CITY OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER.

May 21 in American History.

1820 John Edin, famous poet to the nation, died in 1820. 1882 Stephen Pearl Andrews, who proposed a two-income standard, died in New York, born 1812. 1885 Albert W. Tappan, noted writer and lecturer on Moral Reform, died at Haverhill, Mass., born 1828.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

From noon today to noon tomorrow, Sun sets 7:12, rises 4:31; moon rises 1:40 a. m.; moon at greatest libration east; sun's declination, 20.3 degrees north of celestial equator.

Mayor Brownell, in assisting in the prosecution of a saloonkeeper, charged with violating a city ordinance, and who was fined $75 and given a sentence of ten days in jail, has kept the promise made to the people when he was elected. The Mayor declared then that the owners of saloons would not be allowed to violate the laws relating to gambling, minors and women. He is seeing that they do not.

The success of the promoters of the Clackamas Southern Railway, which will penetrate the rich Molalla valley, should gratify every citizen of this county and State. The railroad will be of incalculable advantage to the country, and every person who invests in the stock is sure to be well rewarded in a financial way when the line begins operation.

Secretary Lazelle, of the Commercial Club, announces that "Postal Card Day" in Oregon City was a decided success and that cards were mailed by the school children to all parts of the world. There could hardly be a better way to advertise the city and Clackamas County and we are delighted to learn that the "Live Wires" of the Commercial Club, are considering making "Postal Card Day" an annual event.

LAST CAR LEAVES FOR OREGON CITY AT MIDNIGHT

tion of the general government in its work of crushing the rebellion, recommended a spot on the west bank of the Willamette opposite this city, as the most suitable place upon the coast of the Pacific for the erection of buildings adapted to the manufacture of munitions of war. Had not the hostilities have so soon terminated, after this recommendation was made, we should possibly now have witnessed the works in full operation, and observe frequent shipments of massive guns, taken from the raw material which yet remains buried throughout the surrounding hills. However, there yet may be such an institution here. If Mr. Johnson, by his style of "making treason odious" should bring about such another internal war as that through which the country has but recently passed, Brother Jonathan will again straighten up his lean, lank form, and pointing to various localities, say "That at Oregon City must be improved."

An Oil Mill.—Among other new enterprises which promise to be undertaken in this city speedily, we are informed upon good authority that before long an oil mill will be in operation. There are great inducements for such an establishment, in connection with the new paper mill. The cultivation of flax will receive a great impetus upon the commencement of this enterprise.

Ben Holladay has taken the new mail contract from Salt Lake City to The Dalles. From Boise City to The Dalles, the mail will be carried by C. F. Thomas & Company, to whom C. F. Holladay has sublet the contract. The route will probably be in operation in a week or ten days.

SAINPOLIS AT THE BAKER.

Opening of Well-known Actor Sunday, Matinee in Great Play. All classes of theatre-goers in Portland are more or less interested in the special engagement of the eminent character actor John Sainpolis with the Baker Company, as Mr. Sainpolis played two seasons here and was generally recognized as the cleverest actor who has ever appeared in stock in this city. Since leaving Portland he has for several years been supporting famous stars, such as Mary Manning, David Warfield, etc., the latter with whom he just closed a long successful engagement to play the special summer engagement at the Baker.

POPULAR LYRIC COMPANY.

Now Playing to Big Houses All the Time at the Bungalow. When you want a couple of hours' entertainment of the light and airy kind, with a score of pretty and clever chorus girls, plenty of music and catchy songs and loads of genuine fun and laughter, go to the Bungalow any afternoon or evening and see the popular Lyric Musical Comedy Company, which under the management of Keating & Flood is now playing at the cozy uptown playhouse, for the summer.

There is a matinee every day at 2:45 and two evening performances the first at 7:45 and the second at 9:15. West & Vack, those two funny comedians of the tall Dutchman and the short Dutchman variety are great laugh-getters, and Jeanie Fletcher the prima donna is a Scotch girl with a truly marvelous voice. There is never a slow moment and the immense following the Lyric Company has won in this city is the best criterion of the pleasing shows they give. The new bill starts every Sunday, matinee, and the larger Bungalow's stage makes it possible to give better and bigger shows than were ever known at the downtown house. The same old popular prices prevail all the time—15c and 25c, and the ever attractive feature—the Chorus Girls' contest takes place as usual after each performance Friday evenings.

MISS HOLMES ONLY ONE TO PASS Eleven Parkplace Pupils Fail at Recent Examination. Miss Marie Holmes, the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holes, was the only pupil of the Parkplace High School who passed the eighth grade examination recently given the pupils at that school. Twelve average was good, her highest being 96, which was in arithmetic, and in five other studies she received a percentage in the 80s. The questions were unusually difficult.

HEIRESS IS GUARDED.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Pretty 15-year-old Catharine Barker, possessor of $30,000,000 is today the matrimonial mark of European royalty. The American princess, whose life reads like the pages torn from the old French chronicles, is held a willing captive in the spacious mansion of her late father at Michigan City. Guarding her are stalwart, silent men. The fiery dragon of the old chronicles is supplanted in this modern story of facts by a "soulless corporation." The guardian of Miss Barker, according to the will of her father, is the director of the First Trust & Savings Bank. Over in sunny Sicily a young prince of chivalrous nature, fired with love and ambition, frets and fumes because he has had no word from his American princess, and because his missives of love have never reached her with their ardent words of his "grand passion." The hero of this thrilling romance is the Principino di Santa Margherita, heir to one of the oldest and noblest houses of Sicily. He is the descendant of kings and queens, ladies and knights to whom romance and love were ambrosia and nectar. However, he is not alone in his pursuit of the princess. At least a dozen

The Real Cause of the Increasing Cost of City Government By GEORGE B. MCLELLAN, Ex-Mayor of New York THE constantly increasing cost of city government is due to causes far more SUBTLE and COMPLICATED than corrupt officials, dishonest bosses or rotten political machines. THE ROOT OF THE MATTER LIES IN OUR BELIEF IN THE EFFICACY OF LEGISLATION. This is the germ of collectivism which so largely INFLUENCES public opinion in the United States and is expressed in our legislation. There is not a city in the Union that has not joined the procession toward collectivism as evidenced by the public utilities, public services and free institutions it supports. The city assumes toward the citizen at his birth the relation of a kind and generous if somewhat fussy grandmother and continues this relation till he has passed away. This experience of paternalism HAS MADE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ANXIOUS FOR MORE.

The Oregon City Fruit and Produce Union SELLS Arsenate of Lead Berry Crates Hay, Grain and Feed Implements Spin the Plate. Spin the plate is an old game played these many years by past generations of children. The children are all seated in a row across the room. One is given a plate and told to spin it in the middle of the room, ending on the name of another player as he spins it. The player whose name is called must run and catch the plate before it stops spinning. If he fails he pays a forfeit, which he must redeem later by performing some stunt required of him. Animal Game. Each player chooses some animal which he or she is to imitate. One sits in the center and tells a tale, bringing in the names of the various animals chosen. At each mention of an animal the player representing that animal must get up and imitate it. If he fails to do so he must pay a forfeit, to be redeemed later on. The Resolute Rabbit. "It is cruel, however you view it. To chase a poor bear and to shoot it for miles as some hunt." Said the rabbit, "I won't. And I don't care who asks me to do it."
