TON, CRUSHED, SCORNS HIS FOE

POUR OUT THE VIALS OF HIS WRATH ON THE HEAD OF SENATOR BOURNE.

TON AND U'REN ALSO SCORNE

Eaton Says He Refused to Trade, Fouts Laughs to Scorn the Idea of an Eaton Halo.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 16.—(Spl.)—Representative Eaton, of Lane, unburdened himself of his pent-up feelings in a speech today. He arraigned Senator Bourne, Ex-Senator Fulton and W. U. Eaton, the Statement One apostle upon Oregon City. His feelings were not thought until he found that he had been defeated in his attempt to take Speaker Rusk's power to name general committees of the House. He poured forth the vials of his many charges and counter charges. Representative Eaton told a story to tell here, suffice to say that he accused several of wish-fulfillment, and refused because he was honest. He said goodbye to Eaton, hoping Eaton could give his speech with the statement proposed to cut away from modern-day politics as the now played, intimating that he was not good for the game. Eaton was not simply defeated, he was crushed. Fouts answered the insinuations of Eaton with the statement that he had seen hovering over the head of the Lane man, a halo of virtue, and decency. Then he arraigned Eaton with tactics as used by the deprecatd.

LOCK POSSIBLE IN N. Y. LEGISLATURE

DEMOCRAT WINS CAUCUS, NOMINATION OF DEMOCRATS, DEWEY IS CHOICE OF PARTY.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 16.—(Spl.)—Sheehan was nominated as the choice of the Democrats for the United States Senate, in joint caucus today. Sheehan was given the nomination by the Republican caucus. It is said he will receive the solid support of his party in the joint ballot tomorrow. Certain of the enemies of Sheehan are making a desperate effort to defeat him. It is said there will be as many as a dozen candidates to make it possible to elect, the hope that his support may be demoralized, and some other chosen.

FOOD EXPERTS WILL WATCH THE SUPPLY

CHIEF GENERAL THAT LARGE QUANTITIES OF COLD STORAGE FOODS ARE UNFIT FOR FOOD.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 16.—(Spl.)—Food experts will watch to see that no food is unloaded on the public. A report that great quantities of cold storage food and eggs long since unfit for consumption would be sold to save absolute loss has caused food inspectors to be on the alert. There is little doubt that wholesale quantities of unsaleable products were contemplated; the public would not be too certain that the plan may not be accomplished.

BROTHERHOOD REORGANIZATION

Meeting at Presbyterian Church Tonight—Rev. Walker Speaks.

The Presbyterian Brotherhood, which, because of the repairs to the church, had no place to meet for the past few months, is to take up its work anew, and will have a meeting in the church parlors this evening. All members are requested to be present, and those among the men of the city who have no affiliations with other denominations will be gladly welcomed. The Brotherhood work is making great strides forward at this time, and the organizations of that character seem to be doing a great work. This makes it imperative that churches who wish to reach out into all channels of beneficial church activities should organize an active Brotherhood. As the Presbyterian church in this city is determined to keep abreast of the times it is natural that it should have an aggressive organization of this character. And the meeting in question is for the purpose of again taking up the thread of effort where it was left some months ago.

Rev. Thos. Holmes Walker, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church, Portland, will make the address of the evening. Mr. Holmes is said to be a very interesting speaker, and it is the belief of those interested in the work that those who attend the meeting tonight will be well repaid.

LARGE ENROLLMENT.

Agricultural College at Corvallis Doing Good Work.

The enrollment for the Winter Short Course work at the Oregon Agricultural College, at Corvallis, has increased over fifty per cent this year. The students are still registering and indications are that the registration may be increased by another ten per cent or more. The course in horticulture has attracted the greater number of students, having 120 enrolled. The other courses also show a decided increase in attendance. Practically every section of the state is represented in the enrollment. The work for the first week indicates that the courses are going to be more popular and more successful than ever before.

GOES BACK TO PEN.

