The laxness with which State institutions have been conducted is leading the present legislature to take a second look at things put up to it before opening the treasury doors.

There can no good come of assailing the individual or company, but there may come good of an assault on principle.

Some things need to be considered before people can see them just as they really are. The mill owners of Oregon City and the men who would reform them will get nearer together if the discussion is continued than they are at this time.

C. W. Lee, who edits the Falls City News, thinks the Oregon City people should go into their pockets to pay for the preservation of the McLaughlin home, and not ask the legislature to help.

Mr. DeAngelis resumes his tour in "The Beauty Spot" after an interruption which was caused by his engagement to head the all-star cast of "The Mikado" at the Casino during the summer months, and he resumes his career as an individual start with the prestige achieved by his support of a cast which included Fritz Scheff, Christie Macdonald, Andrew Mack,

TWENTY-SIX IMPORTANT QUESTIONS SETTLED.

The following twenty-six important questions of public policy appear to have been definitely settled by direct vote of the people of Oregon on sixty-four proposed laws and constitutional amendments, in the last four general elections:

- 1. That they will not tolerate a return to anything like the convention method of making nominations, but will retain their direct primary system until something better is offered.
2. That they will enforce election by the legislature of that candidate for United States Senator in Congress who receives the highest number of the people's votes.
3. Complete prohibition of railroad passes for all persons except employees of the railroads.
4. Abolition of the power of city councils to give away public franchises.
5. Abolition of the temptation and opportunity to buy or sell votes in the legislature.
6. That the people of every city or town shall have power to make and amend their city charters on all local matters at their own pleasure, absolutely free from special acts by the legislature.
7. That they will retain the initiative and referendum in law making.
8. That they will have power to recall any elected public officer from Constable to Governor, including Judges of the courts.
9. That they approve the principle of election of members of the legislature by proportional representation, though they have not yet agreed on the method.
10. That they will provide liberally by taxes for support of higher education in the State University.
11. That they will maintain one efficient Normal School. At the same election they voted to abolish two others created by the legislature some years ago.
12. That corporations having little or no tangible property should pay a gross income and license tax.
13. That the expenditures of any candidate for public office shall be limited to practically one-fourth of one year's salary of the office he seeks, and the state will provide the greater part of the expense for publicity of the merits of candidates and of political parties.
14. That edible fish, especially salmon, shall be conserved in the navigable rivers of the state.
15. That matters of chiefly local interest will be rejected if submitted to the voters of the whole state.
16. Abolition of the convention system of electing delegates to national conventions, establishing direct election of such delegates by the voters of the great parties, and permitting expression by the voters of their choice for their party candidates for President and Vice President.
17. That three-fourths of a jury shall be able to render a verdict in all civil cases, and court procedure shall be so simplified as to discourage appeals to the supreme court for delay, and new trials because of technical errors, if substantial justice has been obtained in the lower court.
18. That they do not approve state-wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquor.
19. That they have established and will maintain local option on the liquor question.
20. That they require a reasonable measure of employers' liability for workmen's accidents.
21. That they have granted the people of each county power to exempt from all taxation any class or classes of property, subject to any general laws approved by the people of the state.
22. That no citizen shall be tried in

(Continued from page 1.) The members of the House strongly disapprove of the proposed commission and it is doubtful if the bill will pass the lower branch of the legislature even if it does get through the Senate.

Representative Carter, of the Clackamas delegation has been following road legislation very closely and is probably as well versed on the subject as is any other member in the House.

The members of the Grange and the Farmers' Union of Eastern Oregon do not favor the Highway Commission plan, said Mr. Carter today. "We are willing that there should be some competent supervision over the work of constructing roads throughout the state, but we feel that this responsibility properly belongs to the State Engineer, who has informed us that the duties of his office will permit him to attend to this work."

Representative Chatten will this week introduce a bill, endorsed by the sporting men of the state, regulating fishing in the Willamette river in the vicinity of the Willamette Falls at Oregon City. The measure will prohibit net fishing above the site of the old dock, extending across the river to the lower end of the locks on the west side of the river.

OFF FOR CHEMAWA.

Little Nicholas Clark Sets Out to Win His Way. Nicholas Clark, the six year old son of Mollie Clark, the Indian woman in jail on charge of drunkenness, was sent to Chemawa last night.

The Beauty Spot is built around a smirking diplomat in Paris, who has married an ex-model and is free and easy in all kinds of feminine society. Joseph W. Herbert claims credit for the libretto, a piece of work which one may suspect traces back to an original and Gallic farce.
