Big Picnic Planned At Sandy August 13

SANDY, Aug. 3.—A picnic and basket dinner are announced by the Sandy Parent Teacher for Sunday, August 13 at the Lutheran grove at the Southwest edge of town. Judge Stapleton of Gresham will be the speaker of the day. There will be special musical numbers and an all around splendid program is outlined. It is requested that the crowd assemble early as there will be the regular baseball game at 2:30 in the afternoon, and the program will be concluded soon after that time. There will be ice cream, lemonade, coffee and other light refreshments sold on the ground. Everybody far and near are invited to come and bring lunch, which will be served cafeteria style. It is suggested that each one bring cups and spoons if convenient. The program will begin at 10:30 sharp.

Forest Ranger Urges Permits for Fires

SANDY, Aug. 2.—C. M. Quickall, assistant district forest ranger at Zig Zag requests that all campers be careful to secure a campfire permit before building a fire in the mountains. These permits may be secured at the Zig Zag station.

Raymond E. Smith, district ranger, has been away managing the Larch mountain reservation patrol for over a week, so the Zig Zag office has been a busy place. The blaze Smith is fighting is 16 miles north of the Little Sandy ranger station, and 35 men are employed. The fire jumped the lines again Monday but is now under control.

Sandy Association To Picnic August 13

SANDY, July 31.—A short session of the Sandy Parent Teacher Association was held Friday night with the new president Mrs. Anne Duke in the chair. It was voted to amend the constitution so that the regular meeting night may be held on the second Wednesday night of each month instead of the last Friday. It was also voted that the organization give a picnic on Sunday, August 13, at the Lutheran picnic grounds and that a program be given and a basket dinner served cafeteria style. The next meeting will be held Wednesday night, August 9.

OLD RESIDENT DIES

SANDY, Aug. 1.—Nelson M. Burdick, father of F. E. Burdick of Firwood passed away yesterday morning. The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, and was born in 1884. He came to Portland in 1899 and lived at Montavilla most of the time until recently. Heart trouble with dropsical complications afflicted him for a number of years, but he was seriously ill only a short time. Three children survive: F. E. Burdick of Firwood, E. E. Burdick of Montavilla and Mrs. A. P. Farley of Salem.

GOVERNOR IS GAINING VOTES IN RECOUNT CASE

SALEM, Aug. 2.—In the recount this morning of five of the largest precincts in Marion county, all in the city of Salem, where ninety irregular votes had been alleged by Charles Hall, defeated candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in the primary election, Governor Olcott gained three more votes on the contestant, making a total of six he has gained in the recount of twenty-two precincts.

In Salem No. 11 the official canvass gave Olcott 126 votes, the recount gave him 128. Hall has alleged twelve irregular votes in the precinct.

In Salem No. 12 the official count gave Olcott 83 votes, the recount gave him 84. Hall alleged 31 bad votes in the precinct.

Voting precincts in Multnomah county where irregularities are alleged by Hall will be counted before any witnesses are called, and the attorneys of both sides were of the opinion today that the recount trial will shift from Salem to Portland tomorrow.

There is a chance that the Multnomah ballot boxes and those of adjacent counties may be brought to Salem for the recount, but this is unlikely.

CAMPERS MUST SECURE PERMITS TO BUILD FIRES

SANDY, Aug. 2.—A request comes from the Zig Zag ranger station that all campers be particular to secure campfire permits before making a fire in the mountains. These permits may be secured at Zig Zag ranger station. District Ranger Smith has been superintending the Larch mountain reservation patrol the past week. The fire jumped the lines again yesterday but is under control. Thirty-five men are fighting the blaze.

POLICE SEND BOY HOME TO MOTHER BY WAY OF FREIGHT

ALBANY, Aug. 2.—Benjamin Leo Brown, 13, whose home is in Milwaukee, started back to his mother on a freight train from Albany Tuesday night with the sanction of the local police. He was picked up here Tuesday noon on suspicion of being a runaway. The local officials communicated with the Portland police to ascertain where he belonged. In reply a wife was received from the "boy's" mother giving instructions to send him home. But she had no money with which to pay his fare. So Benjamin was entrusted to a "side door Pullman." He had with him a pack containing canned goods and camping outfit. He said he was on his way to the coast.

Borrowed Comment.

What Editors of State and National Papers Have to Say.

THE BOND RECALL

With the prospect looming for the voting on the recall of the $1,700,000 road bond issue at the November election the Eastern Clackamas Review declares:

"Eastern Clackamas should put up a stiff fight against the attempt to recall the unsold road bonds. If these bonds are recalled it will be ages before there will be any paved roads in this portion of the county. And unless there are paved roads this portion of the county will never develop. Those seeking the recall are manifesting a callous and selfish indifference, all the more so because they have their paving done, to the cost of which the whole county has contributed. It is true that some signatures to the petition have been obtained through misunderstanding, thinking that the petition was against the issuance of new bonds. These will probably withdraw their names. At the meeting of the community club last Friday night against the recall, and for putting up a campaign against it. Organization should begin at once, and it is to be hoped that eastern Clackamas will have the assistance of the western portion, for the county is a unit, and their interests stand or fall together, and we have confidence that the leaders at the county seat realize this fact, and will give us their strong support."

THE GAMBLING PRINCE

Is it worth while to gamble? The answer to the question comes with the best grace from those who know gambling, and know it well. Such is the story from the life of the prince of Monte Carlo, of whom the Albany Democrat writes:

"On the principle that food and flowers are raised from, fifth, possibly Monte Carlo may be justified. The Prince of Monaco, now dead, took the proceeds of his notorious gambling joint and used them in scientific research, to study ocean life, chart the ocean currents and make the seas pleasanter and safer for travel and trade.

"Yet the same constructive purpose could have been attained without all the misery, crime and suicide connected with Monte Carlo.

"The most impressive thing brought out in comments on Prince Albert's career in the fact that he showed by his own practice what he himself thought of his means of livelihood. He never gambled. More than that, he never permitted his subjects to gamble. There was and is a strict law against it. The people of Monaco, like their ruler, have merely profited by the folly of others, and held the victims in tolerant contempt, knowing as they did that the odds are always against the gambler."

ON THE WEATHER

The weather in Oregon is something to be thankful for, declares the Portland Telegram. Depicting the mildness of the climate and the even weather conditions throughout the year, despite the recent kicks against the weatherman, the Telegram explains that:

"We get our favorable atmospheric conditions (which is another way of describing our weather) from the Pacific ocean—in winter from the Southwest, laden with moisture; in summer from the Northwest, always cool and always tempering the sun's heat. This is our normal weather.

"We get our abnormal weather when strong winds, blowing westward from the interior of the continent, overcome the ocean breezes. In summer the east wind brings excessive heat, though very rarely more than three days in succession; in winter, this same east wind is a blizzard but never extremely violent or of long duration. Only once since the first white settlement has the temperature south of Portland dropped to zero.

"In reply to some imaginary reader who, having a grouchy, grows and would like to know why so trite and commonplace a topic should be logged into the editorial page, the Telegram begs leave to say that it is worth while, once a year, to reflect a moment on the blessings kind Mother Nature bestows upon the residents of this favored section of the world."
