CHEAPER ELECTRICITY

WILL BE ABLE TO MAKE

PORTLAND, Or., March 28.-It is comised by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. that by the year 1914 it will be generating more electric power than any other similar concern on the Pacific Coast. This prediction is based upon the big expenditures now being made for the mammoth water power plants near Portland.

mission lines, the company will have expended $7,000,000 by 1914, construction already completed representing an investment of $3,000,000. By January, 1914, the company will be generating 105,000 horse power at its various plants.

Salem, but now of Hubbard, was in horse power plant at Oregon City, Oregon City on Tuesday being a guest the 25,000 horse power plant at Cazadero, 25,000 horse power at Estacada which will be completed in September of this year, and 40,000 additional very ill for the past three weeks at his home in this city, is improving, horse power on the Upper Clackamas. electrical energy throughout a large district in Oregon and Washington. Heretofore it has not been selling lower on a very extensive scale, need ing most of the energy generated at its various plants for its own projects. In future it will have an enormous voltage to dispose of and it is President Josselyn's idea that it will be come cheaper to the consumer as the volume of the business increases.

"I expect to see the day," said he, when electrical power will be furnished in Portland more cheaply than any place in the world. According to my theory it is going to be lower and lower. We expect to make electrical energy so cheap that factories now using steam power, generated by re-fuse material, could not possibly compete with the price we will be able to make.

Woman's World

Op'nions on the Harem Skirts Are Divided Like the Garment.

Opinions are divided, like the gar ment itself, concerning the beauty and utility of the harem skirt. Already the curious combination of skirt and trou sers has appeared in the large cities of America as well as the old world. In truth it must be said that the women who have worn the harem skirt, or the joupe culotte, to give it a name that comes from Paris, were actresses who were eager to have their names and pictures in the papers.

One of the features of the zoo in New York's Central park is Hattle, an elephant that plays the harmonica. Hattie does not get much music out of the instrument-who can?-but she makes a noise, and she usually has are audience when she performs. On a recent Sunday afternoon Keeper Snyder brought out Hattle and her harmonica and prepared to entertain the crowd. t then a wo skirt appeared, and the concert was called off. The crowd cared much more for the entertainment offered by for an elephant playing a mouth organ. Keeper Snyder and Hattle returned to the elephant house, and the sightseers followed off after the harem skirt and its satisfied wearer.

A writer in an English paper consid rs the case for and against the harem skirt and expresses the opinion that more can be said against the garment than for it. "Speaking generally of the project ed mode," says this writer, "it is not to be commended, since it continues the series of what may be called the eccentric fashions which we have religiously followed for almost the whole of the first decade of this century Now and then it is permissible to be foolish and extreme, since it serves the better to accentuate the charm of more becoming or less exaggerated styles when they are brought forward, but we cannot blind ourselves to the fact that for some seasons now we have een peculiar rather than pretty, and if the 'harem' is to follow on the 'hobble' we shall assuredly have gone a step further along our apparently de- $5.75. termined course to make ourselves conspicuous rather than elegant.

"The women of every nation have heir physical as well as mental characteristics. The barem skirt is doubt less seautiful on the Turkish woman and what can exceed the charm of the kimono on little Mme. Chrysantheme? But Niguar would not be as attractive in a tailor built skirt, nor does Mimosa San seem quite as dainty in the latest western fashion. Why then should we think we should be able to clothe ourselves with success according to the fancy of the fashion mongers of other countries?"

THREE SCORE AND TEN

MUSIC AND SPEAKING FOLLOW ON THE HEELS OF A TOOTH-SOME FEAST.

There were about three score and ten to participate in the banquet by the M. E. Brotherhood, held in the parlors of the M. E. church Tuesday evening. There has been a break in the meetings of this Brotherhood, caused by conditions which led up to strenuous work along another line, and the members of the Brotherhood having been scattered it is taking a little time to get them back.

But a few more feasts like the good ladies of the church put up Tuesday night will do the work, not to say anything of the enjoyable after meeting in which music and speech making played a prominent part,

After the feast-fit for the spread of a king-those present were given enjoyment in the presentation of several musical numbers on the violin by Prof. Douglass, accompanied by Mrs. Douglass. This part of the program was followed by an address by Rev. C. E. Cline, D. D., a retired Methodist pastor who lives in Portland.

The Doctor is well known as one of those pastors who, through living a busy life, has accumulated a large store of information which when im parted to his hearers in the interest. ing manner for which he is noted, al ways causes one to wish that he would continue and not stop so soon. And his address on this occasion was of this character, meeting all the requirements of the evening and calling forth applause at several of his characteristic hits.

N. D. Lukens, connected with the Y. M. C. A. work in Portland was the second speaker of the evening. His address was an incentive to living, with many hints of better things within the reach of the man who will put his hand out to take hold or bend his steps toward the goal of things that ennoble and uplift.

Those present proved very enthusiastic listeners, and the evening was one with much good in it for all who were so fortunate as to be present to hear and enjoy the privileges.