Harry Beard, Out on Parole, Forfeits His Liberty.

Harry Beard, who was paroled from the state penitentiary some weeks ago and who attempted to obtain money from the First National Bank of Oregon City under false pretenses, was taken back to the penitentiary at Salem Sunday by a guard from that institution. Beard tried to flee the State bank, but was unsuccessful. His relatives, however, made good the bank's loss, and the charge was not prosecuted.

Eighth Grade Exams. This Week.

Questions for the eighth grade examinations have been prepared and mailed to the proper custodians. The next examinations will occur on Thursday and Friday, January 19th and 20th. There are but 55 candidates in the county for this examination. There are three examinations for the eighth grade work within the year, the other two occurring on May 11 and 12 and June 8 and 9. The January examination has the fewer candidates for honors of any.

Won't Divide the District.

The school patrons of the Stafford district, who are determined to have a new district established, seeing that the division would cause hard feeling, and feeling the cause was not worth the cost, have withdrawn their petition and will continue as an undivided district.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN WILL GET MONUMENT

ALL BUT ONE LOCAL COMPANY HAS SO FAR APPROVED THE PLANS PROPOSED.

Mountain View Hose Co. No. 4 met last night and after routine business took up the proposition of the firemen's monument to volunteers, and approved the plan. The company pledged $25 to the fund. N. A. Elliott and George Hankins were appointed a committee with power to act in conjunction with the committees from the other fire companies.

This movement for a monument to the volunteers of past time was started by Green Point Hose Co. No. 5. Four out of the five companies have endorsed it—Fountain No. 1, Columbia Hook and Ladder Co., Cataract Hose Co. and Mount View Hose Co. No. 4. The Hill Hose Co. No. 3 will meet tonight, when an effort will be made to get that company into line. Each company so far has pledged $25, and appointed a committee to work with the other committees.

George Hankins was nominated as candidate for fire commissioner. There are three to elect—who work in conjunction with Council's fire committee—election first Monday in March. Chas. Sanders has been named by the Fountain Hose Co. No. 1, with one more to be nominated.

CHURCH THROGGED THE SECOND DAY

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION FILLED WITH INTEREST FOR MANY WORKERS.

MRS. NASH SITS AS PRESIDENT

C. A. Phipps Makes An Interesting Address at Sunday Evening Session—Officers Named On Saturday.

The second day's session of the Clackamas County Sunday School Association convened at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church, with a fair attendance. The first number on the program was a praise service, led by Rev. B. Hayworth, pastor of the Baptist church in this city. The Baptist choir occupied the choir loft and led in the musical program of the afternoon. John W. Loder sang "The Holy City," with a chorus of the choir.

The first address on the program was "The Boy Scouts," by Rev. W. M. Proctor, pastor of the Congregational church. The funeral of Mrs. Gordon took Rev. Proctor away at this time so that his address was of necessity postponed to the evening session.

Rev. E. F. Zimmerman, pastor of the M. E. church, was down for the next address. "What Next?" Rev. Zimmerman said in his introductory remarks that he was not in a hurry to get away from the subject of prohibition. "We had a tough year the past year," he said. "Up until last year we have been successful but the last one was a defeat, and we were defeated pretty badly. We lost our own law, secured by hard work, and we got a liquor amendment. We lost 9 counties; that looks like a defeat to me, and a bad one. What we should do next is to find out where we are at and begin to build on that foundation."

"As it is now if a county goes dry all is dry; under the new law a county may go dry and a city or town within it take up and vote wet and we have no recourse. Let's find out where we are at if we must take it to the highest court. Let's know where we temperance people stand under the new Home Rule law. We must keep up the fight, but I want to know on what ground I am fighting so as to figure where I am coming out. The people who voted wet are responsible to God for this condition; don't think a church member in Oregon City did so though some charge they did. It was the good men outside the church who did it without knowing what they did. I would advise the ballot in the hands of wife and mother and think in that way we could solve the problem; think women would vote saloon out. I object to the vice and ignorance of Europe voting saloons on us and no chance for virtue and intelligence to vote them out."

