What Does the Hawley Mill Own and

Some time ago Council appropriated $350 for the purpose of investigating and ascertaining the city's rights in the street near the Hawley mills. The question is, how much of the street does the city own and how much does the Hawley Pulp & Paper Co. own.

There is no desire on the part of the Councilmen interested to dispossess Mr. Hawley of any room he may need in his business that the city does not now need. But it is deemed wise, in case the Hawley is on city grounds, to insist on a nominal lease so as to keep the rightful ownership in sight that at any time the city does want possession it can take it and not discover that the city has slept on its rights and the Hawley mills come into ownership through neglect on the part of city officials.

Purpose Is Close Upper River and Says Interests Are Irreconcilable.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 20,-(Staff Correspondence.) Friends of the fishing industries of the upper Willamette River this afternoon lost their fight to obtain indefinite postponement of House concurrent resolution No. 7. authorizing the appointment of a joint committee from the Senate and House to meet with a similar committee from the Washington legislature to investigate the fishing industries of the two states. The resolution slipped past Representative Magone in the House, where it should have been killed, as the Washington legislative committee had not then been named. In the was unfavorable to the resolution, but a motion to substitute the minority for the majority report passed by a vote of 12 to 10, Dimick, of Clackamas voting to kill the resolution. Senator Lester, of Astoria, led the fight for a favorable report and represented the lower river fishermen. He declared the present law inadequate and said the whole industry was doomed unless new legislation should be enacted. Senator Sinnott, of The Dalles, said the real object of the investigation was to close the upper river and ex-plained that the interests of the fishermen of the lower and upper rivers were irreconcilable.

Senator Abraham, of Roseburg, insisted that common courtesy to the Washington legislature demanded the appointment of the committee and a majority of the Senators took the same

NOT A VOICE RAISED IN DEFENSE OF TRI-COUNTY PUSH CLUB MEASURE.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 30,-(Staff Corespondence.)-Will E. Purdy's Butte ville bridge bill was killed in the Senate this afternoon, and not a voice was raised in its defense. The majority report of the committee to whom the bill was referred was not favorable and the measure was postponed indefinitely. There was a minority report directing the county courts of Clackamas, Marion and Yambill Counties to call a special election within 90 days from the passage of the act to give the people of the three counties affected an oportunity to pass up on the merits of the scheme to bridge the Willamette at Butteville, but the majority report prevalled.

ASTORIA'S PET BILL GOES BACK. Lester Asks For $50,000 and Measure

Sent to Committee. SALEM, Or., Jan. 30.—(Staff Cor-respondence.)—The Astoria Centennial celebration appropriation was butchered this morning, by indefinite postponement of the bill carrying $100,000. Dimick, of Clackamas, was willing to go as strong as $25,000, and the appropriation of $100,000 too great. Sinnott, of The Dailes, Declares Real This afternoon Senator Lester, of Clatsop County, obtained a reconsideration of the bill, and it was referred back to the ways and means committee. with instructions to place the appropriation at $50,000. There is considerable doubt if the bill will pass the priation split in twain.

WILL LOSE ONE EYE FROM THE ACCIDENT thing of what will the boys' clubs here.

JACK LODER IS CHEERFUL OVER HIS INJURIES-STILL IN THE PORTLAND HOSPITAL.

There is little new in the story of the accident which happened to little Jack Loder, who was so severely injured on Saturday by an explosion of a dynamite cap. The little lad is in a Portland hospital, with his mother, and everything possible is being done to save him from the evil effects of the explosion.

The explosion was more serious in its train of evils than at first supposed. It was found necessary to remove the injured eye, and it is not known just how serious the injury will prove to the second one. His face was badly cut and bruised and one ear was torn nearly off the side of the head. The ear has been put back into place and it is thought will heal in such a manner as to present a normal appearance. The scars on his face, however, can never heal so that they will not

Every effort will be made to save the second eye. But for the very sensitive companionship of the eyes little anxiety would be expressed in this matter but as one so often fails when there is injury to the other it makes the parents very anxious until such time as they can be assured the eye has been saved.

Little more is known as to how the accident occurred, and no one seems able to say as to how the cap came upon the Loder porch.

Jack survived the hospital ordeal with show of great pluck, and he is making a game fight to win over all obstacles. He is very cheerful in spite of the calamity and intends, so seems, to allow no dispondency to interfere with his recovery. Loder devotes all her time to the little fellow and Mr. Loder visits the hospital daily.

IN S. S. CONTEST

REV. ZIMMERMAN ANNOUNCES THE FINDING OF THE JUDGES AT SUNDAY EVE. SERVICE.

