

SAVING ON ROADS PROGRAM IS CITED BY JUDGE CROSS

County Official in Speech at Mt. Pleasant Says Economy In Highway Work has Been Affected in Administration.

DEFENSE IS OUTLINED IN RECALL CAMPAIGN

Deal on Temporary Bridge As Emergency Plan is Declared O. K.; Records Are Open.

The Waluga Civic Club, representing the districts of Goodin, Lake Grove, Waluga, Bryant and Cook at their regular meeting, went on record as opposed to the recall of County Judge Harvey E. Cross.

Branding the recall as a "personal affair brought against him by those who had individual grievances against his administration, Harvey E. Cross in an address at Mt. Pleasant last evening actively took up the campaign to retain the office of county judge at the November election.

Judge Cross in characterizing as efficient the administration which he heads, pointing to a saving of "thousands of dollars" due to the holding up of the road program during the period of peak prices.

Covering the contentions of the judge, and answering the charge brought against him in connection with the construction of the temporary bridge across the Willamette river, a statement was issued from his headquarters yesterday.

"More than two months ago," says the statement, "the promoters of the recall launched a campaign against the work of securing signatures to a petition for his recall. In their work they were aided by Commissioner W. F. Harris, member of the county court who failed to receive a single renomination. Joining in the chorus of the recall song by Commissioner Harris was a contingent of aspirants to the office of roadmasters. Other members of the recall troupe were Mr. Gibson, of Barton and S. J. Edmondson of the Wilsonville country. Gibson's chief grievance lay in the fact that he failed to secure from the county court $1500 claimed as damages for a road surveyed through his property but instead was awarded $300. Edmondson feels that he has a grievance, being a disappointed aspirant for damages to the amount of $3200 to owners of property by reason of a road in which he was interested. The county court declined in this case to award any damages.

"The method of handling road funds up to the time Judge Cross entered upon his official duties was to allow overdrafts in the funds of the various road districts. Commissioner Harris' district, known as No. 34, being one that was habitually overdrawn. In 1920, this district was overdrawn $2,494.96. In 1921 this same district was overdrawn $3,493.18. Judge Cross insisted that the custom of overdrafts be abolished, and insisted that all overdrafts incurred in 1921 be charged to the 1922 accounts.

"The matter of the construction of the Willamette foot bridge is an open one. The bridge was made impermanent, leading to the thickly populated territory, known as Elliott Prairie, who are the real tax contributors, were not allowed a load of gravel from the rock crusher.

"Didn't you, from an open platform, declare that you were in favor of taking the 10 per cent of the road fund, which is distributed in each and every road district, and place the same upon the trunk lines or market roads? If you were honest in your intentions, it would be a gross infringement upon the respective rural districts. It would compel them to vote special levies to build and maintain the laterals. In other words, the farmer would contribute, as he does in taxes to the trunk lines, and would place a burden upon themselves to build and maintain thirty miles of rural road to ever ten miles of trunk line. So Mr. Voter, take warning, he is attempting to play the game with the promoters of the bonded road theory.

"Now to the 'Live Wires': The bigger majority of the 'Live Wires' were interviewed by myself in person and they informed me that they were overly anxious for someone to start the recall, as they were 'after Judge Cross's goat.' He language which they used was most shocking, calling the judge most everything, but a gentleman, offering to assist in the financial part of the campaign. Now, bear in mind, that some of those whom I refer to have their names upon the business men's position, endorsing H. E. Cross. Now, how does he happen to change from a 'demon' to an 'angel' within a few days? If the 'Live Wires' so desire, I will divulge more facts to the laboring classes who pay high taxes upon their little homes and toil from daylight until dark—they are given no consideration by Judge Cross or his promoters, who have gone on record in favor of two dollars per day, being sufficient for the laboring classes.

"The judge was a representative of Clackamas county, and while serving the people, raised the salary of the county judge, then placed himself in the position for the office. "Judge Cross, do you deny the charge of being impolite? I can cite the taxpayers to dozens of cases. One in particular that aroused the recall spirit, when you openly, in a snuff and boisterous manner, insulted Paul Samson, deceased. There was a delegation before your court. Paul Samson, a member in a very gentlemanly way, asked you a civil question pertaining to road matters. You very discourteously informed him with a frown, that it was 'none of his business.' "Now, as to H. E. Cross's ability in handling the taxpayers' money and other matters that have to come up in connection with the position he now occupies, which is better than a thirty million dollar problem and compare that with the one-horse saw-mill that he made a total failure of, which he admits caused him to become delinquent in taxes for a number of years."—L. TWO ARE KILLED BY EXPLOSION AT ELECTRIC PLANT

Ennis Townsend and Frank McKee Dead; Compensator On Generator at Bull Run Plant Blows Up; One Hurt.

ENTIRE SYSTEM BADLY INJURED BY BLAST

Exact Cause of Mishap Is Not Determined. Third Member Of Repair Crew Burned.

PORTLAND, Nov. 1.—Frank McKee died at St. Vincent's hospital tonight.

SANDY, Nov. 2. (Special)—One man was killed and another seriously injured in an explosion at the Hurley Mason plant at Bull Run, near here today.

Ennis Townsend was blown out of the pit, and all of his clothing burned off. Death was instantaneous. Fred McKee, of Estacada, was badly hurt, and was rushed to Portland for medical assistance. He was unconscious.

The exact cause of the accident had not been determined last night. Townsend has lived here for the past 10 years. He is survived by his wife and two brothers. He is a member of the I. O. O. F., L. L. L., and Masons.

Man Was Married

McKee has lived at Estacada for the past three and one-half years. He is married and has one child.

V. D. Butler, foreman of the plant, suffered bruises about the upper parts of the body. He was cared for at Bull Run.

Townsend was killed outright by explosion of a compensator, a starting device attached to the motor generator. The explosion occurred when it was thrown into service after Townsend and McKee had worked over it throughout the morning.

Fumes are strong in the flames and fumes which filled the room McKee was overcome. Clothes were burned from the bodies of both the men as they lay on the floor. Townsend, dead, McKee unconscious.

Generators in the entire plant, together with the Estacada, the Oregon City and the Portland plants, were "kicked out" by the uneven load this service had been resumed on all power and light lines.

Townsend and McKee went to work early yesterday morning on the compensator which was reported out of order several days ago with the result that generators feeding the interurban railway systems of the company were handicapped. At 11:30 the device was reported fixed and the switch was thrown in from upstairs to test it. Townsend and his partner remained below to watch the results of their morning work. The explosion occurred while both were near the compensator.

Damage to the plant is $1,000.

Clackamas County Has First Grange

SANDY, Oct. 30.—The question of where the first grange in Oregon was organized was brought up by J. D. Clitwood, master of Damascus grange and J. G. DeShazer, master of Sandy grange recently, and the former produced the history of the grange from the date of its organization to 1875, and in this book was mention of the "first grange of Oregon as having been organized at 'Marshfield' (now Clackamas station) in the fall of 1871. The author of this book was the originator of the Patrons of Husbandry, so the Multnomah County grange that claims priority will have to "give up."

Pioneers here will be glad to read the following names which are given as charter members, and will all be remembered by all the "old timers" in this county. Daniel Talbot, Robert DeShazer, Wm. W. Davis, W. J. Campbell, J. O. Willie, Charles Wade, J. T. Clitwood, Reuben Dannals, Jr., F. E. Davis, E. D. Jones, O. Ketcher, James, Phillip Foster, T. E. Batlin, James Roots, F. L. Talbot, T. J.
