3 KILLED; 4 HURT IN BIG LANDSLIDE

WORKMEN ON MT. HOOD LINE ARE BURIED BENEATH TONS OF EARTH.

SEVERAL HAVE NARROW ESCAPES

Force Works Day and Night in Effort to Recover Two Bodies—Injured Not Expected to Live.

As the result of a landslide on the Mount Hood Railway and Power Company's line four men were killed and four others are believed to have been fatally injured. The landslide occurred on the Sandy River, about 20 miles from Oregon City yesterday morning.

A force of men worked all of yesterday and last night in an effort to find two bodies that were entombed. The injured men were taken in an automobile to the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland.

The dead are: D. Hunt, William Stanley, Ed Tognesen, W. Parrish.

The bodies of Tognesen and Parrish are still missing.

The injured are: Mart Otto, R. J. Ryan, A. Jackson, E. J. Murphy.

All four were injured internally and may not recover.

Ten or 12 men were in the path of the avalanche and had narrow escapes. Engineer Ryan, a brother of R. J. Ryan, who was hurt, was carried over the hill and to the edge of the river, but was not hurt. A man who was employed on the crane of the shovel chugging to the machinery on the way down the embankment and dropped off when he reached the base, landing in front of a mass of earth.

Hans Peterson, the foreman, saw the machinery, men and hillside swept away in front of him. The earth broke loose directly under his feet, but tore away right before him, allowing him to stand at the edge of the hole that it left.

PTOMAINE VICTIM HAD FRIENDS IN THIS CITY

MRS. F. W. GREENMAN RECEIVES WORD OF DEATH OF HER BROTHER'S WIFE

Mrs. F. W. Greenman, of this city, received word from her brother, Arthur Holden, of Bandon, Wednesday, that his wife had died of ptomaine poisoning at that place on Thursday, and the funeral services were held on Sunday, the interment being made at her old home at Trail, Oregon, where the deceased's mother and sister reside. Mrs. Holden had been ill for two months, but her death was a severe shock to the husband and other relatives, as her recovery had been expected.

Mrs. Holden was about 30 years of age, and was a highly esteemed young woman. She visited on several occasions with Mr. Holden's relatives in this city and made many friends while here. Mr. and Mrs. Holden for some time resided at Sellwood before going to Bandon. Mrs. Holden leaves besides her husband, one sister and her mother, the latter two of whom reside at Trail. There are no children. The funeral services were largely attended.

WHITE LIES. I'll be down in ten minutes.

THE RETURN OF SHERLOCK HOLMES. We stood outside of the door. Holmes stopped fiddling, took an injection of bismite and after examining the doorknob with a spectroscope, said: "There's been an old woman here named Jones who wore a wig and blue glasses and carried a sky-terrier named Dido. She is deaf in her left ear, Watson."

Marvelous! I exclaimed.

That isn't all. She has had asthma twice this year, her brother in law conducts a Correspondence School in Birmingham and has a note coming due on Tuesday. He is a Swede and is cross-eyed, a plumber by trade but is a judge of pickles.

You're some detective! But don't I smell smoke?

Yes, replied Holmes. On closer examination I perceive the house to be on fire from cellar to garret. We must look into this, Watson. Kindly call a hansom and we will notify the fire department. There's mystery here. This fire started in the ice-box on the roof!

The Secret of Holmes' great penetration is now solved. It has been discovered that he always had a confederate on the job. This man's name is now known to be Conroy Doyle.

BELANI VIAU CHARGED WITH CRUELTY IN SUIT

WIFE, SEEKING DIVORCE, SAYS FORMER OREGON CITY MAN LEFT HER

Fanny Viau has filed a suit for divorce against Belani Viau, to whom she was married in Oakland, Cal., on September 4, 1910. Mrs. Viau alleges she has been treated in a cruel and inhuman manner by her husband; that he used violent and abusive language, and failed to support her. She alleges that about December 24, 1910, he became intoxicated and was arrested, and she was obliged to arrange for his release on bail. Soon after, she says, he commenced his abuse toward her, and on February 10, 1911, he commenced drinking again and he finally deserted her and has failed to support her. She was obliged to seek relief from friends.

Mrs. Viau says she has been an affectionate wife. Viau was formerly a resident of this city, and attended the Oregon City schools when a boy, and is remembered by many here. His father was in the shoe repairing business in this city.

EXAMINATION PUZZLES EIGHTH GRADE PUPILS

QUESTIONS FOR ADMISSION TO HIGH SCHOOL UNUSUALLY DIFFICULT

Superintendent Gary, who with several teachers, is examining the papers of the children who took the examination for the high schools recently, declared yesterday that there would probably be more failures than ever before in Grammar and Civil Government. The questions, which were submitted by State Superintendent Alderman, are said to be the most difficult ever sent to Clackamas County.

