GOLDEN RULE FOR PROTESTANTS

Council is having its troubles in effecting compromises and agreements between people on the streets where there are different views as to what should be done in the establishment of grades. It is a hard proposition for a man to rise above his own personal benefits, and especially when he has the best of the argument from the standpoint of utility.

But the Golden Rule is a safe guide even in this matter. "Preferring one another" is often a smooth way of getting what you want yourself. And a "soft answer" has been known to disarm an enemy with his fighting clothes all buttoned up for the fray.

The building of streets in a city with so large a percentage of broken surface as one will find in this city is no easy snap. With homes built according to a poorly established grade, or with no grade established at all, trouble is certain to creep in with the first attempt to do things as they should be done. Oregon City has discovered this, and with not half its streets improved. What of the rest?

A good rule to establish soon is the Golden Rule. Council cannot control all the interests that are certain to enter into the contests yet to arise, but it can lay down the rule of the Golden Rule as its guide to the settlement of all difficulties that will arise, and assure all those who come to it with their troubles that such has been established, and then go ahead on that basis.

Not that Council can set the Golden Rule as the "metes and bounds" of what is to be done by Council, but it can give those with strong protests under their arms to understand that the man who is willing to accept the Golden Rule as his guide to the settlement of the controversy will be given the greater consideration at the hands of Council, and that the man who comes to Council with the determination to get all he can, and concede as little as he is forced to, will get scant consideration from Council. He can be given to understand that Council has a hard enough row to hoe and the man who is willing to help settle things without undue annoyance, and with a desire to give and take, is the one that Council will aid all it can. That attitude on the part of Council will make those who are always open for trouble to fear lest they make more trouble for themselves than they do for Council, or for their neighbor; that determination will lead some men to be good for policy sake who would never take a second thought for the welfare of others.

MRS. TRACEY DEAD AT A GOOD OLD AGE

SHE HAS LIVED WITH HER SON AT GLADSTONE SINCE DEATH OF HER HUSBAND.

Lydia Miner Tracy, wife of the late Taylor B. Tracy, died at the home of her son, J. M. Tracy, of Gladstone, Wednesday at 12:15 a. m., after a year's illness. The remains will be taken to her old home at Logan, and laid beside those of her husband, who passed away at that place eleven years ago. Many of the old time friends of the deceased attended the services. Mrs. Tracy's maiden name was Lydia Minger, and she was born in Jefferson county, New York, August 5, 1817. In the year of 1835 she was united in marriage to Taylor B. Tracy. In the year of 1852 Mr. and Mrs. Tracy and family started west and came across the plains by ox team, making their home for many years in what is now Logan, where Mr. Tracy took up a donation land claim. In 1870 Mr. and Mrs. Tracy left for the benefit of their daughter's health, but returned a year later to Logan, where they remained until the death of Mr. Tracy. For the past few years Mrs. Tracy has been making her home with her son, James M. Tracy, of Gladstone, and with Mrs. Caroline Masterson, of Viola. Deceased is survived by two children, who are James M. Tracy, of Gladstone; Mrs. Sarah M. Applegate, of Yoncalla, Douglas county. One daughter, Lydia Orella Tracy, died many years ago.

BROTHERHOOD MEETS TUESDAY.

Plans Making for Entertaining Occasion at M. E. Church. The Brotherhood of the M. E. church will give a banquet to members and friends in the parlors of the church in this city Tuesday evening, March 28. At that time there will be given an elaborate program, consisting of musical and literary numbers, with short addresses by two speakers from abroad—the speakers being invited from among the friends of the church and congregation in Portland.

This promises to be a very interesting occasion, and preparations making are of a high order of entertainment so that those who are so fortunate as to be present are promised great things for their entertainment and instruction.

Wood Walks on Taylor Street. Walks built in this city must be of concrete unless permission is granted to use some less durable substance. With this in mind the citizens of Taylor street asked Council, by petition presented at the meeting of Council Wednesday evening, to permit the use of wood. Permission was granted.

Persian Diplomat Has American Wife and an Interesting Family

Copyright by American Press Association.

