MILL IS WRECKED WHEN STEAM ENGINE BURSTS

Fly Wheel, Hurlled From Shaft Severs Steam Pipe; None Hurt; Plant Is Damaged.

An explosion occurred at the sawmill of William Moehke at Hoff about four miles from Oregon City Friday, causing considerable damage. Although there were a number of employes near the engine when the explosion took place, none were injured. The explosion was caused from a bolt becoming loose in the fly wheel, causing the fly wheel to leave its fastening. The wheel was thrown into the air, and crashed to the floor, damaging the mill in its flight. The steam pipe was severed when struck by the flying wheel, causing the steam to escape and filled the mill. The men when seeing the wheel leave its fastening, made a hasty exit from the building and escaped injury. Owing to the damage done, it will necessitate the purchasing of a new engine, and other repairs made before the mill will again be in operation, which will require about a week.

Incorporation Filed By Sand Company

Articles of incorporation of the Bell Digger company were filed with the county clerk yesterday by Mark Hetrick, J. W. Schuld and W. M. LONE BANDIT GETS $1,250 LOOT IN 2 DAYLIGHT THEFTS

William Howell Home At 308 Jefferson Street Is Robbed; Residence of William Smith At West Linn Is Ransacked.

HAS CRIME WAVE HIT CITY? NOW QUESTION

Depredations of Past Months Recalled; Officials Hunt For Man Seen On Sunday.

Is Oregon City facing an epidemic of lawlessness and robbery? Are the dozen house-breakings and holdups of the past few months an indication of further depredations in the offing this winter?

Loot totaling $1,250 was taken from two homes in Oregon City and West Linn Sunday by the same burglar who operated between noon and five o'clock. Police are hunting for a swarthy, dark complected man, seen in both cases before the robberies were committed.

The homes robbed, were William Howell, 308 Jefferson, loot, $1,000; William B. Smith, West Linn, loot, $250.

The Smith home was robbed about 12:30 o'clock. Smith and his family left shortly afterward. Neighbors said that a few minutes later, a dark man wearing a slouch hat, knocked at the door. Gaining no answer he left, and circled the house. Investigation showed that he had cut the screen from the pantry window, and completely rifled the house.

Family Leaves in Car. William Howell left with his family in his machine at 2 o'clock. A man, answering the same description had been seen in the neighborhood. He called at the E. H. Harris residence across the street from Howell's. Agnes Harris, answering the door, was asked the residence of some family of whom she had never heard and whose name she cannot remember. The man left, walked up the street, past the Roy Trullinger residence, and back to the Howell home. Knocking at the door, and receiving no reply, he walked into the back yard.

Later it was discovered that he had cut the kitchen window screen and climbed in over the sink. Leaving the Howell residence he left a package containing a silk shawl and women's light gown which were identified as part of the loot from the Smith home.

Both Homes Rifled. In both cases the homes were completely rifled. Clothes, linens, and personal effects were scattered over all of the rooms. Only jewelry and silver were taken.

From the Howell home a complete set of sterling silver, diamond ring, three watches, two pairs of earrings, shirt studs, $10 in cash and miscellaneous jewelry were taken. One of the watches, engraved "J. H." belonged to John Bitzner, Mrs. Howell's mother and was valued as a keep sake. One of the pairs of earrings had belonged to Mrs. Bitzner. They were set with rubies and pearls. A locker containing valuables was not broken into. Included in the loot at the Howell home were eight quarts of whiskey. Howell had ten quarts but the thief only found eight.

At the Smith residence silverware, Smith's glasses and razors, were taken, together with a few clothes. An accurate check of the list had not been made there Monday due to the condition in which all of their belongings were placed by the thief.

Mr. Summers is connected with the Multnomah Hotel of Portland, and he and his bride will make their home in that city.

Man Convicted For Not Dimming Lights

Randolph Seivers, arrested on charges of failing to dim his automobile headlights, was found guilty Tuesday. He was fined $50.

$50,000 Booze Stock Taken By 5 Bandits

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 17. — Five bandits armed with shotguns early today bound and gagged three guards at the Rugby distillery and escaped with three truckloads of case whiskey, estimated to be worth $50,000. The guards were attacked at 1:20 a. m. Telephone wires were cut. Robert Tandy, watchman, tore the skin from his hands in releasing himself and notified the police.

