CLOTHIERS

PHYSICIAN SUED FOR DIVORCE.

Dr. William H. Vose and Wife Were Not Happy Together.

Jessie E. Vose, whose husband, William H. Vose, is a Portland physician, instituted suit in the Circuit Court yesterday for a decree of divorce. The ill-matched pair were wedded in Columbus, Neb., June 20, 1898, and have two children, a son and a daughter. They were living at Portland July 20, 1910, when Mrs. Vose left with her daughter for a visit with relatives in New York. While there, she says Vose wrote her telling her that so long as they were separated, she did not take his advice, and returned to Portland. She found the door of her house locked against her and went to the schoolhouse, where her son was attending school and obtained the key of their dwelling from him, and took possession with her two children. Mrs. Vose asks for the custody of the children and $40 a month permanent alimony for their support. She says her husband earns not less than $200 a month.

GILL SNOWED UNDER.

Women of Seattle Vote to Oust Him From Office.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 7.—(Spl.)—The women of Washington today voted to recall Mayor Gill. He was elected by 3300 plurality and recalled by 4000, and as the women have come into the ballot between times it is natural to give credit to the women for the victory.

Gill's downfall seems to be associated with his allegiance to Chief of Police Wapenstein, whose record has not been above reproach for some time. It was a victory for the women of Washington.

OGLESBY IN DEFENSE OF PRESENT METHODS

ROAD SUPERVISOR SAYS PLAN TO APPOINT ENGINEER IS POLITICAL GAME.

MARKS PRAIRIE, Feb. 6.—(Editor of the Enterprise.)—In your last week's issue you proceeded to roast the undersigned to a finish and in reply will say that no disrespect was intended the County Court by sending out those remonstrances against the appointing of a Road Engineer as 90 per cent of the taxpayers regard it as a craft pure and simple. This system was tried when Dave Kinnard was the road boss with about 25 or 40 deputies and the result was that it took about half the road fund to pay the "bosses." we get little enough money as it is in the Road Districts of this county without having a "big boss" to sit in his office and look wise. We have a good County Surveyor who is always ready to be sent out by the County to attend grade stakes and instruct the supervisor regarding the work to be done in grading down hills and making fills when such fills are to be made. In your article you say the supervisors are opposed to a Road Engineer as it would interfere with their handling of the County funds. Now, right here we want to say that the supervisors are not all grafters or fools. They are under bonds to perform the duties of the office to the best of their ability and we believe they are doing the very best they can to make as good roads as they have money to build them with.

This whole Road Boss business is a political game being played by a lot of politicians in Oregon City to effectually kill of certain men who will be out for office at our next election and they know that if they can make this go the men who will be out for office would last about as long as a paper shirt in a bear fight.

The "astounding" statement of Judge Dimick comes with very poor grace at this time. Why did he not make this statement before election? It shows one thing or the other—he was afraid he would lose votes or had some pets in a position that it would affect, we think, the determined effort being made by the Oregon City "Hot Air" Club, is not conducive of the best results for the improving of our public roads, especially when one of their leaders is known to be one of the greatest tax dodgers in Clackamas County. We refer your readers to letters from Mr. G. S. Yoder appearing in the Oregon Journal and Oregon City Courier as to the standing of the farmers of this County on this matter.

GEO. E. OGLESBY,
Supervisor of Road Dist. No. 23.

NO REPORT MADE ON 8-HOUR BILL

PAPER MILL MEASURE STILL IN HANDS OF COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE.

OREGON CITY DELEGATION LOBBIES

Four Hours Session Held and Over a Score of Men Interested in Paper Mill Industry Talk on Bill's Merits.

SALEM, Feb. 7.—(Staff Correspondence.)—For over four hours last night Senator Dimick's eight hour law was under discussion before the senate committee on commerce. Contrary to expectations, the committee today did not make a report. The committee has not held a further meeting and reached any conclusion as to the report that will be made.

The committee meeting last night was of a public nature. Over a score of men associated with and interested in the paper manufacturing business at Oregon City appeared before the committee either for or against the measure. Representatives of the paper mill argued that the enactment of the bill would operate disastrously to the industry, while supporters of the measure urged its enactment for the benefit of the laboring men.

Among those appearing before the committee for the paper mills were Franklin T. Griffith, B. T. McBean, William Sheahan, John Lewin, George Pusey, Sam Francis, James P. Lovett, Frank Lorenzen and E. J. Daulton.

The bill was defended by C. Schuebel, J. W. Moffatt, Judge Gordon E. Hayes, Charles Lively and Senator Dimick. It is expected, however, that the report will be made to the Senate Wednesday, but no indication has leaked out as to what report will be made by the commerce committee. It is understood that the members of the committee are equally divided, two in favor of the bill and two against it. This might indicate two reports, though it is possible that the bill will be submitted to the Senate without report.

The session last night before the commerce committee was a warm one. Superintendent E. J. Daulton, of the Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper Co., intimated that "pin-head" politicians were responsible for the introduction of the measure. This remark was hotly resented by Mr. Dimick.

