O'GORMAN SENATOR IN EMPIRE STATE

DEADLOCK IS BROKEN ON THE SIXTY-FOURTH JOINT BALLOT TODAY.

ARGUMENTS ARE CAUTIOUS AT FIRST

Deadlock has existed since January 4—Vote stands 112 to 80 on Joint Ballot.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 31.—(Special)—James A. O'Gorman, Justice of the Supreme Court of New York, was chosen United States Senator to succeed Dewey today. O'Gorman received 112 votes and Dewey 80. The election of O'Gorman was accomplished on the 64th joint ballot, after a deadlock since January 6. The announcement was made of O'Gorman's candidacy this morning and while there was some distrust of the man it was easy to see that the insurgents did not wish to prolong the trouble further if it could be settled after a conference, and a hunting up of O'Gorman's record, it was voted to support him on joint ballot, which was accomplished.

The news was brought to the city at an early hour for it was the desire of all parties to get the matter over during the day lest a break come that could not be controlled. It is thought the choice will prove acceptable to the rank and file of the Democratic party in the State and in the Nation.

SCHOOL TROUT MYSTIFIED.

THE DALLAS, Or., March 31.—(Special)—A school of trout could not find their way up Mill Creek to spawn today and lay at the mouth of the creek for some time. The County Clerk sold 31 licenses to people who wished to try for a mess. Everybody was making good hauls all day.

HELD UP ON SEVENTH REPORTS HEATHMAN

CLAIMS COMPANION DREW A KNIFE ACROSS HIS THROAT AND THEN TOOK PURSE.

Vernon L. Heathman, of Jennings, who says he is a grocer at that place, reported to the police Friday evening that he was held up on Seventh street, near the river, at about 10 o'clock last night. He says the hold-up man got $17, and that when he let the hold-up man go, the hold-up man started up the river on the street running along the river bank. Heathman's story is that he met one Glinwood on the streets in Oregon City earlier in the evening and after a drink or two Glinwood suggested that the two go across the river to the merry-go-round that is holding forth for the entertainment of the corners. They started—but why across the river to the bank of the river instead of across the bridge is not explained—and when they reached the river Heathman says his companion started to object and "wondered that that man is doing." He stepped forward to see when Glinwood drew a knife across his throat, he says, and demanded his money or threatened to cut his throat. Heathman then gave up his purse and Glinwood told him to make tracks up street. As he returned to the street on Seventh street Glinwood started up Water street when Heathman—followed and having regained his courage began to cry aloud for help for his assailant's capture. At this Glinwood began to run, he says, and he lost him on the street before help came to his assistance. Heathman had a new suit of clothes had purchased earlier in the evening at Price Bros. While he admits he had been drinking together still Heathman says Glinwood is not his friend of a companion but that he never suspected him of such a rash act as this. It seems he has been cutting out for several months some place near Jennings Lodge, and the two men often met before.

TWO LOOK SUSPICIOUS.

Police Lock Them Up to Make Sure as to Errand Here. Two suspicious looking characters showed up around the Southern Pacific depot at a late hour last night, having made a trip to the center of the city earlier in the evening. The attention of the police was called to the two men by citizens, and when inquiry was made, and an investigation had as to stories told, it was deemed best to put them under lock and key, which was done at the city prison.

When hanging around the S. P. depot the suspicion of the agent was aroused and he was on the point of asking the police to investigate when the police arrived and took the men in.

NO PEACE OFFERED REBELS.

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—(Special)—There is said to be no truth in the statement that high Mexican officials will treat with the rebels for their surrender. Every official who should know if such a move is contemplated denies knowledge of such a move, or that such a move would be acceptable.

LARGEST BANK CLEARINGS.

PORTLAND, Or., March 31.—(Special)—March bank clearings in this city break all previous records. The total clearings for the month exceed fifty-one millions. This is six millions in excess of a year ago.

