PUBLIC HEARING ON FARE FROM PORTLAND

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY FOR DUNN CASE.

The Railroad Commission will have public hearing in Oregon City Pebruary 22, unless the date is changed. o listen to the complaint of M. E. Light & Power Co., in which Dunn, who is a merchant here, charges that the fare from Oregon City to Portland is excessive. This fare is 25 cents. and Dunn thinks it should be not more than 15 cents. The Railroad Commission evidently lost sight of Washington's birthday in fixing the date of Thursday, February 23.

Attorney Brownell yesterday re-ceived the following letter from the commission:

ASURES THAT HAVE Hon. Geo. C. Brownell,

Will Get Good Money From the City ROADS PLANTING IN SHADE TREES

COUNTY COURT OF MULTNOMAH COUNTY MAKES ORDER TO GROW AND PLANT THEM.

THE PLAN WILL BEAUTIFY ANY ROAD

Country Roads, Now Beautiful, Would Call Forth Little

Praise But for

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 26. (Spl)-Multnomah county will pattern after Europe in the matter of beautifying its roads. Ten thousand shade trees will be planted along the sides of country roads, a portion of the county poor farm being utilized as a nursery for growing the young saplings until they reach a size suitable for transplanting.

An order was made by the County Court authorizing the purchase of seed of such trees as will grow best in this locality and they will be planted as soon as possible.

"In Europe," said Mr. Wemme, of the Auto Club, "tourists travel long distances to see the famous roads, which are nothing but country roads with shade trees planted on both sides of them. The country about Portland is the most beautiful in the world-Only the beautification of our roads has been neglected. The expense would be slight and the returns very great. We can have as beautiful highways as any in the older countries, and Multnomah county will benefit from the added attractiveness."

believe thoroughly in the plan," RAILROAD COMMISSION ORDERS said Judge Cleeton, "It seems to me that the beautification of our roads is, in a sense, almost as important as their improvement."

The nursery is to be fixed in a convenient corner of the poorfarm property. It will be selected in a few days and seed of several varieties of shade trees planted so that the work of beautifying Multnomah county Dunn against the Portland Railway driveways may be commenced at the earliest possible time.

What is planned for Multnomah county is just as good for Clackamas. The roads in Clackamas county are more picturesque than in the sister county, and do not need so extensive treatment, but tree planting by the roadside should be encouraged in this, the hearing, which may be changed to the best section in the Northwest

HEIR TO LARGE SUM

VIDED AMONG FIVE OF HIS DESCENDANTS.

James Petty, one of the well-known residents of this city, who resides on the Clackamas river, has fallen heir to a large amount of money. At the time of the death of Mr. Petty's uncle the will which he left was to the effect that when there were five heirs the estate was to be divided. At the time of his death there were seven heirs, and as the number has now gotten down to five the estate is now to be divided to the remaining heirs. For some time Mr. Petty and his brother, Joseph, resided at Astoria, but the health of Joseph being poor he decided to return to the East, and James came to Oregon City, where he has made his home on the Clackamas river near Stone ever since, following the vocation of a horsetrader.

A short time ago Mr. Petty was apprised of the money left him, his share of which will be $150,000, as the estate amounted to $750,000, and is to be divided into five shares. Mr. Petty has been receiving remittances from the estate during the past few years, and his attorney wrote him that this would stop pending the settlement of the property. Mr. Petty informed the attorneys that he would prefer some of the money now, amounting to about $2000, and upon its arrival he would leave for the East, and assist in the settlement. This amount was received by Mr. Petty, who will start shortly for New York, and will induce his brother to return with him and make his home in the West.

TALKS MISSIONS

REV. SARTARELLI, OF PORTLAND, ITALIAN MISSIONS, SPEAKS TO LARGE AUDIENCE.

JEWS LOOSE HOLD ON LEADERSHIP

When They Refuse to Accept Jesus As the Christ-Tells of Missions in Portland.

There was a good attendance at the Baptist church Thursday evening to hear Mr. Sartarelli, the Baptist missionary to the Italians of Portland. The meeting was in charge of the Ladies' Aid society, with Mrs. Haywood as leader. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Loder sang a duet and Mrs. L. H. Olmsted a solo as introductory to the en tertainment proper for the evening. Mr. Sartarelli is an intelligent Italan and speaks good English. He said his father was converted to the Christian religion 26 years ago in a large tended Sunday school in his home town and when older his father moved to New York where both assisted in mission work among his own people. He early had a desire to be a minister and rejoiced later when he was permitted to begin his studies. There are two Baptists missions in Portland. one a sewing school and gymnasium and the other with Sunday school classes. There are 21/2 million Italians in this country and 1/2 million in New York. Most of these come to this country to become American citizens. There are 220 missions and churches in New York city. There are three schools in this country for teaching Italians religious work. There are but two mission schools this side of Cleveland and one is in Portland. Mr. Sartarelli spoke of what a wonderful world-power the Jews might have been had they accented Jesus. Both Jews and Greeks had failed in leadership because of failure to accept God. The Roman nation, once the power of the world, failed because it did not rest its faith and power in God. Italy had furnished the world with great masters but it was not able to stand supreme because of this lack. "And America, our land of freedom oh will you not keep the faith and race for Christ and his kingdom? In closing Mr. Sartarelli told of the Baptist work in missions, how the growing out of this work.

PRESSURE STRONG STONE OIL WELL

PRESSURE FROM GAS IN WELL FORCES SAND AND GRAVEL UP INTO THE CASING.

TO REORGANIZE COMPANY SATURDAY

Drill Passes Through Eighteen Feet of Gas and Oil-Bearing Sand -Getting Ready to Dynamite.

STONE. Or., Jan. 26 .- (Spl.) -Our oil well, in which we are all interested, is coming on slowly. There are more "symptoms" of oil daily, and the well in being put into shape for shooting that we may find out whether we have the real smallpox or only variloid. And unlike the usual case with such afflictions, every one here hopes we have the good old disease,

Tools have been sent for away down in California and when they reach here there is to be a shooting of the well. In fact the well is fast being put into shape for the shooting regardless of the tools not having arrived. The drilling is down 850 feet and the casing is down 700. The drill is now in the shale and it has passed through 18 feet of oil and gas bearing sand. There is an opening from the end of the casing to the bottom of where the drill has penetrated, probably filled with sand and water. this is where the dynamite is to be exploded, in this 150 feet of expanse. There is certain to be a strong pres sure of gas for it has forced the sand up through this 150 feet of space and some distance up the casing itself. This could not be done unless the pressure was something strong. work of putting down the casing has been very successful of late and the flow of water, which is death to gas prospects, has been shut off.

A gas well of reasonable pressure will prove more profitable at this time than oil. The multiplied indications of gas has had the effect of inspiriting the stockholders. A meeting will be held in Oregon City Saturday to consider the proposition of reorganization and stock increasing. It is wished to raise more money so that a thorough test may be had, certain it is that there are both gas and oil here.