HERE is an excellent picture of General Mirza Ali Kull Khan, charge d'affaires of the Persian legation at Washington, and his interesting family. This eastern diplomat has an American woman as his wife. She was formerly Miss Florence Breed of Boston, and it was through her interest in the religion of Behaism that she met the young Persian nobleman who afterward became her husband. She had made many converts to Behaism, and when she accompanied her husband to Teheran, the capital of Persia, she was surprised to find that she was received with all the honors of a Persian princess. She later received the greatest honor that the Persian ruler could bestow on a woman, the designation of "Moravveh-e-Sultaneh," which means "life giver of the empire." This honor was accorded to her because of her work in teaching Behaism and was not because of her marriage. Mme. Khamoun, which is the Persian for Mrs. Florence Khan, speaks Persian fluently, she often wears the Persian costume in Washington, and she is one of the popular ladies in official Washington life. She has been married ten years and is the mother of three children, the three youngest shown in the picture. The young woman standing is Miss Ruby Breed, sister of Mrs. Khanoun, and the three youths standing are relatives of the diplomat.

Hawley Paper Co., at Council Wednesday evening, charging that the company had again fenced in a portion of Fourth street. The discussion brought out information that the company did this once before, and Council required the company to remove the fence. This time, however, the street was fenced in with a wire fence. Council ordered the Street Commissioner to take a pair of wire snippers and go and cut the fence away. The special committee appointed to look after the encroachments by employees of the O. W. P. was also to notify Mr. Hawley as to encroachment of his mill.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

A marriage license was granted to Mary Rider and Arthur L. Lambert on Wednesday.

Firemen to Get $100 a Year. The volunteer fire department a week ago asked Council to increase the annual appropriation for the several fire companies from $25 a year to $100. Council at a recent meeting authorized the City Attorney to draw an ordinance to that effect, making the payments $25 a quarter. This ordinance was read first time Wednesday evening and ordered published.

Will Light Seventh Street Park. Council voted Wednesday evening to erect a fountain in Seventh street park, with lights on the fountain, at an expense of $150. Citizens in that section of the city are not pleased at certain things which happen in the park on dark nights—at least they think they happen—and this move to erect a fountain, with electric lights on it, is a move to "turn on the light" and thus end the evils complained of.

Are You A Money Saver?

Most every one expects to be a money saver some time. Some expect to save when their income is larger; others plan to save when their expenses are less. People who wait until they can save without effort rarely begin to save; they wake up some day filled with regrets because of the opportunities they have missed. The moral is: Begin regular saving at this bank NOW; whatever the income, make the outgo a little less and save the difference. It's a simple matter to start a savings account here.

LATEST MARKETS

Oregon City Markets. The general tendency of the markets is upwards, and this is especially so in the produce line. In reasonable goods, such as hay, with a new crop coming on and the use almost finished for the present winter season, the demand is downward. But the market as a whole is a trifle more stiff but with but few commodities showing actual advances. APPLES—Good apples are in demand yet and the price is towards better prices for good stock; there is enough good stock, however, so that

By LOUIS D. BRANDEIS, Boston Lawyer.

THE doctrine of "every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost" has become OBSOLETE in the business as well as the social world. IN THIS COUNTRY, WHERE THERE ARE EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR ALL, CONSCIENCE FORBIDS THAT LARGE NUMBERS SHOULD ADVANCE OVER THE SACRIFICES OF THEIR BROTHERS. Get together means brotherhood and fellowship in all the important matters of life. In our present society men CANNOT STAND ALONE and be judged by their actions, and while they are responsible for their own actions they are responsible also for the actions of those with whom they are associated. At no time in society as it exists today can we escape the responsibility of being our BROTHER'S KEEPER. THE MAN WHO SUCCEEDS NOW IS NOT SO MUCH THE MAN WHO AMASSES MONEY, BUT HE WHO IS SO ADVANCED AS TO ORGANIZE AND DEVELOP HIS BUSINESS THAT HE FEELS HONOR IN HAVING DONE SOMETHING TO DEVELOP IT.

It Wouldn't Pay to Advertise A Poor Article

Nor a proposition of doubtful merit or honesty—for ad-readers, nowadays, are DISCRIMINATING. They know values—they know GENUINE things, genuine opportunities. Any article which can be sold by advertising is, by that test, a GOOD article. YOU are safe in buying a thing which has "stood the fire of publicity." The maker of a widely advertised article, or commodity, is always on trial for his business life. He cannot shirk, nor cheapen his product—and this is the best possible protection for the consumer. You are SAFE in buying advertised things—it's the logic of nowadays business conditions.
