VOL. 1—No. 69

OREGON CITY, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1911.

PER WEEK, 10 CENTS

DEMOCRATS MUST CHOOSE SENATOR

INSURGENT WILL BE NAMED UNLESS REGULAR DEMOCRATS EFFECT SOME COMPROMISE.

REPUBLICANS AND INSURGENTS PLOT

Regular Democrats Dare Not Let Congress Meet Without Representation For Empire State.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(Spl.)—The regular Democrats are between the devil and the deep blue sea with the water cold and deep. What to do in an effort to land the United States Senatorship for the party without giving the way to the insurgents in the party is the question that agitates them tonight. In an effort to solve the riddle the regular Democrats held an all-night session last night and are tonight balloting almost continuously in the hopes that some one may make a break that will end the agony.

At midnight there is a report that the wires have been hot the past few hours and hope is entertained that some one may be agreed on whom the insurgents will support. The regular Democrats recognize that no Senator can be chosen unless the votes of the insurgents are secured.

It is further recognized by the regular Democrats that the Republicans and insurgents are getting closer together, and that any hour they may effect an agreement and make choice of a Senator.

The regular Democrats dare not let the special session of Congress convene and but one Senator from New York.

GIVEN THIRD OVATION.

Roosevelt Thinks Less of Willful Persecutor Than of Thief.

BERKELEY, Cal., March 28.—(Spl.)—Col. Roosevelt spoke today to another large crowd in the big Greek theater, using for his subject, "The Shaping of Public Opinion and the Ninth Commandment."

Col. Roosevelt said that a public man held a honored position but that in a free country like ours the man who would public opinion stood paramount. That being the case the man who would willfully and perversely falsify in his dealings with the public was a disgrace.

The Ex-President was cheered to the echo on several of his statements.

WANTS AN INJECTION TO RESTRAIN COUNCIL

STREET PAVING TANGLE STILL DRIFTING TOWARDS MORE TROUBLE.

The street improving trouble on a new phase today when Attorney C. Schuebel asked for an injunction restraining the City Council from changing the grade of the street on any portion of the street. According to the law in the case when once the grade has been established, and the contract let according to the proposed grade, Council cannot change it unless it has the permission from all the property holders affected—or if it does change it, those who are assessed for the improvement may refuse to pay their assessment. But Mr. Schuebel does not intend to take even this chance and is asking for an injunction.

By the original survey, Mr. Schuebel says, there is a 33 inch fall in front of the Ed Story property. By the proposed change there will be a 5 1/2 inch fall at the same place. Naturally the story kinks and wants an adjustment before things go any further.

There are some changes that need to be made on this street and it is felt that the need of making them will be cheaper to buy out one or two properties and then fix up the street and then the rest will be easier to attempt to crowd objectionable things down the throats of objectors.

ARE YOU A BELL COW?

Do you follow others or have others follow you?
Will you notice the best dressed men and young men on the streets—who are most critical of their attire—are wearing our clothes.
Do you have a standard?
Ours is a little better.
That's where we lead.

BEAVERS LOSE FIRST GAME.

Score is 6 to 4 in Favor of Los Angeles—Five Fast Innings.

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—(Spl.)—Seven thousand spectators gathered to see the opening of the season in baseball today, and it is reported that they saw all kinds of base ball before the game was finished. Los Angeles won in a score of 6 to 4.

Delhi pitched for Los Angeles and Seaton for Portland. Neither scored until the sixth inning, when Portland pulled one down on a close decision.

Lack is said to have been against the Beavers from the first, as the Portland bunch played better ball all through and still couldn't win. Seaton pitched great ball for six innings, and then two others were tried in an effort to save the day, but to no use.

NEW ARBITRATION TREATY.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(Spl.)—The State Department has begun on a new arbitration treaty with Great Britain that is to include all matters of dispute between the two countries. But who will there be to enforce it in case one party to the treaty ignores it and begins to drop hot shot into the other's dooryard?

CHINA PROMISES COMPLIANCE.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.—(Spl.)—Russia has received China's answer promising compliance with the terms of Russia's demands, and Russia replies that she is pleased with the compliance and the relief that comes from knowing there will be no necessity of enforcement.

BRITISH FEAR PLAGUE.

