Portland, before Judge J. U. Campbell, of the local circuit court. As is usual during the hearings, numerous peculiar answers to the questions were given, but a record was made when one of the applicants, in response to the query, "What is anarchy?" said "Anarchy is where you have too many wives."

Those who were admitted today were:

John Bogynske, Austria, Oregon City; Nils Johnson, Sweden, Oregon City; Charles Frank Fitzko, Austria, Oregon City; Victor Wolf, Germany, Oregon City; Will E. Dreher, Germany, Aurora Route 2.

Max Wunische, deceased, was one of the list who were to be examined. His death occurred prior to the final listing. Those who were up for a hearing, and who were either continued or dismissed without prejudice, are:

Jonas Ruskis, Russia, Oregon City; Jacob Keatmar, Austria, Molalla Route 1; Charles Emil Schubert, Germany, Milwaukie; Robert Alexander Waddell, England, Oregon City; Joseph Dahlman, Germany, Milwaukie; Griffith Griffiths, England, Oregon City; Robert Ackerman, Switzerland, Oregon City; Adolph Kuehn, Germany, Oregon City; James Bruce, England, Oswego; Johannes Feser, Russia, Milwaukie.

O. A. PACE IS ELECTED HEAD OF SCHOOL BOARD
E. T. Beverlin, New Member Of Body, Seated; Kirk To Go To Convention.

O. A. Pace was elected chairman of the Oregon City school board at a meeting held Thursday evening. Pace is one of the two oldest members on the board in point of service. E. T. Beverlin, elected Monday to succeed J. E. Hedges on the board, was officially seated at the meeting.

The following teachers were named to fill vacancies on the staff for the year 1922-23: Miss Helene L. Bourgeois, of Portland, high school instructor; Miss Esther L. Terrell, of Newberg, high school; Miss Clara Kersting, of Bellingham Normal school, grades; Miss Maude Curtis, of Portland, grades; and Miss Ruby Pierce, Portland, grades. Mrs. Edith Wankle Parker was elected to teach for a half year in the position left vacant by Miss Clara Wiewiesiek, who has been granted a half year's leave of absence to attend Monmouth Normal school.

R. W. Kirk, city superintendent, who leaves Sunday to attend the convention of the National Educational association in Boston, was granted a leave of absence for two months.

Naval Academy Eight Victor In Varsity Classic

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 26.—The United States naval academy's eight-oared crew is still intercollegiate rowing champion of America.

In the greatest aquatic battle ever witnessed on the historic regatta course on the Hudson the middle this afternoon repeated their triumph of 1921 by winning the three-mile varsity race from the greatest collection of colleges that ever rowed in a similar race in the history of the sport.

Forced to terrific speed by the repeated challenges of Washington, Cornell and Syracuse, the sailors from the Severn finally emerged victors by only one length over the University of Washington, champions of the Pacific coast. Scarcely a length behind the western shell came Syracuse and Cornell, so closely packed that it was only after a long discussion among the judges at the finish that the former was awarded the third place over the others.

As the prow of the navy shell shot across the line, the timers caught the flying crew in the remarkable figures of 13 minutes, 35 3-5 seconds, thus shattering by more than half a minute the record made by the sailor's shell when they won last year by a full five lengths from California in 14 minutes and 7 seconds.

MOONSHINERS GET RECORD SENTENCE IN JUSTICE COURT

Three Men and Woman Given Limit Under State Laws; Period of Deliberation By Mixed Jury Here Is Short.

JAIL SENTENCE WILL BE ADDED TO FINES

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hager, Matt Parach and George Walch Guilty of Still Operation.

The limit sentence allowed under the state prohibition statutes, was meted out by Judge E. J. Noble in the justice court Friday to three men and a woman, convicted of the manufacture of moonshine. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hager, Matt Parach and George Walch will pay $500 fine each and serve six months in the county jail. They were arrested Saturday night when the sheriff and his deputies discovered a still hidden on their ranch. The moonshine plant, one of the largest ever found in the county, was buried in a specially built room beneath a side hill, entrance to which was gained through a door hidden in the end of a fallen tree.

The jury which convicted the four was out less than half an hour. The trial consumed the entire afternoon. The jury was composed of three men and two women; J. E. Bower, Reta Ruonich, W. V. Ruonich, Frances Rintoul and Ray Woodward.

When the deputies raided the Hager ranch, which is located on Still creek about seven miles from Estacada, they confiscated more than 2,400 gallons of corn mash, which was ready for action in the still. Only ten gallons of moonshine were found, but on entering the still room, the sheriff discovered Walch pouring the finished liquor through the floor.

The still was of the most modern manufacture, with force feed burners, pumps for taking water from the creek, and muffler exhaust pipes to hide the smoke vapor from the mash.

