Help For Lispers. Lisping is sometimes caused by the shape of the tongue, sometimes it is due to habitual self consciousness when talking and sometimes to ignorance in enunciation. In this case lessons from an elocution teacher will often overcome the trouble entirely. The pupil will learn for the first time in her life how to place her fongue when pronouncing certain letters and combinations of letters, and with constant practice the lisp will disappear. If the lisp is due to nervousness or self consciousness, as stammering often is, instruction in elocution will help a great deal.

Soda For Bad Breath. A fourth of a teaspoonful of blearionate of soda taken in half a glassful of water before each meal will help to correct the kind of indigestion that gives a had breath. The blcarbonate of soda granules, that you can obtain at any druggist's, are good for this purpose and are excellent for the teeth as they dissolve in the mouth. Charcoal tablets are also good and are taken after meals in the same way. Another splendid remedy is a tablespoonful of glycerin in a wineglass of hot water after each meal.

Snapshot of President Diaz Shows Him In Best of Health

MAJOR GENERAL W: H. CARTER

ECENT events have directed more than ordinary attention to President Porfirio Diaz of Mexico, and the health of the chief executive of the neighboring republic has been a matter of much public concern. For more than a third of a century he has been a commanding figure in Mexican affairs. Born in 1830, he entered the army at the age of seventeen and was one of the leading patriots in the campaigns against the French during the years that the United States was engaged in civil war. He was captured once, was forced to surrender once, but each time escaped: He led a victorious army that entered the City of Mexico in 1867. He was a candidate for president, but was defeated, and during the next ten years he led several armed revolts against the government, being forced to fice the country in 1872 and in 1876. He finally won a victory against President de Telada's troops, and in 1877 he was elected president. As the Mexican constitution prohibited a man from holding the presidential office twice in succession he was succeeded by his close personal friend, General Gonzalez, 'Diaz remained the great power in Mexican affairs, the constitution wes changed, and in 1884 Diaz again became president. He has been re-elected several times since then, and his enemies say that the is not the president, but is the dictator. In recent years there has been a strong movement against him, the present revolution being the most extensive that has been started. About the time that the United States troops were ordered to San Antonio it was said that President Diaz was in bad health, and later the rumor that he was dead reached Washington. This rumor was found to be false, and Diaz issued a statement saying that his health was excellent, as it has been for years. . The above picture was made Feb. 25 as President Diaz was watching an aviation meet at the City of Mexico. His daughter-in-law and his grandson are shown beside him. The picture shows that he was in rugged health at that time in fact, that he looked particularly strong for a man of eighty-one. The other picture is that of Major General W. H. Carter, who is in command of the United States troops at San Antonio. This picture was made only a few days ago in the Texas city.

Portland Markets

Receipts for the week have been as follows: Cattle 1689, calves 68, hogs 1479, sheep 3398 and horses 41.

Scarcity in cattle receipts continues and prices show a corresponding upward tendency. While prices received are practically the same as the preceding week, the quality of stuff received, as a whole, was not good. The top on good, well finished steers, hay fed remains steady to firm at $6.75 with a stiff demand. Cows sold all the way from 415 to 6c, with the call for the better grades, and buyers willing to pay well for quality. The yeal market came into the limelight again with a jump of 75c per hundred, making the top on light calves $8.75, with plenty of takers. The bull market is firm with best grades selling at 5c.

The hog market held its own during the past week and showed an advance of five cents per hundred, top now eing $7.80 for best well finished hogs weighing around two hundred pounds. Local and Eastern receipts were com paratively heavy.

Demand for sheep is steady with gradual advance in prices, demand exeeding the supply by at least one-salf. Spring lambs continue in dehalf. mand at 10c, ewes at $4.50 to $4.75, wethers $4.75 to $5, lighter heavy grades $5 to $5.25 and heavy lambs $5.50 to $6 with a dock of 50c per hundred on sheared sheep.

Horse market continues firm with an increasing demand for draft horses.

from $1.50 to $2.50.

Are You A Money Saver?

Most every one expects to be a money saver some time some expect to save when their income is larger; oth save when their expenses are less.

People who wait until they can save without effort rarel ave; they wake up some day filled with regrets because of tunities they have missed. The moral is: Begin regular saving at this bank NOW: who the income, make the outgo a little less and save the difference. It's a simple matter to start a savings account here.

The market reports from the East tell of a failing off in prices on general provisions which, naturally, mean the falling off on local production and on food stuffs generally. If there is any falling off in the local market it is in sympathy with this general reduction quoted in the East, and in certain commodities even this fact has not tended to any reduction.

No; the day of assured and lasting international peace has not arrived if ever ambitions and pride of nations permit it to arrive.

TODAY THE NATION THAT DISMANTLES ITS SHIPS OF WAR AND DISBANDS ITS SOLDIERS PUTS ITSELF IN DANGER OF GROSS HUMILIATION, IF NOT FATAL DISASTER.

Today America is respected by its sister nations. It is respected because also it is FEARED. Peace America invokes, but to be the more sure of peace America must be READY AT A MOMENT'S NOTICE to summon to its defense an army and a navy to whom defeat is impossible.