"We have a double standard of virtue—one for our women and a second for our men; we want one standard for both. The girls should insist on the boy doing as he insists she should do."

"The liquor consumption has doubled per capita in 20 years despite our temperance work; leads me to inquire if our methods are wrong—must be something wrong. If the consumption continues to increase for 20 years more where will we be at?"

Mr. Zimmerman told of a team of base ball players going to Japan to play with an amateur team there and how it was able to split even only and cited this as evidence that better hygienic conditions there worked to the good of the Jap, an evidence that excessive drinking in this country was destroying our vitality and would in the end destroy us as a people unless we reform.

C. A. Phipps, on the program for an address in the evening was prevailed upon to speak briefly. He said there was no boy problem, but that there was a man problem—at least if we solved the man problem we would then find no boy problem. "And the man problem," he said, "is not a difficult one to solve. Bring man and the Word together and you have a solution. It will solve itself."

"It is an easy thing to do the work of ten men but it is a hard thing to get ten men to do their work. The Sunday school has temperance and good citizenship departments now, trouble is to get them in operation. Church tries to save man in gutter and ten fall for lack of encouragement while one is rescued. Devil puts you on the back while you work thus. I think we have votes enough to save the State—don't like what women of Idaho did—think men must put on the yoke and do the saving."

"Have no fight with fraternal orders but would like to know their secret—must be the warmth of their friendship and the system of organization—we should imitate it. We organize—15 minutes to organize and then we forget it. Good words for Sunday school not enough; get into it and work with it—we want a Sunday school booster club. The boy is not only the hope of the father and mother but the hope of the nation as well. The home department and cradle rolls are the live wires of the Sunday school."

At the evening session there were several musical numbers by the Presbyterian choir and the ladies' quartette, which were appropriate to the work at hand. Rev. Landabrough invoked a blessing on those present and Rev. W. M. Proctor, who had been detained in the afternoon, spoke to the topic, "The Boy Scouts."

Mr. Proctor said he had not as yet launched the local corps as it was taking more preliminary work than he had anticipated. He said it was a new organization, of which there were several, but the indications were that the Scouts were certain to absorb the others. Baden-Powell, the English general of Boer war fame, is the head and founder of the organization, and England is its home. At its inception it spread over England like wild-fire until today there are 300,000 scouts in that Empire. Its introduction into this country only dates back to May, 1910.

The scouts pay two cents a week into the treasury and they must pledge themselves to do good and be good. Preliminary or initial steps are necessary, each looking to the good of the boy. The motto is, "Be prepared." No bad habits are permitted that will injure the body. The scouts must be helpful to others without expecting a reward.

C. A. Phipps made the address of the evening, speaking on "The World's Convention at Washington." He outlined the Sunday school movement in a few words and then drifted to the convention proper. He told of the Oregon delegation and its trip to the Capital, of the place it occupied in the convention, of climbing the fire escape to avoid the press of the crowd anxious to see, and of the pride that stirred him at the success of the movement.

The first convention, Mr. Phipps said, was held in London 100 years ago. The second in St. Louis, the fourth in Jerusalem, the fifth at Rome and the sixth at Washington. Only a handful responded to the first, 1250 made the journey to Jerusalem, a good attendance was present at Rome but 30,000 were desirous of seeing and being seen in Washington—so mightily has the cause grown. There were 250 trains of delegates and friends made the trip to Washington.

"Oregon took a front place at the late convention, for which I am proud," Dr. Meyers, of London, was president. At Jerusalem the reception was unfriendly, at Rome cold, but at Washington the city was ours for the asking. Verily the cause grows and prospers.

