Editorial—The McLoughlin Monument—Thirty-five years ago next Saturday, September 3, Dr. John McLoughlin died in Oregon City. The most prominent figure in the early history of Oregon and the Northwest, a man of noble qualities, whose deeds smoothed the way for the Oregon pioneer, Dr. McLoughlin's tomb is marked by an insignificant slab. There is no question that great honor is due this wise and sturdy benefactor of the early settlers. The Enterprise, this roughly outlined comprises the erection, opens a "McLoughlin Fund" subscription list. The design as a monument to Dr. McLoughlin in this city. The sum at present in mind for the purpose is $10,000, one-half of which should be appropriated by the legislature and the other half by contributions by private subscriptions. It will be nearly a year before the money need actually be paid. We wish to have every subscription honest, and that the people really mean business. As a start, we will put half of which should be appropriated down the Enterprise for $50.

AUTOIST'S COURTESY RULES Courtesy on the road among motorists is akin to safety. Lack of courtesy often leads to recklessness, which in turn leads to accidents.

The following list of courtesy rules is published by the Dodge Diary, and motorists who read and practice these rules always will be in the right.

1—When a man approaching you from behind sounds his horn as a signal that he wishes to pass, don't step on it. Draw over to the right and let him by.

2—Do not use more than your half of the road, thus crowding others into the ditch.

3—It is not courteous to "steal" a parking place from a man who is just getting ready to back into it.

4—Do not imagine that every motorist on the road who tries to pass you is starting a race. He may be on important business.

5—When you pass a man from behind going in the same direction, do not cut in directly in front of him. This is discourteous.

6—Do not shove another man's car along the curb to make room for yours thus jamming his car against a fire plug or the car ahead.

7—It is discourteous to halt behind a traffic jam and honk your horn.

8—The correct giving of hand signals is courteous as well as safe.

Hunt Is Continued For Radicals Who Plot Killing of Men

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Department of justice operatives today were on a still hunt for "reds" and radicals following the alleged discovery of a plot to kidnap or kill the presidents of the New York Central, Pennsylvania and Rock Island railroads. The identity of one of the plotters was said to be known and his arrest was expected momentarily.

The president of the New York Central is A. H. Smith. The president of the Pennsylvania is Samuel Rea and the president of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific is James E. Gorman.

According to the police, reports of instructions from the plotters to "red" lieutenants have been found in which the lieutenants were asked to look up the home addresses of the three named and "learn if they have any children, so that we can either kill or kidnap them and take the children."

It is reported the radicals sought are all foreigners.

CITY COUNCIL AND COUNTY COURT TO RECEIVE PETITIONS

Business Men Ask That Legal Steps Be Taken to Proceed In Work on Highway Out Of City Without Delay.

BASIN ROUTE POINTED OUT AS DANGEROUS

Local Stretch Only Unpaved Portion Not Taken Care of Between Bordering States.

Petitions have been circulated among the business men of the city asking that the county court and city council proceed with the necessary legal steps to get the actual work on the highway out of Oregon City with the least possible delay.

The petition points out that the finances for the highway have been taken care of, that the basin route south of the city to Canemah is dangerous, and that Oregon City is the only portion of the Pacific Highway between Washington and California that is not now taken care of.

All the property involved in the highway route out of the city is said to have arrangements made for vacating, and deeds and papers are in escrow, and will be placed before the Highway Commission. The Southern Pacific is understood to have agreed to construct the underhead crossing at Fifth street, the corporations and companies interested in securing the Highway route out of the city are to take care of financing the road from the underhead crossing to the city limits.

They are the gunboat Patagonia, cruiser Patria, transport Patagonia, dispatch boat Gaviota and dispatch boat Number 3. None was seriously damaged.

The accident is said to have been caused by the American Legion's failure to stop for the Argentine steamer and partly to the strong wind.

The number of casualties is not definitely known, but it is reported that four or five persons on the torpedo boat were injured.

The American Legion was very slightly damaged but left shortly before midnight for New York.

Petition to Seek Recall Vote On City Hall Bonds

Carl G. Green, of Oregon City, filed a petition with the city recorder to have a measure placed on the November ballots calling for the recall of the city hall bonds of $35,000. These bonds were voted nearly three years ago, but the city hall has been held up on the work on account of the city's inability to get a suitable location and contract. The petition bears about 320 signatures sufficient to have the measure placed on the ballots.