COUNCIL MUST ACT NOT DELEGATE POWER

APPOINTMENTS OF THE CITY ENGINEER NOT LEGAL, REGARDLESS OF FITNESS.

At a recent meeting of Council that body gave the City Engineer the authority to appoint a street inspector for his department. Since the passing of the resolution permitting of the appointment it has been called to the attention of Council that it is its province to appoint and confirm the appointment of all city officials, and that there is no provision made for Council to delegate its powers to another.

It is pointed out that the City Engineer may hire help as he needs, but that he cannot appoint to a position in any event. Matt Patterson was appointed to the position by the Engineer, but it is now shown that the appointment is not legal.

There are no objections to the man appointed, so far as can be learned simply that Council, in an effort to have things move along smoothly and with the responsibility on the shoulders of the engineer, attempted to delegate its powers to another, which is not permissible.

The following are those who have registered at the Electric Hotel: J. E. Vick, Molalla; F. E. Johnston, E. Layman, J. E. Mumpower, P. L. Coleman, Canby; A. Johnson, San Francisco, California.

OIL SHOWING GOOD AT STONE WELL

WELL IS SUCCESSFULLY SHOT ON MONDAY, A HEAVY CHARGE OF DYNAMITE BEING USED.

OIL FORCING ITSELF TO SURFACE

Pressure Must Be Very Great to Push It Up Through 150 Feet of Sand and Debris.

There is joy in Stone over the new prospects in connection with the indications that the last few hours have brought to the surface in and around the oil well being drilled in at that place. As was told in the columns of the Enterprise the first of the week, the well was shot on Monday. An attempt was made to shoot the well fast week, and all possible precautions were taken to make the shooting a success, but for some cause there was no explosion when the current was turned on.

The well is down 850 feet. But the oil bearing sand is some 150 feet near the surface and it was here that the charge of giant powder was placed to do its work. But when there was no explosion, and the well was as yet stubborn in its yielding up of its oily substance, an expert who makes the powder was brought here and asked to say why it had not exploded.

As a result of the investigation the work was begun over again and a charge of dynamite put into the well on top of the powder. This second charge was set off Monday—and sure things loose. As a result of the second attempt the well was shot successfully, using a large charge of Hercules dynamite powder. The explosion tore loose a large amount of debris, and since that time workmen have been busy cleaning out the well but have not got as far down as the oil bearing sand. But regardless of this fact there is a good showing of oil, rich black oil coming up in and on the bucket and being mixed with the broken sand and stone that is being taken from the well while the work of cleaning is in progress.

Those who own the well are very modest in claims, made concerning what the well is doing and is likely to do. People who live in that community, and who are deeply interested in the success of the undertaking, have some very interesting stories of what the well is doing. They are certain that the well is to be a good one, and they make strong statements as to what is being brought up on the bucket and mixed in through the sand that is taken from the well in cleaning it out.

As soon as the well can be cleaned an effort will be made to pump it and then the company can say definitely just what the well shows. The prospects now indicate that there is considerable oil at the point to which the drill has penetrated and it will be but a few days until this suspicion can be confirmed or disproved.

We understand that in case there is not a sufficient flow of oil when the well is cleaned that the company will at once start the drill again and go enough lower to secure oil or to satisfy themselves that oil in a paying quantity does not exist.

The fact that the oil is forcing its way through this 150 feet of loose sand and debris, which must take great pressure, gives credence to the belief that there is considerable pressure of oil, or gas, and makes members of the company anxious to see the well cleaned of loose materials, and in case the oil flow is not of sufficient quantity to be profitable to then start the drill downward again with all speed.

M'LOUGHLIN MEASURE HAS UNANIMOUS VOTE

APPROPRIATION BILL IS PASSED IN SENATE AND MAY SOON GO TO GOVERNOR.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 7.—(Staff Correspondence.)—The McLoughlin Home bill of Senator Dimick carrying with it an appropriation of $1250 passed the Senate yesterday without a dissenting vote, duplicating the performance of two years ago, when exactly the same thing occurred in the upper branch of the state legislature.

The measure has gone into the House, where it is expected that it will receive favorable consideration and go to Governor West for his signature. Though his predecessor in office, Governor Chamberlain, vetoed the bill, it is known that Governor West is heartily in favor of the state recognizing the services of Dr. John McLoughlin to the early Oregon emigrants.

The bill provides that the appropriation shall be used to assist in the restoration of the historic McLoughlin home at Oregon City.

WANTS AMOUNT CUT.

Jones Only Wants $25,000 to Go to Astoria.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 7.—(Spl.)—When the bill carrying $50,000 appropriation for Astoria was called in the House today Representative Jones, of Clackamas, raised an objection to the amount and asked to have it cut in two. After a hard fight the Astorians won and the $50,000 was retained.

Local Members to Assist in Installing Order for Sellwood.