LONDON, March 28.—(Spl.)—British citizens are fearful lest the Asiatic plague shall spread and lead to a panic about the time of the coronation, spoiling the grandeur of that function.

WILL TRY LORIMER.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 28.—(Spl.)—The legislature is going ahead with its investigation of Lorimer, despite the finding of the U. S. Senate, and has subpoenaed witnesses in the case.

ROAD ROLLER BOUGHT AT HIS OWN EXPENSE

FRANK JAGGAR, COUNTY ROAD MASTER, PUTS BIG BUFFALO PITTS AT WORK.

Frank Jaggar, of Carus, who is road master of Clackamas county, was in Oregon City Tuesday on business matters pertaining to road construction. Mr. Jaggar has taken an active interest in the roads of the county, and as the county owns only one road roller Mr. Jaggar finds this will not do to do all of the road work that is to be accomplished, and has purchased, at his own expense, a 20-horsepower Buffalo Pitt road roller at an expense of $250, which is his own personal property. Mr. Jaggar has taken an active interest in the roads of the county, and as the county owns only one road roller Mr. Jaggar finds this will not do to do all of the road work that is to be accomplished, and has purchased, at his own expense, a 20-horsepower Buffalo Pitt road roller at an expense of $250, which is his own personal property.

GETS BLACK EYE.

Says He Was Attending to His Own Business When It Was Given Him.

Frank Gasser was wearing a bad black eye Tuesday, his left eye being nearly closed. He went to Justice Samson and asked for a warrant for Harry White, whom he charged with the decoration. Samson referred him to Assistant District Attorney Stupp, who provided him with an information against White. The papers were placed in the hands of the officer, who will serve them on White.

Gasser says there was no cause for the assault. He says he was in the pool room on Main street when White came up and asked him if he wanted to fight. When he answered in the negative White hauled off and hit him in the eye, with the consequent result. The truth of the trouble is likely to come out at the trial.

Officials Testify in U. S. Court.

Sheriff M. Brown and Justice Samson, Constable Brown and the United States Grand Jury in Portland Tuesday in the accusation against Varella Puyi, the Italian accused with selling liquor without a license out on the Mt. Hood railway line. He was fined in Samson's court $150 for selling and he had no United States license. Uncle Sam wants to know how it happened. These officials testified in the case.

Appas the Horse Case.

When Tom Montefine was defeated in Justice court in his contention over the ownership of the team and $15 in the trade with S. H. Wyrick it was supposed he had enough and would quit the law for a time at least. But he seems to be game and was back after more law this week. As a result the case in Justice Samson's court has been appealed to Circuit Court, where it is to be fought to the bitter end.

NOW THAT CUE CLIPPING IS THE FASHION.

CURTISS WILL FLY AT ASTORIA EXPO

HE HAS SIGNED CONTRACT TO BRING HIS HYDROPLANE TO THE CENTENNIAL.

WILL MAKE FLIGHT THE LAST WEEK

Machine Will Rise From Surface of Bay and Circle Above Its Waters in Full View of Crowd.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 28.—People of the Pacific Northwest expect to have a chance to see the Curtiss hydroplane at the Astoria Centennial, for it attains have been signed between the management of the exposition and Glenn Curtiss. He agrees to bring his machine to Astoria during the last week in August and give a number of exhibition flights.

The hydroplane is the machine that rises from the surface of the water and wings its way about in the air, finally coming to rest again like a huge waterfowl upon the river or lake above which it flies. The Columbia at Astoria offers ideal conditions for such flights, which will be the first ever given in the Northwest by the hydroplane. This machine is supported in the water by pontoons which take the place of the wheels that serve as feet for the aeroplane.

The hydroplane skims along the surface of the water for some distance before it attains sufficient momentum to rise into the air and the contract with Curtiss calls for a speed of 35 miles an hour on the surface of the river for several miles before the actual flight begins. The aviator will then circle the Astoria harbor, make a detour over the city and then fly westward ten miles to the ocean and return to the starting point. Successful flights by the new hydroplane, the latest thing in flying machines, are guaranteed by Mr. Curtiss who will send an experienced birdman to Astoria and in addition, a regular aeroplane of the Curtiss type will be circling about Astoria during the Centennial.

