RUSSELL HECKER WILL BE HANGED ON SEPTEMBER 22

Youth Convicted For Murder of Frank Bowker Sentenced To Face Gallows By Judge Campbell; Parents Absent.

NEW HEARING TO BE ASKED BY ATTORNEY

Boy Evidences Complacency That Was Displayed During Trial; Emotion Is Shown.

Russell Hecker, convicted for the murder of Frank Bowker, which occurred on the evening of April 16, was sentenced to be hanged Friday, September 22, 1922. The sentence was given by Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell, in the circuit court Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Before pronouncing the sentence Judge Campbell said, "In a case of this kind a judge is simply part of the law. This is a matter about which he has no discretion whatsoever. If I could turn back the clock of time and undo that deed and take away the bitter cup of sorrow from you and your relatives no one would do it quicker than I would."

"So far as this world is concerned I can hold you no hope; but I am a little old-fashioned in my ideas. I could never get away from the idea that there was a supreme being. I could never forget the man—Jesus Christ. The only recommendation that I have to make to you at this time, is that you devote the rest of your time on earth to making your peace with God."

"You are told in the good book that if you repent, ask forgiveness of your sins, you will be forgiven. I am not telling you all of this as an apology, because no man should apologize to anybody for discharging his duties as the law requires." The judge then pronounced the death sentence.

All during the ordeal Hecker displayed the same complacency that he had shown throughout the entire trial. No one of Hecker's relatives were present in the court room. He stood surrounded by his attorneys, Gale Hill, Thomas Ryan and Gilbert Hodges, and the usual crowd, which had packed the court room throughout the entire trial, had dwindled down to about 50 persons.

Gale Hill, the chief attorney for the defense, immediately after sentence had been pronounced, rose and asked the judge for 60 days in which to enter a bill of acceptance and also for two weeks in which to enter a request for a new trial, the time to begin today. Both requests were granted.

The only apparent show of emotion during the pronouncing of the sentence was shown by the judge himself. Just after he began his talk to the young man it seemed as if he would break down; but he soon regained his composure to a sufficient degree to complete his duties.

The sheriff was given 20 days in which to deliver the prisoner to the warden at the state penitentiary, but it is believed that the delivery will be made as soon as possible.

KLAMATH FALLS YOUTH IS DROWNED UNDER CAR

KLAMATH FALLS, July 5.—Joseph McDonald, 18 year old son of T. E. McDonald, of this city, was drowned near Fort Klamath yesterday when a machine he was driving jumped the ditch and turned over in an irrigation ditch, pinning him beneath it. A girl companion escaped unhurt, being thrown clear of the car when it left the road. McDonald is said to have borrowed the machine from a friend to take a ride between dances, while attending a Fourth of July party.

Savage Tribes Revered the Cross. From the early days of the church the cross was a usual emblem of Christian faith and hope. The first Christians showed great respect for its significance, with St. Paul "glorifying in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ." They used the gestural sign of the cross extensively. Tertullian wrote in the Second century: "At every step and movement, when we go in or out, when we dress or put on our shoes, at the bath, at the table, when the lights are brought, when we go to bed, when we sit down, whatever it is that occupies us, we mark the forehead with the sign of the cross."

Even before the Christian era the cross was an object of religious veneration among savage tribes. The death of Christ gave it a new meaning.

Fishermen Use Colored Nets. In Dalmatia it has been noticed that the fishermen dye their nets in wonderful shades of brown and bright green. They have found by experience that while the fish are canny enough to fear the white nets and flee from them as from a danger signal, they swim calmly into the meshes of the green and brown ones.

It seems possible that this is because the green and brown strands of the nets are not unlike the floating strands of seaweed. Another explanation is that the eye of the fish is unable to distinguish these two colors from that of the sea water.

These dyes are extracted from the bruised barks of plants. After the nets have been well soaked in these natural dyes and then thoroughly dried, the colors are permanent.

BANKS, July 5.—The lumber mill, yard and six dwellings owned by the Murphy Timber company of this place burned yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock when fire broke out in the mill from an undetermined origin. The loss on the mill proper is estimated at $100,000; partly covered by insurance. The burned dwellings were occupied by workmen and were of cheap construction.

SENATOR WILL TRY TO CUT SHIPPING BOARD

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The shipping board would be reduced from seven to three commissioners under a bill introduced today by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho.

"To pay seven men $12,000 each to preside over what according to their own showing, is a moribund and money losing, money squandering affair, is sheer waste of the taxpayers' money," Senator Borah said in a statement. "But the shipping board is only an illustration of the situation in Washington. I venture to say that a million dollars could be saved annually by cutting down and cutting out unnecessary commissions and offices. Not only would we save money, but we would have more efficient and more responsible public service."

Following in American Legion's issuance of instructions on how to respect the flag, the New York legislature passed...

PREMIER IS ACCUSED OF STARTING WORLD WAR

PARIS, July 5.—Police-reserves surrounded the chamber of deputies this afternoon while communist members attacked Premier Poincare, accusing him of bringing on the World war. A great throng gathered in the vicinity of the parliament building, and a hostile demonstration was feared.

Within the chamber was crowded to capacity. Three communist deputies in turn hurled questions at the premier concerning his pre-war policies which they asserted contributed to starting the war. Poincare, bristling with defiance, faced his enemies of the left with a bold front, stoutly defending his policies.

TICKET OFFICE ROBBED OF $224 BY 2 BANDITS

PORTLAND, July 5.—Two unmasked men entered the Oregon Electric waiting room in the Seward hotel late last night, and holding the attendant at the point of a gun, removed cash and currency aggregating $93, according to a report made at police headquarters.

Mrs. Frances G. Clark, 249 Thirteenth street, was in charge of the confectionery and ticket office when the men entered. One man pointed a pistol at her while the other removed $75 from the ticket station till and $15 belonging to the store.