In giving the four moonshiners a maximum sentence, Judge Noble sets a new record for his court, which has been notably severe with cases where conviction has been regarded as secured on strong evidence.

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR PIONEERS TO BE GIVEN

July 5, the fifth day of the Gladstone Chautauqua, has been designated as Pioneer day. The announcement of the new feature of the program was made yesterday by Judge Harvey E. Cross, president of the chautauqua association. In an invitation to all of the pioneers of the county to attend.

The chautauqua management will put on a barbecue for the pioneers and will furnish coffee. The feed will be staged at noon and plans are to grant free admission to all of the old pioneers.

Assassin Kills German Foreign Affairs Leader

BERLIN, June 24.—Dr. Walter Rathenau, German minister of foreign affairs, was assassinated today.

The minister was shot and instantly killed as he was leaving his residence in Grunewald, a suburb of Berlin, for the foreign office in an automobile. The assassin escaped.

Official announcement of Dr. Rathenau's death was made in the Reichstag.

The murderers, who were driving in a motor car, slowed up as they were nearing Dr. Rathenau and shot twice at the foreign minister, the shots taking immediate fatal effect. Putting on high speed the assassins escaped.

There were two persons in the automobile. Both the occupants are said to have opened fire upon the foreign minister, who fell to the floor of his car fatally wounded, expiring shortly afterward. Large forces of police were quickly on the scene.

CRIMINAL RECORDS OF EDDIE 'CANNING' FOUND

Man Awaiting Trial Here For Forgery Served In Folsom Prison on 7-Year Sentence.

Eddie "Canning," who a month ago attempted to pass a spurious check on the Price Department store here, is really Eddie Morgan, who was convicted in Lane county for forgery, and the holder of a lengthy prison record. This fact was disclosed yesterday after a search of the official files in the sheriff's office. The "rogues gallery" contained a picture of Morgan with the Oregon state penitentiary number 8138.

Morgan is at present in jail awaiting trial on an indictment charging him with securing money and goods under false pretenses. He was arrested, and sawed his way out of the county jail, and was later recaptured by the Portland police. Morgan was originally taken into custody through the quick wit of a local telephone girl. He placed a telephone call and attempted to pass as Eddie Shannon, the Seattle pugilist. When he gave that name at the pay window, the operator, who knew Shannon, recognized Morgan as a faker, and when the officers called to ask the aid of the state police in locating "Eddie Shannon" she aided them in finding Morgan.

Morgan, according to the record here was discharged from the state penitentiary April 15, 1922. He had served four months in jail in Portland on vagrancy charges under the name of George Harwood. In San Francisco, posing as Ed Hanson, he was arrested for robbery. That was in 1915. He was convicted and sentenced to serve seven years in Folsom prison. He was paroled, violated his parole, and was later rearrested.

Morgan's record from the state penitentiary here, shows that he was received there June 15, 1920, on the forgery charge from Lane county. He is 28 years old, and his occupation is given as a ball player.

Morgan is at present being held in the county jail here. A special deputy lies being employed in the court house during the night hours in order to prevent another jail delivery.

POYSER WILL SERVE 3 YEARS IN STATE PRISON

An indeterminate sentence of three years in the state penitentiary was passed Saturday upon Jess Poyser, convicted here a week ago on a statutory charge. Poyser was convicted on the second of three indictments, all returned for similar offenses. It is understood that the third charge will not be pressed. Poyser was acquitted in the first trial. The sentence was passed by Judge Bayley, who heard the case here.

PROGRAM FOR ROUNDUP AT MOLALLA COMPLETE

Molalla is rapidly taking on the atmosphere of an eastern Oregon Cowpuncher burg. Cowboys and cowgirls are flocking into town. Many of them are coming in high power cars. Two car loads of wild horses have arrived and are in pasture, where they will be rested and in fine shape to show what they can do in the bucking line. Many of these are famous outlaws which have starred in other roundups.

The program put on by well known riders and cowboys will consist of cow pony races, clown mule riding, potato races, bare back riding, relay races, bulldogging, quick races, bucking contests, lady rider contests, rope spinning, trick riding, bull riding, wild horse races, relay races, and many other entertaining features.

The new grand stand accommodating between three and four thousand people is about completed and before the date of the show on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th, everything will be in readiness. There will be reduced rates from all points in Oregon on the S. P. and W. V. S. lines.

INCORPORATION PAPERS FILED BY BORING CLUB

The Boring Amusement club, of Boring, Clackamas county, has filed articles of incorporation with the state incorporation department at Salem. The incorporators are S. E. Waler, Mary Maulding and Verno Maulding.

