

O. A. C. DEFEATED ON HOME FIELD BY U. OF O.; 10-0

Aggie's Blunders Cost them The Game; Two Year Tie Broken for State Football Championship at Corvallis

KICK AND TOUCHDOWN MADE FIRST QUARTER

Eugene Center Breaks up Punt, Ball Bounces Back, Spears Makes Touch Down

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 18.—Oregon broke the two-year tie for the state football championship here this afternoon by defeating Oregon Agricultural college, 10 to 0, on a field of floating sawdust.

Oregon won on breaks, or in other words, by taking advantage of Aggie blunders.

Both Oregon scores—one a placekick by Harold Chapman from the 20-yard line, the other a touchdown on a blocked O. A. C. punt—were made in the first quarter. Both were preceded by Aggie fumbles.

Its an old axiom in football that, other things being equal, the team that makes the fewest mistakes will win. And that was what happened today. The Oregon victory was not due to any overwhelming superiority, but to making the most of every O. A. C. mistake.

The first Oregon score came so quickly after the opening kickoff that even the Oregon rooters were surprised. Oregon had kicked off to Garber on the five-yard line. He ran it back five yards and while on the dead run made a punt up-field. It was Oregon's ball in midfield. The Oregon backs swung to the attack, but could gain nothing against the burly Orange line. Once, twice, three times they rumbled it and the net advance was only seven yards. So on the fourth down Chapman punted.

With the ball directly in front of the goal posts, Chapman stepped back to the 20 yard line. With a perfect kick from placement he thumped it dead over the crossbar. Oregon 3, Oregon Agricultural college 0. Standing behind his own goal to kick, Gill got the pass and let drive, but Callison, the tall Oregon center, had broken through and the kick bounded off his outstretched arms and back behind the line where Spears, Oregon left end, made a flying drive and nailed it for a touchdown.

Chapman kicked goal from placement, making the score Oregon 10, Oregon Agricultural college 0.

Spring Is Here Now; Raspberries Grow in At Glen Echo Yard

“Where the spring comes in the summer”

And the summer in the fall; And the fall comes in the winter time, And no winter comes at all.”

This is the opinion of F. A. Miles, of Glen Echo Station, is aptly applied to Clackamas county. In witness that the idea is based on more than sentiment, Miles produces ripe raspberries at his home at this season. A fair sample of the luscious fruit is shown on six branches displayed in the window of Burmeister & Anderson's jewelry store. Many of ripe and green berries are clinging to these branches.

The bushes from which these branches were plucked were planted a year ago. They are of the Ever-bearing variety. The flavor is as delicious as those grown earlier in the season.

Miles owns a small tract of land at Glen Echo Station. This consists of one and one-eighth of an acre. A portion of the land is planted to Ever-bearing strawberries and raspberries, while another part is set to peach trees. From twelve peach trees this season he sold $52 worth of fruit, besides presenting his friends with an ample supply.

BIG ESTATES ENTERED IN PROBATE COURT HERE

Arthur J. Johnston of R. F. D. No. 1, Clackamas, has filed a petition with the county court asking for the admission to probate of the last will of the late Emily Mabel Johnston, who died October 11, 1922, leaving an estate valued at $4300.

The will of the late Charles Holman, who died November 11 at his home near Molalla, was filed for probate by his widow, Mrs. Beulah A. Holman, yesterday. The estate has an estimated value of $20,000.

A petition for letters of administration of the estate of the late Alfred Clark, who died October 29, 1922, has been filed by Jennie Thorger, Lena Battin, Ethel Hoffman and Bessie Sellwood. Estate is valued at $25,000

FORMER COUNTY OFFICER FACING FEDERAL CHARGE

R. E. Waggy Arrested by U. S. Prohibition Agents in Raid Near Kendall Station; No Date for Hearing Not Set.

COMPLETE STILL SAID FOUND ON PREMISES

Fight in Official Circles Is Recalled Here; Accused Is Former Oregon State Cop.

R. E. Waggy, former traffic officer of Clackamas county and a special agent of the state of Oregon, is under arrest today and facing liquor charges in the federal court. Waggy was arrested Monday when his home on 82nd Street near Kendall station, at the north boundry of Clackamas county, was raided by operatives of the U. S. Prohibition office in Portland.

A complete still and four fifty gallon containers of mash were found, the officers state. Waggy is slated to appear in the federal court for a hearing and was released pending action by the U. S. officials.

Waggy figured prominently in an official disagreement in Clackamas county about 18 months ago. The county court decided to remove Carl Long from the position of traffic officer. Sheriff Wilson who controled the appointments did not approve of the change and refused to deputize Waggy, for whom a special state star was issued. For two months there were two traffic officers in the county and considerable disagreement over which was which. After a long fight Long was finally employed and Waggy resigned.

Special request: All citizens not members of the fire department should stay off the fire truck when it is responding to an alarm. At a recent fire so many outside people got on the truck that the regular firemen had to walk to the fire.—Wellington O. Enterprise.

Union High School Notes

Both of the Junior civics classes have organized as states of Sahara. As civics is said to be a very dry subject, Ed Donnelly suggested the name of “Sahara” for the class organization. There being two classes in civics, one upstairs and the other downstairs, it was decided upon to name them the Upper and Lower Saharas. These two states have held meetings in which they discussed and named counties. The Upper Sahara has seventeen official counties, and the Lower Sahara has twenty-five official counties. After a hard fight, Lynn Parker was elected governor of the state of Lower Sahara. Mr. Parker gave his inaugural address, October 25. He appointed Miss Amelia Pauline, his opponent.

