BRICKER TO SUPPORT FAMILY.

Promises to Pay $20 a Month and is Released. Charles Bricker has obtained his release from the county jail by raising $20 for the support of his family, who live at Oswego.

Bricker failed and last Saturday he was again taken into custody. This summary action frightened him into obtaining the money.

ABE ATTELL HAS HIS OWN TROUBLES.

Abe Attehl, the featherweight champion, has his troubles. Able, claiming that his shoulder went back on him, fought a draw with Frankie Burns in New York recently.

Peculiar position Attehl is in. He knocks out an opponent with a punch they say he was planting snickers; if he uses the fruit and just shades his man they say he stalled; if it is a very close go and he barely nips his way to win they say he is planting the bird, in the both balls for a future date.

The show presented in the big tents that were pitched in the northern part of the city across the Abernethy bridge trained and those attending "got their money's worth." The peanut stands as well as the red lemonade and side shows received their share of patronage.

SHERIFF EASY MARK FOR THIEF AT CIRCUS

Stealing milk from a baby is one thing and stealing from the sheriff is quite another. The loss of a valuable buggy robe by Sheriff Maso, of Clackamas County, Monday is a case in point.

MAN WHOSE BUSINESS IS TO LOOK OUT FOR EVIL DOERS, LOSES BUGGY ROBE

The sheriff stationed four special deputies north of town where the Al G. Barnes trained animal show was performing, and Monday afternoon he drove down to see how his assistants were progressing, hitching his horse to a convenient fence post. After making the rounds, he started to climb into the buggy to return to Oregon City, when to his astonishment and chagrin, he discovered his buggy robe had been stolen.

There's a story for you," said the sheriff.

BIG CIRCUS ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD TO CITY

BOTH PERFORMANCES WELL ATTENDED AND MANY SEE STREET PARADE.

The streets of Oregon City were thronged with people on Monday morning, many of them coming for miles from different sections of the county the attraction being the Al Barnes animal circus.

This is the first time this show has ever visited here, and both afternoon and evening performances were largely attended. It was yag day at the mills and almost all the men employed there attended.

The parade started about 10:30 o'clock, but owing to the rain it only went as far as Fifth Street, and many who were waiting below that street were disappointed. It is customary for a parade to go the length of Main Street.

There were two good bands, one of which rode a woman trainer, while in the other was a man; leopards with woman trainer, clowns, and as usual the elephants brought up the rear.

The show presented in the big tents that were pitched in the northern part of the city across the Abernethy bridge trained and those attending "got their money's worth."

The silent watch is a thing of the past, having gone to the wall for want of patronage. Too bad.

The streets are so muddy the school children are everlastingly roasting the mayor, contractors and workmen.

Wetzler's property toward the new depot. It is likely they kept going rather than attempt to get back onto Main street again. Later developments prove that after a round about trip they took a boat home from the "Tavern" and let their feet hang overboard all the way down to Portland in order to wash the clay off.
