GRANGE WILL JOIN IN INSTITUTE SATURDAY

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT GARY CAN THUS PARTICIPATE IN AND SPEAK TO BOTH.

County School Superintendent T. J. Gary will conduct a local institute at Sandy Saturday. The institute will be for the benefit of the teachers and advanced pupils in that part of the county who cannot many of them get to the institutes that are held a considerable distance from their homes.

Sandy Grange has been trying for some time to have Mr. Gary visit the Grange and make an address to the Grange and its friends. In this case Mr. Gary asked the Grange officers if it would not like to hold an open meeting of the Grange and co-operate with the institute people in having a union meeting that should do for both and that would be broad enough in its scope so that both teachers and Grangers, with their friends, might have an enjoyable occasion.

The Grange accepted the suggestion and put it into effect and the meeting Saturday is to be one that will carry much good to all who have interest sufficient to lead them to attend. An effort will be made to get a large attendance.

WILL REBUILD MARKET.

North Pole Fish Market to Have New Quarters.

The North Pole Fish Market, at the foot of Fifth street, which was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, is to be rebuilt. Work will commence on the improvement Monday. F. S. Baker of Gladstone is the owner of the property and as the tenants, Brown & Son, wish to occupy their old quarters and are willing to make a lease, the market will be rebuilt.

As the fishing season will soon be here the work of rebuilding will be hastened as much as possible.

Fox and Stipp Investigate.

Dr. Thos. J. Fox, the Coroner, and Livy Stipp, the Assistant District Attorney, went to Estacada Saturday to make an investigation in connection with the mill horror that occurred there earlier in the day.

By Congressman JAMES A. TAWNEY, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House.

Great Armaments Are a Continual Menace to Peace.

First, they are a continual TEMPTATION TO GO TO WAR; second, they are WHOLLY UNNECESSARY. The world's annual commerce is twenty-eight billion dollars. All civilized nations are therefore interested in preventing any two nations from disturbing the world's peace.

A strong and sane public opinion, the real executive power of all governments, is AGAINST WAR. Armaments cannot be relied upon to maintain international peace because their COST IS RAPIDLY BECOMING PROHIBITIVE.

When stated in dollars and cents we find that during the past ten years, including the current fiscal year, this nation has expended in preparation for war the staggering total of $2,192,038,585.

The bonded debt at the close of the civil war was $2,674,515,056. Our expenditure for war preparations during the past ten years was ONLY $482,779,271 LESS THAN THE ENTIRE BONDED DEBT INCURRED BY OUR GOVERNMENT IN CARRYING ON THE FOUR YEARS' WAR TO PRESERVE THE UNION.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT ALL-DAY GRANGE MEET

MRS. MARY HOWARD STATE SECRETARY OF GRANGE, PRES- ENT AND MAKES ADDRESS.

The Maple Lane Grange met at the Grange hall on Saturday afternoon, and delegates to the county convention to be held at the court house on Tuesday afternoon were chosen. These delegates are Mrs. John Lueling, Lawrence Mautz and William Beard. On Tuesday the delegates to the State convention will be chosen, the State convention to convene at Corvallis on May 2.

There was a small attendance at the meeting held Saturday owing to the Grand Army meeting in this city, and many of the members are either members of the G. A. R. or W. R. C. One of the features of Saturday's meeting was the hot dinner served by the women of the Grange.

Mrs. Mary Howard, of Mulino, State secretary of the Grange, was present, and gave an excellent address.

SAVES FARMERS DOLLARS.

Agricultural College Teaches How to Save Money By Right Methods.

CORVALLIS, Or., March 4.—An actual saving of over $1,000 in horse feed resulted from the information gained by a prominent business man and farmer of Salem, Or., in the winter short course at the Oregon Agricultural College. Last year he came himself to the course, and this year, being unable to attend, he sent his ranch foreman. The knowledge gained in the course on feeding of horses alone netted him a saving of over $1,000 in his feed bill, and his animals are in finer condition than ever before, he says.

Over $5,000 would have been saved by S. W. Jamieson, of Dell, Or., he estimates, if he had taken the short course two years ago. Inexperience and lack of training when he came West two years ago to develop his holdings of 4,000 acres of fruit lands, caused Mr. Jamieson to make the usual mistakes of the beginner. Upon attending the course at the college this winter he discovered his mistakes and made a careful computation of his consequent losses, which amounted to over $5,000.

These are but two of a large number of similar cases which have come to the attention of Dean Arthur B. Cordley of the college. It is a special aim of the college not only to equip young men to go out after graduation and develop the new lands to their utmost capacity, but to help the farmers, stockmen and orchardmen of the State who are already caring for lands of their own or in charge of large estates, to get the greatest possible value out of the land, and to help them to solve the problems that arise, and to get rid of the pests which injure crops.

