CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 19. -British military experts here believe that whatever opportunity Mustapha Kemal Pasha had for a coup against Constantinople has been lost in view of the quick strengthening of the allied defensive forces in the neutral zone.

All the available British warships, with the exception of the battleship Benbow, which is in drydock, have left Malta for Constantiople and the Dorset regiments from Egypt and the Staffordshire regiment from Gibraltar are on the way.

Forces landed from the British ships have already entrenched themselves at Chanak, on the Asiatic side of the Italian battalions are expected from Rhodes. The advance guard of the Turks is reported to be thirty miles south of Chanak and the army fifty Jugo-Slavia has mobilized three dikub, in Southern Serbia, to Pirot, near the Bulgarian boundary.

This is evidently to guard against any possible attempt at the re-occupation of Thrace by the Turks or their allies.

Greece may be requested to participate in the defense of the straits. Assurances that the British dominions are also ready to dispatch troops to the Dardenalles, if necessary, have helped allay the anxiety of the population and Constantinople is breathing easier. It is believed that an attack by the Kemalists now would meet with a certain repulse.

1925 FAIR PETITION TO BE TESTED IN NEW SUI

PORTLAND, Sept. 20 .- A suit alleging that the initiative petition on the general election ballot, which, if passed, would allow Portland to bond itself for the 1925 exposition, is allegal, was filed in the Marion county circuit court today by Rogers Mac-Veagh and S. S. Johnson, Portland attorneys, as agents for the Marion county district attorney.

The suit is friendly enough. It's a case of "No hard feelings, boys," but the bill must go off the ballot without any more preliminaries if it has not been legally prepared. The complaint in the case is voluminous, but the contentions of the plaintiffs, as pithily summoned up by MacVeagh this morning, are as follows:

'The law provides certain formalities to go through in submitting an initiative petition. Just as in passing a bill through the legislature, it must be read a certain number of times and there must be a certain number of roll calls, so with the initiative. The refusal seriously complicates the These are safeguards to prevent

FOR THE EYES OF POSTERITY

Satisfactory Way Said to Have Been Found to Preserve Newspapers for Indefinite Period.

How to so pickle newspapers that they can be preserved indefinitely in the public libraries is a problem which has apparently been solved, according to the American Paper and Pulp association

Eight years of experimenting, participated in by three big New York newspapers at a cost of $5,000 a year each, under the supervision of the New York public library, has taught librarians how to preserve for posterity newspaper files. The solution seems simple, being the mounting of each newspaper sheet between two sheets of thin Japanese tissue, shutting the air from the original sheets, reducing its legibility but slightly, and strengthening the page. Bound volumes of the mounted pages are now in constant dally use, and are free from the wear and tear which destroyed the untreated newspapers.

The New York experiments have been so successful that a big Western newspaper has sent representatives to New York to study and adopt the practice for use there.

The first investigation was made in persuade the newspapers to print library editions on an extra paper, but the expense was too great. This is now done by a London paper, and was tried by a Brooklyn paper, but the cost was prohibitive.

In the New York experiments silk was first used, but the Japanese tissue was found the best for the purpose, as it hermetically sealed the newspaper pages from the air. Shellacs, varnishes and other substances were tried, with little success. Under the method now in use the operator wets a glass or steel-covered table, lays down a sheet of tissue; with the pasting machine, rice paste is put on, then in turn the newspaper page, paste and tissue, when the page is dried and pressed under a gas-heated man-
