CITY OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER.

The town has been rather quiet of late and the present police intend to keep it so. Any attempt on the part of "rising young bloods" to make it otherwise is not likely to prove profitable.

Have you joined any one of the Brotherhoods? Perhaps you may find the niche in which you fit in one of these organizations; and if you do you don't know how much good you may do.

It is the purpose of the Mayor to put a stop to gambling if he can get his men around over the ground often enough to catch those who are doing the work. It is not believed much gambling is being done, but even if there is, the police can only be in one place at a time, per man.

The Saturday meetings of the members of the Oregon City Fruit and Produce Union, with the discussions and addresses, promise much. It is a question of the people of Clackamas county getting interested—they have the soil and the climate. A few months of study and research and Clackamas county citizens will be in line for anything good in fruit growing.

The High School Assembly is certainly bearing fruit—and the fruit is certainly good. The young men in attendance are taking on new ideas concerning life; the young ladies are learning more and more concerning the things that are to make them wise and good—when they are given the ballot. And these Assemblies cannot become too popular without giving the women the ballot.

There was another Brotherhood meeting last night—making the fourth Brotherhood that is doing business in the Oregon City churches. All of which has much promise of good for this city. If these Brotherhoods continue to grow in numbers and influence it won't be long until the men composing them will be strong enough numerically to put any reform that interests them through in shape—and every legitimate reform is likely to interest them.

It is coming to a pretty pass when police officers must fight their way to victory with young men of the town, and young men who as a general thing are pretty fair citizens. If it is a case of petty spite at the officers in question then is the matter even more deplorable. Certain it is that the next time it is attempted to discredit the police, or to injure one or more if that was the plan, those who are convicted in the matter are not likely to get off with so light a sentence.

While on one hand we are given the news telling of the rottenness that is being found in Cannon's home city and county, on the other we are told of the success of other men who are striving for better conditions in government and preparations for government. We seem to be gaining ground; where we lose it is material while where we win it is moral victory. If our victories could all be moral and our losses material it would not be long until these material losses would cease of their own cure.

Play "One Thousand." Mr. and Mrs. William Schwartz, of the West Side, entertained a few of their friends at "One Thousand," a new card game, Thursday evening. The first prize was won by William Schwartz and Mrs. P. G. Winkel, while the consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Schwartz and P. G. Winkel. Refreshments were served to about 12 guests.

Will Soon Start the Drill. Rivers & McGregor went to Portland yesterday where they purchased materials for their drilling outfit. They succeeded in getting what they wished and the drill is now being constructed at the Oregon City Machine Shops, and will soon be ready to complete the task of drilling the wells they have contracted for on the West Side.

BEVERIDGE FOR RECIPROCITY.

Insurgent Senator Welcomes Agreement a First Step. WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The first run in the Congressional battle over Canadian reciprocity was fired in the Senate yesterday. Beveridge, of Indiana, an insurgent, lined up on the side of the Administration. He did not make a pretense of representing others of the progressive Republican camp. Beveridge welcomed the compact as the first concrete evidence of the establishment of such relations with Canada as he thought the United States should maintain with that country. He continued: "If some think that the agreement is not all it should be because of the treatment of a few articles, the answer is that even if this objection is sound as to those few details, yet it is negligible when compared with the importance of getting this great National policy established."

"If the agreement is enacted into law and proves beneficial to the Nation as a whole, it is certain to be extended as time goes on and the two peoples experience its good effect. If, on the other hand, it should prove harmful to the Nation as a whole, it could be repealed quickly." In conclusion, Beveridge said: "We do not need to protect our people from the Canadian people. What we need is to make it easier for Canada to buy freely from us the things she needs that we produce. What we need is to make it easy for our people to buy from Canada those things which our people need instead of making it hard for them to do so."

BOURNE STILL PROTESTS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(Spl.)—The fate of Malcolm, nominated for Collector of Customs for Oregon, held up at the instance of Senator Bourne, is to be settled next Thursday. The Senate has decided to permit of no delay beyond that date. It is said Bourne has never filed a written protest against the confirmation.

Monument For Perry of 1812 Fame to Be Erected at Put-in-Bay

Tentative plans for the building of a monument in commemoration of Commander O. H. Perry's deeds at Put-in-Bay, O., and for a centennial celebration of the event are well under way. Congress has appropriated $200,000 for the building of the monument, and it is believed that ten states will take part in the celebration to be held in 1913. The monument will be an immense shaft of granite, with provision in the base for assembly halls and government departments. At the top will be located a lighthouse and a wireless station. It is proposed to ask the government to install a fish hatchery as well as other bureaus in the base of the monument. Construction work on the monument probably will not be begun until after the centennial celebrations have been held. Congressman Madden of Illinois says the support of Congress in the move for a celebration fitting to the great lake victory could be assured.

BIG TABLE CARROT.

