being perfected for a Bobby Burns day at the Chautauque this summer. There are many admire's of the Scotch poet in Clacka mas and Multnomah countles, and not a few Scotchmen among them. While any lover of Burns and his writings will be eligible for that occasion, still there will be an effort put forth to have several down-right Scotchmen in "lists," all primed for the occasion with the best of Scotch wit and Scotch philosophy. If you know of any feature worthy the cause don't be backward in telling the Chautauqua

Fancy Work For Children.

The children often come to you and ask for something to do, something to make, for a child's ideas are always creative. Here is some rainy day work for busy fingers:

A wall match holder can be made on foundation of cardboard cut out in a diamond, the upper portion of which is much larger than the lower. Fold the two lower ends upward so as to form a pocket and cover the whole with silk or any bright colored fabric. Then bind with heavy cord and attach a ring to hang it up by.

A hanging pincushion is also easily made. Cut out two pieces about five or six inches square from bristol board and cover one with figured material and one with plain. Sew them together and then bend the square thus formed into a cornucopia shape, with the plain side as the lining. Bind with cord and leave a loop to hang by. Fill with absorbent cotton or with bran all the way to the top and sew slik tightly over it. Cotton is better, as bran is rather heavy

A button penwiper may be made by cutting a circle of bright colored silk. buttonholed to cardboard or cartridge paper, and then several other circles of chamois a bit smaller. Fasten all together with a large ornamental but ton. Even the smallest child can make

A simple footstool should be made of a strong wooden box with the lid nafled firmly down. Screw on small casters and pad the top of the box Cover with coarse canvas. Now cut out a piece of brocade in the shape of a cross and large enough to cover the tops and sides of the box after padding. Nail this down and finish off the edges by furniture gimp held down by tiny brass tacks. This is something for the boys to make.

Hoops For Children.

The opinion is expressed by men wh have made a study of exercises for health that it is a pity the skipping rope and hoop have gone out of fash ion for children.

It is suggested they are more excel lent medions for the physical development than bicycles and roller skates The fact that small children are al lowed to have bieveles and consequently make no use of nature's means of progression is offered as an objection to them

The skipping rope and boop require should be encouraged to do this as much as possible, and always with a springy step. They need to use their feet and legs, and exercise that brings these into play is beneficial.

In the Nursery.

Bables about a year old take a grea delight in throwing their toys on the ground, often for the pleasure of seeing the mother pick them up again or to hear the noise made in falling. Tie the toys with soft strings to the child's chair and they will be easily replaced without any effort on the mother's or