TEACHES BEE RAISING.

First Course in Beekeeping Offered at Oregon Agricultural College Now.

CORVALLIS, Or., March 4.—A great buzzing in the hives of the Oregon Agricultural College apiary announces the fact that the bees are awakening for their spring work. This is the first year that there has been a course in beekeeping at the college, and already there are eight young men from various parts of the State studying the various problems of bee culture, with these hives of Italian bees as a basis of their study, under H. F. Wilson of the department of zoology and entomology. The course teaches practical apicultural methods, and special attention is given to the study of bee diseases. The students will be taught not only how to keep bees for profit, but also the relation of beekeeping to the fertilization of the trees in fruit orchards.

The college plans to make this a strong course, with a special week of practical instruction for farmers and orchardmen in the short course next winter. The course is open not only to young men, but also to the young women in the domestic science department, and it is expected that, since women have elsewhere proven eminently successful in a commercial way in beekeeping, there will be a class of young women registered for the apinary work next year.

some friend who has, and if there is any depth to his nature—if his soul ever gets out of the stifled atmosphere of the city—if his blood runs red and he can feel the charm of Nature and wild things—ask him, and he will tell you "The Wolf" is one of the most beautifully inspired creations that he has ever seen; that it has the most intensely dramatic characters and situations, and that when it was all over, and that last wild cry sounded out on the banks of the river at night, with the wolves howling in the forest, and a dead man lying face to the ground by the campfire, he awoke as from some mystic spell, the strange influence of which clung to him for hours afterwards—which he still remembers, and always will.

Scenically, the production will be in exact duplicate of the great New York Lyric success, and there has never before been a Baker Stock Company that could play it as the present one will. It will open next Sunday matinee, and continue all next week.

fires fully 12 inches in diameter had been blown down and broken off near their roots, as if a tornado had swept the spot.

Estacada responded to the call of distress with all the physicians and nurses that could be mustered. Everything possible was done to alleviate the suffering of the injured men.

A call was at once sent to this city District Attorney Stipp, who went to the scene of the disaster. The bodies were laid out for his inspection and that he might get as much information as possible from the surroundings.

After viewing the scene of the accident and taking what testimony it was possible to glean, the Coroner returned a verdict of accidental death due to an explosion caused by too much water in the boiler and a defective safety valve.

CONCERT SERIES PLANNED.

Friendly Bible Class May Undertake Work Next Winter. The Friendly Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school is planning for a series of entertainments next year that will be instructive as well as entertaining. There has been some correspondence with a Chicago concert bureau that is open for contracts with reliable Sunday school classes and schools. This particular bureau offers a series of five entertainments—two concerts, two lectures and one reading or sermonic reading, and the class has about agreed to contract for a series next winter—two ment requiring four of the largest baggage cars for its transportation.

The cast of principals, which is a notable one, is headed by George W. Monroe, who will be seen in his original character creation of "Pansy Burns." Mr. Monroe is assisted by George Schiller, Alma Youlin, and a number of others of the original Broadway production.

The fame and reputation of the entertainment has preceded it, and many Portland theatergoers who witnessed the performance, during its long run of thirty-eight weeks at the Broadway Theatre in New York, are enthusiastic in their comments.

"The Midnight Sons" has been aptly termed "A huge moving picture in eight films. While telling a consistent story, its chief attraction is an entertainment is derived from the variety of its features, consisting of vaudeville, musical comedy, novelty vaudeville, spectacle pantomimes, and ballet. The book was written by Glen McDonough, who is a past-master at this particular kind of libretto. Raymond Hubbell is responsible for the thirty-odd musical numbers, while the production was staged under the direction of Ned Wayburn, and is presented in two acts and eight scenes.

"The Midnight Sons" is noted for its light, pretty, and frothy music of the whistling variety so popular with patrons of this class of entertainment. Most of the music has long been familiar to the majority of local theatregoers, notably "Kings of My Fingers," "The Billiken Man," "The Merry Little Gardener," "My Firefly Lady," "Call Me Bill," "True Blue," "Amapia," and a score of others.

While conceded as the largest organizations and biggest scenic production of its kind on tour, "The Midnight Sons" will be presented in Portland at a popular scale of prices, ranging from $1.50 to 50c at the night performances, and $1.00 to 25c at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

"Have you ever seen 'The Wolf,' that weird, fantastic play of the Northern woods, which will live, at least in the fond memory of man, long after Eugene Walter's other great successes, such as 'Pain in Full' and 'The Eastest Way,' have been forgotten?