Other corporations filing articles were: The Baker County Sheep company, of Ontario; the incorporators are Omar C. Spencer, Robert B. Kuykendall and G. C. Frisbie. Forest Grove-Vernonia Stage Line, Forest Grove, $15,000; C. A. Mills, N. Bangs and M. J. George.

STATE TICKET IS FULLY ENDORSED BY REPUBLICANS

Walter Tooze, Jr., Is Chosen Chairman of State Central Committee Over Candidate Given Support of K. K. K.

COUNTY DELEGATES ADOPT SAFE TACTICS

Meeting Has Earmarks of Old Time Lineup; Full Backing of Party Lines Is Demanded

PORTLAND, June 24.—Support of the republican ticket from top to bottom and a determination to triumph in the general election in November was the main idea expressed by the republican state committee, which yesterday organized with Walter L. Tooze, Jr., of McMinnville, as chairman. A. H. Lea, who had the backing of the Ku Klux Klan, received six votes to the 30 received by Tooze, two of the Lea votes being cast by A. A. Bailey, committee man from Multnomah who also held an outside proxy.

It was a regular old-time republican gathering and for the first time in years every county was represented. The committee pledged itself unequivocally to the republican ticket and authorized the executive committee to investigate the abuses of the direct primary law with the ultimate object of preserving representative government and recognize party organization.

Road Bond Issue Recall May Now Be Put On Ballot

Petitions for the recall of the $1,700,000 road bond issue which was voted November 24, 1919, have been completed and Thursday were placed in the hands of County Clerk Miller for verification of the signatures. The petitions contain about 3,000 signatures, which the normal shrinkage through failure of signers to be registered, is expected to cut to about 2,500. A total of 2,362 names is needed for the placing of the measure on the ballot.

If sufficient signatures are attached to the petitions, the recall will be voted upon at the November election, as the law provides that votes shall be cast at the first election thirty days after the filing of the measure.

The recall of the road bonds was inaugurated by the Pomona granite of this county about eight months ago. $250,000 of the bonds have already been sold and an order for the sale of $158,950 more has been ordered by the county court for the construction of new roads as provided under the bond act.

Cattle Club to Hold Statewide Convention Here

The Oregon Guernsey Galettes, the annual state meeting of the representatives of the Guernsey Breeders' Clubs of Oregon, will be held in Clackamas county in 1923.

Word to this effect was received Thursday by Sam H. Cady, executive secretary of the local commercial club. The decision to hold the affair here came as the result of an invitation extended through the Conventions Department of the club.

"The breeders of the state are well informed of the splendid work that is being carried on in Clackamas county in cooperation with the business men of Oregon City," writes A. E. Engbretson, secretary of the state association. The Clackamas county Guernsey club, it is pointed out, has been one of the most active in the state, and the county already is gaining credit for its production of registered Guernsey herds.

The Guernsey Galettes generally include an elaborate program of entertainment for the visiting farmers, who will number four or five hundred. One of the features of the days which they will spend in the county will be a tour to the different Guernsey ranches.

MAN IN AUTO STRUCK BY ROCK HURLED FROM PUBLIC AUDITORIUM

Several Are Injured in Fight Near Hawley Park Dance Hall; Cause Is Unknown.

Jim Thornberry played the roll of an innocent passer-by at a fight at Hawley Park late Sunday night, with the result that he is suffering from wounds to his head. Thornberry was driving past in a machine, when a rock, hurled by one of the belligerents, hit the car to investigate, and was badly beaten by the fighters, a number of whom were said to be intoxicated.

Several others were injured in the melee which took on general scope about midnight. A number are mixed in the affair, according to the reports. The exact cause is not known, but the scrap is believed to have started with an argument near the dance hall. The men moved toward the ball field, and finally got as far as the Canemah road, where Thornberry was hurt.

Thornberry's wife was able to drive the machine home. She had just called for her husband, who was coming off shift in the Hawley mills. A number of other people were hurt also, several being knocked unconscious. No one however was seriously injured. There was no official interference in the fight, which gradually diminished into incoherent shouting. Several of the rioters went to view the William's Brothers fire and created some disturbance there.

NEW TRIAL TO BE ASKED IN MOUNT LIBEL ACTION

Time For New Move In Case Extended Until July 6; No Further Delay Is Expected.

The next move in the Mount libel suit, brought by Dr. H. S. Mount against seven local physicians, will be an appeal for a new trial, it was learned from Earle Latourette, attorney for the defense. Time for the filing of an application for the new trial has been extended by Judge Morrow until July 6, and it is understood that the papers will be ready at that time.

In the case which was heard here a month ago, Dr. Mount received a verdict of $20,000 on the basis of alibi communication published to the county court by the defendant doctors.