About $6000 have already accumulated to pay off the bonds, although the latter have never been sold. By the time the bonds can be recalled, if the measure meets with success, about $1000 will have been accumulated.

There will also be a measure on this same ballot asking the voters of the city to decide on a location for the hall. This was voted by the city council at their last meeting, following the abandonment of plans to build the city hall on the Singer Hill site. It was decided by the council that it would be impossible to build on this site with the money voted and available for the building. The Singer Hill plans, if adopted, would have necessitated a cost of approximately $5000 in addition to the $35,000 voted for the building, according to figures determined at the last council meeting. Rather than go to this additional expense the council ordered that a measure be put on the ballot, asking the people to select a site where it would be possible to erect a hall within the means already voted for that purpose.

Complications also arose regarding the Singer Hill site upon the threats from taxpayers in the city to enjoin any attempt to build on this location.

If the Green measure is carried at the fall election, it will cancel all previous action by the city relative to a city hall, and leave the city with a fund of approximately $8000 which has been set aside for the purpose of paying off the bonds and interest.

Charles B. Cord Up For Forgery At Cottage Grove

EUGENE, Sept. 1.—Charles B. Cord, who was recently extradited from California, on a charge of forgery, was taken to Cottage Grove this afternoon, where he was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Joe Young. Cord is charged with forging a check for $250 given a jeweler in Cottage Grove for a diamond ring. Cord was located at Red Bluffs, California, and was returned to Oregon by California authorities.

Cord is also wanted by the Clackamas county authorities. A warrant sworn out in this county has been sent to the Lane county sheriff, Fred Stickles, and it is expected that at the completion of Cord's hearing on the forgery charge in Lane county that he will be returned here.

While in Oregon City, Cord sold advertising for curtains which he was to furnish the Grand Theatre of this city. He collected about $400 in advance, but failed to furnish the curtain and motor. When the curtain failed to arrive, Charles Schram, owner of the Grand Theatre, wired the Western Scenic Studios, of Denver, whom Cord was supposed to have represented. It was learned that no such firm existed in Colorado.

letter from Mrs. Cord, in Eugene, stating that she would be personally liable for her husband's affairs in Oregon City, and said further, "You may rest assured that the curtain will be put in at the earliest possible moment."

Cord is understood to have worked similar schemes in many other cities, and in one place it is said he secured as high as $900 for curtain advertising.

Scientific Tests May Determine Baby's Patehnty

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 5.—On the theory that "blood will tell," it is said that the science of determining the paternity of a child by tests of its blood will be invoked in the forthcoming trial of Harry Poulin, prominent clothing merchant, who is charged by John T. Tiernan, professor of the Notre Dame university law school, with being the father of his youngest child. Professor Tiernan is suing to compel Poulin to acknowledge paternity of the child and to support it. The child was born to Mrs. Tiernan last November.

In addition to this charge, Professor Tiernan intimates he will establish Poulin's illicit relations with a prominent South Bend married woman, if he is pushed to that extremity to win his own case. In that case, as well as his own, he claims to have a large number of witnesses.

This additional charge has increased the excitement in university circles and the city of South Bend to an exploding point. The scandal is the sole topic of whispered conversation on the campus and in the city and sides have been taken by the population. The university folks are almost solidly back of Professor Tiernan, while the city is lining up back of Poulin, who is very popular, a member of many societies and clubs and considered wealthy.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Sept. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Estus and son of San Francisco, Cal., arrived in Roseburg this morning with a thrilling tale of an early morning holdup on the Pacific highway two miles north of Grants Pass, in which they lost $800 worth of jewelry, cash and other articles.

The bandits held up to neither persons, they report, and in one case even stripped a shirt from one of their victims. The bandits started their operations about 1 o'clock in the morning, when they invaded the camp of an auto tourist party near Grants Pass. The members of the party were forced out of the tent in their night clothes and were forced to stand shivering while their tent was searched. The women were forced to give up their rings.

The bandits drove the autos up the road a short distance and placed them crosswise on the highway, thus blocking traffic. Two cars were stopped by them and the occupants robbed. Officers are scouring the section for them.
