determined to put the President's reciprocity plans on the shelf, and without so much as an effort to satisfy the people or to try to find out what the people think of the matter.

It is true, as the dispatches of the past few days seem to indicate, that the interests of the people are not being served by the President's policy.

But if the President and the people are thwarted in an effort to get that which is right, the people are well understood that the people are certain to reform their ranks and make a second charge that is not likely to be as moderate as when the first charge was made.

But those things will in no wise influence the people towards an overlooking of the grave crime with which Lorimer is charged.

Debate at Clermont Tonight. The debate at Clermont this evening will be on the benefits to accrue from a membership in the new fruit and produce union.

On the other hand Congress seems determined to put the President's reciprocity plans on the shelf, and without so much as an effort to satisfy the people or to try to find out what the people think of the matter.

Queen Victoria of Spain Settles Domestic Differences With King

A charming story is current in Madrid which proves that the gentle art of 'living like a gentleman' did not die with King Edward of England. It has been known for some time that there have been some very unpleasant hours at the royal palace.

danat, H. Kuppenbender and Fred Wourms. On the negative will be found B. Kuppenbender, John Gaffney and Dr. T. Beard. O. E. Freytag promises to be present and make a talk on grading and packing.
