PEOPLE POINTED OUT

Mrs. John Jacobson, wife of the tele graph operator at the Southern Pacific depot in this city, is very ill. Mrs. Gurley Ogle, of Canby, was in Oregon City on business Tuesday, returning to her home on the evening train.

Miss Ethel Toote, of Falls City, uncle, C. T. Tooze, of Gladstone, will representative return to her home today. Miss Lena Chamberlain, of Gladstone, is very ill at her home, and during her absence her position in the W. A. Holmes' store is being filled by Mrs. Charles Van Orden. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Kaiser, of Portland, who have been the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wishart, of this city, have returned to their home. Miss Josie Curran, who has been one of the clerks at the legislature for the Clackamas county delegation, has returned to Oregon City. Owing to the lliness in the family of the manager of the Home Telephone Company, Benjamin Hayhurst, Miss Curran was compelled to return to her duties in the office

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, of Lents, were guests Monday and Tuesday at the home of D. E. Frost. They went from there to Highland where they will visit the father and mother of Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kirk, for a few days. Mr. Kirk is well along in years, he being one of the early ploneers. Mr. Kirk lived in Michigan in his early years and moved to Missouri when a young man but only lived there one year and then came on to Oregon. He arrived in day of the big this State in 1851, crossing the Plains and undergoing the hardships that of household went with pioneering in those days.

YEARS DEPARTMENT SAYS. TWO THOUSAND MORE PEOPLE HERE

Than Enumerators Found and Counted -Prayers of Citizens Refused

By the Department at Washington.

The United States Census Bureau has refused to give Oregon City a recount, on the grounds that the census for Oregon and the country has been reported to Congress as a basis for a new congressional apportionment. The bureau gave Oregon City 4287 people, a gain of about 600 in 10 years and the people of this city, through the Commercial Club, filed a strenuous protest with Congressman Hawley and endeavored to obtain a recount, but without success. It is estimated that he actual population of this city is in excess of 6000, based upon the school census taken last November, and the enumeration of the city taken under the direction of the city council about one year ago, when more than 5000 were reported.

It is very probable that a recount of the city will be taken through the agency of the publicity department of the Commercial Club. The matter was a feature of Tuesday's meeting of the committee and all of the members present expressed dissatisfaction at the results obtained by the government, and laid plans for a recount. There is a prospect of this being done Oregon, who has been spending the in connection with a firm of directory past ten weeks at the home of her publishers, who are contemplating the publishers, who are contemplating the publication of a directory for Clackamas county, including Oregon City, in one volume. The publicity commit-tee's tentative plan is to have some reliable persons take the census of the city and then turn the information over to the direcory publishers for a consideration. This scheme will relieve the publishers of the directory from the labor of securing a list of the people residing in Oregon City and will insure their accuracy. Secretary Lazelle was authorized to take up the matter through the proper channels.

> Woman's Club Meets Thursday The Woman's Club of Oregon City will hold its bi-weekly meeting Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the Commercial Club at 2 o'clock. Following the business session of the club, an interesting programme will be carried out under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Shewman.

If improperty cooked beef kidneys are a coarse dish, but when carefully prepared they make an excellent stew. Memove all superfluous fat, trim them and cut them into chunks. Let them soak in cold salt. ed water for about an hour. Rinse them very thoroughly and then set them over the dre in fresh cold water. When they come almost to the boiling point and begin to show scum on the surface pour off the water and add fresh cold water. A better way, if one has time, is to remove the kidneys, put them in a new pot or lay them aside a moment until the pot they were cooked in has been thoroughly washed out. Then put them back. In order to get the strong flavor out of this ment it is necessary to remove as much scum and blood from it as possible. Let them reheat in water a sec ond time. Then pour off this second water and treat as before. It may be necessary to do it a third and a fourth time also. When the stage is reached in which the water is quite clear and free from scom out up one or two onions-a good sized one for every kid. ney-one or two small carrots and one or two potatoes. Put them into the water around the meat and cook slow ly for about two hours or until a gravy is formed. Some cooks add a little lemon juice or part of the yellow peel of a lemon to the stew. The carrots and onions may be left out and the kidneys stewed by themselves, the gravy being flavored only with a tiny glass of wine and lemon juice.

Potato Cake.

Two cupfuls of sugar, two cupfuls of flour, one cupful of butter, one large cupful of English walnuts, one cupful of potatoes, mashed and sea soned, ready to serve; one and one half cupfuls of chocolate, grated; onehalf cupful of milk, five eggs, using all the yolks and whites of three keeping two whites for boiled frosting: two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one each of cloves, cinnamon, allspice and nutmeg, one each of lemon and vanilla. Bake either in loaf or layers. Cream butter and sugar. Add mlik, then yolks of eggs, beaten high: then potatoes, soft spless, chocolate and baking powder in flour, and add to eggs and butter. Then add beaten whites and lastly the nuts. Will keep fresh for a week or ten days.

Split Pea Soup.

For split pen soup, so good in this cold weather, soak a quart of split pear overnight. In the morning put them on the stove in pleaty of fresh cold water, about four times as much water as peas. Add a large piece of salt pork, half a good sized carrot, a good sized leek, two potatoes of medium size, one root of parsiey, one teaspoon ful of thyme, one large turnip, a bunch of celery tips, a large slice of bread and salt and pepper to taste Let the soup bolf all day, adding fresh water as it boils down. Strain before serving.

attle Hom Apples and cranberries are very good cooked together, about half and half. Let a quart of the mixture cook with about a cupful of water or just enough to prevent burning. At the end of twenty minutes add two cup fuls of granulated sugar and let the mixture cook for about ten minutes more. Turn into molds and serve contract. when cold. The apples seem to mel low the berries, and the sauce will be preferred to one entirely of berries by those who do not like the sharpness of the latter when cooked alone. -

TRAIT AND TELLS HOW HELP-FUL IT PROVES TO BE.