TIME FOR APPEAL FROM LIBEL TRIAL EXTENDED

An extension of time in which to file a bill of exceptions, preliminary to the appeal to the supreme court in the case of Dr. H. S. Mount against seven local physicians, was granted Thursday by Judge Robert C. Morrow, who heard the trial here. July 24 has been set as the last time for the filing of the appeal, an extension of one month from the date set after the completion of the trial.

NEARBY TOWNS PLAN TO CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH

Among the places in Clackamas county where Independence Day will be observed this year will be Canby, New Era and Maple Lane.

Consolidation of Two Oregon City Banks Cancelled

W. P. Hawley, Sr., who fathered the idea of amalgamating the Bank of Commerce and the Bank of Oregon City, made the following statement to the press Thursday:

"I thought that it might be to the mutual advantage of the Bank of Commerce and the Bank of Oregon City to merge and handle the business in the new Bank Building owned by the Bank of Commerce. The Directors of the Bank of Commerce submitted, in writing, upon what terms and conditions they would merge with the Bank of Oregon City, and since this did not prove acceptable to the Bank of Oregon City all negotiations were terminated."

EFFORTS TO SELL LAW PETITION FOR $30,000 CHARGED

Initiative Measure to Get New Interest Rates Sponsored By Jack Albright, Is Held Scheme to Fleece Bankers.

FORMER ATTEMPT AT GAME IS RECALLED

Financial Interests Refuse To Pay; Expose of Plan Made to Clearing House.

That for a consideration of $20,000 or $30,000, the constitutional amendment by initiative petition to change the rates of legal interest in Oregon will be kept off the ballot, is the proposal made to Portland financial institutions, by Jack F. Albright, of Oregon City, according to word from the Portland Clearing House association.

Indications that an effort to "sell out" the petitions which are ready for filing at the November election were made with the presentation of the matter to the clearing house association. The petitions it is stated, contain sufficient signatures, and Albright is virtually charged with using them in an effort to profit at the hands of the moneyed interests of the state.

Other Deals Attempted

Details of the affair were given to the association by Robert E. Smith, president of the Lumberman's Trust Company bank.

Albright, according to Smith, made a similar attempt at the November election two years ago. A measure limiting the contract rate of interest to 5 per cent and establishing the legal rate at 4 per cent. The Portland banks, it was stated, refused to pay the $20,000 asked to keep the measure off the ballot. The petitions were prepared ready for filing, and then offered for sale. Not being bought they were put on the ballot, but a campaign against the amendment was conducted and the measure lost.

At that time the entire affair was exposed by a Portland newspaper which is again active in opening the details of the affair.

Fish Bill Sold
In 1916 Albright did profit to the extent of $375 by this misuse of the initiative. At that time he was sponsoring a measure inimical to the interests of the fish canners on the Columbia river. He secured signatures to his petitions and then sold them to the fishing interest.

Emboldened by this avenue to easy money, Albright hit upon the interest rate bill in 1920. As above stated, that effort was a fizzle as far as noting a "shake down" of the interests affector.

Affidavits Are Secured
In the newly proposed measure the contract rate of interest would be limited to 7 per cent and the legal rate to 6. Smith claims to have affidavits executed in January of this year by men who swore that Albright's purpose in initiating this measure was for personal profit.

According to these affidavits Albright had confided his plan to a number of persons and in one case, at least, had secured donations for the cause" on the strength of his presentation. He was not getting according to sworn statements at hand, to disguise his intentions to sell out and promised those who donated to his work a very good return for their investment of money and faith in his ability to put over the scheme.

Donations Solicited
Sworn affidavits say that he secured a donation of $190 from one Portland workman to whom he fully divulged his scheme, saying that the bankers would be glad to pay him $20,000 to keep his petitions off the file and promising a fine return for the hazard. This youth entrusted $100 of his total savings of $125 to Albright in August, 1921, and $90 additional in October of that year, he says. Receipts bearing Albright's name acknowledge receipt of the money to "help bear the expenses" of circulating the petitions.

Again, in the presence of a pile driver crew at Altona, Wash., in November of last year, Albright divulged his scheme and, an affidavit at hand testifies, he passed among them a circular entitled "The Moneychangers and the 7 per cent Amendment." At that time, according to the sworn statement, he expressed hope of getting at least $10,000 to quash his petitions, he said.

Albright did not, judging from the form and spelling of receipts he gave to those who donated to him, prepare the circular, for it is in utterly different style from others of his documents.

Albright once was a member of the Oregon City municipal council, but the records of that body show that he was ousted from membership after a hearing on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Bank Records Shown
Records of the Oregon City bank in which he deposited the two checks, one for $2000 and the other for $1975, received in the summer of 1916 from
