HISTORY OF OREGON

Mrs. Eva Emery Dye Writes Chapter Descriptive of Oregon City. A Cleveland, Ohio, firm is preparing for publication a history of Oregon This firm has issued similar histories for a score of the Eastern States and have now in press several from the Western States. Mrs. Dye was asked to prepare a chapter on Oregon City which she has done.

The proofs have been submitted to her for correction and she is very en-thusiastic as to what the book is to contain. In preparing the data for the article in question Mrs. Dye became more than usually interested in the work at hand and she says there was much more of interest to write concerning our picturesque little city than one would think at casual glance. The book will soon be on sale in Portland and this city.

WHAT REDUCED FARE WILL DO FOR US HERE

EXPRESSIONS AS TO HOW THE O. W. P. MAY AID THE CITY AND WIN FRIENDS.

The reduced fare controversy on the O. W. P. between this city and Portland has brought out many expressions as to how the railway peo ple may win popularity among the citizens of this city. But chief among the expressions was this: "The company can do nothing that will win for more popularity than to double track its line to Portland and put on an express train run between the two

"If the company would do that," stops, at Milwaukie and Gladstone, would be made necessary, and such a run would please present residents and bring many people from Portland.

"With such a service the rich Portland merchants would many of them like to come here to live. That would mean many nice homes, giving the tax duplicate a big boost and make it possible to continue street improve-ments till we had one of the prettiest cities in this Northwest country. that would mean a bigger and better city, which all are striving for."

We know of no other spot in the State where it is more picturesque spot more picturesque where it is possible to build a city. And with a service such as asked for above it is certain many people from Portland would be pleased to come here to live.

One of the things that has pulled the rear of the flag, which made a this city down in the past has been the moving away of people who had made a start that made it possible to stay and enjoy life. This will all change when once the drift turns towards this city, which it will sure do once the railway rate and service are as good as they should be. And it is certain the railway people will grant the service when shown that it is to be profitable, which it will be once people begin to come here to build handsome homes.

Oregon City has the making of a very pretty place, and the railway people can do more to hasten its com--which will prove profitable to -than any other agency in the city. Union of effort of all interests is what Oregon City needs at this time, and one or two organization that are working for the city's good are accomplishing much towards that end.

HEARING HAD IN THE CASE OF M E. DUNN VS. PORTLAND RAIL-WAY, LIGHT & POWER CO.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR CONTENTION

Belief of Those Present That Prosecu tion Made a Favorable Impression With the Board.

Citizens of Oregon City, with very ew exceptions, want a lower rate of fare between Oregon City and Port land. And to that end a movement was set on foot to secure it a short time ago that culminated in a hearing before the Railway Commissioners of Oregon at the Court House in this city Wednesday morning. Messrs. Campbell, Miller and Aitchison form the board and they were all present when the case was called Wednesday

The contention has been that other places in this part of the State are enjoying better fare facilities than Oregon City, and that because of that this city is being discriminated against. The law does not provide a way for discriminating and when this is shown it is up to the rallway to reduce the fare in conformity with the best rate given, contributing conditions to be taken into account.

The case is known as the M. E. Dunn vs. Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. Oregon City railway fare reduction case, and the suit was begun by Mayor Brownell several months ago, and the plea set up was for a reduction of fare between this city and Portland.

A full hearing was had in the case with the whole board sitting in evisaid the citizen quoted, "it would be dence. Mr. Brownell was assisted by possible for the express run to make G. B. Dimick, Livy Stipp and others, the distance in 30 minutes. Only two while Franklin T. Griffith and Mr. Hunt looked after the interests of the railway people.

There were numerous witnesses present, and they were examined by Brownell. prought out showed that the railway company charged a less rate for number of miles traveled around Portland on the Springwater division of its fine than the charge they make for the same distance between Oregon City and Portland. This, Mr. Brownell claimed, constituted a discrimination against Oregon City and her people as set forth in the law against discrimination. party could pay cash fare to Portland and then could not get a transfer, but by paying a cash fare to the Golf Links and then a nickle, making 25 cents, he could get a transfer taking him all over Portland, even to St. Johns, which was also discrimination. Mr. Hunt, on cross examination, ad-question, and he also admitted that this was discrimination against Oregon City people. There were many people from out of the city present to hear the evidence presented to the board, and quite a number were here from Milwaukie, the people there being inter-mitted this in answer to Mr. Brown-ested from the fact that they themselves have a rate case pending. Mayor Brownell feels confident the board will order a reduction, but it is not likely that the cut will be as deep as 15 cents—thinks more likely it will be 20 cents and 35 cents for the round trip. The general sentiment was that the board had familiarized itself with conditions before coming to the city and that the evidence contained little that was new to its members. The feeling Continued on page two.
