CEMETERY COMMITTEE TO VISIT AND DETERMINE ON IMPROVEMENTS MADE NECESSARY.

The question of the poorly conditioned fences about the new addition to Mountain View cemetery was brought up in Council Wednesday night. In consequence it was deemed wise, after some consideration, to ask the cemetery committee to go to the cemetery and inspect the fences and see what is needed in the matter.

The information was volunteered that certain people are hauling stone away from the cemetery grounds—certain portions of it being very much incumbered—and this matter is to be investigated among other things.

It Is Not Unethical to Defend the Guilty.

By GEORGE GORDON BATTLE, Prominent New York Lawyer.

IT IS NOT UNETHICAL FOR A LAWYER TO DEFEND A CLIENT WHOM HE KNOWS TO BE GUILTY. ON THE CONTRARY, THE GREATEST HARM WOULD COME TO OUR LEGAL INSTITUTIONS IF A LAWYER FAILED TO PUT FORTH HIS BEST EFFORTS IN DOING SO, PROVIDED HE NEVER WENT BEYOND HONEST AND FAIR MEANS.

Instead of there being anything discreditable in undertaking the defense of a guilty man it is a HIGH PUBLIC DUTY that such a man should be defended. The general impression to the contrary rests on a misconception of our system of criminal jurisprudence.

The English theory, which we have adopted, is that the truth is more likely to be brought to light by such a controversy than by a mere investigation.

To express it more in detail, it is our custom and tradition, crystallized into law, that in a criminal case the state, represented by the district attorney, shall advance its theory of the GUILT OF THE DEFENDANT, shall present all evidence tending to prove that contention to the jury and shall argue thereon with all proper comments to the end that the jury may be convinced of the defendant's guilt.

It is the duty of the counsel for the defendant to submit to the jury all the evidence in his power tending to show his client's INNOCENCE and to argue and comment thereon to convince the jury THAT THE CHARGE AGAINST HIS CLIENT IS UNTRUE OR NOT PROVED. And it is by this controversy and contention that we believe the truth will best be elicited.

THE OBJECT OF EVERY TRIAL OF EVERY DEFENDANT IS TO OBTAIN THE TRUTH, AND UNDER OUR THEORY OF LAW THAT TRUTH CAN BE OBTAINED BEST IN THE STRUGGLE OF A LITIGATED TRIAL. IN THIS LITIGATION THE DEFENDANT MUST HAVE COUNSEL, AND COUNSEL, THEREFORE, IS BOUND TO REPRESENT HIS CLIENT.

SMITH WINS MATCH FROM BID ROBERTS

CANEMAH LAD TOO FAST AND SHOWS GREATER POWERS OF ENDURANCE.

The wrestling match at Milwaukie Wednesday evening between Auk Smith, of Canemah, and Bid Roberts, of Milwaukie, resulted in a victory for Smith. There were two rounds, Smith winning both. The first lasted 20 minutes when Smith threw his opponent with the arm bar hold. The second fall was won in two minutes, Smith using the head scissors and arm bar hold. The boys were evenly matched as to weight but Smith proved too fast and demonstrated greater endurance, they weighed in at 140 pounds. Roberts has been winning in a local way around his home town.

George and Amos Smith, younger brothers of Auk, went on for two preliminary falls, both of which were won by George—time two and 15 minutes.

PAYS $10 FINE.

Complaint Comes From the Home; Charge Drunk and Disorderly.

John Larvas was taken into custody at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and locked in the city prison. A telephone message was received by Officer Shaw from his home, the complaint being that he was drinking and very ugly and threatening.

Officer Shaw went to the home and found Larvas under the influence of alcohol and so he took him in charge and Wednesday morning put a charge against him of drunk and disorderly. Recorder Stipp heard the case Wednesday afternoon and assessed a fine when Larvas pleaded guilty of $10 and costs. The accused paid and was released.

CHURCH'S RIGHT TO LAND.

C. M. Dye Argues That Congregational Church Owns Half of Street.

At last night's meeting of Council C. M. Dye again brought up the matter of the improvement of Taylor street and the right of the city to take for street purposes the property of the Congregational church. At the outset Mr. Dye said that the recommendations of the City Attorney in the matter indicated that he could not be in a judicial frame of mind and that in consequence the Council made a mistake in heeding his recommendations.

Mr. Dye said there was no question as to the church's title in the land, and he was willing to argue the question to Council if that body would set a date to hear him, thus saving the expense of an appeal to the courts. City Attorney was ready to go to court but not to argue outside.

New Aero Iceboat Travels at Speed of Seventy Miles an Hour

WHEN Americans start to go any place they usually want to go in a hurry. Speed is one of the great considerations in all methods of travel. This element is one of the characteristics of the aero iceboat invented by Charles J. Swain of Philadelphia. He has his boat named Doodang, at Saranac lake, New York, and he has been traveling over the frozen surface of that body of water at fifty, sixty and even seventy miles an hour. The Doodang is merely an automobile mounted on skids instead of on wheels, and it is driven through the air by a propeller very much like those used on aeroplanes. The propeller is attached to a shaft which passes over the head of the chauffeur of the iceboat. The engine that drives the craft has six cylinders and can develop sixty or seventy-five horsepower. When going at full speed Mr. Swain's craft will leap over holes in the ice and that rough places do not bother him materially. The Doodang is steered by means of a wheel which controls the front runners as the wheel of an auto controls the front wheels.

and other accessories necessary for training and development work. The young men in the local school are taking great interest in athletics this season.