ENTHUSIASM RAN HIGH AT RAILWAY MEETING

MAPLE LANE GRANGE HALL FILLED WITH MEN WILLING TO BOOST NEW RAILWAY.

There was a very enthusiastic meeting of railway boosters held in the Grange hall at Maple Lane Friday evening to consider the proposition of building the Clackamas Southern Railway into the Beaver Creek and Molalla country. The hall was filled and A. J. Lewis was chosen chairman. Judge Grant B. Dimick was the speaker of the evening and he outlined the policy of the company and its plans for the building and operation of the road. And in the operation it was explained that the work of caring for the interests of Oregon City and Clackamas county was to be made possible, and it was further shown that the good of one section is the good of all.

The Judge called attention to the needs of the county and to those of the community of which the Grange hall was the center. He also showed the necessity of more energetic methods in the county than had been the policy of the past. He instanced the Hood River and Rogue River counties as examples of what push and energy can do. These sections were no better than our own but the people living there had taken a firmer hold on conditions and had pushed things to a successful issue rather than permitting them to drift along.

The proximity to Portland ought to be productive of good and not evil, and the chances for greatly increased land values through the building of a railway of the character of the Clackamas Southern, with its increased transportation facilities, ought to be a judge.

Judge Dimick was followed by George Harding, O. D. Eby, W. A. Showman and A. J. Lewis. Showman called attention to the fact that the Oregon City merchants had been asleep and it was time that they and the people of Clackamas county awakened if things were to be made to move before it was too late and some one else had captured all the prizes. A. J. Lewis was in favor of the railway movement and considered it worthy the support of every man near the line.

THIRTY FEET DOWN GOES THE DRILL

WORKMEN AT THE STONE OIL WELL MAKE GOOD PROGRESS EACH DAY.

Signs of Oil Multiply With Each Day and Workmen Become Enthused—Many Visit Well Daily.

DRILL IS STILL IN A HARD SHALE

STONE, Or., March 31.—(Special)—Thirty feet have been added to the depth of the Stone oil well in the past 24 hours, and the well has now been drilled in to a depth of 1205 feet. The well is nearly 100 feet below the casing, but as the formation is very hard, and seemingly getting harder, the necessity of pushing down the casing is not so great as when the formation was of a soft and crumbly nature. There is no caving in at this time, neither has there been any since the drill has been in the harder substance.

Indications for oil are getting better daily, and as long as the sides of the well hold up there will be no stop to pushing down the casing. In case a paying flow of oil is struck there will be a stop made to shut off the water. As the water is not interfering with the work of drilling, and there is no paying flow of oil, it is not deemed necessary to put undue effort forth to shut it out.

Everything is going nicely and the continued signs of oil keep up the interest among the drillers. Thirty feet within the past 24 hours makes the proposition of drilling an interesting one and the drill will continue downward as fast as it can be pushed by the present force working double turn. The drill is passing through a sort of shale that while very hard works up nicely for the drillers and makes it possible to attain a goodly speed. The drillers are feeling that this is but a small part of the cover over the oil deposit and stories are told of what this and that sign portends, making it interesting to get the workmen started in their tales of what may be expected at any time. People living near the well are taking more and more interest daily, and if oil is struck in paying quantities half of the population will be at the well side about as soon as the oil can force its way to the surface.

NEW LOCAL BALL TEAM HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

"PIRATES" IS AN ORGANIZATION FROM THE WILLAMETTE PAPER CO. EMPLOYEES.

Oregon City has a new base ball team that is composed of some of the young men employed at the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company. The name of the team is "Pirates." The first game of the season will be played on Sunday at Crescent, about one and one-half miles from this city on the Abernethy road. This team will play the Crescent team, and as both have good players there is no doubt but a good game will be pulled off. The players will leave the Electric Hotel on Sunday at 1 o'clock, and will go by hay wagon. There will be no admission charged, and many will join the boys from this city to witness the game. The game is called for 2 o'clock.

