MADE IN OREGON.

The multiplicity and diversity of products made in Oregon are not as well known to the average resident, or business man for that matter, as they should be. Here in Oregon we manufacture perhaps ninety per cent of the average requirements of our citizens, but comparatively few realize the fact.

"Made in Oregon" should be the slogan of every citizen. "Every dollar spent for home goods remains at home, and the spender gets back at least a portion of his money in one way or another every time he buys a "Made in Oregon" product.

Oregon is destined to be one of the great manufacturing states in the Union, but the time it will require for her to be in the foremost rank of manufacturing states would greatly be shortened if our people would make it a portion of their daily duties first to inquire if the goods they are buying are "Made in Oregon."

We have factories in this state which today are struggling for existence, and which would be running along smoothly, employing many more men and women if each man, woman and child in the state would insist on having the home product. It is not asked that our people buy "Made in Oregon" goods in preference to goods made elsewhere, unless the home product is equal in quality, appearance and price to the same goods made elsewhere. But even the casual investigation of our citizens will show that our manufacturers in most lines are turning out goods today the equal of any in the country, and the Manufacturers' Association only asks that when such goods are offered that they be given the preference.

This leads to another important phase of this question. The support of home industry is the duty of every citizen. We live by the interchange of trade. There is small need indeed for the people of Oregon to go outside their state for everyday requirements of life, and if the Oregon people would insist on "Made in Oregon" goods being sold them, retail dealers everywhere would keep up their stock to meet the demands of their trade.

Cities and states are built up by the pay-rolls within the state. Property values are kept up by the pay-rolls of the factories. Farm values are kept up by the demands for farm products from the cities, the manufacturing centers. The whole problem is one which even casually studied will prove to any citizen and to every man, woman and child within the state that his support of "Made in Oregon" goods means that his own prosperity will be greater. It is a "wheel within a wheel" proposition. Insist on "Made in Oregon" goods.

The factories are the life of our cities. The more factories we have, the more people are employed, and greater becomes the prosperity not only of the cities, but of the rural districts, for the factory supported cities must depend upon the agricultural districts for their food supplies, and largely for their raw products. The home manufacturers depend upon the people and the people depend upon the home manufacturers.

The consistent support of home industries and the persistent demand for "Made in Oregon" goods means increased pay-rolls, which in turn will be to the advantage of the farmer and all other producers of the necessities of life.

While Standard Oil has received a severe jolt from the United States Supreme Court, but we have no idea that kerosene and gasoline will take a big drop. After all the price to the consumer is the only thing we are all interested in. The dissolution of a "combination in restraint of trade" sounds good, but a reduction in the price we pay is much better.

PEACE NEAR IN MEXICO.

EL PASO, Tex., May 16.—It is believed tonight that peace is near at hand. Judge Carbajal, the federal peace representative, says the war is virtually over. The signing of a peace agreement is expected to take place at Juarez in a few days. President Diaz will resign when peace is restored.

Heart to Heart
Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A DOG STORY.

He was a common, "ornery" bound dog, with stumpy tail, awkward frame and beautiful eyes.

He lay on the pavement where the strong wind had blown him off his legs. Like Cassius, he had a lean and hungry look. His paws hung limply over the curb. In the language of the street, he was "all in."

Some street urchins tried to stir him up by methods known to them. The dog looked his utter helplessness from pathetic eyes. The boys looked at the bony ribs showing through the muddy white skin and from sheer pity desisted.

A small crowd gathered.

Somebody got a beef sandwich and offered it, but the stumpy tailed dog lapped and the cadaverous jaws dripped. The sandwich was untouched.

He was too far gone to eat. The poor fellow was unable to use his skinny legs. His fine eyes blinked up at the muddy skies and down at the muddy street; he laid his head on his fore paws and shut his eyes.

He was too dirty to touch. The crowd dribbled away. Pedestrians looked askance at the starving bound. By and by, if he remained there, some scavenger would dump him into a cart.

A tramp came down the street. The tramp was as dirty and bedraggled as the dog. He looked at the latter a moment and then took him up in his arms.