MOVES HER BAGGAGE BUT LEAVES HUBBY'S

CHARGE MADE SHE TOOK ALL THE BEST FURNITURE FOR HERSELF.

C. J. Bradley has filed a suit for divorce against his wife, Rosa M. Bradley, to whom he was married in Portland, Oregon, October 24, 1910.

Bradley claims that his wife is of a jealous disposition, and shortly after their marriage she showed signs of jealousy, and has accused him of running around with other women, and has a violent temper, throwing knives, stove wood and other objects at him when they are handy. He also claims that she informed him that she did not care for him, and only married him the second time so that he should support the baby.

This wife is also accused of being extravagant, and is in the habit of going down town and spending money recklessly, and would not come home until late at night. He was forced to cook his own meals at times after working hard all day, doing all of the chores, and to look after the chicken coops.

The plaintiff claims that he has been a kind husband, but his wife didn't appreciate his kindness. The property rights have been settled by mutual agreement. John Downes, attorney, is representing the plaintiff.

A BARGAIN

One large block of eleven lots; good 8-room house, 16x24 barn, good chicken house eight lots under good picket fence and set to bearing fruit trees; barnyard under fence; sidewalk in front of premises; city water. The property is worth $4000; will sell for $3500; 1-3 down, balance in easy payments; 6 per cent interest.

SAVES LABOR TO FARMERS

Ed. Fortune Has Machine That Ought to Be Popular.

Ed. Fortune, who recently returned from his eastern trip has the exclusive right in Oregon to handle the "Combination Farm Tool," which no doubt will be readily taken up by the farmers not only in Clackamas county, but in the state. The tool has just made its appearance on the Pacific coast. It is a great labor saving to the farmers and can be used on almost every occasion where heavy lifting is required, such as raising light buildings, leveling threshing machines

WIFE ASKING DIVORCE.

Cruel and Inhuman Treatment the Charge Made Against Husband.

Liona A. Cloninger has filed a suit for divorce against her husband, Elmer E. Cloninger, to whom she was united in marriage on May 15, 1908, at St. Helen, Oregon. Mrs. Cloninger charges her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment. From the time of their marriage Mrs. Cloninger says that her husband has failed to support her nor has he clothed her, and she has been compelled to earn her own living and for her child. He has stayed away at nights and did not return until early in the morning. He has abused and cursed her.

Mrs. Cloninger is willing that her husband be awarded the custody of the child for six months each year, provided that he provide for same and maintain the child, and that she be allowed to have the child the other six months of the year. Rauch & Sen, of Portland, are the plaintiff's attorneys.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(Spl.)—Jack Johnson is now in jail with a 25 day sentence ahead of him and it looks as if he will be more careful with his auto and its speed in the future.

WORK HAS BEGUN ON NEW RAILWAY

FIRST WORK CLEARING RIGHT OF WAY OF CLACKAMAS SOUTHERN RY. STARTS

FORCE BRUSH-BURNERS TO FOLLOW

A Gang of Graders Will Begin Work the Last of This Week or the First of Next Week.

The actual construction work on the Clackamas Southern Railway was commenced on Tuesday morning at the corporate limits of Oregon City, and will be pushed as rapidly as possible toward the Beaver Creek and Molalla country. A good crew of men are now actively engaged in clearing the right of way and burning all of the debris so that the graders that follow will be able to prosecute their work as rapidly as possible.

The company will use the very best system possible in their construction work, and at the end of each week an engineer will carefully measure up all work one for that week and compare the expense account with the value of the work performed, so that the company will be sure to get value received for every dollar expended. The grading work will probably be done by the same foreman who constructed the Columbia Southern Railway and the Oregon and Southern. He has made an application for the position and has offered to take stock in the company as compensation for his services, which demonstrates the fact that he has faith in the enterprise.

The directors of this company are men who are well known as business men of Clackamas county, and the obligation which they are assuming is a comprehensive one, and they are entitled to the unlimited support of every patriotic citizen in the county. They have promised the stockholders that during the construction period that every dollar of money paid in the treasury for capital stock will be expended in the construction of the road, and they would give their time to the work without salary.