The following is the line-up of the "Pirates": Catcher, M. Hogan; pitcher, J. M. Goubank or C. D. Shoemaker; first base, Jack Kelley; second base, M. J. Dugger; third base, Henry Ast; short stop, Carl Jones; right field, F. Bruce; center field, S. Knuckle; left field, F. Gasser. The "Pirates" challenge any base ball team for games in or near this city, and arrangements can be made with Frank Gosser, manager of the "Pirates." The "Pirates" are all husky men and no doubt will win many of the games before the close of the base ball season. A practice game was held on last Sunday, and it was noticeable that there were several good players who have been on the diamond before.

WANTS HUSBAND TO STAY AWAY FROM HER AND THE CHILD.

Clara Hollister has filed a suit for divorce against her husband, Dayton R. Hollister, to whom she was married at Ravenna, Portage county, Ohio. There is one child, who is a minor and in charge of the mother. Mrs. Hollister claims that her husband has come home in a drunken state and has threatened to kill her, and drove her from home. He has also refused to buy clothing for her in any manner. She asks that she have the custody of the child, and an order preventing her husband from calling on herself or her child, or taking the latter from her.

Mrs. Hollister is represented by H. K. Dickinson, of Portland.

SPECIAL SERVICE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

At the Sunday evening service at St. Paul's Episcopal church there will be a special service for the Ladies of Security, with a special sermon by the rector, Rev. Chas. Robinson. The time of the service is 5 o'clock.

TAX PENALTY ADDED AFTER MONDAY NEXT

OVER 80 PER CENT OF THE TOTAL TAXES HAVE BEEN PAID TO DATE.

Monday is the last day on which to pay taxes without an added penalty. Up to March 16 there was a rebate of three per cent and after that and until Monday, April 3, the flat tax amount is payable. After Monday there is a 10 per cent penalty added, and 1 per cent per month additional. In case one has paid one half his taxes prior to March 16 then the rate to him is the flat tax up to October 1, after which he is subject to the added penalty.

The present tax collection has been one of the most successful in the history of the county. The total tax duplicate this year amounts to practically $500,000. Of that amount $407,000 has been collected, which is a most successful percentage. It is a further indication that the finances of this section of the Northwest are in a healthy condition, and that any stories of a stringency are overdrawn.

MADISON STREET WILL BE CUT DOWN

EASIER TO ELIMINATE SIXTH STREET TROUBLE BY "REPAIRING" THIS STREET.

PROPERTY OWNERS SEEM PLEASED

Will Take Off Three Feet of the Fill on Sixth Street and Not Ruin Several Homes.

Council met in special session Friday evening at the call of Mayor Brownell. There were present Councilmen Burke, Holman, Roake, Michaels and Strickland. The object of the meeting, as stated by Mayor Brownell, was that the city might determine what to do in the matter of the Sixth street improvement.

So much has been said and done in this street improvement on Sixth street that the mention of a meeting of Council is enough to get a crowd, and while the time was short the chamber was fairly well filled at the call of the Mayor's gavel.

Schubel wanted one thing for his client and Walter Dimick wanted another for his client, Jack Allbright. It was easy to see from the outset that the attorneys were making figures from an entirely different point on the street and that in reality the difference between them was not as great as surface indications seemed to show.

After considerable discussion pro and con the matter came back to the conditions as they exist on Madison street at the intersection of Sixth. To get a settlement of the whole trouble and not to do anyone on the street too much of an injury, Councilman Strickland suggested that the question of fixing Madison street be taken in connection with the work on Sixth. He said he had never been satisfied with Sixth, that the hump between Seventh and Sixth was a disgrace to the street, and that as that street must be fixed some time, and in doing so now it would eliminate part of the trouble on Sixth, why not do it now?

Contractor Moffatt said there had been a mistake made on Madison street that to get over the present difficulty he would undertake to do the work of rectifying in connection with the Sixth street work at a lump sum which should be a cheap one. To cut three feet off Madison would aid greatly on Sixth; thought $1500 would make the improvement. It will be necessary to run a new grade on Madison street at the alley and making the street level as it should be.