The representatives for the twenty-five counties were appointed Thursday, October 26. And the senators appointed were Mary Zanicker, Amber Ford, Evangeline Christensen, Dennis Kibby and Marvin Hickman. The official map of the state and its counties was drawn by Elsie Turel. On November 2, Elsie Turel was elected the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Upon her election she appointed the different committees. Every senator and representative was then requested to make senate and house bills. These bills are being read to the Legislature now and after three readings will be assigned to the committee to which they belong. Then the bills will be voted on and a decision passed. Several very good bills have been turned in so far.

The Lower Sahara held its election Monday, Oct. 23. The candidates for governor were Amelia Pauline, Vetrice Rauch, Elsie Turel and Lynn Parker. After the primary ballot was cast, Vetrice Rauch and Elsie Turel dropped out of the race leaving Amelia Pauline, a prohibitionist, and Lynn Parker, a socialist, to run for office. Amelia Pauline appointed Elsie Turel as campaign manager and Lynn Parker appointed Mary Louise Merck as his campaign manager. The State of Upper Sahara held its election Monday, October 23. Frank Schaubel, an independent, who had as campaign manager, Harold Rudolph, was elected governor. He gave his inaugural address October 24. Harold Rudolph was elected secretary of state. Hugh Moulton was elected governor following Schaubel's resignation. The representatives to the different counties of the state have been appointed. The official map of the state and its counties was drawn up by Harold Rudolph.

Work of this sort gives the students a practical idea of their study. Among the members of the alumni, who have received the subscriptions to the U. H. S. Amplifier are the following: Homer McArthur, Baker, Ore.; Meta Higgenbotham, Portland, and Arleigh Reed, University of Oregon.

The coming events at Union High school are: November 13-17, Better English Week; Nov. 17, U. H. S. football game at Molalla; Nov. 24, U. H. S. vs. Oregon City High; Nov. 23-24, six weeks' examinations from Thursday, November 30, until Monday, December 2.

The students held an interesting assembly Nov. 8, and through Mr. Gary, heard from Arleigh Reed, one of our former classmates, who is now attending the University of Oregon. It was also announced that a report had come from Earl Mootry that the alumni basketball team will challenge the school team for a game during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Gary made a few announcements and reprimanded the students for their recent misbehavior in the halls, but the feeling of distress which he instilled into their timid hearts was quickly dispelled when Miss Leathers mounted the platform and led them in a number of jazzy melodies. Also during the meeting the student body elected a boys' basketball manager, Marvin Hickman was elected manager.

The Junior class held a meeting Wednesday noon, November 8, for the purpose of finding means of canceling the debt they owe for their cuts in the Annual. It was decided to sell hot dogs at noon. The boys are to furnish the dogs and the girls are to make the hot dogs.

This week is “Better English” week in U. H. S. Wednesday, the “Better English” parade was held at the assembly. The different English classes represented incorrect usage of words. One class dressed in various costumes to represent their words, and others had tags pinned on them saying the mistakes such as “don't he,” “they was,” “set down” and so forth.

The rest of the week will be full of interesting “Better English” work. Elsie Turel, a student of the Junior English class, gave a very interesting talk to the Freshmen Wednesday on the subject of “Why a good education in English is needed in your life's work.”

The hard time party given by the Freshmen on Friday, Nov. 3, was a rare success. Every part of a hard time was shown in the hard-time outfits worn by the Freshies. The party was chaperoned by Miss Tobey and Mr. and Mrs. Beatie. The evening was passed with games such as spin the platter, winkum and a peanut race, which was won by Merle Davidson; there was also a musical chair. Allen Draper, carrying off the honors.

While these were going on, Jessie Babcock was busy in the cooking room, arranging refreshments, which consisted of cider, sandwiches and pumpkin pie. The game, clap-in and clap-out, was played to get partners. The party ended at 10:30 and everyone was thoroughly satisfied.

The committees which had charge of the affair were: William Nixon, Jean Schultz and Olive Dowd, committee for games; Jessie Babcock, Verna Micanda and Mary Mantha were on the refreshments; Marion Wiedeman, Elsie Subczynski and Evelyn Whitman were the committee to provide for a chaperone.

Judge J. U. Campbell and Dr. J. H. Brown spoke to the student body on Friday afternoon, Nov. 10. Judge J. U. Campbell lectured to the students on the meaning of Armistice Day. His talk was well received. Miss Leathers playing the violin and Miss Tobey the piano, rendered a musical number to begin the program, and received hearty encore.

The new plan for assemblies was tried for the first time Friday. Each class sitting in a center section presided over by the instructor. The plan is to have the students assemble in the balcony at all but the most important assemblies to avoid making so much work for the auditorium each time an assembly is necessary.

The special assembly, held November 2, was opened by a splendid selection on the piano by Vetrice Rauch. Mr. Gary then introduced to the students Dr. John Kibby Brown, a graduate of Harvard University. Mr. Brown, who has spent forty years in the near east, gave a very interesting talk. He told of the life of the missionary in Turkey and the smaller countries, such as Armenia, the past and present situation of Turkey, and of the harsh treatment that the Turk is giving the students, missionaries and natives. Mr. Brown's talk was greatly appreciated by the students, which was shown by the hearty applause which followed.

The first year short hand class under the instructor, Miss Lamb, are coming along very well in their work. Although the class is rather handicapped on account of such a large enrollment for that kind of work. They are now on the seventh lesson of “Blended Consonants.”