Congress Slammed By General Dawes

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Charles G. Dawes, former director general of the national budget, famous for his "hell and Maria" utterances when he was cutting down government expenses at Washington, smoked his briar pipe in the Waldorf Astoria last night and made characteristic remarks when 300 bankers and business men gathered to do him honor at dinner. The dinner was tendered Dawes by the New York City committee of national budget committees, an organization which fought for the adoption of the national budget bill. "I've lost the art of moderate expression," 55 said Dawes, and he went on to tell what he thought of some congressmen who "run like rats when anyone shakes the name of the American Legion in their faces, as on the bonus question."

The Greatest Business in the World is Keeping House, and Women Conduct It. Every other business is subsidiary to this tremendous enterprise and every woman who has to look after the many details of it finds a checking account a great convenience to pay her household bills with. It reduces the possibility of mistakes which so readily occur when bills are paid in cash. It makes monthly and yearly comparisons easy to make and induces economy. Has the manager of your household a banking account? Why not let her have this convenience?

CHASE OF AUTO THIEVES TO ALBANY, FRUITLESS

Trace of the light automobile, stolen from E. N. Bellus when the salesman was held up by thugs near Pulp Siding Wednesday has been lost by the officials. Though police over the state had been warned of the theft, Bellus was hailed from the roadside by three thugs, and when he stopped, forced at the point of a pistol to enter the brush where he was tied, robbed, and the car taken.

Bellus, and Burt Hall, for whom Bellus works, have returned from following the thieves south along the highway. At Albany they were 39 minutes behind the men, who had been seen but not stopped. The local men followed to Roseburg, where they lost track of the bandits and turned back.

Harry Conifer, who was employed on the road near Pulp Siding reported to special deputy, F. C. Burke that he had seen three men answering the description given by Bellus of those who had robbed him. Conifer, hearing of the holdup, reported to the officers that the suspicious trio had been near where he was employed. The descriptions tallied exactly. Conifer, however, saw them before the time of the holdup and some distance from where the gag was "pulled."

Chas Flagler Dies After Brief Illness

Charles Raymond Flagler, son of Mrs. Emma Flagler, of this city, and of the late Raymond Flagler, died on Sunday night at the family home on Twelfth and Taylor streets, after a month's illness. The lad's death occurred at 8 o'clock. He had been ill for the past month suffering from la-grippe and complications that resulted in Bright's disease. Charles Flagler was born in Oregon City May 22, 1906, and was 16 years of age. He attended the Oregon City schools, and last year was a sophomore at the Oregon City high school. He was a carrier for the Morning Enterprise for some time. Deceased is survived by his mother, Mrs. Emma Flagler, two sisters, Mrs. Olive Livers and Miss Lorena Flagler, a brother, Kenneth Flagler, of this city. He is a grandson of Mrs. Elizabeth Saunders, of this city.

Radio Responsible For Saving Of 261 On Flaming Vessel

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 13.—The radio, man's bridge on space and fellowship of those who go down to the sea in ships, stands responsible today for the safety of 261 persons—the ship's company of the steamer City of Honolulu—which burned yesterday. The readiness with which mariners of half a dozen craft, from pleasure yacht to dreadnaught of the Pacific fleet, offered themselves for the rescue of their distressed fellow travelers affords a but an echo of a story first told so long ago that men have forgotten the time of the telling, but the tale of the radio's part belongs to a more modern generation. They mingled, this old thing and this new one, to save life. Early yesterday morning while she was 670 miles off San Pedro, Cal., fire broke out in the second class cabins of the steamer. Unaccountably the flames gained such headway on the fighting crew that two hours later it was necessary to abandon ship. Before that time came the radio had cried far and wide the "dot-dot-dot" dash-dash-dash distress and human extremity on the high seas.

Probe Will Follow Death Of Seattle Theater Manager

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 13.—Investigation of the affairs of the Spokane Pantages theater was expected here today with the arrival of Ed Fisher of Seattle, manager of the Pantages circuit, in response to a call sent out last night, after the fatal shooting of E. Clarke Walker, local manager. That Walker committed suicide on account of ill health was the theory accepted by a member of his friends and members of his family. It was said that he had been treated two years for a disease which recently brought on insomnia.