SENATORS WILL FIGHT TO A BITTER END

TWO PORTLAND OFFICERS SAID TO BE PERSONALLY OBNOXIOUS TO OREGON SENATORS.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 16.—(Spl.)—Senators Bourne and Chamberlain today made it certain as to where they stand concerning the confirmation of Collector of Customs P. S. Malcolm and U. S. Marshall Elmer Colwell. It is said both Senators are determined to fight these nominations to the bitter end and if President Taft will not withdraw the nominations they will do all in their power to stop confirmation in the Senate itself.

The unwritten law of the Senate is that there shall be no confirmation when a Senator will insist that the nomination is obnoxious, personally. The Senators are said to be willing to go to that extreme if no other way is found.

JUSTICE CASE POSTPONED.

The Attorney for Defense, G. C. Brownell, Sick.

Mrs. Bonnie Nelson, who charges Lucas Brodovich with assault, was here Monday morning to testify in the case of State of Oregon vs. Lucas Brodovich. Mayor Brownell is the attorney for the defendant and as he was sick and unable to appear the case was postponed at the request of the defense. A few days ago, when the whereabouts of the prosecutor's witness was unknown, Brodovich and his friends were insistent that he be tried or the case dismissed. The case was postponed till January 26.

The case of Fred Lucht, accused of keeping his fence in the road, was postponed to January 23, in Justice Samson's court Monday on account of the illness of his attorney, G. C. Brownell.

TWO GOOD PRIZES TO OUR MEMBERS

SENATOR DIMICK AND REPRESENTATIVE JONES EACH SECURES A CHAIRMANSHIP.

JOINT REPRESENTATIVES FARE WELL

Secondary Places That Have Much of Responsibility—Magone Disappointed That the Cards Broke Badly.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 16.—(Spl.)—Representatives from Clackamas county drew prizes in the distribution of committees in the Senate and House today. Next to the committee on judiciary the committee on the revision of laws is the best in the gift of the president of the Senate. This place was given to Senator Walter A. Dimick, from Oregon City. Senator Brooke was given the chairmanship of the judiciary. Senator Dimick was also given a place on the committees on fishing industries, labor industries and municipal corporations.

Representative Jones was given the chairmanship of the committee on printing, and a berth on medicine and pharmacy and elections committees. Representative Magone was given a place on the committee on fisheries; and there is little doubt that he was promised its chairmanship. But at the eleventh hour, in the last shuffle of the deck, the name of Pierce of Coos-Curry counties was substituted. Representative Magone is also on the committee on alcoholic traffic.

Carter is given a place on assessments and taxation; Chatten, Multnomah and Clackamas' joint, on ways and means and commerce; Malarky, Clackamas-Multnomah-Columbia joint Senatorial, Senate chairmanship on judiciary.

Other principal chairmanships in the House are: Abbott, ways and means; Tigard, agriculture; Fouts, revision of laws; Mann, roads and highways.

Senator Dimick has served in the House before being chosen to the Senate, and this being Representative Jones' third term led to the honors that the Clackamas county delegation were able to pull down.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE DATE IS ADVANCED

CLACKAMAS COUNTY INSTITUTE AT CANBY WILL BE HELD SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4.

The Clackamas county teachers institute scheduled to be held at Canby January 28, has been postponed to Saturday, February 4. A series of very interesting gospel meetings are being carried on in Canby at this time and as the meetings will not close until the 29th, the request for a postponement of the institute was asked. Not wishing to interfere with the meetings the institute managers granted the postponement.

B. Vedder, president of the Clackamas county athletic league, will give a talk on athletics. There are five things that are to receive special attention throughout the educational work of the institutes of the State this year, as follows: Reading, writing, arithmetic, health conditions and country life. At Canby the program will have special reference to reading and arithmetic. There will be three talks on reading—primary, intermediate and advanced. Howard M. James, head of the debating work in the county, will give a talk on debates.

Dinner will be served by the people of Canby. There will be exercises by the pupils of the Canby schools. Complete program will be announced in a few days.
