TOURIST TRAVEL OVER NORTHWEST IS BIG

Over the highways leading into Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, there has been pouring for the past two months a veritable stream of motorists, lured either by the pictured charms of the Pacific Northwest and by the stories they have seen and heard of the beauties and pleasures of "America's Summer Playground." Cars bearing the pennants and license plates of almost every state can be seen by watching any of the principal highways for a few hours—big cars and little cars, some dust-covered and loaded down with camp equipment, others shining and unburdened except for light luggage.
 Every west-bound transcontinental train and the steamer lines running to the Coast ports likewise have been bearing their crowds of tourist visitors, many of whom have come to the Pacific Northwest to escape the intolerable heat of the inland and southern districts, or who have been eager to spend their vacations among the mountains or along the many water-courses of this wonderful land.
 Reports from various sections of the Pacific Northwest indicate that this tourist travel, both by auto and by rail is much heavier than in any previous year and inquiry among the travelers as to why they chose this for their vacation trip shows that large numbers of them were attracted by the advertising and publicity campaign of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association.
 "A noticeable feature of this year's auto travel," states Frank W. Guilbert, of Spokane, one of the most active good roads enthusiasts of this district and a recognized authority on auto travel, "is the high class of the people who are motoring to the Pacific Northwest this season. They seem to have more money and a larger percentage of them are stopping at hotels."
 Inquiries about touring conditions continue to pour into the office of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association from all sections of the country, and even from foreign lands. One correspondent from Fortar, Scotland, has just written: "I have just read in the New York Tribune, copies of which relatives in the United States are kind enough to send me regularly, your splendid advertisements of the Pacific Northwest" and asks for literature—particularly the booklet on "golfing."
 SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 14.—Authorities are investigating the circumstances surrounding the burning to death of George Burns, El Verano egg rancher, at his home early today. James Moore, a neighbor, is being held as a witness to testify at the inquest to be held this afternoon. Moore told officers that while he and his wife were gathering eggs on the Burns ranch they noticed the house in flames. He said he ran to the house and endeavored to rescue Burns, but the latter fought him off and refused to be rescued. The house was destroyed and Burns cremated.

AMBROSE SMALL MYSTERY PROBE BRINGS ARRESTS

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—(Special)—Max Phillip, alias Albert King, has been arrested in Perce, Quebec, in connection with the disappearance of Ambrose J. Small. Small, a Toronto theatrical man, has been missing since December 2, 1919.
 John Doughty, private secretary to Small, was arrested in Oregon City, Oregon, November 22, 1920, charged with the theft of $100,000 in bonds which disappeared at the same time that both Small and Doughty were reported missing.
 Phillip was arrested in Perce, according to the word received here, as a sequel to the arrest of a woman in New Brunswick who gave the police information concerning the case.
 Small's disappearance has been one of the most perplexing affairs in the annals of Canadian crime. A $50,000 reward has been posted for the discovery of Small either dead or alive and it is understood that the reward is still standing. Late in 1919 he disappeared, receiving a check for $1,000, 000 in part payment. A few months later he disappeared, and no trace of him has been found.
 Doughty was tracked over two continents and was seen in Portland, Ore., some time before his arrest. Officers were sent to the coast to investigate but failed to find trace of the man. He was later discovered working in the Hawley paper mills in Oregon City, Ore., by Ed Runt, another employee of the plant. Constable Ed Fortune kept track of the man, and definitely established his identity, wiring Chief of Police Mitchell of Toronto, who went to Oregon City personally to make the arrest. Doughty was later returned to Canada, where he was convicted and sentenced to prison. Richardson and Fortune received $15,000 reward for Doughty's capture.

STRIKE IN BITUMINOUS COAL MINES IS ENDED

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 15.—Both operators and miners today ratified an agreement to bring about settlement of the soft coal strike. Formal signing of the agreement went over until a joint conference this afternoon.
 Prospects were that some mines would be opened Wednesday.
 "The strike is now over," said Joseph Puriglove, an operator, who served on the sub-committee.
 The settlement provides that the miners shall be returned to work at the same scale of wages that were in effect when they went on strike; the new contract is to continue in force until next April 1; the agreement also provides for appointment of an advisory fact finding commission, a part of its duties to consider future settlements of disputes in the coal industry.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—The conference of anthracite coal operators and union representatives which, it is predicted, will result in an immediate resumption of operations in the hard coal fields, will open here tomorrow morning.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Legislation by congress to regulate distribution and prices of coal during the winter was declared today by Secretary Hoover to be necessary.

VISCOUNT NORTHCLIFFE, BRITISH PUBLICIST, DIES

Noted English Newspaperman Passes After Long Fight With Lingering Illnesses
 LONDON, Aug. 14.—Viscount Northcliffe, noted British publicist, died today.
 It was stated that the cause of Lord Northcliffe's death was suppuration, or the production of pus within the heart, which was followed by acute blood poisoning.
 The death of no other unofficial person could have made a deeper impression in England than that of Lord Northcliffe. The news was no surprise, as the bulletins issued by the doctors for the last week plainly indicated that the patient was dying.
 Lord Northcliffe was by far the most noted figure in British journalism, and the first question on every one's lips was as to what effect his death will have on the policies of the Times and his other newspapers, which since the end of the war have strongly opposed the Lloyd George administration and its principles, with a notable exception of its dealings with Ireland, which the Northcliffe press supported throughout.

COTTON IMPORTS LOWER

Philippine Islands' imports of cotton piece goods in 1921, with the exception of prints, were lower than in 1920, unbleached cloths dropping from 8,159,000 square meters to 6,182,000 and dyed from 19,000,000 to 18,800,000 but imports of print cloths rose from 5,500,000 to 10,600,000 square meters (1 sq. meter equals 1.196 sq yds.).