Dr. Beard Raises It at Maple Lane the Past Season. Dr. T. E. Beard and wife of Maple Lane, were in Oregon City on business yesterday. Dr. Beard brought in with him a table carrot of the Model variety, which measured 18 inches in circumference of the Oregon City Commercial Club. Dr. Beard and wife have recently returned from a trip through the Eastern and Southern States, and says that during their travels they had never seen a carrot as large as the one brought into this city Friday. Nothing like it has ever been brought to the Oregon City markets, and it is attracting the attention of visitors to the Commercial Club rooms.

Falls and Cuts Face.

Charles Raines, of Bolton, was about town Thursday night in an intoxicated condition. He agreed to go home and was permitted to start but came back. The next thing the police knew Raines was in the street with a bad cut on his head, received from a fall to the cement sidewalk. This sobered him up somewhat and he was permitted to again start for home.

Let Off From Gambling Charge.

Chas. Nash, whose place was raided Thursday at midnight and who was told to appear in Recorder's court and settle that afternoon, was up early in an effort to settle without getting in court. He pleaded so hard Officer Cooke did not press the case. While the players were caught at the table, with money and chips in sight, the amount was so small and the chances of conviction not being all they might Nash was let off on promise of being good.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR PORTLAND.

School Children to Have Places Fixed Up For Play. Portland is going to have a model system of playgrounds and the services of an expert have been secured from the Playground Association of America. He will arrive in March and will look over the present playgrounds and outline plans for future developments. While here, he will deliver addresses on playground work in other cities.

Large orders have been placed for new apparatus that will be installed in time for use during the coming summer. Portions of the city not already supplied with recreation spots will be supplied so that the children of every part of Portland will have wholesome out-of-door amusement facilities.

SALOON MEN SAY NO.

Burns, Jr., Vaughn, et al., Could Not Be Drunk. The saloon men are often made the butt of a joke and this was the case at the trial of the young men charged with disturbance Thursday night. Several saloon men were called up in case evidence was needed to show the young men were not drunk. One Councilman who knew of the steps taken said: "Of course these saloon men must swear that the young men were not drunk, they can't do otherwise, for if the young men were drunk what business had they selling more drink? It makes me laugh to think that any one thinks that any saloonist would be foolish enough to make such admission, considering what is at stake."

Hustling for New Members.

A. R. Wells, deputy supreme commander of the Knights of Macabees, arrived in Oregon City yesterday morning and spent the day working in the interest of the order. He will visit this city to secure members for the order until April 15. Mr. Wells has been a member of the Macabees for the past four years, and was appointed to the office he is now filling about four months ago. The lodge of this city now numbers about 90 members, and many more will be taken in no doubt before the deputy supreme commander leaves.

Pleads Guilty and Pays Fine.

Bert Goodfortune, bartender in Case's saloon, was before Recorder Stipp Friday on the charge of selling liquor to an intoxicated person. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25, which he paid and was given his liberty.

TWO DIVORCES WANTED.

Two Women Who Picked Blanks in Lottery of Life. Zella McConkey has filed a suit for divorce against William McConkey. They were married June 17, 1891, and have three children. Mrs. McConkey says her husband has refused to work or support his family, but would loaf around and quarrel with her. He is also charged with cursing and beating her and grabbed her by the throat and choked her, leaving scars.

Zella Kennedy, who was married to Fred R. Kennedy at Sumpter, Or., April 18, 1906, has filed a suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion and non-support. They have one daughter, Lodema, who was born February 29,

If You Want to Fly Be Certain You Have Absolute Confidence In Yourself. By CLIFFORD B. HARMON, Aviator.

THERE are people who believe that it is possible to learn the knack of flying as easily as you can cultivate a bad habit. Assuming you want to indulge in aeroplane sport, assure yourself of one cardinal quality. Be absolutely certain that you have perfect confidence in your ability to fly an aeroplane. By confidence I do not mean courage. Many men possess the courage to make a lone charge against a fortified camp, who are absolutely reckless of death. They have more courage than many men who fly. But if you were to put them on an aeroplane and ask them to learn to fly it they would probably be in trouble. They lack confidence. Such men have no business in the aeroplane driver's seat. Fundamentally I think aviators are born, like poets. But confidence does not finish the job. There is much to learn. And it is an arduous school. The best aviators are men who are abstemious in all things. They need to conserve their physical faculties as well as to have good mentalities. A stupid man does not make a good flier. There is such a thing as being air wise. Every air man knows it. But he can hardly explain it. It has to do with a comprehension of the subtleties of the aerial ocean. As you become initiated in the intricacies of flight you see other difficulties unfolded before you. No aviator living has sounded the depths of his experience. All are constantly learning on each flight they make. The air is a perpetual study. The results produced by huge air swells over trees, mountains, houses and other obstacles are without end. Dimly we know what to expect. But we have not been able to analyze the details.