Story, Allbright and Storris all agreed that such a change would come near satisfying all and indicated that there was not likely to be any further protest. At this Mr. Strickland moved that the City Engineer prepare plans and estimates as to cost and how it should be done and report at next meeting of Council, to be held next Wednesday evening. Curbs are to be widened and the signatures of property holders agreeing to change to be secured in the meantime.

In the meantime Recorder Stipp is to give opinion as to the injunction and the part it will play and as to what can be done in the matter of the proposed change to Madison street. The parties to the injunction to let matters rest until it is seen what can be done in the matter of settlement as per this last proposition.

George Randall was present to know what Council intended to do to fix up the sewer on Fifth street. It was said that a portion of the street had an old box gutter for a sewer and that it was inadequate. It was falling to pieces and should be replaced with a cement sewer. Part of the street was to be improved and the breaks in the gutter should be filled in.

It was shown that certain property owners refused to fix up on the plea that the city had turned the water on to them and that they said the city could now take it away or stop kicking. Matter was referred to the committee on streets and the City Attorney for report.

Dr. Norris, city health officer, wanted Council to consider the question of a room in the city jail for people sick who are confined in the city jail. No place now to care for them and it is humane to provide one. Referred to committee on health and police.

Report was made that there was much objectionable carryings on at the Case saloon, corner of Fifth, and that the committee to consider the question of a transfer of the license to Wilson was not ready to report on account of these rumors; wanted more time. Thought it might be well to revoke the license.

J. A. Butler reported that he had moved his saloon to the Electric Hotel Annex, and wished his license transferred, he being an applicant for a new license and with but a few days to run until it shall be acted on. Council gave him temporary leave.

C. Schubel, as attorney, read a petition asking for the vacation of certain streets in the canyon on Fifth street between Jackson and Van Burden. Several Councilmen were of opinion that the City Fathers have no right to vacate streets, and the City Attorney was asked to give opinion at the next meeting of the city legislature.

Meet the boys more than half way, show them that you appreciate their services and wish them well. A subscription to the Morning Enterprise is an investment, for in the ads you will find savings that will more than pay for the paper. Do you ever tell an advertiser what medium you saw his ad in? Local men will be invited to speak on various phases of the religious and moral welfare of the community.

Rev. S. A. Hayworth is preaching a series of popular Sunday evening sermons. Next Sunday night he will address himself to the business men of the community and will discuss the value of the practice of Christian principles to business and will show the possibility of business men Christianizing their business.

Mr. Hayworth is inviting the members of the Commercial Club in particular and is asking for the assent or dissent of the business men in writing, which he proposes to use as the basis of another address on the same topic later.

The sermons at the Baptist church Sunday evenings are preceded by a popular musical service conducted by Mrs. Olmstead. She is assisted by a male quartette and a full choir of trained voices. Plans are being discussed for the purchase of a pipe organ to be installed this summer.

LYRIC READINGS GIVEN FOR LIBRARY BENEFIT

MRS. KATE WISNER MCCLUSKEY WILL PRESENT POPULAR PROGRAM APRIL 7.

Mrs. Kate Wisner McCluskey, of Chicago, who is coming here to visit her brother, J. N. Wisner, has consented to give a reading to the public while here. She will appear at the Congregational church on Friday evening, April 7. Her program will comprise lyric readings, of which she is an apt exponent.

The testimonials that Mrs. McCluskey has received indicate that she gives a program of great interest. It is not simply a case of high art readings that only the student can understand, but her readings—no judge from the printed expressions given—have much in them that appeal to the popular mind and that the busy man of this life enjoys because they give him a rest from the things that so often annoy. He is thus able the next day to see things differently than if he had not received this new inspiration that is given.

The readings will be given under the auspices of the city library; and while the library takes no risks, if there are any profits accruing they go to the library fund.
