OREGON SENATOR ASKS FOR U. S. FOREST PATROL

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Air patrols to detect and control forest fires in Oregon is more than a probability, due to the activity of Senator McNary, who has made considerable progress with the agricultural and war departments.

Senator McNary expects to obtain from the agricultural emergency fund a sufficient allotment to do this work, and General Patrick of the fire service is trying to find legal means by which the air service of the army may furnish the equipment and personnel to carry on the scouting on the funds thus advanced. A definite agreement is expected Monday.

Chicago Girl Loses Lover; May Die Of Attempted Suicide

CHICAGO, July 10.—Blossom Taylor, 22, was dying today as the result of poison taken after what she said was a tearful parting from an alderman, who planned to leave for Europe.

Miss Taylor was found on a rear porch of her apartment and rushed to the hospital. She told an amazing story of her affair with the alderman, which reached a climax in a stormy interview when he came to her apartment to bid her farewell and told her he was forced to take his wife on the trip, "for political reasons."

The alderman declared he had never heard of Miss Taylor.

WENDLING MILL BURNS; LOSS IS ABOUT $25,000

EUGENE, July 6.—The big Booth-Kelly sawmill at Wendling took fire this morning at 9 o'clock and burned to the ground in a few minutes.

Reports from the fire at 10 o'clock are that the sawmill was a total loss and that the crew and townspeople were desperately battling the flames to save the planing mill and the lumber on the docks. The whole town of Wendling is threatened, and townspeople and mill crew have responded to the man to battle the flames. Eugene sent out its fire department and a special train of fire fighters and equipment has been sent from the Springfield Booth-Kelly mill.

The Wendling planing mill burned several years ago and was rebuilt. The Springfield sawmill burned in 1911 and was replaced in 1914. These previous fires cost the company many thousands of dollars, and the blaze this morning promises to cause a loss of at least $250,000.