The result of the present examination does not mean, however, that the children who fail in these subjects now will not be promoted from the eighth grade to the high school. Those who fall in only two subjects will be given another examination in June, and in the meantime they will have plenty of opportunity to prepare themselves. It will take all the rest of the week for the superintendent and teachers to finish examining the papers. More than 300 pupils took the examination.

PARTY ATTENDS ENCAMPMENT

Local Members I. O. O. F. See Exercises in Portland.

About 25 members of the Order of the I. O. O. F. of this city and of Gladstone attended the grand encampment of the I. O. O. F. held at the Masonic Hall, corner West Park and Yamhill Streets, Portland. They witnessed the contest between the First Degree teams of Orient Lodge, No. 17, and Woodlawn Lodge, No. 171, for the Staples Silver Cup, which has been held by the Orient Lodge. There were about 3000 members from all parts of the state in attendance, and those attending say it was a most impressive sight.

G. E. Miller, formerly of this city but now of Portland, has been elected grand chief patriarch of the Grand Encampment No. 4, and S. S. Walker, of this city, who was in attendance on Tuesday, was elected grand outer sentinel of the grand encampment. Both of these men are prominent members of the Oregon City I. O. O. F.

The delegates to the Rebekah Assembly are Mrs. J. L. Waldron, Mrs. S. S. Walker and Mrs. E. W. Scott; to the I. O. O. F. Assembly are E. W. Scott and John Lowry.

CHAUTAUQUA PLANS AN OLD TIME FOURTH

ORATION, SACK RACES AND BASE BALL GAMES WILL BE FEATURES.

Arrangements were virtually completed Wednesday by the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Assembly for the Chautauqua to be given at Gladstone, beginning on July 4 and lasting through July 16. The assembly decided upon an old fashion celebration of the Fourth. There will be sack races, climbing of a greased pole, orations, etc. It is also the intention to have two ball games on that day. The teachers of the Clackamas County schools will probably issue a challenge to the lawyers of the county, and there is no doubt about the young blood, there are a number of lawyers in the county who played ball in the old days, and still know how to play the game.

The Athletic Committee of the assembly will prepare schedule of games to be played in a few days. It is the intention to have a game each day, and five teams will play each other four times. The winner will be awarded a prize.

Superintendent of County Schools Gary, who is secretary of the assembly, has arranged to have Ex-Governor Yates, of Illinois, deliver the Fourth of July oration. Gabriel R. McGuire, the noted lecturer of Cleveland, will lecture at the Chautauqua on "With An Irishman Through Darkest Africa."

Many other features also will be provided for the Chautauqua and the indications are that it will be the most successful ever held. The big auditorium at Gladstone has been engaged for the occasion. J. E. Hodges, C. Schuebel and O. D. Eby compose the Athletic Committee.

RAILING ORDERED FOR MOLALLA AVENUE FILL

COUNCIL WILL WATCH SALOONS TO SEE THAT NEW FRONTS CONFORM TO LAW

The Oregon City Council, at a special meeting Wednesday night, ordered a railing erected on both sides of a fill on Molalla Avenue. Several vehicles have run off the road at the fill within a year and it is regarded as a dangerous place. The council also considered the application to transfer the Hub saloon license from Fred Cooper to W. A. Dougherty and J. E. Kirby. Several ordinances providing for street repairs were read for the first time.

The council also took up the matter of glass fronts for saloons which were ordered by an ordinance recently passed. It was decided that the changes, which some of the saloons have already begun to make, be watched in order that the fronts shall conform to the provisions of the ordinance.

MAJOR SAYS LICENSE SHOULD BE REVOKED IF KERRICK IS CONVICTED

The trial of Joseph Kerrick, proprietor of the Log Cabin saloon on Main street, was postponed Wednesday by City Recorder Stipp until Friday. Kerrick is charged with keeping a disorderly place. Two women, thought to live in Portland, were arrested in a room above the saloon Saturday night and forfeited their bonds of $20 each. Mayor Brownell, who is taking live interest in the prosecution in speaking of the case said: "It has been called to my attention that the proprietor of the saloon known as the Log Cabin saloon, in Oregon City, has been permitting his place to be used by women of questionable repute and reputation. The City Attorney has filed a complaint and a warrant has been issued and this man will be tried, and an example will be made of him as well as all others, if found guilty of these acts. I warned the saloon men at the time I was elected Mayor, that there were three things that I would not permit to take place in this town while I was Mayor.

"1. That no gambling should be permitted in any saloon.

"2. That women should not be permitted to meet men or otherwise in saloons.

"3. That minors should be kept out of saloons.

"And anyone violating the ordinances in either of these cases should be and would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, and I desire to call the council's attention to these facts, that if the proprietor of the Log Cabin saloon is convicted, or anyone else is convicted for the violation of said ordinances, that their licenses should be taken away from them. I do not wish to prejudice any man or his case, but I shall insist that any man found guilty of a violation of the city ordinances, that his license shall be taken away from him and that he will be put out of business as far as this city is concerned."