ALBERT FREDRICK - DEWEY KRUGE

Winners of First Two Prizes-$3.00 and $2.00-Third Prize Added Later By Friend

There is considerable interest manifested among Sunday school workers here, as to what to do with the boy problem in Oregon City. After con sideration, Rev. Zimmerman has deview, he published a series of 12 questions, to which he asked for answers, giving the boys three weeks to write which was attached a rider making the answers and offering two prizes press associations common carriers. for two best answers in sums of $3.00 The measure made the telegraph and and $2.00. There were 26 answers submitted and Rev. Proctor, Superintendent Tooze and Attorney C. H. Dye were appointed a committee to award the prizes. The answers were numbered and the judges adjudged as to numbers, having no knowledge as to who wrote the several replies. The first prize was awarded to Albert Frederick and the second to Dewey Kruger.

Sunday evening the M. E. church was filled with a throng of people anxious to learn who were the successful contestants and to hear read the a majority of the Senators believed replies that seemed worthy the prizes. There were the usual opening exercises of the evening, with song, scripture reading and prayer, followed by an address on the organization and workings of boy clubs by J. C. Clark, of Portland, who is engaged in the Y. M. C. A. work in the Rose City. His address was illustrated with magic Senate, even with its original appro- lantern slides showing subjects akin to the work being done by the asso-ciation, with some of association work reference to the dissemination of information relative to the usual boys' club work that not only the boys, but parents present, might learn something of what will be attempted in

At the close of the illustrated address Rev. Zimmerman announced the winners and then read the replies on which the award was made. The questions and answers follow:

Question 1-If you had $1000 what would you do with the money? Ans. 1-If I had $1000 I would enter college after my high school education was completed and take up the study of electrical engineering. Ans. 2-I would buy my mother and father a home Question 2-Why do you go school? Ans. 1-I go to school to get an edu cation so when I become a man I may nelp in the betterment of the community in which I reside. Ans. 2-To get an education that I may be better able to make my way in the world. Question 3-In your opinion, what had habits tempt boys of your age most strongly? Ans. 1-I think that the use of cigarettes and liquor tempt boys of my age most. Ans. 2-Cigarette smoking and determine what is needed in the way wearing Question 4—How do you usually spend your evenings? Ans. 1-I spend most of my evenings studying my lessons for the next day, and some I spend reading; but in the summer time I sometimes go to the river after supper as I work during the day or sometimes us boys play games after supper,

Ans. 2-Reading aloud to my mother or listening to her read. Question 5-Have you quarrelled and had fights with your playmates, and what caused them? Ans. 1-I have quarrelled with my playmates and I think it was as much my fault as his. These quarrels have started over some trivial matter such as one boy thinking he knew more than the other or throwing a snowball at a boy who did not like to be thrown at. But a quarrel of this kind

Ans. 2-Sometimes, thought they were trying to impose upon me or some one younger. Question 6-What book has given on the most pleasure in reading? Ans. 1-The book I liked best of any I ever read was "Ivanhoe," written by Sir Walter Scott.

EIGHT-HOUR MEASURE TO COME UP AS SPECIAL ORDER IN SEN-ATE THIS MORNING

BOWERMAN FORCES DIMICK'S HAND

Amendment Has Effect to Exempt Sawmills, and Paper Companies Would Be Only Industry to Suffer From Law.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 30.—(Staff Cor-respondence.)—The fate of Senator Dimick's eight-hour measure will be determined at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Seeing the uselessness of pushing the bill today, Mr. Dimick had it put over until Tuesday, when it is expected that Senator Bean, who has been in Eastern Oregon with a com-mittee investigating the branch asylum site, will have returned. Bean favors the bill and it is necessary for Dimick to muster every possible vote to get it through the Senate. The bill came up in regular order in the Senate this morning on third reading and final passage. Through courtesy to Mr. Dimick, final consideration was postponed, and the Clacks-mas Senator was at liberty to bring up the measure at any time, but this put a formidable weapon into his hands, as he would have been able to trot out the measure when some of its antagonists might have been absent, Senator Bowerman, who is opposed to the bill, insisted that Dimick make the measure a special order, and this was

The eight-hour measure has received one amendment, and the clause provid-ing that factories operating 22 hours or more in a day of 24 hours shall be affected, has been altered so that now only factories working 23 hours or more are liable to the provisions of the bill. This may be regarded as a concession to the lumber manufacturers, as many sawmills operate 22 hours, but few if any of them run 23 or 24 hours. The amendment means that the opposition of the sawmill people will be withdrawn, and that the bill becomes more than ever a problem for the paper mill industry alone to wrestle with-