The poor beast let his head rest against the shabby coat of his unshaven rescuer and gave a feeble show of satisfaction as to his tail. And the tramp and the dog disappeared down the street.

Which is a true dog story. And I thought to myself—The very poor and miserable are always best helped by those who are miserable and poor. Misery not only love company; it breeds sympathy and helpfulness.

Why do respectable, right feeling people do as the Levite did when, seeing the wounded man on the Jericho road, he "passed by on the other side?" They do not know how to help.

Suffering has not taught them through its chastening how to assuage another's woes. They feel sorry for the poor victim who is wounded, but they do not feel sorry enough to put themselves out. They do not know the pity that stoops to minister.

And I thought also—Appearances are deceitful. Under the rags of a tramp may beat the impulses of a sympathetic savior.

Armored Freight Car Is Used
Against Mexican Insurrectos

Photos copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

WHILE many inventors have been trying to make war horrible by increasing the destructiveness of weapons, the Mexican government is trying to make it picturesque. One of the methods adopted is the use of armored freight cars painted like checkered boards. These cars, covered with sheet steel that will resist even the steel jacketed rifle bullets, are equipped with machine guns of wide range. The cars are painted with the black and white squares so that the insurgents, many of whom are good marksmen, can't select the portholes through which the machine gun protrudes and fire at it. The portholes will look black like a black square, and therefore do not serve as the center of a target. The other picture printed above shows a group of insurgents on the northern border who have quit fighting for the time to scramble for oranges thrown into the Rio Grande from the American side. They are devoting themselves to the task with much enthusiasm.

45 YEARS AGO

Advertisers will be interested in the following reprinted from the first issue of the Weekly Enterprise, Saturday, October 27, 1866:

A Truth—The new advertisements in this issue are one of the evidences that business men see the advantage of advertising their wares.

"If you would find a liberal dealer, look for his card in the ENTERPRISE. He who encourages the building up of a local press is most invariably honest, and you can rely upon what he sells you."

Interesting is it not? In the first issue were more than seven columns of advertisements. All of the names are familiar to the older settlers and many to the present generation.

Today people are amused at this heading that meant so much forty-five years ago: "Oregon Stage Company, U. S. Mail Line, Through to Sacramento in Six Days."

The following published in the first issue is a copy of a bulletin posted in a western postoffice:

"Lost a red Kaf he had a white spot on 1 of his peeing legs. I will give three dollars to anybody as will bring him home. He was a she Kaf."

This was one of the jokes in the first issue.

STAR PLAYER IS OVERLOOKED

George Harding Member First Clackamas Baseball Club

Owing to an oversight the name of George Harding, was omitted from the lineup and score of the Clackamas Baseball Club which played the Pioneer Club of Portland in this city forty-five years ago. The story was reprinted from the first issue of the Weekly Enterprise published on October 27, 1866. Mr. Harding played left field for the Oregon City team and during the historic game made four runs, one of them a home run. A number of items from the old files of the Enterprise will be reprinted from time to time.

Few mineral products can show so rapid an increase in output as Portland cement. The production for 1909, according to the United States Geological Survey, was the greatest in the history of the industry, being 65,399,889 barrels, valued at $32,797,973. In 1900 the production was only 17,231,150 barrels, in 1905 it was 25,753,504 barrels, in 1906 it was 31,675,257 barrels, and in 1908 it was 51,000,445 barrels, and in 1909 it was 62,910,925 barrels.

POULTRY AND EGG
MARKET IS FIRMERNORTHERN SPECULATORS IN-VADE VALLEY AND PRICES ADVANCE.

The poultry and egg market is firmer with a tendency toward advancing prices.

Northern speculators are again invading the Willamette valley and are said to be offering the top price in order to get supplies away from the Portland market. As a result prices offered by outside are being more than met by home interests.

The receipts of eggs recently have been more limited here and at Portland and this has aided the advance. Storage operations are showing no movement at this time although it is said that northern speculators have started to store again.