EBY TELLS PUPILS WHAT SCHOOLS DO

HISTORY OF PUBLIC EDUCATION TRACED BY LAWYER IN ADDRESS.

SOURCES OF SUPPORT ARE GIVEN

Speaker Points Out Relation of Schools to Government and How They Aid the Country.

The object of the public schools, their relation to society and government, and their history was the keynote of an address delivered Wednesday morning before the pupils of the Oregon City High school by O. D. Eby. Mr. Eby's address was an interesting and comprehensive one, and was considered one of the best of the series arranged by Superintendent of City Schools Toomey. Fifteen or sixteen other prominent men, among them Governor West, have addressed the High school pupils.

Mr. Eby began his speech by describing the establishment of the first public school, which was in Massachusetts, in the United States. The benefits were found to be so valuable that Connecticut and Vermont soon followed Massachusetts by establishing schools. It was not long until the other states emulated the example, and the great public educational fabric began weaving its influence.

In the early days of the public schools, Mr. Eby said, only the boys were allowed to attend. It was not thought necessary then for the girls to have an education. Even the boys who were fortunate enough to obtain what would now be considered a poor education, were envied.

The speaker showed the growth of the schools and finally the recognition of them by Congress, which granted lands to the various states to assist in providing funds for the schools. Oregon was awarded sections 16 and 36 in each township. The lands were sold, the money obtained for them was put out at interest, which was applied to the school fund. This, Mr. Eby said, is the first source from which school revenue was obtained. The second is the tax levied by the districts. In this district, Mr. Eby told the pupils, about $24,000 had been spent on the schools the past year. Of this amount $2,500 came from the state school fund; $8,000 from the county levy and $13,500 from the special tax levy in the district.

Mr. Eby compared the schools of the United States with those of Italy. The schools here are far superior to those of Italy and he pointed out as a natural result of the American mind, the superior citizenship. The lower the school standard, he declared, the lower the citizenship, and because of the inferior citizenship of Italy the people of this country are objecting to immigration from that country. He also declared that an outgrowth of the splendid, educational system of this country was the inventive genius of the American mind.

The school work stimulates the inventive faculties and as a result citizens of the United States have produced the telephone, the telegraph, phonograph, aeroplane, etc.

SALOON MAN'S TRIAL TO BE HELD FRIDAY

MAYOR SAYS LICENSE SHOULD BE REVOKED IF KERRICK IS CONVICTED.

Deputy Sheriff Frost, who went to Portland Wednesday for J. J. Nally, a salesman, wanted at Estacada on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, returned without the prisoner. Although Nally was arrested by the Portland police at the request of Justice of the Peace Samson, who telephoned to the Portland authorities Tuesday night to make the arrest, they refused to give him up.

Just before the deputy sheriff arrived at the police station several persons in Portland made complaint that Nally had passed worthless checks on them, and the Portland authorities decided that jurisdiction was in Multnomah county. In case he is not convicted there, Nally will be brought to this city for trial on the Estacada charge.

The Estacada Mercantile Company alleges that on May 3 it cashed a check drawn on the Portland Trust Company for Nally. When it was presented at the trust company to be cashed it was found that Nally had no money on deposit there. A complaint was made Tuesday night and about midnight Justice of the Peace Samson telephoned to the Portland police to make the arrest.

It is charged that Nally has drawn checks on several Portland banks and trust companies in which he had no deposit. He is also accused of having drawn checks on banks where he formerly had money on deposit, and when complaint was made, deposited enough money to meet the checks.

Dancing Party Planned.

Milton Price will give one of his enjoyable dancing parties at the Buach hall on Saturday night, May 20. The Farmer orchestra will furnish the music.

JUSTICE AND ROAD FOREMAN AT WAR

HARRINGTON PICKED UP ROCK WHEN THREATENED BY BIGHAM AT OAK GROVE.

FORMER IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Trouble Thought to Be Outcome of Recent Discharge of Superintendent Harris For Disobeying Instructions.

Edward Harrington, road foreman in the Oak Grove District, will be tried Friday on a charge of using abusive language and assaulting with a dangerous weapon Justice of the Peace Bigham. The trial was set for Wednesday but was postponed at the request of the attorneys. The altercation that resulted in the warrant being issued for Mr. Harrington occurred last Saturday. After finishing a road in Oak Grove Justice of the Peace Bigham ordered Mr. Harrington to fill a ditch on the side of the thoroughfare. This the foreman refused to do declaring that the ditch was necessary for proper drainage. The justice of the peace is then said to have threatened the foreman, whereupon the latter picked up a rock and prepared to defend himself. He made no attack upon Bigham, as is charged in the warrant.
