THE AIM IS TO DISCREDIT.

Flighting statements have been flying around the country to the effect that Frank Jaggard, who was placed in charge of systematic road construction by the county court, is drawing the fat salary of $15 per day for his work. The fact is that Mr. Jaggard has not been drawing a stated salary. He is not after the money. He doesn't need it. But he is enthusiastic for modern methods in Clackamas County in road building. He told the members of the court, when he took charge of the road work, to pay him whatever they considered he was worth. Mr. Jaggard's enthusiasm reached a point where he put his hand into his own pocket and bought a steam road roller for the county's use and he is not receiving a cent for the use of that machine. The Enterprise makes these explanations for the benefit of Mr. Jaggard, and for the information of those who may have heard the stories that are being circulated, presumably to discredit the movement for better conditions.

The morning Enterprise is just celebrating the fourth month of its existence. The patronage it has received is very gratifying. The people of Oregon City and Clackamas County are appreciating a bright daily newspaper, the only daily between Portland and Salem. Are you a subscriber?

J. D. Stevens, who villified W. S. U'Ren on the street corner in Oregon City last Saturday night, may be entertaining, but that's all. He can do little harm, and does no good. What Stevens thinks personally of Mr. U'Ren is of no value in shaping the opinion of the average man.

Clackamas will not have a dull Summer. There is in prospect the 14 days and four days of the Clackamas County Assembly at Gladstone Park, and four days of the Clackamas County Annual Fair at Canby, besides minor events.

What do you think of the nerve of the individual who would steal from the sheriff?

CLAIRMONT LITERARY SOCIETY ENTERTAINS

SAME PROGRAMME TO BE PRESENTED AT BEAVER CREEK SATURDAY EVENING.

The entertainment given on Saturday evening at Clairmont schoolhouse by the Clairmont Literary Society, was a decided success. The building was filled to its capacity by an appreciative audience. The proceeds, which amounted to $15, will go toward the erection of a booth at the Clackamas County fair to be held in Canby. It was decided to present the same programme at Beaver Creek on Saturday night.

The following was the programme given: Duet, Miss Wourms and Miss Bell; recitation, Miss Stephens; song, Miss Hilma Hein; recitation, Earl Bell; playlet, "Who is Who," the cast of characters being as follows: Bloom-

Andrew Carnegie Is Hale and Hearty Nearing 74th Birthday

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

ANDREW CARNEGIE, will be seventy-four years old on Nov. 25 next, but he is still hale and hearty, and when he goes for a walk he moves along with a springy step that many times half his years do not have. Above is an excellent likeness of the great ironmaster made in New York only a few days ago, and with it is a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, their daughter Margaret and Mrs. Carnegie's sister. Mr. Carnegie was in his fiftieth year when he married, and there is only the one child to inherit such millions as may be left after Mr. Carnegie has ceased his busy life for times. Just now he is devoting his time principally to working for universal peace. He was recently the guest of honor at the Peace Dinner given by the New York Press club. In a brief speech he complimented the journalists on the work they are doing for peace, and he said that a delicate compliment by saying that when he was young his greatest ambition was to become a reporter.

BRAN AND SHORTS HAVE SHARP RAISE

PRICES IN OREGON CITY INCREASE $1 AND ROLLED BARLEY ADVANCES 50 CENTS.

CABBAGE EXPECTED TO GO TO $3

Southern Advances Point to an Increasing Shortage—Difficulty in Maintaining Prices For Strawberries.

Little change was manifested in the Oregon City markets Monday. Bran and shorts advanced about $1 and rolled barley 50 cents.

In the vegetable market there is evidence of an approaching advance in cabbage. Advice from the South indicates a shortage, and because of the existing demand, it is believed that local prices will be boosted to $3. In Portland difficulty is being found in maintaining the market for California strawberries on account of the generally poor quality.

CATTLE DEMAND GROWS.

Receipts of Hogs from Local Points Heavy.

PORTLAND, Or., May 8.—Receipts for the first week of May at the Portland Stockyards were as follows: Cattle, 1563; calves, 45; hogs, 1952; sheep, 5119, and horses and mules, 51. The cattle market reached the highest mark of the season this week when hay feed steers sold for 7c, with insufficient offerings to supply the demand. Thinner steers not well finished sold all the way from $6.50 to $8.25 with the Sound buyers much in evidence. Offerings in butcher stock were very light and everything in sight was snapped up with avidity.

Receipts of hogs from local points were heavier than they have been for some time, but the market rallied and held up well considering the fact that a large shipment of Eastern hogs was on the market as well. While it would take an extra choice load of hogs to bring the former top of $7.25, ordinary light grades readily bring $7.10, only 1c under which, considering the heavy hammering of the week is a very slight decline indeed. There is a more decided slump in heavier grades, best qualities selling from $6.00 to $6.50. Sheep market remained firm to higher, with stock fairly well represented. California ewes brought $4.75, yearlings $5.50. It continues the top for best spring lambs, while wethers range from $3 to $5.40, with a strong demand.

SURPRISE AT MURALT HOME.

Chief of Staff of the Army, at an informal gathering of members of the house committee on military affairs Thursday, expressed the opinion that intervention in Mexico will be inevitable and that it would take 200,000 American troops to patrol the troubled republic, brought no little chagrin to Administration circles. Today's happenings brought out fresh rumors that friction exists between the War and state Departments over the handling of affairs connected with the Mexican situation. A department report also was persistent that Secretary Knox's resignation in the near future would not cause surprise. No confirmation was obtainable. A suggestion that Knox might retire from the state portfolio was current, even before the Mexican situation was sprung.