The Brotkerhood of the Presbyterian church met at a banquet in the church parlors Tuesday evening with three score members and friends pres ent to enjoy the festivities of the evening. Mayor Brownell was the speaker of the evening and the subject chosen was "Lincoln." President looze presided.

The first business of the evening was a vote of thanks to Rev. Lands borough, in commemoration of the sixth aniversary of his pastorate. To this Mr. Landsborough responded in well chosen remarks. After these preliminaries Mr. Brownell was introduced and proceeded to talk entertainingly for an hour.

Mr. Brownell had much to say conerning the character of Abraham Lincoln. Character seemed to be the up permost thought in the address as it was in the life of the man of whom he spoke. He told of his early youth, and how his manhood pushed its way to the surface on all occasions; he told of his early consecration to right.

to truth, to the Great Father and his Son. He told of how the death of the young lad's mother left a great void in his heart that never was filled and that only his faith in the Father could in any measure satisfy. Mr. Brownell contrasted in a degree the lives of other great men with that of Lincoln. And to the speaker each one lacked something of that enobling of soul with which the Great Common re had been endowed. He told of the political controversy between the renowued Douglass and the Rail Splitter from no one could say where; of the controversy as to the country becoming all slave or all free; of the great debt which we as a nation owed to the man in bondage and of how the Creator required from the nation the pound of flesh. Then there were stories that put Lincoln in the light of the greatest of humorists-seeing mirth when mirth was a necessary tonic for the soul, a necessary inspiration to lure him on to the great task he had set himself to do and from which he must have often shrank.

The speaker had a great task before him to bring to mind anything new when so much has been written and spread broadcast. But well he performed his task, and the stories he told-leastwise the manner in which he told them-led to great interest among his hearers.

Other speakers of the evening were Rev. Landshorough, Prof. Bowland, Prof. Freel, Mr. Harison, Mr. Schuebel and the president, Prof. Tooze. Mr. and Mrs. DeLarzes furnished music for the evening. The second Tuesday in March was chosen for the next meeeting night of the Brotherhood. The ladies of the church provided a bountiful repast.

CLACKAMAS.

January 24th was the occasion of a pleasant celebration at the home of Mrs. Fred Paterson, in honor of the 80th birthday of "Grandma" Johnston. Children, grandchildren, and one great grandchild, to the number of 23 surprised the aged relative with their presence and good cheer. Beside many pretty and useful presents, they brought well-filled baskets. At noon all sat down to a bountiful dinner. In the afternoon Pastor Jones came with his camera and secured some very fine pictures of the group, in large size and for photo cards. Two of Mrs. Johnston's daughters, with their families, were not able to be present but sent loving remembrances. Several others in town shared the honor with Grandma Johnston of having a birthday on the same day. May they each live to as happy and peace ful "sunset of life" as their aged friend enjoys. The fortnightly social of the Christian Endeavor Society was held on the evening of February 1st at the home of Miss Ethel Mather. This so-

SPEAKERS FROM ABROAD PRE-SENTED A PROGRAM OF MORE THAN ORDINARY INTEREST.

Last night was held one of the largest banquets of the Congregational Brotherhood. . There were over 100 present, and all throughout the evening the spirit of brotherhood reigned supreme. The rule of feeding the men first and uplifting them afterwards was adhered to, and in nowise did the ladles of the church fail in the repast.

Mr. Wallace A. Strubel, of Portland, started things with his truly wonderful ventriloqual powers, and interspersed his addresses in this manner to the thorough enjoyment of everyone present.

Rev. H. B. Crocker, of Atkinson Menorial church, told the men of his work along brotherhod lines, and during his talk stated that never before had he had the pleasure of addressing so large an audience, which was organized in the name and under the auspices of the Atkinson Memorial church. Mr. Crocker is planning a similar organization for Portland, and says, "I will, to a small extent, plan it after the Congregational Brother-hood of Oregon City." Next in order came Mr. Wallace R. Strubles, president of the Albany Com-mercial Club, who gave, perhaps, the strongest address of the evening. In glowing and unexaggerated terms he tescribed the wonderful growth of this Great Northwest. He predicted the future of Portland-the metropolis of the world, at which the center of things shall be, and also dwelt upon the individual work of each man. "Oregon City," said Mr. Strubles, "will no doubt, in the near future, have a population of over 100,000, and we ould now plan accordingly." Interesting and entertaining re-marks were made by Rev. Mr. Robin-son, rector of the local Episcopal church, Mr. Loyal McCarthy, of Portland, and Rev. Jones, of Clackamas. Mr. McCarthy, who is a Portland attorney, dwelt extensively upon good citizenship, striking the keynote in his hearers' attention upon mentioning the taxing of inheritance and income. Rev. Proctor closed the evening's entertainment with a few well chosen remarks, and another one of the highly educational and enjoyable Congre gational banquets passed into history. Music was furnished by the Patterson brothers, of Gladstone.

Next Sunday evening will be Broth-erhood night in the church, and Rev. Proctor will deliver a brotherhood sermon on "Berving God by Proxy." Men who appreciate good things are arged to make an effort to attend.