There never has been an enterprise started in Clackamas county that has more merit than the building of this short line of railway which would enable people who own property in the interior of the county to market their vast forests of timber, and also further develop one of the finest sections of Oregon that has been so long neglected.

Oregon City will also be benefitted because it will bring all of the freight from that large territory into Oregon City, and also make this city a great distributing point for logs, lumber, piling, cord wood and other freight that will come from that rich section of the country.

Everybody should assist the directors in their work and subscribe to the capital stock of the company, and not be influenced by those people who love to stand around on the street corners and tell others that "the work can't be done."

A staff writer for the Enterprise, who was out on the ground Tuesday afternoon, writes as follows concerning the work:

"Active building operations commenced this morning at 8:30 on the Clackamas Southern R. R. Eight hundred to a thousand feet of the right of way has been denuded of underbrush today by a gang of a dozen men under Mr. Swift who is in charge of the work at present."

"Tomorrow morning another gang will follow from where the first gang began and the logs and underbrush will be burned preparatory to grading, which will be started next week. The scene of the work today was a lively one. The men were all working steadily and the hillside became bare as by magic."

"The work of grading will be comparatively easy even for the first mile which is the only one where there will be much rock work. The rock work on the first mile is through loose boulders and offers the best kind of a foundation for a roadway with minimum of labor in preparing it."

"A grade of one and one half percent will be made on the new road out of town, starting from the same level as the Southern Pacific tracks. Out around the bluff beyond Kansas City and overlooking the flats back of Green Point the road will run through a beautiful country which ought to become popular with sightseers as well as the people living in the country to be opened."

Friendly Gossip

Good morning. Have you told your neighbor what a newsy sheet the Morning Enterprise is? If you have not spoken to anyone about it why not do so today and give the carrier in your district a friendly boost?

A whole lot of energy is required to put out such a paper as the Morning Enterprise and a whole lot more will be expended in making the paper all that you can wish. You can co-operate with the publisher in his effort by boosting quietly when opportunity offers, and a boost for the paper is indirectly a boost for yourself.

All Clackamas county derives benefit from the daily publishing of the local news. Put aside prejudice and help a good cause along. The publisher would like to tell you of the many good things planned for the Morning Enterprise readers when the circulation warrants them.

When asked "how do you like the Morning Enterprise?" our readers invariably reply, "I like the little paper." One man said, "You bet I like the Morning Enterprise. Why I look every Monday morning for a paper before I remember that there is no issue on Monday." Reader, your neighbors appreciate a good paper as much as you or our other readers do and you do them a favor by calling their attention to this sheet.

Do it now and boost your carrier with a new subscription. In a few days more the prizes will be announced. Call us up any time, day or night. The office is always open.

HUMANE SOCIETY HAS ITS EYE OUT TO HELP

PRESIDENT OF SOCIETY ASSISTS OWNER TO DO DUMB ANIMAL A GOOD TURN.

On Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock a flock of sheep were being driven along Thirteenth and Washington streets when it was noticed by several of the residents, including Miss Anita McCarver, president of the Clackamas County Humane Society, that one of the sheep had either become fatigued from its travels or was sick. Upon inquiry by Miss McCarver of the driver it was found that the sheep, which was of a wilder disposition than the others in the flock, and had run ahead and made many extra steps, which had caused it to have sore feet. It was apparently unable to travel much further, and as Chris Hartman, who is a friend of the Humane Society and a lover of dumb animals happened along at the time with his team, it was suggested by the president of the Humane Society that he place the animal in the wagon and carry it to its destination on Center street near Seventh. Mr. Hartman at once consented and the animal was placed in the wagon by him and the owner, the remainder of the sheep following.

Miss McCarver had offered to care for the sheep for several days, or until its feet had become healed and able to travel, and the owner, who had treated his flock in the kindest manner, readily consented, stating he would call for it later, and upon the appearance of Mr. Hartman the sheep was not compelled to remain behind.

Removed From S. P. Train.

An old farmer from Albany was so drunk on the S. P. train into this city Tuesday morning that the conductor asked the police to take him off the train and care for him. Officers Green and Cooke removed him and put him in the cooler for the night. Tuesday morning he was sobered up sufficient to proceed on his journey, telling the police that his head was big and that the whiskey sold him must have been pretty vile to serve him so.
